OBSERVATIONS

CONDUCT and BEHAVIOUR

OBSERVATIONS

Upon the Conduct and Behaviour of a certain Sect, Usually distinguished by the Name of METHODISTS.

It does not appear, that any of the Preachers among the Methodists have qualified themselves and the Places of their Assembling, according to the Act of Toleration; which Act warrants separate Assemblies for the Worship of God, that before were unlawful.

The unbounded Licentiousness in holding Assemblies for Divine Worship, both as to Persons and Places, which had prevailed for some Years before the Restoration, and of which our Histories are full; was a sufficient Warning to the Legislature, to have a watchful Eye over that Spirit, which had caused so much Confusion in the Kingdom; and particularly in the publick Worship of God. And the Methods taken from Time to Time to keep-under that Spirit, and to prevent and suppress all such irregular Assemblies, are a plain Evidence, that the Government, in those Days, saw the mischievous Consequences of them, and the Necessity of putting early and effectual Restraints upon them. And though, at the Revolution, the Wisdom of the Nation, for some Ease to scrupulous Consciences in the Exercise of Religion (as the Words of the Act are) granted an Exemption from the Penalties of former Laws, both to Preachers and People; yet it is plain, that they saw the mischievous Consequences of granting that Indulgence, without such Conditions and Limitations, as would be a Security to the Established Government and Religion, against the Advantages it might otherwise give to the Enemies of both.

And therefore the Act of Toleration provides, as to the People, that none shall have the Benefit of it, but such as will take the Oaths to the Government, and subscribe the Declaration against Popery (30 Car. II. c. 1;) and as to the Preachers, it obliges them, not only to take the said Oaths and subscribe the Declaration, but also to subscribe the Thirty-nine Articles of Religion ; those excepted, which relate to Ceremonies, Homilies, the Consecration of Bishops, and Infant Baptism.

II. But now, this new Sect of Methodists have broken-through all these Provisions and Restraints ; neither regarding the Penalties of the Laws which stand in full Force against them, nor embracing the Protection which the Act of Toleration might give them in Case they comply'd with the Conditions of it. And if this be not an open Defiance of Government, it is hard to say what is.

They began with Evening-Meetings at private Houses ; but they have been going on, for some Time, to open and appoint publick Places of Religious Worship, with the same Freedom, as if they were warranted by the Act of Toleration. And, not content with that, they have had the Boldness to preach in the Fields and other open Places, and by publick Advertisements to invite the Rabble to be their Hearers ; notwithstanding an express Declaration in a Statute (22 Car. II. c. I.) against assembling in a FIELD, by Name. And how big with Mischief that Practice in particular is, may be abundantly seen in the past and present Accounts of it in a neighbouring Nation ; and may be sensibly felt in our own, when it will be too late to remedy it, if not attended-to in Time.

III. It must be confessed, that in most other Steps which the Methodists take, the Act of Toleration would be a Security against the Penalties of former Laws, if they would but qualify themselves according to the Direction of it ; but in the Case of Field-preaching, it is conceived that it would not secure them. For that Act not only requires the Qualifications of Oaths and Subscriptions as above, but also provides, That no Congregation or Assembly for Religious Worship shall be thereby permitted or allowed, until the PLACE of such Meeting shall be certified to the Bishop of the Diocese, or to the Archdeacon of the Archdeaconry, or to the Justices of the Peace at their General or Quarter Sessions.

And it would be a strange Construction to give any other Meaning to the Word PLACE in that Clause of the Act, than a particular House opened for Religious Worship, and a fix'd Place to be repaired-to by a Congregation of Dissenters ; in which Sense it has been universally understood. And indeed the Act of Toleration itself plainly leads to this Meaning, when it forbids any Assembly of Persons, dissenting from the Church of England, to be had " in any " PLACE for Religious Worship, with the DOORS lock'd, barr'd, or bolted." Nor has it been known, that a Dissenting Teacher of any Denomination whatever, has thought himself warranted, under the Act of Toleration, to preach in Fields, or Streets.

IV. But notwithstanding such open Inroads upon the National Constitution ; these Teachers and their Followers affect to be thought Members of the National Church, and do accordingly join in Communion with it ; though in a Manner that is very irregular, and contrary to the Directions laid down in the the Rubrick before the Communion-Service ; which is established by the Act of Uniformity. This Rubrick directs, as follows :

“ So many as intend to be Partakers of the Holy Communion, shall signify their Names to the Curate, at least some Time the Day before.

“ And if any of those be an open and notorious evil Liver, or have done any Wrong to his Neighbours by Word or Deed, so that the Congregation is thereby offended ; the Curate, having Knowledge thereof, shall call him and advertise him, that in any wise he presume not to come to the Lord's Table, until he hath openly declared himself to have truly repented, and amended his former naughty Life, that the Congregation may thereby be satisfied, which before were offended ; and that he hath recompensed the Parties to whom he hath done Wrong, or at least declare himself to be in full Purpose so to do, as soon as he conveniently may.

“ The same Order shall the Curate use with those betwixt whom he perceiveth Malice and Hatred to reign ; not suffering them to be Partakers of the Lord's Table, until he know them to be reconciled.”

It is plain, by the whole Tenor of of this Rubrick, that by the Word Curate, is meant the proper Minister who has the Cure of Souls (according to the usual Meaning of the Word throughout the Book of Common-Prayer,) or some other officiating under him ; and that by Neighbours, and those whom he is to forbid to come to the Lord's Table till they amend their Lives, and till they be reconciled, are meant his Parishioners, over whom he is placed as their Guide and Instructor, and, as such, is supposed to have Knowledge of their Behaviour, and a Right to interpose in their Spiritual Concerns.

Upon the like Considerations of the Fitness and Reasonableness of every one's receiving the Holy Sacrament with his own Parishioners, and from the Hands of his own Minister, the 28th Canon of our Church requires the Churchwardens, to mark whether any Strangers come often and commonly from other Parishes to their Church, and to shew the Minister of them ; lest perhaps they may be admitted to the Lord's Table among others ; which they shall forbid, and remit such home to their own Parish-Churches and Ministers, there to receive the Communion with the rest of their Neighbours.

And these general Rules, both in the Rubrick and Canon, as they are founded upon Reasons evidently good and wise in themselves ; so are they, in their Effect and Operation, when duly observed, the best and surest Means of preserving Order and Regularity in the publick Administration of Divine Offices, and of avoiding all that Confusion which they were designed to prevent. At the same Time, it must be admitted, that these good Ends may be sufficiently answer'd, and the Rules said to be duly observed, though Allowance be made to such reasonable Exceptions as evidently arise from the Nature and Circumstances of Persons and Things. But though such Exceptions are always admitted in the Construction and Application of General Rules ; nothing thing can justify either a wilful Neglect, or an open Contempt, of the Rules themselves.

V. But now these wholsom Rules are not only broken-through, but notoriously despised by the new Sect of Methodists; who, leaving their own Parish-Churches where they are known, come from several Quarters, in very great Numbers, to receive the Communion at other Churches, where they are not known; and between whom and the Minister there is no Manner of Relation.

This is a Practice which may justly be complained of by the Ministers of the Churches to which they resort in that irregular Manner; as it puts such Ministers under the Difficulty, either of rejecting great Numbers as unknown to them, or administering the Sacrament to great Numbers, of whom they have no Knowledge.

VI. I know but one Thing that can be pleaded in Behalf of this Practice; by such, I mean, of them as desire to receive the Communion every Lord's Day; and that is, That there is not a weekly Communion in their own Parish-Church. But may not this End be attained in a more quiet and inoffensive Way, tho' not strictly regular, if particular Persons, who are so disposed, should repair privately to the Church nearest to their own where the Sacrament is administered every Lord's Day; having first signify'd their Names to the Minister, as the Rubrick directs? Which, surely, no Person can scruple to do, who professes himself a Member of the Church of England, and who, as such, is obliged to come up, at least as near as may be, to the Rules which it prescribes. But in this Way, our Methodists would not have the vain Pleasure of appearing together in a Body, and as a distinct Sect. And this Suggestion, that there may be in that Part of their Conduct some Mixture of Vanity, will appear to be neither unjust nor uncharitable, if it be considered, that though in the Churches of London and Westminster there is usually a Sacrament on the first Sunday of every Month, I doubt it will be found, that however that may lessen, it does not hinder the Resort, on that Day, to the Churches where they have usually appeared in a Body on other Days.

It appears from the foregoing Observations, that the Leaders of these People would act a far more consistent and uniform Part, if they would either renounce Communion with the Established Church, or oblige themselves and their Followers to have a greater Regard to the Rules and Orders of it.

VII. Besides our Methodists, there is another Sect sprung up, and known by the Style and Title of MORAVIANS. The Heads of them have been coming over for some Time from Moravia, a Country in Germany of that Name; and thither also several of our Methodists have gone in Person, to acquaint themselves more perfectly with the Principles and Practices of that People.

People. It is not easy to come at a certain Knowledge of their Tenets; but in their Teachings, they are said to rest the Whole of Religion upon the single Point of BELIEVING, and to disclaim the Moral Law as no Part of the Christian Dispensation. They are also said to decry all † human Qualifications for the Ministry, and all human Helps and Preparations towards the Conversion and Conviction of a Sinner; so that they should seem to resolve all into the immediate Teachings and Workings of the Spirit. However, my present Concern is not with their Principles, but with that which is more certain, I mean their Proceedings; particularly, their setting up publick Places of Assembly, with as much Openness as those of our Dissenters, which are set up under the Act of Toleration. At first, their Numbers were inconsiderable; but having been joined by many of our own Methodists (by some of their Clergy, and by many more of their Laitie, who have forsaken their first Leaders,) they are grown into a considerable Body, and, both in City and Country, are multiplying Bands and Societies in the Moravian Way. Which uncommon Zeal in their Leaders to carry on this Work, may probably proceed from a strange Notion they have got, That (in the Words of one of them) our Saviour is, now, about gathering his Sheep out of all Nations, out of all Professions, out of all Parties, out of all National Churches; into little Flocks which he governs with his Word and Spirit. † A Notion, which must be considered by all sober and uninfected Minds, as merely Entbusiastical; and it will be great Blindness in their Followers, if they do not call upon them for Proofs from the Gospel, or from a well attested Revelation made to themselves, of what our Saviour, as they pretend, is now about to do, and of their Commission to be the authoris'd Doers of it.

There is indeed, a special Proviso in the Act of Uniformity, That the Penalties of that Act shall not extend to the Foreigners or Aliens of the Reformed Churches, allowed, or to be allowed, by the King's Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, in England. But do the Methodists who join them, consider that themselves are not Foreigners and Aliens? Or, do the real Moravians consider, that they hold, for ought appears, open Assemblies contrary to the said Law, or rather in Defiance of it? Or, being Foreigners, do they so far mistake our Constitution, as to think that this is a Country in which Religious Assemblies of every Kind may be set up at Pleasure, without any Regard to the Qualifications and Conditions upon which the Laws have allowed them?

The Country most noted for an Indulgence to Religious Persuasions and Assemblies, is HOLLAND; but even there they are put under proper Restraints and Regulations; such as the State has thought fit, for its own Security. The Account that Sir WILLIAM TEMPLE gives of it, in his Observations upon the United Provinces, is this. After he has observed that the Exercise of the Popish Religion is alone excepted from the common Protection of their Laws, he adds, ' That, of all other Religions, every Man enjoys the free Exercise in his own Chamber, or his own House, unquestioned and unespied. And if the Followers of any Sect grow so numerous in any Place, that they affect a publick Congregation, and are content to purchase a Place of Assembly, and to bear the Charge of a Pastoral Teacher, &c. they go, and * propose their Desire to the Magistrates of the Place where they reside, who inform themselves of their Opinions, and Manners of Worship. And if they find nothing in either, destructive to Civil Society, or prejudicial to the Constitutions of their State, they easily allow it. But with the Condition, That one or more Commissioners shall be appointed, who shall have free Admission at all their Meetings, and shall be both the Observers and Witnesses of all that is acted or preached among them.'

* By the foregoing Clause in the Act of Uniformity, the Application here in England is to be to the Crown; and the Moravians can best tell, whether they have made any such Application, and been favour'd with such Allowance as the Act requires. Hitherto, nothing of this has been made appear; and till they make it appear, the Presumption must be, that they have no such Allowance.

To conclude this first Part :

VIII. It is easily foreseen, that this and every other Complaint against the Irregularities of these People, and especially those of our Methodists, will be censured by them as a Discouragement to Piety and Devotion, and particularly to a Religious Observation of the Lord's Day. But this Slander is effectually confuted, by looking back to the State of the several Religious Societies in London and Westminster, for many Years past; which has been this. The particular Members of each Society, having attended the publick Duties of the Day together with their Neighbours, as the Laws of Church and State direct, have also (by private Agreements among themselves) their Evening Meetings, to employ the Remainder of the Day in serious Conversation, and in Reading good Books, &c. And these Societies, having behaved with Modesty and Decency, and without any Violation of publick Order and Regularity, have received no Discouragements, but, on the contrary, have been countenanced and encouraged by the Bishops and Clergy. And this, God be thanked, still continues to be the Case of many of those Societies, and the Members of them; as many I mean, as have not been unhappily misled into the late Extravagancies, but can be content to provide for mutual Edification and Improvement in a private inoffensive Way, as their Predecessors did.

PART II.

BESIDES the many Irregularities which are justly charged upon these Itinerant Preachers, as Violations of the Laws of Church and State; it may be proper to enquire, Whether the Doctrins they teach, and those Lengths they run, beyond what is practised among our Religious Societies, or in any other Christian Church; be a Service or a Disservice to Religion? To which Purpose, the following Queries are submitted to Consideration.

Query 1. WHETHER Notions in Religion may not be heighten'd to such Extremes; as to lead some into a Disregard of Religion itself, through Despair of attaining such exalted Heights? And whether others, who have imbib'd those Notions, may not be led by them into a Disregard and Disesteem of the common Duties and Offices of Life; to such a Degree at least, as is inconsistent with that Attention to them, and that Diligence in them, which Providence has made necessary to the well-being of private Families and publick Societies, and which Christianity does not only require in all Stations and in all Conditions, but declares at the same Time, (Col. iii. 22. Epbes. v. 6.) that the Performance even of the lowest Offices in Life, as unto God, (whose Providence has plac'd People in their several Stations,) is truly a Serving of Christ, and will not fail of its Reward in the next World?

Qu. 2. Whether the Enemy of Mankind may not find his Account in their carrying Christianity, which was design'd for a Rule to all Stations and all Conditions; to such Heights as make it fairly practicable by a very few in Comparison, or rather by none?

Qu. 3. Whether, in particular, the carrying the Doctrin of Justification by Faith alone to such a Height, as not to allow, that a careful and sincere Observance of Moral Duties is so much as a Condition of our Acceptance with God, and of our being justified in his Sight; Whether this, I say, does not naturally lead People to a Disregard of those Duties, and a low Esteem of them; or rather to think them no Part of the Christian Religion? *

* The Words of the pious and judicious Mr. CHILLINGWORTH are very material to this Purpose. 'For my Part, says he, I do heartily wish, that by publick Authority it were so ordered, that no Man should ever preach or print this Doctrine, 'That Faith alone justifies.' unless he joins this together with it, That universal Obedience is necessary to Salvation.' Chap. VII, Part I. Sect. 32.

Qu. 4. Whether a due and regular Attendance on the publick Offices of Religion, paid by good Men in a serious and composed Way, does not better answer the true Ends of Devotion, and is not a better Evidence of the Co-operation of the Holy Spirit, than those sudden * Agonies, † Roarings and Screaming, ‡ Tremblings, § Droppings-down, ¶ Ravings and Madneses ; into which their Hearers have been cast ; according to the Relations given of them in the Journals referr'd to ?

* Mr. Whitfield's Journal VI. p. 36. — VII. p. 57, 69, 75. Mr. Wesley's Journal III. pag. 26, 41, 45, 59, 64, 95. † Mr. Whitfield's Journal VII. pag. 74. Mr. Wesley's Journal III. pag. 40, 44, 50, 62, 79, 83, 92, 93, 94. ‡ Pag. 41, 43, 50, 58, 61, 93. § Mr. Whitfield's Journal VII. pag. 12, 60. Mr. Wesley's Journal III. pag. 41, 43, 46, 50, 58, 59, 61, 64, 65, 83. ¶ § Pag. 44, 50, 88, 90, 92, 93.

Qu. 5. Whether those exalted Strains in Religion, and an Imagination of being already in a State of Perfection, are not apt to lead Men to Spiritual Pride and to a Contempt of their Fellow-Christians ; while they consider them as only going-on in what they account the low and imperfect Way, (i. e. as growing in Grace and Goodness only by Degrees ;) Even though it appear by the Lives of those who are consider'd by them as in that low and imperfect Way, that they are Persons who are gradually working out their Salvation, by their own honest Endeavours, and through the ordinary Assistances of God's Grace ; with a humble Reliance upon the Merits of Christ for the Pardon of their Sins, and the Acceptance of their sincere, tho' imperfect, Services ?

Qu. 6. Whether the same exalted Strains and Notions do not tend to weaken the natural and civil Relations among Men, by leading the Inferiors, into whose Heads those Notions are infused, to a Disesteem of their Superiors ; while they consider them as in a much lower Dispensation than themselves ; though those Superiors are otherwise sober and good Men, and regular Attendants on the Ordinances of Religion ?

Qu. 7. Whether a gradual Improvement in Grace and Goodness, is not a better Foundation of Comfort, and of an Assurance of a Gospel New Birth, than that which is founded on the Doctrin of a † sudden and instantaneous Change ; Which, if there be any such Thing, is not easily distinguished from Fancy and Imagination ; the Workings whereof we may well suppose to be more strong and powerful, while the Person considers himself in the State of one who is admitted as a Candidate for such a Change, and is taught in due Time to expect it ?

† Mr. Wesley's Journal II. p. 19, 20, 44. — Journal III. p. 16, 49.

Qu. 8. Whether, in a Christian Nation, where the Instruction and Edification of the People is provided-for, by placing Ministers in certain Districts, to whom the Care of the Souls within those Districts is regularly committed; It can be for the Service of Religion, that Itinerant Preachers run up and down from Place to Place, and from County to County, drawing after them confused Multitudes of People, and leading them into a Disesteem of their own Pastors, as † less willing or less able to instruct them in the Way of Salvation: An Evil, which our Church has wisely provided against in the Ordination of a Priest, by expressly limiting the Exercise of the Powers conferred upon him, of preaching the Word of God, and administering the Holy Sacraments, * to the Congregation where he shall be lawfully appointed thereunto.

The Bishops, indeed, and also our two Universities, have Power to grant Licences to preach, of a larger Extent, to such Clergymen as they judge proper; who, in virtue thereof, may, if they chuse, travel from Place to Place as Itinerants. But then the Church has provided in that Case (Can. 50.) “ That neither the Minister, Church-wardens, nor any other Officers “ of the Church, shall suffer any Man to preach within their Churches
“ and Chapels, but such as, by shewing their Licence to preach, shall appear unto them to be sufficiently authorised thereunto”.

The Practice of Licencing Itinerant Preachers was occasioned by the low Talents of many Incumbents in the more early Days of the Reformation; whose Abilities carry'd them no farther than to the Reading of Homilies. A Defect, which has long been remedied by a liberal Education of sufficient Numbers of Persons for the Ministry, who regularly perform the Office of Preaching, as well as other Duties, in the Parishes committed to their Care. And if the forementioned Defect did still continue, as, God be thank'd, it does not; it would be ill supply'd by our modern Itinerants, who make it their principal Employ, wherever they go, to instill into the People a few favourite Tenets of their own; and this, with such Diligence and Zeal, as if the Whole of Christianity depended upon them, and all Efforts towards the true Christian Life, without a Belief of those Tenets, were vain and ineffectual.

† Mr. Whitfield, (Journal IV. p. 38.) addressing himself to his Brother-Teachers; says, ‘ O my dear Brethren, have Compassion on our dear Lord's Church, which he has purchased with his own Blood. Suffer none of them to be as Sheep having no Shepherd, or worse than none, those blind Leaders of the Blind, who let them perish for lack of Knowledge, and are no better than Wolves in Sheeps-cloathing. And, Journal V. p. 31. Though we are but few, and stand as it were alone, like Elijah; and though they, like the Priests of Baal, are many in Number; yet I doubt not but the Lord will appear for us as he did for that Prophet, and make us more than Conquerors.’ And Pag. 32. This Afternoon I was carried out much in bearing my Testimony against the unchristian Principles and Practices of the Generality of our Clergy.

* Mr. Wesley (Journal III. p. 52.) being asked, By what Authority he preached, reply'd, “ By the Authority of Jesus Christ conveyed to me by the (now) Archbishop of Canterbury, when he laid his Hands upon me, and said, Take thou Authority to preach the Gospel.” In this Reply, he he thought fit, for a plain Reason, to leave out this latter Part of the Commission; for that would have shewn his Reader the Restraint and Limitation under which the Exercise of the Power is granted. But in the same Journal, p. 56. he declares, without Reserve, 'That he looks upon all the World as his Parish,' and explains his Meaning as follows; "In whatever Part of it I am, I judge it meet, right, and my bounden Duty, to declare unto all that are willing to hear, the glad Tidings of Salvation. This is the Work which I know God has call'd me to." Such also is the Language of Mr. Whitfield, (Journal VII. p. 18, 62, 78.) 'As to an extraordinary Call, I claim none, otherwise than the Apostle's Injunction, 'As we have Opportunity, let us do Good unto all Men'.—— "God seems to shew me, it is my Duty to Evangelise, and not to fix in any particular Place."—"I am now free to Evangelise and go whithersoever the Lord shall be pleased to call me."

Now, if this Call may be pleaded by Christians, on the Foot of that general Injunction, without any other Evidences of an Apostolical Mission; what Occasion had Mr. Wesley to have Recourse to the Plea of an Episcopal Mission?

It were well, if he and some others would remember what the same Apostle has said (1 Cor. xiv. 33.) God is not the Author of Confusion (or, as it is in the Margin, not of Tumult) but of Peace, as in all Churches of the Saints.

Qu. 9. Whether it does not favour of Self-sufficiency and Presumption, when a few young Heads, without any Colour of a Divine Commission, set up their own Schemes, as the great Standard of Christianity: And, How it can be reconciled to Christian Humility, Prudence, or Charity, to indulge their own Notions to such a Degree, as to perplex, unhinge, terrify and distract the Minds of Multitudes of People, who have lived from their Infancy under a Gospel Ministry, and in the regular Exercise of a Gospel Worship; and all this, by persuading them, that they have never yet heard the true † Gospel, nor been instructed in the true Way of Salvation before; and that they neither are, nor can be true Christians, but by adhering to their Doctrins and Disciplin, and embracing Christianity upon their Schemes: All the while, for the Sake of those Schemes, and in Pursuance of them, violating the wholsom Rules, which the Powers Spiritual and Temporal have wisely and piously established, for the Preservation of Peace and Order in the Church.

† This was the Language with which they set out early — I offer'd Jesus Christ freely to them, Whitfield's 3d Journal, p. 47. — I think, Wales is excellently well prepar'd for the Gospel of Christ, ibid. p. 51. — Receiv'd News of the wonderful Progress of the Gospel in Yorkshire, under the Ministry of my dear Brother Ingham, ibid. p. 52. — I was refresh'd by a great Packet of Letters, giving me an Account of the Success of the Gospel, ibid. p. 73. — A most comfortable Packet of Letters, giving me an Account of the Success of the Gospel, ib. p. 78.

These Instances are taken from the Bishop of London's Fourth Pastoral Letter; and the same Language has continued in the subsequent Journals, and in their Letters.

Qu. 10. Whether it be for the Service of Religion, to discourage People from reading * Archbishop Tillotson's Sermons, and the † Whole

* Mr. Whitfield's Journal V. p. 19. It cannot be expressed how many carnal Hearts were disturbed by my Testimony against Archbishop Tillotson. — But before I have done, I do not despair of seeing People bring his Works, as they once brought the Books of curious Arts, and burn them before all Men. — Journal VII. p. 2. The Man's Wife was a great Admirer of Archbishop Tillotson, but having her Eyes now opened to discern Spiritual Things, can no longer take up with such Husks, fit only for carnal, unawakened, unbelieving Reasoners, to eat.

† Whole Duty of Man; to whom our Methodists might have added many more of our best Writers after the Restoration. For, all these (together with explaining the whole Work of our Redemption by Christ) endeavour'd to turn the Minds of People to the Practice of Moral Duties, and to cure them of that Madness and Enthusiasm into which they had been led by the Antinomian Doctrins and others of the like Tendency, during the Times of Anarchy and Confusion.

† Mr. Whitfield's Letter from New Brunswick, p. 6, 7. — After having laid down his own Scheme, he adds, 'This, the Author of the Whole Duty of Man was wholly ignorant of; otherwise he would not have laid such a Foundation. And if the Foundation be so bad, judge you then how wretchedly weak the Superstructure must be.' — He [the Person who urg'd the Authority of that Book, to justify the Use of innocent Recreations] is not the first, by Thousands, who has been miserably deceived by this Book; and therefore I thought my self obliged to write this Letter. You may make what Use you will of it. I care not if the Contents are published upon the House-top. — There is no Hopes of bringing People to a right Knowledge of the Gospel, till their favourite, though erroneous, Authors are discountenanced and laid aside.

Qu. 11. Whether, the Frame of human Nature fairly considered, the Author of the Whole Duty of Man did not do better Service to Religion, in laying down Rules to keep Recreations of all Kinds within the Bounds of Innocence; than they, who now censure him, and absolutely deny that * Recreations of any Kind, consider'd as such, are or can be innocent?

* Mr. Whitfield's Letter from New Brunswick, p. 7. — Journal V. p. 58, 59, 77, 78. — Wesley's Journal II. p. 13.

Qu. 12. Whether the strong Expressions which are found in their printed Journals, of † extraordinary Presences of God directing and assisting them in a more immediate Manner, do not need some Testimonies of a Divine Mission, to clear them from the Charge of Enthusiasm?

† Many Passages of that and other Kinds, are cited out of Mr. Whitfield's 1st, 2d; and 3d Journals, in the Bishop of London's Fourth Pastoral Letter; those three being all that were then published. Such are these that follow: — Had much of the Presence of God with me, Journal I. p. 18. — Had much of God with me to Day, ibid. p. 28. — The Kingdom of God is with in me, Journ. III. p. 4. — My Opposers, would they but speak, cannot but confess that God is with me of a Truth, ibid. p. 18.

But since the Publication of those three Journals, he has published four more; and those more full of Enthusiasm, if possible, than the three first; as will appear by the following Extracts.

I. Extraordinary Presences of God.

P. 2. My Soul was so fill'd with God, that the Word came with very great Power to all that heard me.

P. 3. God is pleas'd to vouchsafe me great Measures of his divine Presence.

PART III.

BESIDES the two forementioned JOURNALS of Mr. Whitfield and Mr. Wesley, there has been published a large Collection of LETTERS; written chiefly by the Teachers, to one another, and containing pompous Accounts of their Labours and the Success of them, with mutual Commendations in no low Strains. These they have taken Care, from Time to Time, to hand to the PUBLICK *. The Letters, in the main, are written in the same Style and Language with the Journals; but yet have in them, here and there, some Peculiarities, which afford proper Matter for a few Queries more.

Such as had publick Gifts were settled as Superintendents over the rest.— What was not, and could not, be settled last Association, will, I trust, be settled next Friday, when we are to meet with some that could not be present then, N^o 2. V. 3. p. 28.

I am now at the third monthly Meeting—most of what we did, and shall do, in our monthly Society, till our next general Association, is, to settle the private Exhorters, N^o 2. V. 3. p. 82.

We are to meet at our monthly Association on Friday, N^o 3. V. 3. p. 38.

About Eight, we opened the Association with great Solemnity—About Midnight we adjourn'd—About Eight we sat again—We continued doing Business till Two in the Afternoon, N^o 3. V. 3. p. 55.

V. MODERATORS.

I [Mr. Whitfield] opened the Association with a close and solemn Discourse, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 48.

I [Mr. Whitfield] am chosen, if in England, to be Moderator, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 49.

Dear Brother Harris, in my [Mr. Whitfield's] Absence, is to be Moderator, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 50.

Daniel Rowland, Mr. Davis, &c. to be Moderators in the Assembly, N^o 1. V. 4. p. 23.

Our

Our Saviour was much with me, teaching and helping me [Mr. Whitfield] to fill my Place [of Moderator] in a particular Manner, N^o 3. V. 3. p. 55.

VI. VISITATIONS.

In the mean Time I visit the Classes, N^o 1. V. 4. p. 12.

I am just now returned home from my Journey round a great Part of South-Wales, N^o 2. V. 2. p. 48.

We have settled Stewards and Visitors.— I trust, against next Assembly, to have seen and settled most of the Societies, if not all, every where, N^o 2. V. 2. p. 68.

Since I saw you, I have been over Part of eight Counties, N^o 2. V. 3. p. 26.

I have seen and settled most of the Societies in Brecknockshire, Monmouthshire, and Glamorganshire, N^o 2. V. 2. p. 68.

A Visitor of eight Counties, N^o 3. V. 2. p. 70.

I think to move hence, and visit the Churches in Wiltshire, N^o 45. 2 Fol.

I go from Fairfield to visit Wiltshire, N^o 59. 3 Fol.

I think to go a Round into Gloucestershire, and visit Brother A's Society, N^o 59. 3 Fol.

I visited the Societies of Foxham, &c. N^o 67. 1 Fol.

I have been a Circuit round the Country, N^o 69. 4 Fol.

Qu. 3. Whether Complaints publickly made by Methodist-Teachers, of Spiritual Desertions, and of an inward Weakness and Deadness, when so left to themselves; do not create an Opinion in their Disciples, that what they do and say at other Times, is the Effect of immediate Inspiration, by the Spirit of God? — Whether disclaiming, with great shew of Humility, all Ability as of themselves, to carry on the (I) Great Work which God hath now to do upon the Earth, and for which they would be thought the chosen Instruments in his Hands; does not create a like Opinion in their Disciples, that in carrying-on the Work, they are enabled and supported by extraordinary Supplies of Strength and Power from above? — Whether they have given, or can give, any Proof, either that God is now bringing-about any such Extraordinary Work; or, if he were, that they are the Persons singled-out, and employed by him, to carry it on? — And, Whether, without such Proof, they can answer to God and their own Consciences, for the uncommon Strains of (II) Boasting and Vain-glory, to be found among them?

I. IMAGINATION of some GREAT WORK, of which God makes them the Instruments.

This is taken from the Moravian Doctrine, as set down before in Part I. p. 7. And what is there said, explains the Meaning of what we find in one of Mr. Wesley's Journals (Journ. II. p. 39.) who speaking of the Conversation he had with some Moravians in Holland, adds, "The rest of the Day we spent with all the Brethren and Sisters, in hearing the wonder"ful

“ ful Work which God is beginning to work over all the Earth. — And to the same Effect Mr. Whitfield (Journ. III. p. 107.) Nothing confirms me more in my Opinion, that God intends to work a great Work upon the Earth, than to find how his Children of all Denominations every where wrestle in Prayer for me.

To the same Purpose are the Declarations in the Letters.

I believe that God hath a great Work to do on the Earth, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 30.

I believe, our Lord is going to do a great Work indeed, N^o 2. V. 2. p. 49.

I am sure, God is going to do great Things among us, N^o 2. V. 2. p. 71.

II. BOASTING and VAIN-GLORY.

The Word proves sharper than a two-edged Sword ; every Sermon is blest'd — These Words follow me, I have much People in this City, N^o 44. 1 Fol.

As soon as I was on Shore, the Holy Spirit fill'd my Soul. — The Lord commanded People to receive me and my Fellow Pilgrims into their Houses — As soon as I came to Shore at Leith, many came blessing me, wept, took hold of me, and kiss'd my Hand — Great Numbers follow'd our Coach, and almost catch'd me in their Arms as soon as I came out of it. O how did they weep for Joy. It would have melted you down to have seen them, N^o 66. 4. Fol.

A Friend met me without the Town and welcom'd me in the Name of, twenty Thousand — The Streets were all alarm'd, N^o 66. 5. Fol.

The Advertisement sent with this, will shew you how often I have been enabled to preach ; but with what Efficacy and Success, Pen cannot well describe, N^o 79. 4. Fol.

Many came now, telling me, what the Lord did when I was here last, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 40.

Every Thing falls before me, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 54.

The Brethren willingly acknowledge the Authority given me from above, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 49.

The Authority the Lord has given me, is unspeakable, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 52.

I remember, four Years ago, when I rode about Wales, God put Joshua's going-about taking one City after another, much upon my Heart. Dear Brother Harris reminded me of it now. And the Lord suggested to me, that now I was like Joshua, dividing the Land, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 49.

Scarce a Sermon, but some Souls are running unto me afterwards, and crying, What shall I do to be saved? And sometimes I have been so throng'd, I could scarce dismiss the People, to get home by Midnight. — Our Saviour follow'd me with much of his Presence, and I hear some are under Soul-concern, N^o 77. 1 Fol. *

* See more Instances of this Kind of Boasting and Vain-Glory, in Part II. p. 16 ; in Part III. p. 22.

[N. B. However, a Persuasion of their being God's special Ministers, and of a Rank superior to others, may be pleaded by them and their Followers, in Excuse for this Boasting and Vain-glory ; yet should a Parochial Minister write and publish, in that Manner, the great Pains he takes, and the uncommon Diligence he uses, in the Discharge of every Pastoral Duty within his Parish ; or should he make That the Subject even of his private Conversation ; Whatever we might think of his Industry and Zeal, we must have very mean Thoughts of his Modesty and Humility ; notwithstanding any Expressions he might occasionally throw-in, of great Insufficiency and Nothingness, as to himself.]

Qu. 4. Whether it be for the Service of Religion, to revive the Practice of (I) LOVE-FEASTS in Assemblies for Religious Worship; which, even in the more early Ages of Christianity, were found by Experience to be a Disservice and Dishonour to Religion, and were accordingly forbidden, and discontinued?

I. LOVE-FEASTS.

O what a sweet Love-feast had we last Wednesday Night, N^o 1. V. 2. p. 58.

At Hamton I held a general Love-feast with the united Societies. Our dear Master being invited, came and sat at the Head of the Table, and bid me give his People to eat, N^o 1. V. 3. p. 47.

A Sweet Love-feast, N^o 44. 1. Fol.

— The Room was full of the Power of God, N^o 1. V. 2. p. 58.

A precious Love-feast, N^o 49. 4. Fol.

A choice Love-feast, N^o 1. V. 2. p. 55—
N^o 2. V. 4. p. 16.

Qu. 5. Whether, upon the Whole, these Itinerant Preachings, and the Setting-up separate Places of publick Worship at Pleasure, and those Pretences to more immediate Communications with God, and the visible Endeavours to bring the Parochial Pastors, and the publick Worship, under a Disesteem among the People (the first, as unwilling or unable to give due Instruction to those under their Care, and the second, by leading the People into a Persuasion that their own extempore Effusions are far more edifying than the Established Worship :) Whether these and the like irregular Practices, are not of the same Kind with those of the last Century, that had so great a Share in bringing-on those Religious Confusions, which brought a Reproach upon Christianity in general, and which, by Degrees, work'd the Body of the People into a national Madness and Frenzy, in Matters of Religion?

Qu. 6. Whether, if this Itinerant Way of Preaching may be taken-up by any one at Pleasure, without the least Enquiry as to Abilities or Morals, and without any other Restraint whatsoever; many Persons, who have no Provision or Settlement in Life, nor perhaps either Abilities or Morals, may not be tempted to put on the Garb, and to learn the genuine Language of a Methodist; as the best Expedient they can think of, to procure for themselves a comfortable Subsistence?
