O N

A SINGLE LIFE.

1. T HE forbidding to marry, as it is well known the Church of Rome does, and has done for feveral Ages (in which Marriage is abfolutely forbidden, not only to all Religious Orders, but to the whole Body of the Clergy) is numbered, by the great Apossile, among the doll rines of Devils. And among the fame we need not foruple to number, the dessign or condemning Marriage: As do many of those in the Romis Church, who are usually termed Mystic Writers. One of these does not foruple to affirm : "Mar-" riage is only licensed Fornication." But the Holy Ghost fays, Marriage is bonourable in all, and the bedundesside. Nor can it be doubted, but perfons may be as holy in a married, as it is possible to be in a fingle, State.

II. In the latter Claufe of the Sentence, the Apofile feems to guard against a Mistake, into which fome fincere Christians have fallen; particularly, when they have just found fuch a Liberty of Spirit, as they had not before experienced. They imagine a defilement where there is none, and fear where no fiar is. And it is possible this very fear of Sin, may betray them into Sin. For it may induce married perfons to defraud each other, forgetting the express Determination of the Apossile, The wise bath not power of ber ewan body, but the bufband; and the bufband hath not power of bis own body, but the wise. I Cor. vii. 4.

III. And yet we must not forget what the Apofile fubjoins in the following Verfes. I fay to the unmarried and widows: It is good for them, if they abide even as I, J. 8. Art thou bound unto a wife? Seek not to be loofed: Art thou loofed from a wife? Seek not a wife. But if thou marry, than haft not finned.—weverthelefs fuch shall have trouble in the field. J. 27, 28. I would have you without carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things of the Lord, how he may pleafe the Lord! But he that is married careth for the things of the world, how he may pleafe his wife....The mmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that for may be ried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that for may be the things of the world, how the may pleafe ber hust and for the this I speak for your own prefit, that yeu may attend upon the Lord without diftration, J. 32, 35.

IV. But though it is good for a man not to touch a woman $(\forall, 1)$ yet this is not an univerfal Rule. I would, indeed, fays the Apofile, that all men were even as mylef, $\forall 7$. But that cannot be. For every man bath bis proper gift of God, one after this manner, another after that. If then they canrot contain, let them marry, for it is better to marry than to burn, $\forall 9$. To avaid fornication, let every man bave his own wife, and let every woman have her own hufband. Exactly agreeable to this are the words of our Lord. When the Apofiles inid, If the cafe be fo, it is good not to marry, be faid unto them, All men cannot receive this (aying, but they to whom it is given. For there are fome, who were fo born from their mother's womb; there are fome, who were made ensuchs by men; and there are ensuchs who have made themfelves cunuchs, for the kingdom of heaven's fake. He that is able to receive it, let bin receive it. Matt. xix. 11, 12.

V. But who is able to receive this faying? To abstain from Marriage, and yet not burn? It behoves every one here to judge for himfelf; none is called to judge for another. In general; I believe, every man is able to receive it, when he is first justified. I believe every one then receives this Gift: But with most it does not continue long. Thus much is clear: it is a plain matter of fact, which no man can deny. It is not fo clear, whether God withdraws it of his own good pleafure, or for any fault of ours. I incline to think, it is not withdrawn, without fome Fault on our part. But be that as it may, I have now only to do, with those who are full able to receive this faying.

VI. To this happy Few I fay, 1. Know the Advantages you enjoy, many of which are pointed out by the Apofile himfelf. You may be without carefulnefs. You are under no neceffity of careing for the things of the world. You have only to care for the things of the Lord, how you may pleafe the Lord. One care alone lies upon You, how you may be holy both in body and fpirit.

You may attend upon the Lord without diffraction. While others, like Martha, are cumbered with much ferwing, and drawn hither and thither by many things, You may remain centred in God, fitting, like Mary, at the Matter's feet, and liftening to every word of his mouth.

You enjoy a bleffed Liberty from the trouble in the fleft, which must more or lefs attend a married State, from a thousand namelefs domestic Trials, which are found someror later in every Family. You are exempt from numberlefs Occasions of Sorrow and Anxiety, with which Heads of Families are intangled: Especially those, who have fickly, or weak, or unhappy, or disobedient Children. If your Servants are wicked, you may put them away, and your Relation to them ceases. But what could you do with a wicked Son or Daughter? How could you diffolve that Relation?

Above all, you are at liberty from the greateft of all Intanglements, the loving One Creature above all others. It is possible, to do this without fin, without any impeachment of our Love to God. But how inconceivably difficult? To give God our whole Heart, while a Creature has fo large a fhare of it? How much more eafily may we do this, when the Heart is tenderly indeed, but equally attached to more than one? Or at leaft, without any great Inequality? What angelic Wildom does it require, to give A 3 enough of our Affection, and not too much, to fo near a Relation?

And how much easier is it (just to touch on One point more) wholly to conquer our Natural Defires, than to gratify them exactly fo far, as Christian Temperance allows? Just fo far as every Pleasure of Sense prepares us for taking pleasure in God.

VII. You have Lcifure, to improve yourfelf, in every kind, to wait upon God in public and private, and to do Good to your Neighbour in various ways, as Christian Prudence shall suggest. Whereas those who are married are necessarily taken up with the things of the world. You may give all your Time to God without interruption, and need afk leave of none but Yourfelf fo to do. You may employ every Hour in what you judge to be the most excellent Way. But if you was married, you must ask leave of your Companions Otherwife what Complaints or Difguft would follow? And how hard is it even to know (How much more, to act fuitably to that Knowledge) how far you ought to give way, for Peace fake. and where to flop? What Wildom is requisite, in order to know, How far von can recede from what is mot excellent, particularly with regard to Conversation that is not to the use of edifying. in order to please your good-natured or ill-natured Partner. without difpleafing God?

VIII. You may give all your worldy fu^lflance to God. Nothing need hinder. You have no increasing Family, You have no Wife or Children to provide for, which might occation a thousand Doubts (without an extraordinary measure of Divine Light) Whether you had done either too much or too little for them. You may make yourfelf toriends of all the mainmon of unrighteowfnels which God intrults you with : Having none that has any right to complain, or to charge you with unkindnels for fo doing. You may lay out all your Talents of every kind, entire y for the Glory of God: As you have none elfe to please, mone to regard, but him that lived and di d for you.

IX. I fay, Secondly, Prize the Advantages you enjoy: Know the value of them. Effeem them as highly while you have them, as others do after they have loft them. Pray conflantly and fervently for this very thing, That God would teach you to fet a due value upon them. And let it be matter of daily Thankfgiving to God, that he has made you a partaker of thefe Benefits. Indeed the more full and explicit you are herein, the more fenfible you will be of the Caufe you have to be thankful: the more lively Conviction you will have, of the Greatnefs of the Bleffing.

X. If you know and duly prize the Advantages you enjoy, then 3. be careful to keep them. But this (as easy as it may feem) it is impoffible you should do by your own firength: So various, to frequent and to ftrong are the Temptations which you will meet with to caft them away. Not only the Children of the World, but the Children of God will undoubtedly tempt you thereto : And that partly by the most plausible Reasons, partly by the most artful Perfuafions. Mean time the old Deceiver will not be wanting to give an edge to all those Reasons, and Persuasions. and to recall the Temptation again and again, and prefs it clofe upon your heart. You have need therefore to use every Help. And the first of these is earnest Prayer. Let no Day pais without this, without praying for this very thing, That God would work what with men is impoffible : That he would vouchfafe to preferve his own Gift, and that you may not fuffer any loss this day, either by the Subtlety or Power of Devils or Men, or the deceitfulness of your own heart.

XI. A Second Help may be, the converting frequently and freely with those of you own Sex who are like-minded. It may be of infinite Service, to disclose to these the very Secrets of your hearts: Especially the Weaknesses foringing from your Natural Constitution, or Education, or long contracted Habit, and the Temptations which from time to time most easily best you. Advise with them on every Circumftance that occurs: open your heart without referve. By this means a thousand Devices of Satan will be brought to nought. Innumerable Snares will be prevented; Or you will pais through them without being hurt. Yea, and if at. fome time you should have suffered a little, the wound will speedily be healed.

Circum-

XII. I fay, Of your own Sex: for in the Third place, it will be highly expedient, to avoid all needlefs Conversation, much more all Intimacy, with those of the Other Sex : So expedient, that, unlefs you observe this, you will furely caft away the Gift of God. Say not, " But they have " much Grace and much Understanding." So much the greater is the Danger. There would be lefs Fear of your receiving Hurt from them, if they had less Grace or less Understanding. And whenever any of these are thrown in your way, make a covenant with your Eyes, your Ears, your Hands, that you do not indulge yourfelf in any that are called innocent Freedoms. Above all, Keep your beart with all diligence. Check the first risings of Defire. Watch against every Sally of Imagination, particularly if it be pleafing. If it is darted in whether you will or no, yet let no wain thought ledge within you. Cry out, "My God " and my All, I am thine, thine alone! I will be thine " for ever ! O fave me from fetting up an idol in my heart 1 " Save me from taking any flep toward it ! Still bring " my every thought into captivity, to the obedience of " Chrift."

XIII. "But how shall I attain to, or how preferve "this Strength and Firmnels of Spirit?" In order to this, I advise you, fourthly (need I fay. To avoid the Sin of Onan: Seeing Satan will not cast out Satan? Or rather) Avoid with the utmoss cast out Satan? Or rather? Avoid with the utmoss cast out Satan? Or rather? Avoid with the utmoss cast out Satan? or infpired Writer, of paratol, the fost or effeminate, whether poor, or rich (the Apossic, the fost or effeminate, whether poor, or rich (the Apossic inberit the kingdom of God. speedily and the more resolutely, if you have been long accustomed thereto. Avoid all needless Self-indulgence, as well as Delicacy and Softnefs. All these tend to breed, or cherish those Appetites and Passions, which you have renounced for Chrift's fake. They either create or increase , those Defires, which for the kingdom of beaven's lake you are determined not to gratify. Avoid all Sloth, Inactivity, Indolence. Sleep no more than Nature requires. Be never idle. And use as much bodily Exercise, as your Strength will allow. I dare not add Monfieur Pafcal's Rule, Avoid all Pleasure. It is not possible to avoid all Pleasure even of Senfe, without deftroying the Body. Neither doth God require it at our hands. It is not his Will concerning us. On the contrary he giveth us all things to enjoy; fo we enjoy them to his Glory. But I fay, avoid all that Pleafure, which any way hinders you from enjoying Him : Yea, all fuch pleafure as does not prepare you for taking pleafure in God. Add to this constant and continued Course of universal Self-denial, the taking up your cross daily, the enduring bardship as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. Remember, the kingdom of beaven Suffers violence, and the violent take it by force. This is the way: walk therein: think not of a fmoother Path. Add to your other Exercises constant and prudent Fasting, and the Lord will uphold you with his hand.

XIV. I advife you, laftly, if you defie to keep them, u/e all the Advantages you enjoy. Indeed without this, it is utterly impossible to keep them: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken (the word which cannot be broken, which must be fulfilled, with regard to all the good Gifts of God) To bim that bath, uses what he hath, shall be given; and be shall have more abundantly: but from him that bath not, uses it not, shall be taken even that which be hath. Would you therefore retain what you now have, what God hath already given? If so, giving all di igence, use it to the uttermost. Stand fast in every instance of the liberty wherewith Christ bath made you free. Be not intangled again in the Cares of this life, but cast all your care on bim that aareth for you.

you careful for nothing, but in every thing make your requests known unto God with thank/giving.

See that you wait upon the Lord without diffraction : let nothing move you from your Center. One thing is need/ul; to fee, love, follow Christ, in every Thought, Word and Work.

Flee the Sorrow of this world: it worket b death. Let not your heart be troubled. In all Circumstances, let your ful magnify the Lord, and your fpirit rejoice in God your Saviour. Preferve a constant Screnity of mind, an even Chearfulnels of Spirit.

Keep at the utmost diftance from foolifh Defires, from defiring any Happiness but in God. Still let all your Defire be to bim, and to the remembrance of bis name.

Make full use of all the leifure you have: Never be unemployed: never triftingly employed: Let every Hour turn to fome good account. Let not a fcrap of Time be fquandered away: Gather up the fragments, that nothing be lost. Give all your time to God: Lay out the whole, as you judge will be most to his glory. In particular, fee that you walte no part of it in unprofiable Conversation; but let ail your discourse be feasoned with fait, and meet to munister grace to the hearers.

Give all your Money to God. You have no pretence for laying up treasures upon earth. While you "gain all you "can," and "fave all you can," "Give all you can," that is all you have.

Lay out all your Takents of every kind, in doing all Good to all men : Knowing that every man shall receive bis own reward, according to his own labour.

XV. Upon the whole, without difputing, Whether the Married or Single Life be the more perfect State (an idle Difpute: Since Perfection does not confift in any Outward State whatever, but in an absolute Devotion of all our Heart and all our Life to God): We may fafely fay, Bleffed are they who have made them/elves eunuchs, for the kingdom of heavens fake: Who abitain from things lawful in themfelves, in order to be more devoted to God. Let thefe never forget those remarkable words \dagger , Peter faid, Lo, we have left all and followed thee. And Jefus answered and faid, Verily I fay unto you (a Preface denoting both the Certainty and Importance of what is spoken) There is no man that bath left (either by giving them up, or by not accepting them) houfe, or brethren, or fifters, or faiher, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my fake and the gospel²i², but be shall receive an bundred fold — now, in this time; and, in the world to come, eternal life.
