This is a reproduction of a library book that was digitized by Google as part of an ongoing effort to preserve the information in books and make it universally accessible.

Google books

https://books.google.com

12. A THE TEDa. Almost Christian DISCOVER ED, In fome SERMONS on Alts 26.28. With a Blow at Profaneness. By the R. R. Ezekiel Hopkins, late Lord Bishop of London-Derry: To which is added, The Upright CHRISTIAN DISCOVERED : Gathered out of the judicious Treatifes of William Bates, D. D. LONDON, Printed for Dorman Newman at the King's Arms in the Poulircy, Jonathan Robinson at the Golden Lion in St. Paul's Church Yard. and Tho. Cockeril at the Three Legs in the Poultrey, 1693. Digitized by Google 🛰

то т не READER.

HE Excellent Preacher of these Sermons, was one that Sought out acceptable Words; not to tickle the Fancy, but to affect the Confciences, in order to better the Hearts and Lives of his Auditors. He was a Perfon truly great and good ; well known, not only in the Kingdom of Ireland (where he fhined in a higher Orb) but in this of England also, especially in the two Renowned Cities (not only for Trade, but Religion) of London and Exeter, where Multitudes fate under his Ministry with great Delight and Profit. I need A 3 not not trouble my felf or the Reader to make folemn Proteftations, or to infert Certificates under the Hands of feveral Perfons concerning the Authenticknefs of thefe Sermons: All thofe that have heard him, or have read his other excellent and ufeful Treatifes (a large Account of which, is here annexed) will eafily be convinced by the Spirituality of the Matter, and Beauty of the Stile, that thefe are the genuine Offspring of Bifhop Hopkins.

To the Reader.

That these Discourses may be so bless'd to all that shall read them, that they may be not only Almost; but Altogether Christians, is the hear, ty Prayer of the Publisher.

A

CATALOGUE

À

OF THE

Works of Bishop Hopkins already Published.

THE Vanity of the World; in feveral Sermons, from Ecclef. 1.2. Vanity of Vanities, faith the Preacher; Vanity of Vanities, all is Vanity. To which is added Two other Sermons; one at the Funeral of the Honourable Algernoon Grevil Efq; from Ecclef. 9. 5. For the Living know that they shall die. The other, on the 30th. of January, from St. Peter, 1 Pet. 2. 13. 14. Submit your felves to every Ordinance of Man for the Lord's fake whether it be to the King as fupream, or unto Governours. as unto them A 5. who:

who are fent by him, for the punishment of evil doers, and the praise of them that do well. In Ottavo.

Difcourfes, or Sermons on feveral Scriptures, Vol. 1. Containing these following Subjects;

The Folly of Sinners in making a mock of Sin; from Prov. 14. 19. Fools make a mock at Sin.

The Refurrection of Jesus Christ; Demonstrated from Acts2.24. Whom God hath raised up, having bosed the pains of Death; because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

True Happines; from Rev. 22. 14. Bleffed are they that do his Commandments, that they may have right to the Tree of Life, and may enter in through the Gates into the Gity.

Brotherly Admonition; from Lev. 19: 17. Thou shalt not hate thy Brother in thy beart; thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy Neighbour, and not suffer Sin upon him.

The.

The Dreadfulness of God's Wrath against Sinners; Demonstrated from Heb. 10. 30, 31. For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompence, saith the Lord: And again the Lord shall indge his People. It is a fearful thing to sail into the hands of the living God. In Ottavo.

An Exposition on the Ten Commandments; To which is added two Sermons; one on St. John 7. 19. Did not Moses give you the Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law. The other, on Gal. 3. 3 10. For as many as are of the works of the Law, are under he Curse of the Law; for it is written, Curkd is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the Book of the Law to lothem. In Quarto.

An Exposition on the Lord's Prayer, with a Catechistical Explication thereof, by way of Question and Answer for the instructing of Youth: To which is added, A Discourse upon Providence; from St. Mat. 10. 29, 30. Are not two Sparrows fold for a farthing, and one of them shall not fall to the ground without your Father? But the very pairs of your head are all numbred. Asalfo, fo, A Discourse demonstrating the excellent Advantages of reading and studying the Holy Scriptures; from Col. 3. 16. Let the Word of Christ dwell in you richly in all Wisdom. In Quarto.

Digitized by Google

A Second Volume of Discourses or Sermons on several Scriptures; containing these following Subjects, viz. A Discourse on Man's Mortality; from Heb. 9.27. It is appointed unto Men once to die, and after this the Judgment. The great Evil and Danger of little Sins; from St. Matth. 5.19. Whosever therefore shall break any one of these these becatted the least in the Kingdom of Heaten. Of Abstaining from the Appearance of Evil, from 1 Thes. 5. 22. Abstain from all appearance of evil.

The Nature, Danger, Aggravations and Cure of presumptuous Sinning, with the difference between Restraining and santifying Grace; from Presumptuous Sins; from Psal, 19.13. Keep back thy Servant from presumptuous Sins, let them not have dominion over me.

Of Pardon and Forgiveness of Sin; from Isaiab 43.25. I, even I am he that blotterb out thy Transgressions for my own sake, and will not remember thy Sins. In Octavo.

Several other Discourses of this Reverend Bishop's are defigned shortly to be Printed.

тне

·(I)

SERMON I.

Acts 26. 28.

Then Agrippa said unto Paul ALMOST thou persuadest me to be a CHRISTIAN.

TN this Chapter we have St. Paul in his Fetters pleading before that Honourable Sellions of Feftus and Agrippa; his Plea we have largely fet down from the ift. to the 24th. Verfe, in which he opens his Commiflion, that he had received in an extraordinary manner from Heaven, for preaching of that Doctrine which was every where fpoken against, and for worshipping God in that way which was called Herefie. I shall not at all enter into the confideration of the Apology; but let us look only at the different Effects that it wrought upon the B Hearers:

Google .

2

Hearers: Festus and Agrippa they were both of them Unbelievers, the one an unbelieving Heathen, the other an unbelie-ving Jew, and thus they both continue; yet St. Paul's Speech works very differently upon them. In the 24th. Verfe you have Festus raving; he said with a lond voice, Paul, thou art besides: thy felf, much learning bath made thee mad. Thy Thoughts of a Vision and an Apparition, of a Man dead and buried, lying fafe under ground, that he should rife again and appear from Heaven to thee, being the Saviour of the World, is a meer Fancy, proceeding from a ftrong Phrenzy: Thus he fcoffs and raves. But this very Sermon which feem-ed Madnefs and an idle Tale to unbelieving Festus, carries a strong Conviction in it to Agrippa, who was an Unbeliever too; Almost thou persuadest me to be sa Christian.

Hence observe That the Word of God bath a far different effect, even upon those, upon whom it hath no faving effect; one raves and rageth against it, is seared and stupified by it; another is convinced and terrified by it. Festus he scoffs and mocks, goes away laughing at the Doctrine, and reviling the Preacher: But Agrippa is convinced vinced, and half perfuaded, to believe and practife that very Doctrine, and highly to efteem the Preacher of it. And is it not fo even among us? Are there not many who may come to the Ordinan-ces in a natural and finful Estate and Condition, the fame Word of God is caft among them all; yea, but what is the Success? The Sword of the Spirit when it is brandified amongst a great Croud of Configiences, it is not likely that it should mifs all, and strike none of them; one perhaps goes away flighting and contem-ning; another goes away fcoffing and railing against it; and another half-per-fuaded by it to become a Christian, to be almost a Christian. If every Man's Breast had a Cafement in it by which we might fee the inward Effuations and Boilings of fee the inward Effuations and Boilings of their Hearts, how they work after a pow-erful and terrifying Sermon; fhould we not behold and fee fome fhifting, and fluif-fling, their. Sins out of the way; fome holding ap: the Bucklers of prejudicate Opinions, to ward and fence off the flroke of the Spirit; fome fretting and florming at the lancing of their Confeiences; fome fcorping and fcoffing with Feftw, that it is no better than Folly and Madnefs; fome B 2 trembling trembling B 2 trembling with Felix; fome convinced and wrought upon as Agrippa to faint refolutions, and half purpofes; and yet all these remain under the Power of Unbelief and Unregeneracy. It is indeed a wonder among fuch diversity of Opera-tions that the Word hath upon the Souls and Confciences of Men, it could be poffible that fuch a multitude should go away without any faving Operation by it; fome blinded and hardened, fome terrified, fome ftupified; fome exafperated and inraged; fome convinced and half-perfuaded, and fuch are those that we now speak of: Such as are, as it were, half of one Complexion, and half of another, that flick in the New Birth, whole Hearts have been warmed with good Motions; who have entertained approving and admiring Thoughts concerning the ways of Holinefs, who have taken up fome refolutions of doing better, and of being better; and yet do not come off roundly and speedily from their Sins, nor close fully with Christ. These are the half-Christians which the Text speaks of.

3

4

The Words they are plain in themfelves; and therefore do not require much much Explication. Only the Word tranflated Almost thou perfuadest me, &c. if accurately rendered according to the Original, it is a little thou perfuadeft me, Cc. So in the Reply St. Paul makes with a holy kind of Gallantry in the enfuing Verfe you find there it is oppofed to much, which we render altogether; but the Grammatical Conftruction is, Would to God they were both all and in much fuch as I am except these Bonds. So then in a little thou perfuadest me; that is, I could methinks be contented to be a Christian in a little, in fome few things; fome part of the Way I could willingly go, faith Agrippa : But St. Paul concludes, it mult not be only in a little, but in much, in all. If we follow this Sence and Interpretation of the Words; then obferve.

5

Doft. 1. There goes much to the making of a true Christian, a little will not ferve.

It is not a little will ferve; for many precious Ingredients go to the making of a true Christian; and much of each Ingredient goes to the making of a strong Christian. There must be Profession, B 3. Faith,

Coogle

6

Faith, Obedience, Self-denial, Patience, Humility, outward Preparation and in-ward Graces, outward Imbellifhments and inward Ornaments, and a little of it is but little worth. There are many that are perfuaded to be Chriftians in Name and Profession, to be Chriftians in out-ward participation of Ordinances and Communion with Saints and the like; yea, but this is to be a Chriftian but only in a little. Are you perfuaded to obey Chrift in all, to take up his Cross, and deny your felves, to oppose and mortifie your Lufts, and to perform the harsheft and your leives, to oppose and mortine your Luits, and to perform the harsheft and feverest part of Religion: This is indeed to be a Christian not only in a little but in much; yea, in all, to be such as St. Paul himself was. But then if you take the Words according to our Translation, which the Original also will very well bear: So it is within a little or almost thou per-fuadelt me; for King Agrippa was fully convinced of the Truth of those things which Paul related, as you may fee, v. 26. He knew these things, and was ignorant of none of them, they were not hidden from him; for these things were not done in a corner. He could not be ignorant of the miraculous Conversion of him, who had been to furious and notorious aPerfecutor of Christians: He, who was expert in all the Cuftoms that were among the Jews, ver. 3. could not be ignorant of what the Apostle affirms, ver. 22, 23. This that Mofes and the Prophets foretold that Chrift should suffer and be raised from the dead, and should give life to the Gentiles : Of all this King Agrippa was fully convinced; and yet when Paul fo infinuatingly prelfeth upon him, Believest thou the Prophets? I know thou believest. The result of all is this, That he was but almost perfuaded, not fully perfuaded of the Truth of what St. Paul fpeaks concerning Chrift, concerning himfelf, and concerning Chriftians; yet for all that he was but almost perfuad; d' to be a Christian. Hence likewise obferve, Doct. 2. That Perfons who are fully and truly convinced, are many times but almost and half perfuaded.

had

There may be a powerful perfusion in the Judgment and the Confcience concerning Chrift and his ways, when there is but half a perfusion in the Will and Affeditions to clofe with him. These Ob-B 4. fervations; fervations I gather up as they lie ftrewed in my passage. I shall not insist upon them but only as they are subservient to the fuller Profecution of the General Doctrine, which you may take thus.

8

Doct. 3. That these who never were in CHRIST; yet may be almost Christians.

I need not here ftand to tell you, that Chriftianity may be taken either,

First, For an outward Profession of Christ, as it is opposed to all other Religions in the World, whether Heathenish Idolatry, Mahometan Stupidity, or Jewish Ceremony: Or, Secondly, For an inward and cordial embracing of Jesu Christ, thus professed, as it stands opposed, either to the Prophaneness or Hypocristie of carnal Gospellers.

Evident it is, that the Christianity that Agrippa was almost perfuaded into, was of the first fort, not excluding the fecond. Nay, it was feldom feen that in those Primitive Times, wherein no carnal Respect or outward Advantage could commend commend the Gofpel to the Interests of Men. When the reward of professing Christ was Perfecution and Martyrdom; then I fay it was feldom feen that any would take Chrift by Profession, who would not also take him by Faith and Ad-herence. Few there were that would take up Religion, even upon this Condition, to lay down their Lives for Christ, who yet through their own Profaneness or Hypocrifie, were to receive no Benefit from the Death of Christ. So that to perfuade Men then to be Christians in Pro-fession, it was the fame with persuading them to be Christians in reality. "But "now when the Name of Christ is fo much. " courted, when the denying of Chrift " would be repaid with the fame punish-"ment, that formerly the owning of "Chrift underwent, you need not fo " much perfusion to take upon you the "outward Profession of Christianity. For you are not only almost, but altogether Christians in the external Garb; but our perfuasion to you, must be, that as you own Christ in an outward Profession of him, fo that you would cleave to him by a true Faith in him, and Obedience to him. 4. 3 Web

Bes

We are not then to fpeak to Pagans, to convert them to a new Religion; but (if I may fo fay) we are to fpeak to Chriftian Infidels, to convert them to a new Life and Conversation. Nor yet among these doth my Subject lead me to the profane and looser fort, whose being called Christians doth not more honour them, than they difgrace and reproach that holy Name; but to those who are more elevated, and more refined, who go far in Christianity fo as to be near the Kingdom of God. In a word, such as are Almost Christians, and yet are Strangers to Christ, and remain in their finful State and unregenerate Condition.

Now in the Profecution of this Point, I fhall enquire into these following Particulars in this Method.

- . What Progrefs Men may make towards. Christianity, and yet fall short of it.
- 2. Whence they are enabled to proceed for far, and what it is that carries them out to all their Attainments.

3. What

10

3. What it is that hinders them from proceeding further; 'and when they are almost Christians, what keeps them from being fuch altogether?

4. To thew you the folly and mifery of those who proceed thus far only, as to be almost Christians, and no farther.

First, Let us see what Progress a natural Man may make towards Grace and Christianity, and yet remain in a similar state. Before I can come in particular to determine this, I must premise these two or three Particulars:

First, That when we enquire what Progreis an unregenerate man may make towards Grace, this supposes that there is a tendency in what such a man doth,, or may do towards the obtaining of Grace. Or how else can he make any progress towards it, if that which he doth hath no tendency to is? Let us therefore enquire what kind of tendency this is. There may be a two-fold tendency supposed in a the Actions of an unregenerate man, towards the acquisition of Grace.

11 Effective;,

IL

1. Effective,

12

2. Subjective, Tendency.

I. Actions may be faid to have an effe-Elive tendency, when they do by their own efficiency and caufalty produce that which they tend to; and in this fence it must be denied that the Actions of an unregenerate man, have any tendency towards Grace, be their progrefs what it will; thereby he cannot efficiently produce or caufe Grace in himfelf; and therefore Grace is called the new Creature, as being the ef-fect only of creating Power, which is the fole Prerogative of God, and it is as utterly impossible for a Man to create Grace in the Soul, as to create the Soul it felf. Take but this one demonstration to evince it: If an unregenerate Man by his own Power and Efficiency can produce Grace in himfelf, then one of these two gross Absurdities must needs follow, either, 1. that there are still left holy Habits and Principles in the Will, which were never loft by the Fall of Man: Or, 2. That a Man may make himfelf truly. holy by a Will that is totally corrupt and inful; but either of these are very gross. Firft,

First, There are no holy nor divine Habits left in the Will of a carnal man, whereby he should be able to regenerate, and convert himself; for what holy Habit can there be in the Will of one that is wholly corrupted? if any such be suppofed, it may also be supposed that it is true Grace; and to affirm that a Man in a state of Nature hath true Grace inherent in him, whereby he is able to convert and regenerate himself, is double non-sence and a flat contradiction; for it is to affirm that he hath Grace before he hath it.

Secondly, A Will totally corrupted, cannot make an holy Man, cannot produce Grace, nor make a Man holy, Grace is beyond and above its Sphere, all the motions of the Will in its fallen Eftate, what through defect of a right Principle from whence they flow, and a right end to which they tend, they are all evil and finful. And it is very ftrange to affirm that a gracious Habit may be wrought in us by finful Actions. And befides the Will of a Man by the Fall, it is a flefhly Will; but in Regeneration it is made fpiritual. Now it were a ftrange kind of Production, if flefhly could beget fpiritual; nor would. it it any longer hold true what our Saviour faith in John 3.35. That which is born off the flefh, is flefh: So that I think 'tis very evident, that all that a Man can da by the power of Nature cannot tend efficiently to produce Grace in him. Secondly, There is a fubjective tendency towards Grace; and this lies in those moral preparations, and those difpolitions of the heart which fit it for the receiving of Grace, though it be wrought there only by the Holy Ghoft. And thus we affirm that while Men are in an unregenerate ftate, they may have and do fomewhat that hath a tendency in it to Grace; that is, one unregenerate Man may have more of these previous dispositions, and of these preparations for the receiving of Grace,; than another hath: For though it be not in it felf fingly necessary that fuch previous. dispositions should be wrought in the Soul before the implantation of divine Grace; fince fuch a Subject as the Soul is in refpect. of Grace, doth not, as the Schoolmen determine, require its previous dispositions for the production of its Form; yet this is the ufual common way of the Spirit's work, 1. To prepare the heart by fome

, Google

. 13

14

1. To prepare the heart by fome common Works of Conviction, legal Terrors.

Digitized by Google

15

Terrors, and remorfe of Confcience, first to prepare the heart by these before its works any faving and real work of Grace in it: And therefore when any unregenerate man hath much of these previous prepara-tions, we fay that he goes very far towards Grace, and he may be faid to be almost a Chri-fian. And this is all that tendency that an unregenerate Man hath, or can possibly do towards it: wiz a preparatory, and not towards it; viz. a preparatory, and not an effective operative tendency unto faving Grace and Regeneration.

2. Another thing premised is this, That what through wilful floth and wretch-That what through wilful floth and wretch-ed negligence, no unregenerate Man doth make fo great a progrefs towards Grace as he is able and can pollibly do. None go fo far as they can do in those previous preparations and difpositions towards it. When they find difficulty in opposing Temptation, in crucifying their Lufts, in performing of Duties, in denying their finful Delights and Pleasures, having no-thing supernatural within them to natura-lize and facilitate these things, and carry them on resolutely through all, they ne-ver keep up to the utmost of that Power which they have; but as they yield to those Temptations Temptations that they might relift, and commit thole Sins that they might reject; and neglect those Duties which for Matter and Substance of them they might perform; so none of them goes so far as they have a natural power to do: No Mangoes so far in the work of Grace as he might, if he would improve that power. which he hath by Nature.

3. Did they make as great a progress towards Grace as they might, they would not fall fo far fhort of Grace as they do. I fay if a wicked unregenerate Man did but as much as he is able by the power of Na-ture to do, without the fpecial Affiftance ture to do, without the fpecial Affiftance of the Holy Ghoft, they would not fall fo far fhort of Grace as they do. I would not enter into that Difpute whether God be engaged to beftow Grace upon the right Improvement of their natural power; yet it is certain, and agreed on by all, that he doth certainly do fo. God ufually beftows true and faving Grace upon thole who do rightly, and to their utmost, im-prove their natural power and ability for their acquiring of it. If God be not ob-liged by promife to affift them; yet through his Goodnefs and Mercy he is not wont WODE.

wont to defert them. Let them but labour to improve their natural ability to the utmost strain and pitch that their own capacity can elevate, God will (according to his usual method and wonted Goodnefs) come in by fupernatural Grace, and inable them to do that which by Nature they are not able to do; for no inftance can be given to the contrary. So then we may conclude that wicked Men never go fo far as they can; and did they, yet they could not efficiently work Grace in themfelves, but nevertheless they would be disposed and prepared for the receipt of Grace, which God upon fuch prepa-rations would undoubtedly beftow upon them. For although he be not obliged to give it them, yet usually he is wont to work it in them meerly through his own natural Goodness, free Grace and Mercy to them, pitying the weakness of their lapsed and fallen Nature.

I shall proceed to the Answer of the first Question in the general. I. Unregenerate Men may make a great progress, and may go very far towards Grace, and yet fall short of it; that in general is to be Almost a Christian. This I laid down in the Method propounded to you. Although though I fay not they go as far as they can. by the power of Nature, and yet fall flort of Grace; for that can never be inflanced in any; yet the fad and wretched Aposta-cy of those who have been eminent Profeffors, fhining, yea, and glaring Lights, exceeding, and alfo defpifing common attainments of others; their Apoftacy hath too evidently confirmed it to us, that Men may go very far towards Grace, and yet fall fhort of it. See what Chrift faith Mark. 12. 24. of that young Man, that forward young Man, Thou art not far, from the Kingdom of God; that is, thou art not far from Grace; for fo the Kingdom of God is oftentimes taken in Scripture for the Kingdom of Grace, fo that we may fay of fuch Men, they were not far from the Kingdom of God, not fan from Grace, not far from Heaven, climb-ing up almost thither, within view and; ken of it, having one foot, as it were; upon the Threshold of the Heavenly Gate; and yet even these tumble headlong, and never reft until they have plunged them-felves to the bottom of Hell. It is with: fuch Men as it is with the Vapours that are drawn up into the Air, they fhine. with the fame Light, with the fame appar rent

17

18

ţ.

rent Magnitude as the fixed Stars them-felves do, and we may think them mo-ving in the very fame Sphere with them; but when we fee them dart down to the Earth, and fpilling all that Light and Glory, which they gliftered with by the way, and fall into a filthy Jelly, thicker and more loathfome Subfrance than when they were first exhaled, we then conclude that all that Elevation of those false and blazing Lights, was vaftly fhort of that Heaven in which they feemed fometime to be fixed. So is it with many unrege-nerate Men; you cannot tell with what they are fraught till you fee them shipwracked; then it is a fign, that though they were never right and true Treasure. yet they are fomething very like it: When we fee them tumbling down off a glorious Profession through fatal Precipices of great, grofs, and desperate Sins, we may fadly conclude that that Man was not far from the Kingdom of God, though he was never yet there. Indeed every unregenerate Man, when he winds up himfelf to the highest pitch and strain, he may be faid to be far from the King-dom of God, in respect of his total de-privation of Grace; though his Actions bė be never fo fair and fpecious, yet they are very far from being gracious, as far as Darknefs is from Light; yet he may be faid not to be far from the Kingdom of God likewife in a four-fold respect.

Digitized by Google

19

First, In that he is far from that which is furthest from Grace; and that is, grois, flagitious, and notorious Sins, which are farthest off from Grace of all others; and these a natural Man may be very far and free from; and therefore not far from Grace.

Secondly, He may have that which very, much refembles and counterfeits Grace, fo that as to outward appearance there is but very little Diffimilitude differnable between them. Now that which is like another, may be faid not to be far from that which it is like.

Thirdly, He may be faid not to be far from Grace, becaufe (as I told you before) in the ordinary Works of the Spirit upon his Soul, he may have thole preparations and dispositions laid in them, which usually are previous and antecedent to Grace, because these are wrought usually usually before Grace; and therefore the person that hath these wrought upon him may be said not to be far from Grace.

Fourthly, He may be faid not to be far from Grace, becaufe if he did proceed but a little farther, he would pollibly attain to true Grace. Had fuch but improved their natural power to fuch a degree farther, God would have come in with power fupernatural, and have wrought that true and faving Principle in their lives, which would have been fure their lives, which would have been fure to have brought them to eternal Life. Grace indeed hath fuch a kind of depen-dance upon that which is natural; and that dependance is not fo much of Caufal-ty, as of Order and Confequence, which though it be not neceffary, yet it is com-monly granted on all Hands. Thus then in the general I have flewn you that un-regenerate Men may go far, yea very far towards. A Man may be Almost a Chri-ftian, and yet be out of Chrift; be near the Kingdom of Heaven, and yet not in it; and, possibly, be for ever excluded and flut out of it: and thut out of it.

SER-

2 I

SERMON II.

2. I shall proceed to the next thing propounded. As we have seen in the general, so now let us confider in particular what Progress a natural Man may make towards Grace; and that I shall do, by confidering the several steps and degrees by which they may arise up to a great height and glory of outward Profession: And this we cannot better do, than by shewing, 1. What Grace is. 2. What refemblance that which is wrought by a meer carnal Man may carry in it like true Grace; by comparing these together, we may see how near an unregenerate, carnal Man may come to true and faving Grace.

First, What Grace is. I need not tell you that I speak not now of an Objective Grace inherent in God; but terminated on us, whereby a change is wrought in our relation to him. And this Objective Grace is nothing elfe but the divine Love, Favour, and good Will of God expressed in in us. But I speak of a Subjective Grace inherent in us; whereby a real change is made in our Lives and Natures. And in brief you may take this Description of subjective or inherent Grace: It is a supernatural Habit immediately infused into the Soul by the Holy Ghost, residing in every Power and Faculty of the Soul as a Principle of holy and spiritual Opestation. And there is a five-fold change -wrought by it.

2:3

1. Upon the Judgment, or the direct Understanding, by informing and enlightening it.

2. Upon the Conference in the reflex Understanding, by awakening and paoffyingit:

3. Upon the Affettions, by spiritualizing

4. Upon the Will, by converting it.

5. Upon the Life and Conversation, by reforming it.

This

24

The Almost Christian.

This five fold change is wrought upon the whole Soul by true and fanctifying Grace.

Now in the next place I shall shew how. far a natural Man may attain to these, so as to be Almost a Christian.

First, Asfor his Mind or Understanding, he may be irradiated with a clear and sparkling knowledge of divine and spiritual Ob. jetts, when yet the Soul is not truly con-verted to God. It is true as in the Creation of the World, the Light is numbered and reckoned amongst the first of God's Works : So likewife in this new Creation, the first work of the Spirit of God is to fhed abroad his heavenly Light in the Understanding; and therefore we have this first in order, in that Commission which our Saviour Jesus Christ gives to St. Paul, Acts 26. 18. He fent him to the Gentiles, to open their eyes, and to turn them from darknefs to light; and then it follows, from the power of Satan to God. But yet notwithstanding, there is an Illumination about spiritual Things, which may gild and beantifie the Understanding of a natural Man, who like a Toad may be full òf of Rollon, though he hath a precious Stone in his Head. no Them wolfle, he lays down this as none of, these lattainments that an unregenerate Man may have, and yet be san Apostate; Heb 8:42 be may not only have a deep knowledge of Gofpel Myfteries, 10 as to fee the whole Gompages and concerenation of the Doctrine of Chrift , and to unfold them iso others ; but may show sallo particular difcoveries of the Glory and Beauty that there is in these things. We may see it clearly by Balaam's Ecstafie, Numb. 24. Such difcoveries carnal hearts may have made to them, and slee their Luftre and Beauty. May furthel, a caroal Man may be conwinded, that there is no other way of Recovery but by the Grace of God through the Merits of Christ, and of the fuitablemefs of Christ to his Soul, of the Freenes of God's Love, of the Riches of his Grace, of the Readinefs of his Hears to receive them; of the Defirableness of Happiness, of the Beauty of Holine(s, and yet for all chis remain in a natural State : But now, not to leave you under doubts and per-Helenities fuch an Illumination of a carnal Man, falls far hort of true Grace in these Two Particulars. Firft, . Ash

Digitized by GOOgle

25

Digitized by Google

26

First, In that it is but Limmer Hostile, whereas light; Alloumination Statistics fiwing is not only Light, but influence too. The cost will be all information

As the Light of the Sun doth not ferve -only to paint the World, and varnife over the Beauty and Variety of feveral Creatures that Gre in it; but carries in it a grateful heat and therifbing influence, which operates into them, and refresheth them; and as the Light differents their Beauty, fo thefe Influences increase it : So faving Illumination, not only illustrates the Soul by its Light; but likewife, by the Congenializes of its Influences ; nourishes the Soul, draws Sap into it, and Fruit from it. Such is not the Illumination of an unregenerate Man; it is but a barren Light, and only ferves to paint his Under-Itanding, and hath no influence on it to make the Soul grow in Grace; and bring forth the Fruits of Holinefs, to the Praise of God.

That Illumination that is faving is tranfforming, 2 Cor. 3. 18. We all, as in a Glafs, behold the Glory of the Lord, and are thanged into the fame Image, &c. If a Beam of the Sun falls upon a Looking-Glafs, At not only makes it glutter with a glorious Light.

27

Light, but it represents the very Image of the Sun in the Glass; but let it beat never to clearly and ftrongly upon a Mind-Wall, though it enlightens it, yet it doth not thereby leave its Image upon it. So truly illumination, that is faving, doth not only irradiate, but transform. If you look upon the Sun, when thining in its ftrength, the Light thereof will imprint the very Shape and Image of the Sun upon your Eye; and look where you will, still you retain the appearance of the Sun before you: So every fight that a true Christian hath of the Sun of Righteoufnels, will make as it were another-Sum in his 'Soul. But now the Illumination of wicked Mon dorts only entirghten, not change them; their Understandings may be irra-diated with glorious Discoveries of God, Christ, and the Things of Heaven; but this doth not transform them into the Image and Likenels of those Things. The Illumination of godly Men and true Christians, is like the Light which breaks through the Air, and turns every valt Body throughout the World all into Light. It ĺε is with wicked, unregenerate Men, as with those that he long in the Sun-fhine; which though it inlightens them, yet doth but but afterwards make them more black and fwarthy. So thou may'ft have as much snotional Knowledge of God, Chrift, and the Mysteries of the Gospel as any Child of God hath, and poffibly much more, yet this is no true Sign of Grace; for this Knowledge is not therefore faving, becaufe it is clear and comprehensive, but because it is influential and transforming. And usually we perceive that where the Light of Knowledge shines into a wicked Heart, it doth but tann and make the Perfon more black and fwarthy, more finful than before: Thus, as to the direct Un-derstanding of the Judgment, a natural Man may have a bright, clear, and glit. tering Light concerning Heavenly and fpiritual Objects.

C 2

Secondly, As for the Reflex Understanding of the Conscience. Neither yet the Peace nor the Trouble of Conscience, is such an Attainment to which a natural Man cannot reach.

First, A natural Man may have a quiet and peaceable Conficience. Indeed when this Peace is true, it is always an effect of Grace; and therefore we thus find them coupled coupled together, Rom. 1. 7. 1 Cor. 1. 3. Yet-there is that which looks very like Peace of Confeience though it is not fuch, and that is a Jupine Prefumption and a carnal Stupidity and Ofcitanty. Their Conficiences are never troubled at the fight of Sin, or fense of Wrath; but are like those presumptuous Sinners spoken of, Denti 29. 19. And it tome to pass when he beareth the words of this Curse, that he bless bimfelf in bis Heart, faying, I shall have peace, the I walk in the Imagination of mind Heart, &c. Now this Peace is founded only upon bold and confident Perfuafions of Sod's infinite Mercy, and gracious Disposition 5 and because God will exalt his Mercy above all his Name, therefore they conclude', that as God hath exalted his Power in creating and fuftaining them, fo he will much more exalt his Mercy in faving them. Thus as Mad men often fanfiethemfelves Kings or Some great Per-Ronage, when indeed they are but wretched and miferable Spectacles, fo do thefe fpi-ritual Mad men; and as the Devil appro-priates to himfelf all the Glory of the Earth, fo thefe look upon Heaven, and all the Glory of it, and boldly call it all their own ; or yea, and through their w retched 18:5 5 C 2 wretched Security, are bold to cry out with Thomas, My Lord, and my God. To fuch I may fay with our Saviour in another Cafe, God is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living, God is nor the God of fuch as love, and live in their Sins and Lufts; and that call him Father, whom yet they diffionour by a lewd and diffolute Life: This is but to Father one of the Devil's Off-Spring upon the holy God. Indeed Men by enormous and flagitious Crimes have for wounded and wafted their Confciences, that now they retain not ftrength enough to accuse, moleft, and trouble them; and this they call Peace of Conficience : Such a Peace: as Gallicus (in Tacinu) exprobrates the Ren mans with, when they have laid, all wafter This they call Peace; but this Peace is rather deadnefs of Confeience, and is fast from that which arifeth from the true Grace of God; and that that is the work of the Holy Ghoft in Conviction, which deftroys this ill-grounded Peace; and it works in the Soul Horrors and Terrors, and affrights the fecure Soul when it thews it how it flept upon the Top of the Maft, and lay on the very Brink of the. Infermal Pit. As therefore we must not difcourage 11. a bro-a broken Spirit, but embolden it to appropriate Chrift, and all the Promifes of the Gofpel to it felf in particular; fo we must let wicked Men know; that when they prefume to call God, their God and their father, and yet continue in their Sins and Wickedness, they will find that inftead of being their Father, he will only beigheigil Judge annie 36 Da Now in mult appear that this Peace of a carnat Man is boily from deep Sector rity;] and the Spinit of Slumber that hashifeized upon them, becaufe when we come to examine the grounds of it, they. plead only the guodness of their Hearts, and there is not ing in ope familiar and frequene than that hey boat of pland though they Divering a contrant neplect of holy Duties, and wallow in the Filth of cultomary Stas, yet fail they, boaft of this, that they have very good Hearts, upright Int. teatlons all hearts any er delution a for interest in the state in the state in the states frould be good when the Life is wicked and prophanel, as for a good Root to, bring forth evil and corrupt Fruit. Busad efton vanifa as by sichant one taving ef-. Secondly As Prate of Cas/dience may be armined by natural Men, for many thiese Inc C 4 fuch

297

30

aitized by Google

3 E

fuch may lie under the Regressing Toronbles of Confeience. It is not Frouble of Confeience that is the Attainment where in true Grace dothe confift wAskilling of a lethargick Confedence that hat hat along lain under the cuftomary Commission of grofs Sins, may at length, by ftrong Confe victions, be ftartled and awakened to a fende of Sin, and be affraid at the signed dfiesebutzet may retain,adiumpures and defied Conficience: v God may Meren ins this Life mkindle in their Breafts fout Sparks of the unguenchable Fire, and mayi give them fome fore-talls of that Cup, of, Trembling that they must for ever driski of. As he bathmade himfelf as Devil ins cornate by his Sinf fo IGod may make him Confcience a Hellincarnate. . . Rythis (Con-s feience you hear Cain, that Primitive Reis probate, crying out, my Runishmenteis? greater than I can bear; nor couldy Judges find any other way to check his Goolcing ence but with an Halterin Tutese Regretai of Goalcience anay proceed stonlucal preparatory work of Conviction, which: because of Men's willing deferting themal often vanish away without any faving 'effeet suand stall as Tatohour of Ar palarace, asther Region of the Airwahered Stenness 4 O and ม่วยโ and Tempefts, Thunderings and Lightnings are ingendered; falls thort of the Heaven of the Bleffed, and that Eternal calmness and ferenity: And as Worms usually are the off-fpring of corruption and putrefa-Ction; fo this never dying Worm, that must ever fing them, oftentimes in this life, is bred out of a rotten and corrupted Confcience, the Confcience therefore may be defiled, when it is not feared; it may be awakened, when it is not fanctified ; a filthy puddle may be ftirred as well as a clear running stream, the Conscience may work terrors and horrors, where the Spirit of God never wrought true faving Grace. ۰.

Thirdly, As to the Affections: There may be Affections and fweet Motions of the Heart, which are oftentimes relyed on us: certain evidences of true Grace; yet alfo may be in a carnal and natural Man; Mat. 13.20. Some received the word with joy, &c. So John. 5. Chrift tells the Jews, they did for a feason rejoyce in the Don Ctrine and Preaching of John the Baptift. Thus Hirod is faid to hear John gladly fo that you fee the Affections in holy Duties and Ordinances may be with joy, even C.5. in.

33-

34

in those that have no true Grace at all in them. As there may be those affections of joy and delight, fo likewise of forrow for fin, fo we have it 27. Matth. 3. It is faid of Judas, he repented himself, and Ahab's humiliation was fo great, that God takes special notice of him, 1 Kings SI. Behold, how Ahab humbleth himself, G. How all these affections are but temporary and vanishing, which may be excited, even in carnal Men, from several advantages that things have to commend themfelves, to their judgments and to their hearts.

First, Sometimes the very novely, and the strangeness of them may affect them : Novely usually breeds delight, which longer cultom and acquaintance doth abate, and this may be given as a reason, why shon after conversion the new Converts affections are drawn forth more strongly in the ways of God, more than afterwards when they grow settled and stable Chri-Stians; the reason is, because of the very novelty of that course and way they have now entered into, which affects them with delight; besides the real defirableness which is in those ways themselves; the very noyety, veloy doth affect them, and this too may latistic us, that though many are turned alide from the truth as it is in Jelus Chrift, and from the way of Worship which God hath appointed us, that have boafted, that they have found more comfort, and more invest affections than ever, in those new ways after which they have gone; yet it is not because those ways have any thing in them, that might yield them more comfort and delight, but only because they are new ways, and all new things will for the present fir up the affetions, but after fome continuance in those ways, they find their joy and their delight to flag; then they feek out other new ways, and commend them as much; and no wonder, for new ways will fir up new affections; that may be one Rea-ton, why affections may be filrred up, even in the unregenerate and meer carnal Man, as to the things of God, even from the meer novelty of them.

Digitized by GOOG

Secondly, Good affections may be ftirred up in Men, from the very affecting nature of fpiritual Objects themfelves; for spiritual Objects may affect us in this natural way. Who can read the Hiftory of Chriff's.

Google

The Almost Christian:

26

Chriff's Paffion , without being affected with forrow, for all the forrow de index went ; he hath a heart harder than Rocks ; that can hear of the Agonies, and Scourges, and cruel Indignities offered to fo innocent and excellent a Perfon, as Chriff was, that fuffered even for Sinners, and not be moved thereby to grief and compation ; and yet poffibly these affections may be no other than fuch as would be excited from us, at the reading of fome Tragedy in a Romance or feigned Story.

Thirdly, Affections may be moved by the Artificial Rhesorick of others, by the great abilities of the Ministers whom we hear. God tells the Prophet Ezekiel Cap. 33. 32. Thou art to them as a very lovely fong; they may fometimes, have their judgments pleafed; with the Learning lhewn in a Sermon, and their affections excited by the Oratory, and powerful utterance of it; but these though they are very good helps to excite our affections, yet they are not true tells of spiritual affeftions in us.

Fourthly, Pride and felf-feeking may in the performance of duties excite our affections.

37

affections. Men may be much deceived in: this particular, for instance, in Prayer, they may think they are affected with the things they pray for, when possibly their affections may be moved only with the words themselves speak, with the copious, free and admirable inventive way that they pray in :... Whereas the contrite broken Spirit, who is only moved with truly fpiritual affections, may not be fo large, and to copious in his expressions of them. A true Chriftian may groan out a Prayer, that cannot compose and make a Prayer, that hath a fententious Coherence one part: with another. As the Ground that is fulleft of precious Mines hath leaft grais growing upon it; fo fometimes in holy Duties, when the heart is most full of Grace, there may be leafs flourishing of expressions : You cannot gather the truth of faving Grace, from frong workings of the af-Grace, from strong workings of the al-fections, which may fometimes upon these accounts be deceitful and wicked, and un-regenerate Men may have Affections stir-red-up in them upon these grounds, but then they are always valishing and fleet-ing, and are only permanent while the vi-olence of some external cause doth excite them, and they are always unfruitful, though though their affections may fir within them, yet they are not efficacious to put. them upon a boly Life and Convertation.

38

SERMON]

4 TVery change that is wrought upon L the Will, is no certain evidence of the truth of Grace; a Man may fall thort of true faving Grace, when there is yet a great change wrought upon the Will; it is true, it is the through change of the Will, wherein Grace doth principally confift; this is the first principal Act from the Spir rit of Life, without which, whatloever other change is wrought upon us, it is no. more than to fet the hand of the Watch to the right hour when the Spring is braken. The Philosophers call the Will, the commanding, fwaying faculty of the Sonly that controuls all the Inferior facultier. and makes them obey its inclinations ; in that fuch as the Will is, fuch is the whole Man: And therefore the Scripture in fetting ting forth the two-fold State of Man, doth it by thewing the temper of their Wills; unregenerate Men are defcribed by their willfulness, Te will not come to me that ye might have Life, 2 John 4. The People of God are defcribed by their willingness, Pfal 116.3. They thall be a willing. People in the Day of thy Power. And here I thall endeavour two things.

Digitized by GOOgle

First, To show you after what manner the Spirit of Goddoth work this renewing change upon the Will.

1. 1

Secondly, What other change is wrought upon it which falls thort of true Grace, though oftentimes it is taken for it,

For the first, We must know that there are two ways, whereby God doth effectually change the Heart and Will of a Sinner: And these are Moral Swafions, and Physical Determinations, which is nothing effe, but God's All-powerful Grace, whereby he doth immediately turn the bent and inclination of the Will towards himfelf, and both these do always concurr and accrue to this great change. He doth first convince.

convince a Sinner, and perfwade him of the rationality of the ways of God, of the vilencis and emptiness of these vain things, which his defires fo eagerly purfue : And on the other hand, he clearly reprefents the Glory and Excellency of himfelf and his ways, that he is the greatest good that we can enjoy ; and yet there is no other way to enjoy him, but by loving and ferving of him: To do this he makes use of moral Swasions, and works upon our reason, by cogent and prevailing Arguments, which at last diffuseth fuch Heavenly fweetness through the heart of a Christian, which makes him disrelish those fulfome delights of fin, that feparate from that infinite Good, with which it holds comparison, fo that he finds more true delight in God and his ways, and more alhuring and charming joy in them, than ever he did before in fenfual pleasure ; more are thereby carryed forth unto them, by an infallible, yet altogether free, voluntary. and amorous motion; and this is done by the real efficiency likewife of the Spirit of God upon the Will, and this efficiency, is fo fweetly attempered to the native Lin berty of the Will, that it will be a pain. and a torment to the Soul, to be fepara. ted

40

-ted from that God, whom now his underfanding doth apprehend, and whom his chiefeftigood Handy où ferare both moly ral Beislions, and Phydical Deservinations, of she Williton he Work of Grace; sGod dock neally determine it by the efficacious; touch of his Grace, whereby he powerfully tourns the henstand vinchingtion of it to i himfilf, which the fore at abd towards fur tand unability ; uand abat this might hour infingercher Wills Prerogative of acting: freely, he doth at the fame time morally petfwadelit, by reprefenting himfelf as the bely mode baisfying object of it; Godis Marking upon the Wills yet fills ManisoWill is fres in God's working of Grace, which fome have thought to be an : irreconcilable difference. As a montovo de tractive lyveeinefs: And whom ver it hrings of on the freedom of the Will dath not d confill in redoubled pure A dat for other a wisci be Saints and Angels then folyes that i are under that bleffed necessary, that they cannot but love and force God, would not love dim and force for would not love dim and force bin freely. Thes liberty of the Wills could sin an afting t upon mational grounds and motives, which is . dout - by by how much fcronger they area by for much more they turn the necellity of the Will to him, and yet by fo much the moist the Will is free in acting: So that heits the liberty of the Will huy, non wie Raper the caufality of God's purpole, He ahano geth is by the power of his irrefiftible Grace. And yet that this irrefiftibles Grane, may not violate the liberty of the Will, which is its natural priviligeri hes partwaites it by fuch natural insguments it that it could not soufreely if it flould differ fant from them, though God ufeth infinite power, yes be uferh no violence her Tibis another view ions Grane athe state thangoideen hisperiadies i is billioned and overcomes all ice prejudices by its and tractive fweetnefs: And whenever it brings him winith with a God, me makes him to apprehend? this his endfeltinappine flands jourds us del fuil: Angi felisette same them dath after wards preferre a Chi if is strongs total Apoflacy, for though Plars be futito a conftane fupply of Grace to Reop station tion ; yet withat state o was freedom an ٧đ fuch.

42

43

fuch, that they may if they will, but when the Will ceafeth its freedom, it never inclines but to that which is mole pleafing, and nothing is pleafing to a renewed, fanctified. Will, for much as that Sovereign good, which comprehends in it all other: good. Thus you fee, how God difpofeth of the Will of Man, changing it without confirming of its turning it not forcibly, but infallibly to himfelf, when he draws it by the fixet, and effications operations of his Grabe 3. Thus I have difpatched that first thing, and thewed how God works the renewing change upon the Will of a Sinner.

- and a new most yeard we down het and any has in The fidend spaticular in to fact my dup what other Change may be wrong be boon the Wills, which yet falls flort, of true Grace, and may bring a Man almost to Christianity, and yet leave him in a patural flate and conditional and we have starting all conditional and we have

Bieft; an unregenerate Man may have many faint velleities, and withings, and wouldings after Grace; when he hears fo much froken of the Beauty and excellency. of Edime/h, the is convinced in this judgiment that thole things are true; that with out out Holiness no Man shall fee the Lord ;and that though while he is carnal, fpiritual duties are tedious and a durthen to him ; yet were he fpiritualized , they. would become more delightful to him than thole very pleafures of fur, which keep him from clofing with Grave to Were he renewed those very pleasures of in would become unfavoury no: him, that which now he is a frait to lofe if he would turn to Confeience he would not value the lofi offic. When anyndregenerate Man, Hilayy is thus convinced of this ... it will make him toibreak tout juto pangs of, Affection withing for Grace. O that I were holy? and gracious ! I wilh my heart were changed and rehoved : Invifikiwe rebelted and could de better schappenintoi dvenin Man's Confcience, when he hath been convinced of the excellency and defirableness of holinefs; whether sthey shave not breand forth fuch willes as chele are When your have feen a Christian that is eminent and examplary forbiers :private mot : y of withed your felves in his condition, not only: in respect of his future reward and glory, but alfo in refpect of his prefent Grace. Hare you not willed that fuch had been. your compline firand beauty pibave shu non wifhed 710 wished not only with Balaam, to die the death of the righteous, and that your last end might be like his; but also your Life by living righteoully ; and yet ftill continue in the fame course and finful ftate as formerly ? Why now fuch empty Velleities, and idle Wilhes an unregenerate man may pollibly have; he may with he were a Saint, even as a fond foolish man, according to his idle fancy, may with that he were an Angel; but fuch wilhes do not put them upon a conftant attempt and ufe of the Means whereby they might become fuch, their wiftes and their fighs vanish away together, the one retaining no longer an imprefion upon their hearts, than the other in the Air; he runs into the commiffion of that fin, which with his mouth he wishes he might not commit, and lives in the neglect of holy duties, and yet can with that he had performed them; fuch contradictory willes have; unregenerate men ; they with them felves boly; and yet are wilfully linful; they with that they were better, and yet will not endeavour their own amendment.

44

45

Secondly, An unregenerate man, he may not reft in these Wilhes, but he may rife rile to a Refolmion ; I fay, to fome degreesf Refolution: They refolve many things ; That their Luffs shall no longer enflave thin; That the Pleafures of the World thall no longer bewitch them; That the Difficulties of Religion shall no longer affright them; but that they will break through all, and act like Men: And fuch generous and ingenuous Refolutions es these a man in his natural estate may fortihe himself with. Grace they know they muft have, elfe they are eternally undone; they know that God hath not been wanting to their endeavours, and they peremptorily refolve that they will not be wanting to themselves. We may fee the fame frong refolutions of those that came to enquire of fereny, chap.42.5,6. They faid, the Lond be a true and faithful write (s between my if we do not according to all things for which abe: Lond uby God shall fend thee to us, Sec. And yet none more rebellious and disobedient against God than these men that make this Remonstrance. And now notwithflanding these Wilhes, and these Refoluti. ons, the Will of a Natural Man falls thort of a faving Change, and that usually in thefe Particulars.

46

Digitized by Google

Firft,

First, in that it is a fookle and unconftant Will; their Defires may be absectiones wholent and passionate, as if they would take Hearing by force, sand write Metry out of tilite hands of God: their Prayers may be in portunate and earnest, as if they would take no denial; but this violent Spirit is foon apent, and this full Bent of their Souls foron dagge, and recurns again, as formerly, lever and anon into the commillion of tome foul and grofs Sins. Such a Will as this is, though at farst it hernies them apace, yet it is foon tired, and leaves shem dort of Grace and Heaven. The Christian Race is notice be runby fo many fits, but by aconftant couile and progres, stild getting ground upon our Lusts, still approaching nearer to the Kingdom of Heaven : But it is with Juch men as it is with the Sea when a spring-title covers. all theilhour; when it ebbs, lit difcovers nothing but Sands, which before was nothing the deep Water; fo theie affected and flowing Christians, they discover that there is nothing but barren Sands at the bottom, that they are as westable as Water. & Christian is not made in a Fit, meither Sthe Work of Grace woought in a Ballion; but if is a fatled, folema, and iconftant ftant frame of Heart that brings a man to Chrift and Salvationan canal Unstit ; N.W. lent and prillorees, will they work with rain Secondby, The Willsof an unregenerate man is never universally changed; fill they referve to themfelves fome Luft an other, that they will not part withall, and their Refolutions concerning their fins, and fuch as the Refolution of Nanman: the Affyrian; 2 Kings s. 18. In the valing take Lord pardon thy Servant, that when my Min fter goes into the house of Rimmon, to worship there, and he leaneth on my hand, and I bow my felf in the bank of Rimmon, & c. The Lord pardon thy Servant in this thing. So men may besperemptory in their refolutions to form Take their Sins, yet ftill there may be forme one dear Luft or other that makes them cry with Naaman, Lord, pardon thy Servant in this thing. Now they will be willing to receive Christif, they may be allowed an one Darling Sin; now the partition that any one Sin makes between Chridcand the Soul, must needs hinder the foul from sha fing with Christ; as, if you throw but any little thing between the branch and the flock that is ingrafted into ; the Sap willineversibe communicated to ity and it will never ghow, by to be a Blantal ano Thirdly,

Digitized by GOOG

48

Digitized by GOOgle

49 Thirdly, The Will of an unregenerate Man is usually irrational; it would obtain the End, and yet not use the Means. Grace possibly they would have, but they can-not bring their averse Wills to close with the performance of those unpleasing & irkfome Duties wherein God usually bestows Grace, and by which he conveys Grace to the Soul. Could they be holy with a wifh, and a fudden fancy that inflames them, then none should be better Christians than themselves; could they enter into Heaven by being willing, there is nonethen should thine above them in Glory; but when there is fo much hard and unpleafing work, first that they must be born of God, and after they are true Christians they must exercife every Grace, and perform every Duty that may fit and prepare them for Glory, they look upon these things as too difficult, which makes them fit down with idle Wishes short both of Grace and Glory; their Wills are very irrational; they would have Heaven, but they flight Grace, the way to it; and poffibly they would have Grace, but they cannot bring themfelves to the performance of those irksome and unpleasing Duties in and by which Grace is ufually bestowed and conveyed.

D

Digitized by Google

Fourthly,

Fourthly, The Will of an unregenerate Man is ufually general, not a particular Will. If God fhould ask them, Sinner, what would you do to be faved? They, would anfwer, Any thing, every thing. But let God bid them leave fuch and fuch a Sin, perform fuch and fuch a Duty, they anfwer with Naaman, Any Sin but that; any Duty but that. So it is with these Men; Oh any thing in the general; but when God brings them down to Particulars to do this or that, then they are willling to do just nothing.

Now I have shewed you how far the. Will it felf may be changed in unregenerate perfons; they may wish after Grace, and refolve to be better, and to do better, and yet fall short of faving Grace; and alfo what it is that hinders this change from being a through work of Grace, what it is: that obstructs them when they are almost, that they are not altogether Christians.

Fifthly, As for the Life and Conversation.

There may be a great change wrought in the Lives of unregenerate perfons, who, ςI who yet fall thort of Christianity. The Apostle, 2 Per. 2. 20. speaks of such who having escaped the pollutions of the world, through Lust were again entangled therein, and overcome, &c. It feems to escape the pollutions of the world, is no Argument of true Grace, unless they be also cleanfed from the pollutions of the Heart; for fin may be left merely from external and forced Principles, fuch as Terrors of Confcience for the heavy Judgments of God. When God fets up a flaming fword between a finner and those fins which he accounts his Paradife here; now to leave fin upon fuch a strait as this is, is to leave it with a great deal of reluctancy; as when a Mariner in a ftorm cafts his goods over-board into the fea, it is with his will indeed; but it is with an unwilling willingnes; he is frighted and terrified to it : fo when the frighted and terrified to it : fo when the foul is toffed with the Tempest of divine wrath, and when ready to be split upon the Rock of Ages, and such and be swal-lowed up in a Sea of Fire and Brimstone, he is forced to light himself, and to cast this and that dear Lust over-board; this he doth from his will; but it is such a for-ced will as that of Mariners, who throw their Treasure over-board, and as soon as D'2 the the Tempest is over, the one gathers up his floating wrecks, and the other his fins. These men leave their fins as Lot's Wife left Sodom; they dare no longer continue in it left Fire and Brimftone rain upon them, and yet when they do leave them, they give many a wishly look back again, and have strong and vehement defires after That Reformation of Life that only them. frees us from debauchedness, that falls far frees us from debauchedness, that fails the fhort of true Christianity, and of making us altogether Christians; this is that with which many footh up themfelves when they they reflect back upon the wild extravagances of their former time, how travagances of their former time, how outrageoufly wicked they have been, rio-tous, drunkards, unclean, blafphemers, and now they find themfelves deadned to thefe fins, and grown men of ftaid and fober lives, they ftraightway conclude, Certain-ly this great change could never be made on them otherwife than by the renewing work of the Holy Ghoft; and yet in this amendment there may be no work of Re-generation; for men may gather up their loofe and diffolute Lives within fome com-pass of Civility and Morality and yet be bass of Civility and Morality, and yet be atterly ftrangers to this Work. Much of this may be ascribed partly to convictions victions of God's Spirit, awakening natural Confcience to fee the horrour and danger of fuch daring and outrageous fins, and partly too from Prudence, gotten from frequent experience of manifold inconveniences that they brought upon themfelves by fuch fins; and both these Convictions and moral Prudence are Principles that fall very far fhort of true Christianity. Usually all the specious Reformation and Amendment of these mens Lives, is in effect either a changing of the Sin, or a tiring out the Sinner.

, Google

First, The Life may feem to be reformed, when men exchange their rude and boisterous fins for fuch as are more demure and fober; from riotous, they grow worldly; from prophane and irreligious, they grow fuperstitious and hypocritical; from Atheifts, they grow Hereticks; from fins of Practice, to fins of Contemplation : They are apt to think, certainly this change must needs be the change of their Nature, when indeed it is but the change of their fins; and usually it is fuch a change too, though it render the Life more inoffensive, yet it makes the Soul more incu-D 3 rable.

rable. Auftin, in his 29th. Epistle, tells us, That Vices may give place, when Vertue or Grace do not take it.

54

Secondly, The Life may feem to be re-formed, when men are only tired out; when they have out-grown their fins. There are fins which are proper and peculiar to fuch a flate and feason of a man's Life, upon the alteration of which they vanish and disappear: Sins of Youth drop off from declining Age, as misbecoming them. Now this deceives men, when they look back to the Vanities which they have forfaken; how deadned are they to thole faken; how deadned are they to thole finful ways which before they much de-lighted in? They conclude certainly this great change must needs proceed from true Grace, when they do not leave their fins fo much as their fins leave them, and drop off from them as rotten fruit from a Tree; the faculties of their minds, and members of their bodies, which before were inftru-ments of fin and unrighteoufnefs, are now become Instruments of Morality and Seeming Vertues; this fets them not free from the fervice of fin, but only reftrains them from breaking out into notorious and fcandalous Vices.

Thirdly,

55

Thirdly, A civil and harmless demeanour doth not render a man altogether a Chriftian; there be many ingenuous spirits, who lived blamelessly in the world, their good Natures nearly refembling Grace; and such was St. Paul's before his conversion: For he tells us, As touching the Law, he was blamelefs : So the young man that came to Chrift to know what Lesson he had further to take out. This only argues a fweet Disposition, but not a gracious Heart. Thus you see how dissolute men may mi-flake themselves in this Work, upon which their eternal happiness depends. It is to be feared that many may reft upon these, and think the great discriminating change to be wrought, only because they are moraily honest, or gained over to a profession of Truth, or to fuch a Party or Sect of Professors ; when indeed true Christianity configs not in these things.

This (hall fuffice for the first General propounded; What Change may be wrought upon a man fo as to bring him almost to Christianity, and yet leave him short of being a Christian: I shall close up this Branch with some Practical Confiderations. Ula In Use 1. What then shall become of fuch as fall short of those that fall Such as fall mort of those that fall short of Grace, that arenot fo much as Almost Christians? What will become of carnal, loofe, and prophane Sinners? If those that have been gazed at and ad-mired for burning and thining Lights, yet have fallen into the blackness of darkness, even into the Dungeon of eternal dark-ness, were we but ferious in this Reflecti-on, it would make all our faces gather on, it would make all our faces gather blacknefs, and fill all our hearts with aftonifiment, to confider that we are not gone fo far in Christianity as thole may go, who yet fall short of Heaven. Have we all been yet ian more of neaven. Have we all been enlightened? Have we all tafted of the heavenly gift, and of the powers of the world to come? Have we all been made partakers of the Holy Gboft? Are there not many among us poffi-bly whole hearts have never yet been touched with the fenfe of fin, never affected with any of the ways of God, that give themfelves up to all wickednefs with gree-dinefs, who never have given fo much as one ferious with towards Holinefs, when those that feemed to fhine as Stars in Heaven, shall be at last found burning in Hell; Oh, in what a dismall case shall these Firebrands be?

D 4

56

Vfez.

577

Use 2. Hence likewise, see what a difficult thing it is to be a true Christian. May a natural Man attain to all this that I have spoken of before ? We may then take up that fame Question, which the Disciples asked Christ, (when he had told them, that it was as eafie for a Camel to go through a needles Eye, as for a Rich Man to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven) Lord, who then shall be faved ? What, may those whole profession hath been eminent, who have been Sainted in every Man's Kalender, may they at last miscarry and perish? Who then shall be faved ? If fuch be not Chriftians, Christianity feems to be rather fome fanfied notion, than any thing real and attainable. To this we may make the fame answer that Christ gave to the Disciples, With Men indeed these things are impossible, but with God all things are posfible : It is impossible for Men hy their own strength and natural ability to become Chriftians, but it is possible for God to make them Christians; It is possible as Miracles themfelves are poffible, only poffible to the Almighty Power of God : There is not any Soul can be perfwaded to be a Chriftian, but he hath a Miracle wrought: upon him, and he himfelf must do that, Ds which which is little lefs than a Miracle, he must act beyond the power of nature, and do more than a mere Man can do; therefore well may you fuspect your Christianity, who find it so easie a matter to be a Chri-Even natural Men find it a difficult ftian. task to attain to that height and pitch, where they fbine in moral vertues, though far short of Heaven, and it is easie for you to mount far higher than they, far beyond them ; indeed it is an easie matter for any to make a flight formal profession, to run in a round of Hypocritical Duties, and live a moral civil Life, this is easie, there is nothing miraculous in this: But is it easie to pluck out the right Eye, and to cut off the right Hand ? It is not easie to crucifie a darling Luft, to cut off the right band, when it lifts up it felf to plead for mercy, and to be spared a little longer. to pluck out the right eye, when it drops tears to beg compafion, and a little favor to be granted to it ? Is it easie to combate with Principalities and Powers, to baffle Devils, and despise the scorns and affronts of the whole World? Is it eafie to live like an Angel? Nay to live like Chrift, to live like God himfelf? Is this eafie, when we see to many tottering Professors aspiring towards towards Christianity, some mounting till they are giddy and brain-sick with their most damnable errors, others tumbling down from the Precipices of great and dangerous fins.

58

59

We may well wonder that any are faved; when fuch as thefe mifcarry: Well then, to confider what it is that is wrought upon you, even that the Omnipotent God hath wrought, (and what it is that is wrought by you,) that that is beyond the Power of Nature: we may well conclude, what a difficult matter it is to become a true and ferious Christian altogether.

Use 3. May natural Men go thus far in Christianity, O be you then perfwaded to go much further! Do not reft in any attainment short of Heaven and Glory. Reft not in any prefent attainment; and this indeed is the most natural Use that can be made of this Subject, when you hear how great a progress wicked Men may make. I know that the hearts of the best Christians are ready to fuggest to them, and they will be apt to conclude against themsfelves : All that is wrought upon them is but the common work of the Spirit;;

ý,

Digitized by GOOgle

60

Rit; therefore their Graces are but Counterfeit, and that themfelves yet are flort of Christianity; I know that this subject may cause such jealousses and suspices to arise in the hearts of some; but the genuine use of this Doctrine is not so much to pore upon our present condition, as to stir you up to make a future progress.

May a natural Man make fo great a progrefs, as to be almost a Chriftian, then certainly I must never reft any where short of Heaven. Well therefore, the Apossie in Heb. 6. 11, 12. After he had shewn them at large what a height a natural Man may arrive to, he present them to be earness in their endeavours after perfection. Why, this will be the best evidence to you, that you are indeed Christians, that you have the truth of Christianity.

Though natural Men may pofibly glifer in a glorious Profession, and thine like the Sun in its radiant fplendor; yet like it they have their Zenith, their highest degree, which when they have climbed to, they fall down again. But a true Christians course hath not any declension, he may proceed proceed infinitely from one degree of Grace to another, he may alcend and reach higher and higher till he hath reach-ed Heaven, where all his infirmities fhall be fwallowed up, and abolished in confum-mated Glory. And indeed this is the greatest evidence of the truth of Grace; a natural Man's motion to Heaven, it is violent and unnatural, it is forced from him, by fome external impressions upon the Confcience, Illumination, and common Works of the Holy Ghost, which as soon as this external force is spent, he falls naturally back again to his former course of fin. As a Stone may be carryed a great beight towards Heaven, by an outward vio-lent impression upon it, but when that force is worn off, it falls naturally back, again to the earth. Now a Christian mounts naturally to Heaven, which by reafon of that dull mixture of Earth that is in him, his courfe tends to the Earth again; But the true Christian still mounts upward from the principle that carries him up, which indeed never totally spends it felf; therefore if thou wouldst prove thy felf to be not almost, but altogether a Christian, continue thy progrefs, still gain ground towards Heaven, rest not fatisfied with any present attain-attainments, but be still rising and soaring, until thou hast gotten the World and them too under thy feet.

Digitized by GOOGLC

61

Fifthly, When you fee any who have been forward in a Profellion, and gone far in Christianity, to forfake their Station, and fall back to their former course of Profaneness: Take heed that you do not reproach, that you do not scandalize Religion with their Apostacy; this is that which opens the mouths and hardens the hearts of wicked Men, when they fee fuch Glorious, but yet Temporary Professors to return with the Dog to the Vomit; they indeed first bless themselves in their own ways, as being better than the ways of God, as being better than the Profession of Religion; otherwise why should those that so long have forlaken them, and with a great deal of pomp, made fuch a Glorious shew and Oftentation of Religion, and of Confcientiousness, why should fuch return back again to their old ways.

Secondly, It makes them think, that all Profeffors are but Hypocrites, that it is but a folemn cheat put upon the World, fince fuch forward Profeffors of it are found forfa-

Digitized by Google

62

forfakers of it. Some Men pleafe themfelves with a few idle conceits of Grace, and the New-birth Communion with God. and the like unintelligible notions, when there is no other difference between them and others, but what only their fancies make. O take heed therefore, that you do not blafpheme the ways of God, when you fee the Apoltacy of Profeffors : No, thefe Men were never in those ways. Had shey been Christians in deed, they would never bave deferted those holy ways; their natures were never changed, and it is no wonder, that they are relapsed and fallen back again into their old Cuftoms; to see the Swine that is cleanfed to return back again to the mire, as cleanjed to return back again to the mire, it is nothing firange. Had Chrift changed the nature of these Swine, and made them his Sheep, then as they had first escaped the pollutions of the World, so they would have kept themselves from ever being intangled by them. But this makes highly for the honour of Christianity, and proves it to be à thing fo excellent, that it cannot be long counterfeited; Hypocrifie shall certainly betray it felf by its Apostasie, that it had never any thing of true and faving Grace, although it carried far in a shew and pretence of it. Thus much for the first thing propropounded, how far a Man may attain towards Christianity, and yet be in a natural finful State.

63.

64

SERMON IV.

HE next thing is to fhew you, whence it is that natural Men are inabled to make fo great a progrefs towards Chriftianity. I shall give you a brief Resolution to this Question, and that shall be drawn, First, from the confideration of the Subject, and that is a natural Man himfelf. Sccondly, from the confideration of the Objeft, and that is Holinefs or Christianity to which it tends. First, if you look into the Subject the natural Man himfelf; And fo you shall find that Man, and that which is wrought upon him, which may carry him' out possibly to a very great progrefs in Religion, and that may be (1) the Power of Nature. twofold. (2) The Elevation and recruit which that power may receive from a common work of the Holy Ghoft, much helping nature, quicken-quickening Conficience, and reforming the Life.

65

First, The Carnal Man may be carried very far towards Christianity, from the meer strength and power of Nature; for the mere power of corrupt nature; is of it felf fufficient to raile a Man to any attainment that is fbort of true faving Grace. A natural Man may fo prepare and dispose his heart, as that the very next thing to be wrought upon him should be Grace; It may carry him out to the externals of Christianity, and it may be with more pomp and grandure than fometimes the power of Grace doth carry out a Child of God. When the Power of Nature takes on it the form of Godline fs, it will make bright and glittering Professions; now these externals of Christianity they lie in two things, the performance of Duties, and the avoiding of Sin: As for Duties they may so far out-strip and out-shine a Child of God, in the pomp and gaudiness of them, as to be their emulation and example. And for fin there is not any one particular fin, fetting afide those common and unavoidable infirmities, which are infeparable from the frailty of humane Nature ; but a carnal nal Man may keep himfelf from the Commiffion of it, by the meer Power of Nature: And there is fcarce any fin, that is branded remarkably in the World, but fome wicked Man or other doth abstain from it, and that meerly from the Power of Nature; there are fome that by this Power abstain from this Sin, another from that, and a third from another Sin: And each of thefe have Power to abstain likewife from all thefe Sins, becaufe what Power the one hath, it may (possibly) be found in the other, fince in nature there is nothing partial for a Man naturally is not fo.

66

Secondly again, The Devil when he tempts, he doth not force and conftrain them; he doth not forcibly move the black Tongue of the Smenter to curfe and blafpheme, nor doth he forme open the Drunkard's mouch by force, to pour down intemperate Cupi, nor force the Manderer's band to theath his Sword in his Brother's Bowels whether he will or no; but he follicites the Wills, and infinuates into the Affections by his Temptations, and make thele freely move the Engine to that which his defign tends; and therefore fore all his Triumphs are but for Beggarly Vi-Etories; he could not prevail over us, did not we prove Traytors to our own Souls? did not we furrender up our felves, by the confent of our own Wills? elfe we could never be diftreffed, much lefs taken by the violence of the Tempter.

, Digitized by GOOGLC

[.]67

Secondly, As Men may proceed far toward Chriftianity by the Power of Nature, fo they may have common and ordinary Works of the Holy Ghoft upon them, that may carry them out to a very great progress, they may be made faith the Apostle, partakers of the Holy Ghost. Heb. 6. 4. and that is, of its common Gifts and Operations; it is the Spirit of God that inlightens their Understandings, that awakens their Confciences, that excites their Affections, it is the Spirit that works Conviction, that works Reformation; yea, and Sanctification, in wicked and mregenerate Men. For we have that expression concerning them : There is a twofold Sanctification, (1) Of the Flefh, confifting in the removal of all carnal and external filthinefs, called by the Apoftle an escaping of the pollutions of the World through luft, 2 Pet. 2. 20. And that confifts

Digitized by GOOgle

fifts in a feparation from all those gross and vile Sins, wherein the flagitious and debauched World do wallow. (2) There is likewife a Sanctification of the Spirit confifting in a feparation from a State of Nature to a State of Grace, the one is external by Reformation, the other is internal by Renovation; the former Sanctification a natural Man may be made partaker of by the Holy Ghost, so as to have his Life and Actions stand at a greater distance from, and a greater opposition to carnal grofs Sins, which the World is generally defiled with, but this is no more than a common and ordinary Work of the Holy Ghoft, they may account the blood, whereby they are fanctified an unholy thing : There is a far different force and energy, that the Holy Spirit puts forth, when it works Conversion, and when it works only outward Sanctification, in both it may work upon the heart, but in Conversion it works upon the heart fo as to change it and renew it, but in the reformation of a natural Man, he works upon the heart indeed, but it is only to change and amend the life, the Spirit may perfwade the one to change his heart, but then he changeth the heart of the other : He may perfwade the

68

6g

the Will of the one to fubmit to Chrift, but then he fubdues the Will of the other, he perfwades the one to become a Chriftian, but he makes the other a Chriftian. Now there is a very wide difference between thefe two ways of working, by the one he only excites Men to use fomewhat of the Power they have, but by the other he gives them the Power they want ; And thus you fee, what there is in Man confidered, both in nature and with the help of the common Work of the Holy Ghoft, that may carry him fo far towards Chriftianity.

Secondly, There is also fomething confiderable in the Objest, viz. Religion and Chriftianity it felf, whence it is natural Men may make fo great a progress towards it, and that is twofold, (1) The Attractiveness of Religion. (2) The Subferviency of Religion to it felf. (1) The Attractiveness of Religion, and this confists not only in the inward and spiritual beauty of Holiness, which these Men have not Eyes to differen, but also in that happiness which is annexed to Religion and Chriftianity. This is that which draws out natural Men to all their Attainments, Happiness is the great bait of Men's defires, and

Google

70

and that which iweetens the means tending to it, though they be in them folues very difficult and burdenfome; yet leading to happinels they close with it; and there-fore, as the apprehensions of Heaven and Hell work upon a natural Man, more or lefs, forcibly, than the thoughts of the difficulty or tediousness of holy Duties; fuch is his progress, more or lefs, strong and vigorous towards Christianity. Secondly, Another thing in Christianity or Religion, that advance the former to forgreat a progrefs, is the Subferviency of Religion to it felf. Religion doth mightily pro-mote and advance it felf: (1) First, in that the performance of one part, and of one duty of Religion, it obligeth and enone duty of Religion, it obligeth and en-gageth to the performance of another: As one Sin draws on another, by confe-quence likewife doth one Duty draw on another. There is a connexion and de-pendance between them, Hearing enga-geth to Medication, and Medication to Prayer, and Prayer for Grace to endea-vour after it a glorious Profession, it obligeth to fomething at least that may be answerable to that Profession. Thus one-Duty of Religion, it hands a Man over to another, and when he is passed through one, another stands ready to receive him.

Secondly, A little progress in Religion it doth facilitate, it is hard at first to be-gin, then having begun to continue, because use and custom in any thing makes it easie. How ! is this subserviency of Religion to it felf, that may carry Men very far in it, when they have begun Profellion, and entered upon one Duty, that Duty delivers them over to another, and makes it more facile and easie to them, because the precedent Duty as it doth engage him to, fo it prepares him for the fubsequent Duty, as well as engage him to the prefent Duty : One Duty doth as it were perform half the task, and bear half the burden of the other. Thus then you fee, whence it is that natural Men may make fo great a progrefs towards. Christianity, fo as to be almost Christians, from the Power of Nature, and from the attractiveness of Religion: Now here if you ask me, how shall I know, whether it be the Power of nature helped by the common workings of the Spirit, or the Power of fupernatural Grace, that carries Men out to all their Profession?

I Ihall

7I.

72

I shall give you but this one diferiminating Character of it : See whether your abilities be greater in the things that belong to Grace and Holinefs, than they are to natural things. A Child of God who is but of weak parts as to the things of the World, that can fcarce give you a rational account of fuch affairs, when propounded to him. Why, bring him but to the things of God, and how admirably will he be able to unfold, even the very mysteries that are hid from the wife and prudent of the World, but put him upon any common discourse, how broken. and incoherent is he, but engage him in Prayer, how doth he expatiate and inlarge, and what a Torrent of Divine Rhetorick will he then pour into the Bosom of God; Is this from nature that he is able to exceed and go beyond himfelf? No certainly; It is very observable concerning the ways of God what the Prophet speaks, Isa. 53. 8. A high way shall be there, and it shall be called a way of boliness, the unclean shall not pafs over it.

Though they wander and err in every other way, though they do not take the right way to be rich, and great, and honourable nourable in the World; yet these that are fools in every thing elfe they shall not err from the way of Holinels, and therein lies the only Wildom. But now take a meer carnal Man, that hath eminent abilities in earthly things ; ufually, he is never weaker than when he is engaged in that which is holy and fpiritual; at leaft his chiefest excellency doth not lie there, though he doth perform the Duty well, yet he doth not do it beyond what he doth in ordinary and natural things. Now how is it with you? Do you find your felves carried much beyond the rate and fize of your natural abilities, that you never fo much exceed your felves, nor do fo well as when you are about fome holy and fpiritual employment, that you are not fo artificial in any thing as in holy performances; this is a good fign, that it is from the Power of Grace, and not only the Power of Na-ture, that carries you forth to the Profellion of Religion you make. I take the extraordinary gifts beftowed upon unre-generate Men in a vaft difproportion from their natural abilities, to be long ago ceafed.

Digitized by GOOgle

Thus

73

Thus you fee what inables a natural Man to go fo far towards Christianity.

74

The third general propounded, was to shew what it is that hinders these proficients from making further progress, that when they are Almost what keeps them when they are Aimoje what keeps them from being altogether Christians: I answer to this in general; It is only through a willfull and wretched neglett of what they might do, that any of them do fall short of Grace here, and Glory hereafter. It is not from our want of Power, but our want of Will, or rather indeed our will lingness that makes us miscarry to our Eternal Perdition. I shall illustrate this by a plain and obvious Similitude : Suppose that God should promise to bestow Heaven upon us, if we would but reach forth and touch it with our hands: Now although we can never reach fo high'; yet if we do not ftretch forth our hands, and reach as high as we are able to do, the fault of losing Heaven will not lie upon the inability and impossibility, that was in us to touch it, but it lies in our willful meglect of ftriving to our utmost to do what we are able to do; why, the reafon why we fall fhort, would not be becaufe our Arm

Google

75 Arm is not long enough, but becaufe we do not stretch it forth to the utmost length.

The instance is somewhat plain and familiar, but yet it holds an exact proportion to the cafe in hand, God promifeth Heaven to us if we will but touch it, that is, if we will lay hold on Chrift by Faith. which Faith we can no more work in our felves by our own proper efficiency, than touch Heaven with our Finger; yet howfoever, if we do not do our utmost, our falling fort of Heaven and Faith cannot be imputed to the impollibility that we lay under, but to our willful floth and neglect. It is not Men's cannots but their will nots, not their Impotency but their Obffinacy, that destroys them ; Ye will not come to methat ye might have life, John 5.40. Te will not. Doth not Christ himlelf tell us, that no Man can come to him, except the Eather draw him ? True, but the fault lies in the flubbornnels of your wills; though you could come, you would not; there-fore it is not your weaknels but your willfulnels, that keeps you from coming to Chrift. Let me here appeal to your felves; Doth not he deferve Eternal Death, who E 2 who had a Power in his hand to make himfelf a Chriftian, and yet would not; certainly you will all conclude, this Man is very equally and juftly dealt with, if fentenced to Eternal Mifery, fince he had a Power to avoid that mifery, and to lay hold on Eternal Life and Happinels; his condemnation lies on his own head for his willful contempt of Salvation, which he had a Power to work out, and by a diligent improvement of the means tendered to him, to make fure of it; every carnal Man if he had power to convert himfelf, yet through his willful neglect and obfinacy he would not do it; and this appears, becaufe there is not one of us that doth as much as he might do.

76

There is not one natural Man that doth as much as he might do: Will not he now do what he can do to prepare and difpofe his heart for Grace, then much lefs would he work Grace in his heart, though he had a Power to do it; and therefore the whole default of Men's falling fhort of Grace, hies in their willful neglects. Men indulge themfelves in carnal floth, and if they can but maintain the pace and rate of common ordinary Profeffors in a formal courfe of Duty, or abitain from grofs Sins; O then they are contented ! and will be drawn on no further. Could not they command their thoughts to dwell more fixedly, and more abidingly upon Spiritual Objects? Cannot they be oftener in Meditation, and meditate more fervently, and with more affection? In both had they not Power to refuse tem-ptations and finful motions? Doth the Devil use any force or violence upptations and inful motions : Doth the Devil use any force or violence up-on them? Did they ever find, when they threw themselves upon their Knees in Prayer, that he stiffened them that they could not bend? or that the De-vil stopped their mouths from speaking, or their hearts from thinking? had he a Power to strike Men lame when they should come to the Ordinances or strike should come to the Ordinances, or strike them deaf when they should hear, or Dumb when they should speak, then there were fome flew and colour of reason, why Men attended no more frequently, why then attended no more fre-tively, why they heard no more atten-tively, why they did not ponder more confiderately, why they prayed fo fel-dom and heartlefly; did but the Devil. E 3 compeli

77

7.8

7.8 The Almost Christian. compel them to this, the Sinner might have fome excufe; but when he muft wooe their confent and allowance, and wait their pleafure and leifure, it is merely a wretched neglect or willful-nefs, that they yield to the Commiffion of any Sin: Can you do all this and more, and yet will you not? Know that if you perifh, it is only your own fault, you your felves are the bloody Murthe-rers of your own Souls. It will be in vain for you to plead, that you had no Power to make your felves Chriftians; why, you hever went fo far as to make a trial, whether you had a Power or no; for a Man not to do the utmost that he for a Man not to do the utmost that he might do towards Christianity, though he hath no Power to make himfelf a Christian; yet it is the fame as if he had a Power, and yet will not make use of it. O let this that I have faid prevail with you, to be not only Al-moft, but altogether Chriftians, and to put forth all the power and might, and ability, that you have in the working out your own Salvation. Is there not infinite Reafon, why you fhould fpeedily fet about this important Work, while you have time and opportunity for the doing doing of it? Is it a matter of the greatest moment in the World, and not to be delayed one moment? Be perfwaded then to the speedy practice of it.

79

Object. Some defperate Wretches may think indeed, that Arguments to per-fwade Men to work out their Salvation, may be of weighty import to inforce the Duty upon those that do expect Salvation; but for my part I pretend not fo high; let me but enjoy now the Sins which I ferve, and the pleasures which I pursue, and for the State of my Soul hereaster, I commend that to the mercy of God, and if I must perish, I will perish with as much ease and con-tent as I may. It is hard to alter an irreversible doom, and if it be to Per-dition, it is but folly to hang down the head, and blubber the eyes, and break the heart for that -which cannot be al-tered. If I must go to Hell I may as soon tered. If I must go to Hell I may as foon be carried down thither in a flood of tears, as in doing ungodly Actions: Why fhould I confpire with God's De-cree to make my felf miferable. If he hath fentenced me to Hell hereafter, I E 4 . 5. may may as well fentence my felf to an Heaven here; my future torments are in his Hands, but my prefent delights are in my own; therefore if Salvation and Happinefs be fuch nice points I forego them, and will embrace my more easie and more obvious pleasures.

Digitized by GOOGLC

80

The Almost Christian.

Anfw. I know no pious heart here, but fhivers with horrour at fuch Language, though it be but perfonated; methinks rather it reprefents the Speech of a Devil, who is without all poffibi-lity of Happinefs, than of Men who are in the way to it. Indeed it is the Speech of the Devil, but it is likewife in the hearts of Men, when they ftorm and blufter at the difficulties of Salvation, and narrowness of the Way, and Araitness of the Gate: The Devil interpofeth this fuggestion, It is as good to poieth this luggeltion, it is as good to perifh with eafe, as to be faved with fo much labour and pains; but what, fhall we leave Men to fuch desperate refolu-tions as these, and fuffer them to go dreaming to Hell and Destruction? Cer-tainly Religion hath Arguments enough to prevail, even with these, if they would but shew themselves to be Men, and

8 t c

and but ponder how much Reafon can fpeak.

First confider, Thou that wilt rather perifh than make thy Life a trouble to thee by Obedience, God may under thy Difobedience make thy Life a trouble, yea a Hell to thee by his Terrours. Thou thinkest that thy Garment of Sin and Pollution, will st more loose and cafie about thee, than the Garments of Holinefs that are too ftrait-laced and troublesome : Yea, but what if God should roll these thy filthy Garments in Brimstone, and five them about thee? How dreadfully would ft thou be difappointed, when inftead of that eafe which thou seekest in the service of Sin, God should make thee thine own Tormentor, and make thy Confcience an . Hell incarnate ? Believe it, the wrath of God can fry the marrow in thy Bones; and reduce thy Soul to Afhes. Read Pfalm. 88. and you will think it a dole-ful and fad defcription of the State of the Damned. While I fuffer thy Ter-rours I am diftracted: And if the Wrath of the Almighty lay thus fore upon an Holy Man, how fretting and corroding. E.S. will

itized by GOOGIC

82

will it be upon the leprous Soul, and upon an ulcerated Confcience ? If it burns up the Green Tree, what will become of the Dry Tree, which is but as prepared fuel for it to prey upon?

No Man hath his prefent delights and contentments in his own Power, becaufe no Man hath his own Conficience in his own Power; it will fpeak, yea, and that terrible things, even then, when a Sinner hath done all he can to fear and ftupifie it. Confider again, how is it with you after the rage of your Sinning is over? are you not haunted with fear-ful reflections and ghaftly thoughts of delpair and horrour? Could we but un-bowel a Sinner, we fhould find those Conficience-Worms, gnawing and knot-ting about him, and devouring his heart. And are thefe wont to refolve into trouble, for fear Religion and Holinefs fhould trouble them? Are they content to buy eafe and quiet at fuch a rate, as the lofs of Heaven and Eternal Torments amount to? And is this the eafe and amount to? And is this the eafe and quiet that they purchase with it? The Devil puts a gross cheat upon these Men,

Digitized by GOOGLC

82.

Men, he changeth not the trouble butthe time of it, only they shun the work of God, because it is troublesom in doing, though it doth leave behind it the bleffed fruits of Peace, Joy, and Satiffaction; and they do engage in the Work of the Devil, which as foon as the heat and fury of it is a little over, leaves in their fober thoughts, nothing but Anguish, Stings, and Torments; and therefore be not deceived, fuffer not the Devil any longer to abuse you, and impose his drudgery upon you, under the notion of ease and quiet : If your Confciences were once awakened, I know the Work of the Devil must needs bring. you more vexation, besides the shame, than ever you would have from the work of God; yea, the very omillion and neglect of God's Work is a far greater trouble than the performance greater trouble than the performance of it would be; therefore if you look no farther than your prefent Content and Satisfaction, if you would go to your final eftate the cafeft way what-ever it be, think not to attain this by giving up your felves to a way of Sin₂, nor by wounding your own Conficien-ces, which with trouble afterwards will will be fure to be avenged upon you, but in a way of Duty and laborious working, you only can find prefent content, and fhall certainly find future Happines?

۱

84

SER-

SERMON V.

Object. 2. TRue, may fome fay, Poffibly the Work of God might be more pleafing and fatisfactory to us than the Work of the Devil, if we could work it ; but to what end is it that God requires from us to work, to what pur-pole doth he command us? Doth not he himself know that we have no power? Doth not he himself fay that we are dead in Trespasses and Sins ? Is it rational, is it just to bid a dead Man work? Or doth it become that God who would be thought by us to be infinitely gracious and merciful, to mock and deride humane mifery, when he commands those things from us which he knows to be impossible? Had he bid us blend Light and Darkness together, or to bend the Axle-tree of the World till both Poles meet ; had he bid us fling the Stars out of their Orbs, or with our hands stop the Sun in the midst of his course; all these great imposibilities are as eafily atchiev?d as by our own power to work any part of divine and acceptable obedience without gracious.

86

The Almost Christian.

gracious affistance from God : We can as foon glorifie as fanctifie our felves. What fhould we then do, but only fit ftill and expect, till efficacious Grace should move and act us, and we not able to gainfay and refift it ? till God fo draw us as that we must run, and fo call us as that we must answer ? till then our Obedience is an impoffibility; and all our Attempts are vain and fruitlefs. This now is a flothful Sinner's pretence why he will not work; and no doubt but that too often it doth flash into the thoughts of most men, whereby their hearts are discouraged, and their. hands weakned in the fervice of God. and the second Anfw. In Answering this, I shall not enter into that great Debate of the power of nature to do what is good and acceptable to God; but proceed in a plain and accommodated way to Practice, and that which will be most convictive to the Confeience.

First, Men will not plead thus in Matters of far lefs concernment than the Selvasion of their Soule. Would a Master, when he commands his Servant to work, take this, thick you, for a sufficient excute, cufe, That he hath no power to work till God act and move him? It may as well be objected by your Servants to you, as by you to God. Tell me, what power have I to speak, or you to hear one word, unless God do concurr to it? Nay, we are not sufficient to think one good thought, 2 Cor. 3. 5. And do we make this an excufe to forhear those Actions that are neceffary and convenient ! Do we therefore refolve to do nothing, becaufe it is impoffible for us to do any thing unless God concurs with it? What ftupid, dull Folly were this, and we put it daily and hourly to trial, and produce me that man that can fay God was wanting to him in his concurrence. What a milerable and ridiculous task would it be, if in every Action of our Lives that we cannot do without God, yet should fit still, and que-ftion God's concurrence? Do you fit down to try whether God will enable you to rife when you are down? Or, do you queftion whether God will concurr to another ftep, though it is impossible you should ftir and move, unless God act and move you? yet this hinders not mens endea-yours: In him we live, and move, and have our being. Why do not you do fo in spiritual matters?

87

88

The Almost Christian.

matters? We can do nothing without God. True; yet put it to the trial,whether or no God will concurr with you. Certainly that man must be namelefs that can fay, I was truly willing, and endeavoured to do any fpiritual good, but God. was wanting to me in his concurrence.

Secondly, Thole men who thus make Impotence a pretence for their Sloth, do not indeed believe what they themfelves not indeed believe what they themeives pretend. No, it is the inward and fecret thought of them all, that they have a power to work out their own Salvation, and therefore whether they have or no, ftill they are inexcufable, while they think they have this power, yet they fit ftill. Although a man be chained fast down that he connect so yet he thinks himfelf at that he cannot go, yet he thinks himfelf at liberty, and notwithftanding fits ftill, you may foon tell where the fault lies; it may be imputed for want of Will, and not for want of Power: So here; Wicked men think they have power to work, however-they fpeak otherwife; therefore they are utterly inexcufable if they do not work. It is as clear as the light, that their Sloth. proceeds not from their Impotence, but from their own wilfulness. I shall endea-YOUT ::

89

vour by a few Arguments to convince you, that you do indeed think that you have power to work out your own Salvation; therefore if you do it not, you are altogether inexcufable, whether you have that power or no.

• First, Did you never, when God hath shaken his Rod and Whip over you, feri-ously promife and resolve to work; his Rod, 1 mean, either of Conviction or Af-fliction? Have not these made you enter into an engagement with God, that you would serve and obey him for the future? Did you not really thus refolve? There are few here, but fometimes at least in a Fit and Pang of Conficience have fo done. And why did you refolve all this, and yet at the fame time think and believe you could do nothing? Did you only mockGod, and play with your own Confciences? Certainly your Confciences then were too much provoked, and too much awakened to be thus jefted and dallied with. We find this Temper in the Ifraelites, when they were frighted at the terrible glory from Mount Sinai, Exod. 24. 3. See how confidently they promife and refolve. And all the People answered with one voice, and faid.

90

faid, All the Words which the Lord bath faid will we do. So the Jews in their great diftrefs, Jer. 42.6. Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord our God, &c. that it may be well with us.

Alas, how many pious Purpofes and holy Refolutions have your Dangers, your Fears, and your Sick-Beds been witnefs to ? Have they not heard you breath out, Spare, OLord, fpare a little longer; give fome (pace; try my yet once more, and O Lord, we will reform, we will amend our finful Lives, we will perform neglected Duties, and never more again return to folly? Are not thefe Refolutions an evident Conviction? Certainly you thought you had a power fo to do, and therefore if you do not endeavour to perform, you are altogether inexcufable.

Secondly, Did you never in your whole Lives perform a Duty unto God? Did you never pray? Is there any here fo defperately prophane, fo loft to all thew of goodneis, that hath not done this? And to what end have you prayed? For what did you perform your Duty? Was it not for for Salvation? And did you work for Salvation, and yet think you had no power to work for it? It is impossible; Mens very Works do plainly shew, that they do think that they have a power; fomething still must be done, though it be but for-mally, flightly, and coldly; a mere Lord have mercy upon me, a customary Lord for-give me; yet fomething Conficience will re-quire which men reckon upon, and make account to be working out their Salva-tion. tion.

91

Thirdly, Wherefore is it that you truft unto, and relie upon your good Works, if you think you have no power to work out your Salvation? Would it be fo hard and difficult a matter to take men off from leaning fo much upon their Works, if they did not think that they had power to work out their own Salvation? Men do apprehend a worth and fufficiency in what themfelves do in order to Eternity, and bid them forgo their Works, and renounce their own Righteousnels, and this is a hard .-Saying; you may almost perswade them alloon to renounce all their hopes of Hea-ven. This is an evident Conviction, whatever Notions men may entertain to ftop the

- 92 The Almost Christian.

the mouth of a clamorous Confcience, when it calls on them for working and labouring, yet they do not believe what they themfelves speak concerning their Impotence.

Fourthly, Did you never when the Spi-rit of God was dealing with your Hearts, rit of God was dealing with your Hearts, perfwading you to enter upon a courfe of Duty and Obedience? Did you never pro-craftinate, and ufe delays? Did you ne-ver fliffe the Breathings, nor quench the Motions of the Holy Spirit, by thinking it was time enough to do it hereafter? What need I begin fo foon, or vex my flefh, or deny my felf the Joys and Pleafures of this Life, even as foon as I am come to relifh them? When Sicknefs, or grey Hairs admonifh me, and tell me, I am near unto Eternity; when old Age promifeth me that the Severities of Religion fhall be no long trouble, then will I look after the Concernments of my Soul; then it will be time enough; then I will repent, be-lieve, obey, and work out that Salvation that will be then haftening upon me. Tell me truly, Have not thefe been the foolifh me truly, Have not these been the foolish Reasonings of your Hearts? Have you not thus often promised God and your own Consciences? And doth not this plainly ly imply, you thought you had power to do it? Wherefore thow art inexcusable, O Man, whoever thou art: it is in vain to plead want of Power, God will confute thee by thy very thoughts. Hadft thou no Power? Although thou hadft not, yet thou thoughteft thou hadft, yet wouldeft not endeavour to work; therefore thy Ruine is as wilful, and thy Condemnation as juft as if thou hadft a power, and would ft not work; for thou perifheft merely thro' the default of thine own Will.

93

Anfw. 3. Whether wicked men have this power or no to work out their own Salvation, I shall not now stand to enquire ; but if they had it, yet they would not work with it; and therefore it is a most vain and infufficient Plea to pretend they wanted power. Now this appears evidently, because there is no wicked man, that ever did fo much as he was able to do by the mere strength of Nature, without the af-filtance of supernatural Grace; and therefore it is not their inability, but their wilfull Sloth that doth destroy them. Do but answer your own Consciences, Was there not one Duty more which you could have performed, nor one Temptation, nor one Cor-

94

Corruption more which you could have refifted ? Could not you have prayed, read, or meditated upon heavenly things, then when your Hearts and Thoughts have been vain, worldly, and finful, and devilish? Might not that Time have been spent in holy Converse, which you trifled away in idle, impertinent Discourse, or in doing nothing, or that which was much worfe than nothing? What force, what conftraint is laid upon you ? Can you think? And if you can, Cannot you think of God as well as of the World? as well concerning fulfilling God's Will, and working out your Salvation, as fulfilling your Lufts ? Can you not speak? And if you can, Can you not speak to God in holy Prayer, and of the things of God in holy Discourse, as well as of your Trades and Bargains, those low and trivial Matters that are not worthy of Men; much lefs of Chriftians? What force is there upon you? Doth the Devil fcrew open the Drunkard's Mouth, and poure down his exceflive and intemperate Cups whether he will or no?; Doth the Devil violently move the Tongue of the Swearer and Blafphemer to revile the holy and reverend Name of God? Doth he Arike men dumb when shey fould pray, or or deaf when they should hear, or senfe-less when they should understand ? Is there any such force or constraint laid upon you? May you not avoid the one, and do the other if you your felves pleafe? Yes, you can, but you will not; therefore neither would you work out your own Salvation if youcould. Is there any hope that you that will not do the lefs that God requires from you, that you should ever be induced to perform the greater? Let your Weaknefs and Impotence be what it will, yet your Condemnation will lie upon you fo long as your Wilfulnefs is much greater than your Weaknefs. No, Sinners, your precious and immortal Souls will eternally perish now for want of Will to fave them. Pity your felves; will you lofe your felves for ever only out of Sloth? Will you fleep your felvess into Hell, and go drowziły into deftouchion 2 Shall one end of your Souls lie already burning as a Brand of Hell-fire, and you not put forth a hand to fnatch it out? Is it more painful to work the Works of God, than it is to perifh for ever under infopportable Toil ments? Therefore the you what you poff fibly can, labour and fweat at Salvation, rather than fail of it; Let this never prate nor nor fret your Confciences in Hell, that they lie there burning for ever, merely for your wilfull Neglects.

- jigitized by Google

95

96

SERMON VI.

WW Hen a man is gone far towards Christianity, there are several things that make him neglect a further progress: As,

First, His groundless fancying of Difficulties and hard Encounters in the Ways of God. Oh, were it but as easile to be holy as finful, he were wretched that would refuse to be a Christian; or were Christianity but one hard pull, or difficult pang, that would foon be over, there were fome encouragement for them; but when they have already struggled, and wrestled, and waited against the stream, thus far, and yet fee ho end; Duty to be performed upon Duty, and Temptation upon Temptation to be resisted, still to be combating with Devils, still to be crossing and and vexing of our felves, no refpite, no breathing-time allowed them. This takes off their Wheels, and though they are a-ble to do this, yet they will rather fit down quite fhort of Grace, than run thro' fuch hard(hips to attain it, and fo they come up in the mid way, neither holy, nor prophane; but pleafe themfelves with a mediocrity, and middle rank of Religion, and dore not go further for fear of diffeand dare not go further for fear of diffiand dare not go Iurtner for fear of diff-culties; nor yet they dare not fall fur-ther back for fear of Confcience; and fo they lie hovering between Heaven and Hell. Now this is merely from wilfull Sloth. Prov. 26.13. The flothful man faith there is a Lion in the way, a Lion in the freets. Here the Wife Man brings in a drowfie Sluggard dreaming of dangers and difficulties, to excule his Sloth; I dare not ftir abroad, for there is a Lion in the ftreets : A likely matter that there should be a Lion in the ftreets; but yet fee how this Fancy works with him: Any thing is an excuse for the Sluggard. In ver. 14. As the door turneth upon the hinges, fo do h the Slothful upon his Bed. A Door is often in motion to and fro, but it gains no ground, makes no progrefs, ftill hangs where it did; fo it is with flothful Professors ;

97

-98

festors; that which they have already attained to, is that they move to and fro like a door upon the hinges, still the fame motion over and over again, no new progrefs, no new attainment, and that merely becaufe they are fluggifh and lazy, and fanfie difficulties to themfelves, and ftrange apparitions in the Ways of God, that make them ftand at a ftay where they are, and dare not make one ftep forward. As it was with the Ifraelites, who came to the very Borders of the Land of Canaan, Numb. 13. 32, 33. When the Searchers had brought reports to them, that the Land indeed was good and fruitful, but the Walls of the City were built up to beaven, and that there were many Giants; and that they should be beaten and eaten: They were not fo much allured with the goodness of the Land, as they were deterred by the thoughts of the difficulties; and though God himself bid them. arile, and enter, and take posselion, they would not venture upon fo hazardous an exercife, and fo difficult an enterprize: So there are many forward Professions who are come to the very Borders of the Land of Canaan, to the very entrance into the Kingdom of Heaven, who, when they fee. what what ftrong holds of Iniquity they must cast down, what Principalities and Powers they must fight with, and what gigantick Lusts, as the Sons of Anak, they must subdue and destroy, this frights them from attempting any further.

Digitized by Google

99

Secondly, To be almost a Christian, carries in it those advantages and those accommodations, which, were they altogether fuch, they must lose; and therefore this is one Reason why so many stick in the New-birth : Such a one is no Saint. and therefore the men of the World embrace him; fuch an one is no prophane and fcandalous perfon, and therefore the Children of God embrace him, and think well of him too; and thus he doth hold a correspondency with both of them; which were he altogether either, one or the o-ther, he mult break off; and therefore finding the conveniency of this neutral eftate, he ftops where he is, fhort of true Grace. Were he a prophane Wretch, then those that are truly godly would a-void his company; or were he truly god-ly, then the World would reject and form bim; the godly effect and love him, and from their ready Charity they look upon F_2 him ĥim

Digitized by Google

100

him to be truly gracious. Those that are true Christians (thinks the almost Chri ftian) look upon me as fuch as themfelves, and what need I begin by a forward Zeal to difoblige the World? And the wicked and prophane respect me too, because I go a little before them (though not quite cross and contrary to them) and fo I enjoy the good opinion of both forts, which were I fully one or the other, I fhould hardly attain. This man can (as it were) hold Heaven with one hand, and yet hold the World with the other, not lose his interest in the one, and yet retain his interest in the other; he can enjoy the delights and pleasures of the one, and then hope for the rewards and happinels of the other. Were we lodged in a Star, then the Earth would appear very fmall, and almost nothing, as the Stars do now to us; fo were we more above, the Earth us; to were we more above, the Earth would appear either as very finall, or as nothing. Thus it is with a Child of God; he foars up by the wings of Faith and Love to the heavenly ferufalem, and the Earth appears very inconfiderable to him; but now an unregenerate man, when he mounts higheft, yet ftill will be fure to keep Earth in his eye; he will not lofe the fight fight of that; and therefore when he hath got to fuch a pitch that he is able to difcover fomething of Heaven, and yet not lofe the fight of Earth, there he hangs in equilibrie, and will be drawn no further; he keeps fomething of the Earth in his eye, and will not lofe nor diminish his fight or fhare of it for the Hopes and Joys of Heaven.

.

Thirdly, False Opinions and Conceits that they are already Christians, hinder these forward Professors from being true Christians. It may be they would be Christians indeed, did they not think they were already fuch. When men are gone far, then they are apt to think they are got home, and fo they have taken up their reft, and will be driven on no further; they think that what they have already gotten, is enough to bear their charges to Heaven, and fo they grow careheis of getting more; they are perfwaded that they are Christians, and that keeps them from being perfwaded to be fuch. I do not intend to forbid eminent Professors to think they are indeed Christians; but let them look how this perfwalion works F 2 with with them: Doth it tend to make them more carelefs, negligent and remifs? When they have been under Troubles of Confci-ence for their Sins, then they faw them-felves in a loft and undone condition, and had hot and fcalding apprehensions of the Wrath of God; then they were laborious to frequent Duties, confcientious in their walking, and fearful left they should fin; but fince their Troubles have been more off but fince their Troubles have been worn off, they have entertained better Hopes, and better Opinions of their state. Are they better Opinions of their state. Are they not grown more loofe and more regard-lefs? They do not take so much pains with their hearts, nor are they so strict and ho-ly, and severe in their Lives; I must tell such what the Apostle tells the Galarians, ch. 5. 7, 8. Te did run well; who bindered you? This persuasion cometh not of him that calleth you. This persuasion that you are Christians, cometh not of him that cal-leth you; possibly it would be well with them if they did not think they were so. Sirs, if so be that thoughts of your being Christians, and in a state of Grace, did encourage you to walk worthy of that holy Calling; if the hopes of your good and holy estate, do engage you to purifie your vour your felves as God is pure, as they wilk work if they be right and genuine, then ftill entertain and cherifh them; but if they turn to loofnefs, remifsnefs or prefumption, here fulpect them to be the overweening Conceits and Elevations of a carnal heart, and fuch as will certainly hinder you of what you thus fondly imagine your felves to be, hinder you from making further progrefs in the Ways of Chriftianity, in regard you take up falle conceits that you are Chriftians already.

IOI

102

Fourthly, Another Ground whence it is that forward Profellors many times fall fhort of true Chiftianity; It may be when they are already gotten far, then, the Devil effectively doth all he can to hinder them; when they have gone far towards Grace and Chriftianity, then he unites all his Force and Subtilty to ftop them from proceeding further, left they get from under his power and jurifdiction; he knows if they once become Chriftians, they are then almost out of his reach; and therefore whatever luft be in the Soul, F. 4.

102

104

he will then especially ftir it up ; whatfoever referve of Temptations there be, he will then fend them upon the Soul: For none are more assaulted with Horrours and multiplied Temptations, than those who make a great progrefs towards the Ways of God, and are near to the Borders of true Christianity; because then the Devil fuspects that he shall lose them, and that they are even revolting from him. When they begin to move towards Heaven, and labour after true Grace and Holinefs, the Devil fees that ordinary Temptations are not then fufficient to fecure them; that those Lusts that before hampered and captivated them at his pleafure, will not now fo eafily prevail; for he finds them too refolute, too rough, and untra-Ctable to deal with; he begins then to fear to what a Rebellion this may grow, and therefore he fets upon them with all his power, way lays them with all Ambushments, circumvents them with all his Wiles and Stratagems; and though thefe be only Armies and Musters of Shadows, which a man might break through without any danger, would he but arm himfelf with noble and undaunted Refolutions; yet with with these the Devil assaults and undermines them, and that inceffantly, and doth at last ftop them in their course towards Grace, if not beat them back again to their former course of Prophanenels. Luke 1.1.24, 25. When the unclean Spirit is gone out of a Man, he walketh through dry places, feeking rest, and finding none, be saith, I will return to mine house whence I came out, and when he cometh he findeth it swept and garnished. V. 26. Then goeth he, and taketh seven other Spirits more wicked than himfelf, and they enter in and dwell there, and the last state of that Man is worse than the first, i, e. When men have cast out unclean, gross Lusts by an external Sanctification, that the Devil feems to be diflodged, when he feeks to return again to his ancient feat and possession, he finds the Heart swept and garnished; swept from the filth of common Sins, and garnished with common Graces, as its ornaments; fo that there feems no re admission or re-entrance of this unclean Spirit; and then he goes and takes to himfelf feven other Spirits worfe than himfelf, that is, as I conceive, ftronger Temptations, and more prevailing Lufts, and by them he enters, and F٢ dwells.

Digitized by Google.

105

106

dwells there, and defiles that clean-fwept house, and not only keeps the Sinner from being better, but, makes his latter end worse than his beginning.

Fifthly, When Men have gone far towards Christianity, natural Confcience then leaves them, and ceafeth to excite and provoke them to a further proficiency. Conficience is the Spur that quickens wicked men to make that progrefs which they make. Now when it hath brought them paft common Sins to known and common Duties, then it leaves them, and urgeth them no further, and fo they fit down far fhort of true Grace and Christianity, which they endeavoured after. Well then, let me fay to fuch men, as St. Paul to the Galacians, chap. 5. 7. You did run well; who bindred you? Was it the diffi-culty of Religion, or the ftrength of Temptation, the Flatteries and Allurements of the World, the Violence and Rage of your own Lufts? But might you not nevertheless have armed your with peremptory Refolutions ? felves Might you not undauntedly and victorioully have broke through all these? Were you you not able when you flood ftill, or when you gave back as frighted and terrified at these things, to make one step, and another step still forwards? Could you not proceed still further, and press onwards through all these? Yes, you might have gone much further if you would; you might have made a further progress, though all Hell had armed it felf against you; therefore if you perish, there will be cause and reason to blame your felves; you can only charge your damnation on your own wilfull stoth and negligence.

Digitized by GOOg (

This may fuffice for an Anfwer to the Third General; Whence it is that Profellors that have gone far towards Chriftianity, yet fall fhort of Grace, and of being true Chriftians: They were too nice to encounter Difficulties; they were apt and forward to think well of themfelves; they were too faint-hearted to cope with Temptations, loth to difoblige the World, and would not proceed further than fpurred on by a natural Confcience, and therefore wilfully fell fhort through their own Sloth and Negligence, ligence, of Grace here, and of Glory hereafter.

107

108

Fourthly, The last General propound-ed, was to shew you the Folly and ex-treme Misery of those who proceed thus far as to be Almost Christians, and yet will not be personal to be fuch Altogether. not be perfwaded to be fuch Altogenber. The Apoftle feems to be very paffionate, Gal. 3. 1, 3. O foolifh Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that you fhould not obey the Truth, before whole eyes Jefus Chrift hath been evidently fet forth, crucified a-mong you? &c. Verfe 3. Are ye fo foolifh, having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfett by the Flefh? What are you mad? Are you befotted? Are you be-witched out of your common Reafon and Underftanding; that having begun in the Spirit, and made fo far progrefs in the Ways and Knowledge of Chrift, that after all this, you fhould fall back again to carnal, flefhly Rudiments? Why, the fame may I fay to many: You that are Profeflors, Why, who hath be-witched you? Why are you fo foolifh, as when you have not only begun, but proceeded far towards Holinefs and true Grace, Grace, Grace, that yet you fhould give over and fit down in a state of Nature and Unrege-neracy short of it; Consider but your folly and mifery in these particulars.

First, confider, Is is not extreme folly, madnefs, and mifery, willfully to fall (hort of that which you have already taken fo much pains to attain? What, af-ter all the labour and hardships, and dif-ficulties that you have already gone through to obtain Grace, now to fit down fhort of it, and lofe all? Will you will-fully lofe all your Prayers and all your Tears? all your Convictions and all your Conflicts? Shall all these be fo much labour in vain? Is not this much below the bour in vain? Is not this much below the ingenuoufneis of your Refolutions in in-ferior matters? Do not you use to quic-ken your endeavours by fuch Arguments as thefe, I have fpent fo much upon it, I have taken fo much pains about it, therefore I will fee the end of it, and go through with it. Do you think much to lose your labour in any thing but Sal-vation, but in working out the Salvation of your precious Immortal Souls? What though it be hard and difficult to go fur-ther:

ther :

IOG

ITO

The Almost Christian.

ther: Confider, was it not hard and dif-ficult to arrive at that which you have already attained unto; and are you fo foolifh as to be willing to lofe the fruit and benefit of the difficulties you have already paft, only for fear of difficulties that are yet to come? If Christianity be not worthy your pains, why did you e-ver engage in it? And if it be, why do you fit ftill? You will be guilty of ex-treme folly either in this or that. For you enter upon Christianity without fit-ting down, and reckoning what it will ting down, and reckoning what it will coft you; Chrift himfelf there brands you for Fools, Luk. 14. 28, 29. For which of you intending to build a Tower, fitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it, lest haply after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock bim, saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish it.

If it was not worth your pains, what a folly was it to attempt it ? if you thought it worth all and more, what a folly then was it to flag? And could you before you came fo nigh to Grace, and ol.

III ·

fo nigh to Glory, could you fee that beauty, and that defirableness in it at fo great a diftance, as to perfwade you to come thus far, and now when you are come thus far, and now when you are much nearer, and can fee much more of its excellency and comelinefs; Dare you now defpife and contemn it? when you have not only the promife of God to be your incouragement, but you have alfo given earneft too for that Profeffion, and those endeavours, and those Duties which you have already palled through, they are all (as it were) the earnest of your fur-ther progres; this earnest you lose, Pro-fellion, Endeavours, and Duty, and all comes to nothing, if after all you rest any where short of Grace, you lose your ear-nest which you give, if you be but al-most Christians, and rest any where short most Christians, and rest any where short of true Chriftianity. Well, what extreme folly is this for Men to disquiet themfelves in vain, and take fo much pains. to pray and hear, and to keep themfelves from many Sins, and perform many Du-ties; and yet becaufe they will do no-more, they lofe the Benefit of all this? Why, what is it that you do all this for? Is it not to obtain Grace and Glory? And will

Digitized by Google

F12

will you do fo much for fuch an excel-lent end, and yet willfully fall thort of it? You may remain Gracelefs without all this Labour; if you are fully refolved for Hell, why do you do any thing? to Hell you may go without Praying or Hearing, without ftriving, or conflicting, or per-forming one Duty, or refifting one Sin as you do; if you are refolved for Hea-ven, why do you not do more, all your praying, hearing, ftriving, and wreftling, they will be loft and in vain, if you do not hold on, if you do not continue. not hold on, if you do not continue. Well, what a folly is it for you to have gone fo far, and won every step of Ground by clear force, who have toiled in the ways of Religion, with fweat and anguish, and disquieting to your Soul, and yet at last to lose and frustrate all this pains through your curled and willfull floth and negligence; to give all away, and fall willfully short of Grace and Salvation?

Confider Secondly, Is it not grofs and inexcufable folly to defift after fo far pro-grefs, whereas for ought we know, had we but proceeded a little further, we might.

might have obtained that Grace which we fall fhort of? And how know you, but that upon your further endeavours, God might have beftowed that Grace you firive for, God is not wanting in this kind; to thofe who improve the Power of nature which they have, he gives the Power of Grace which they have not; Yet when Men arrive thus far, and come as it were to the very Porch of Heaven, what thick and dull folly is it, when there is as it were but a flep or two between them and Glory, to break off their Progrefs and fit down (hort? What is it more labour to go thofe few fleps more you are to proceed to, than thofe which you have already gone.

Were you willing and contented to do all that you have already done for that which is but like Grace, and will you not be perfwaded to do a little more for that which is true Grace ? It may be God may convert you by the very next Prayer you make, he may convert you by the next Sermon you hear, he may give you true Grace, when you next of all oppofe any Temptation, or when you next of all ftruggle ftruggle against any luft, the very next ftep you take in his way may carry you to Heaven for ought you know. Now the great probability of this, nay were it only a bare possibility, it makes a Man guilty of the greatest folly, who hath gone thus far towards Holiness to neglect a further progress towards it.

II3

Thirdly Confider, What a dangerous and dreadful thing is it, for Men to climb fo high, and yet to have no holdfast to depend upon, no foundation to support them; yet thus it is with every elevated carnal Profellor that falls thort of Grace; he is like a Man that itands upon the fharp top of a Towering Pinacle, where he hath no other hold-fast but a handful of Air: But the standing of a Child of God is firm, his feet are fixed upon an immovable Rock, even the Rock of Ages, and God reacheth out his hand from Heaven to Support him. It is diffuted by fome nice inquifitors, whether a Man if he were lift up above the Magnitude and attractive Pirtue of the Earth, he may not fland as lafely and walk in the Air as he doth now upon the Earth. It is true of a Child of God,

Digitized by Google

114

IIS

God, when he hath got beyond the reach of earthly Attractions, he may walk fafely in that fublime way which leads to Heaven; but now for wicked Men, that have not got beyond the Malignity of the Earth, it is exceeding dangerous, their earthly Minds and Affections, and their earthly Conversations, will in the end bear them down headlong, unless they climb ftill higher, until they have got beyond thefe terrene Attractions.

Now would it not make you tremble, to fee a Man born up in the Air, as the Poets feign of Icarms, with waxen Wings that are fubject to melt and fall off, and betray their charge to certain ruin and perdition. Thus it is with every one that have gone far in Chriftianity; and is it not you that fly only with waxen Wings, I mean the Power of Nature, and the common Works of the Holy Ghoft, which may fall off and leave you in Eternal ruin.

And from hence it follows in the fourth place, that these Mountainous Professions, who have attained to an high pitch, yet fall fall (hort of Grace, because they want firm footing to allure their fanding ; they ufually either desperately tumble headlong into the Commission of some foul gross Sins, or elfe they grow brain-fick, and turn afide to the maintaining of fome prodi-gious error; this is ufually the lifue of fuch lofty Profeffors, as we fee a Cloud that hath been fucked up by the Sun, how it hovers a while in the Air, but anon it is wrapp'd and whirl'd about with every Wind, and fo it is utterly loft and diffipated, or elfe it falls down again to the Earth in Storms, and is turned only into mire and dirt; Even fo fares it with many a Professor, he is drawn upout of the Earth, and above the Pollutions of the World, by a common influence of the Holy Spirit, and for a while he hangs and hovers in a lofty Profession, but having no firm Balis to fuftain him, he is either blown up by an empty Cloud, and driven away by every Wind of Doctrine, and loft amongst various Sects and Opinions ; or elfe after a while, he falls back again into the filthy conversation and worldly pollutions, that he had escaped and ends only in mire and dirt, and this because they have not that incor-

116

Digitized by Google

II7

The Almost Christian.

incorruptible feed within them that shall never die. Indeed true Grace is of it felf Immortal, but it is from that engagement, that God hath laid upon himfelf to preferve it in those, who are diligent in the use of those means, by which it may be maintained. But now an unregenerate Man is left wholly to his own Power, to preferve him in that Station in which he fhines: And if the Angels themfelves and Adam fell from their first Estate, merely through the mutability of their own Will, who had power to continue in it, how much more certainly then will thefe carnal Professions fall from their high pitch, who have lefs Power to inable them to ftand, and greater Power against them to cast them down: To aggravate the exceeding great Folly and Apoftacy of thefe elevated break-neck Profeilors, fee that most dreadful place, 2 Pet. 2. 21. For it bad been better for them not to have known the way of rightcouffiefs than after they have known it, to turn from the holy command-ment delivered to them. Why, is not the Wrath of God certainly to be revealed againft all those, who know not God, and obey not the Golpel of the Lord Jefus Tt ~ 1. [ar

It is better never to have known the Golpel, and never to have gone a ftep in the ways of God, than afterwards willfully to defert them and apoftatize from them.

First confider, The Fall and Apostacy of these who are great and eminent Profelfors, it carries much of malice and willfulness in it, which is the highest rank that can be in any Sin. If there be any in the World that commit the unpardonable Sin against the Holy Ghost, it must be these Men. There is indeed a great difference between finning willingly and finning willfully; Profane carnal Men they Sin willingly, but none but those who have been forward Professions in the ways of God, and have utterly deferted thole ways; none but those can fin maticiously, and merely because they will provoke and offend God by their Sins ; Now fee what the Apostle faith of fuch, Heb. 10. 26. For if we fin willfully, after we have receiv-ed the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no mote Sassifice for fins, but a cortain feats ful looking for of judgment and fiely indig-nation, &d. Hebu 5. 4, 5, 6.) For it is impoffible م ا

Digitized by Google

boffible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly Gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghoft, and have tasted the good word of God, and the Powers of the World to come, if they shall fall away to renew them again unto repentance, &c. This is the first aggravation of their Sin and Mistery.

But then Secondly, When elevated and eminent Profeflors fall away they ufually fall lower than they were before, when they took their first rife towards Christianity and true Religion; falling away from a Profession, is like the falling down from a steep Precipice, where they can have nothing to stop them till they come to the very bottom: And it is observed, that none prove more notoriously wicked, and more desperate haters and revilers of the ways of God, than Apostate Professions.

First, God doth judicially give them up to commit all manner of Sin with greediness; fee that black Catalogue of the foulest Sins that can be imagined, Rom. 1. from 21, to 30. The Apostle speaks there comcerning cerning the Heathens, but the cafe is parallel with our carnal Professors, who do not like to retain God in their knowledge, therefore, God gives them over to a reprobate mind to do those things that are not comvenient, &c.

119

120

The Almost Christian.

The Devil takes possession of fuch Men with stronger power and force than ever; (as the unclean spirit re-entred with seven Spirits worse than himself Luk, 11.24.) to secure that Soul that hath been so likely to revolt from him, and therefore no wonder Christ faith, the last estate of that man is worse than the first. So that these eminent Professors when they fall away they usually fall lower than they ever were before their first rise and motion towards Religion.

Unregenerate Perfons not only fall lower, but they feldom return to make a Profession of their deferted Religion; it is impossible to renew such a one to repentance again. Now how should these fad and dreadful Considerations, make every one of us to do our utmoss, that we are able to get true and faving Grace. If we rest reft any where fort of it. When the Winds of Temptation tempestuously beat, and the Floods of Tryal, Affliction, or Perfecution rush in upon us, we shall fall, because we have no Foundation, but have built merely upon the Sands. If you ftand not built upon the corner Stone, you will not built upon the corner Stone, you will fall of your felves, yea, that Stone will fall upon you, and cruth and grind you to powder. Nay you fall off from affreep and flippery Precipice, where there is no-thing at all to ftop, nothing to receive you but Sin after Sin, and thus you re-bound from one wickedneis to another, till at laft you be plunged irrecoverably into that Lake, which burns with Fixe and Brimftone: And this is the fourth confide-ration; difcovering the folly and mifery of those that go far towards Christianity, and wet fall fhort. vet fall fhort. N 1 1

Fifthly, Though these Professors may hover between Heaven and Earth in their lives, yet they shall not hover between Heaven and Hell in their Deats. No, the half Christian shall be as infallibly and as certainly cast into Hell, as those who were altogether wicked. Here it may be thou G

. 121

122

2

The Almost Christian.

art neither Godly nor Profane, but hereafter thou must be either faved or damned. There is none (as the Papifts Pi-Cture Erasmus) that hang between Heaven and Hell. Whoever thou art, thou muft be either in a State of Nature or of Grace, and accordingly shall thy estate then be for ever, either a state of Salvation among the Saints, or elfe a state of Dampation with the unregenerate. Though thoy are never fo lofty and fublime, a Profefior, yet the fame Hell that holds the profane. must eternally hereafter hold thee toe, if through thine own wilfull negligence, thon ftop any where fort of true Grace. If the Almost Christians could by their glit-tering Profession gain a cooler Hell, if they could get (I fay) but a cooler place in Hell, if their Profession could gain you this, if it could procure you Purgatory for venial Sins, or the moderate punish-ment which the Papists call Limbus Pa-trum, then you had fome shew of Reason to reft where you are, but when the fame Hell, and the fame everlafting Fire muft be the Portion of these, who have proceeded to far (and yet fall fhort) as well as the portion of the vileft Wretch, whom whom they have now as far exceeded in goodnefs, as the holieft Saint alive exceeds them; it is the very height of folly and madnefs to fit down any where fhort of true Grace, unlefs they are fully refolved to fit down no where fhort of Hell.

123

othly. and Laftly, Confider, It will be the infupportable aggravation of these Men's just and everlasting condemnation, for them, to lye grating upon this fast reflething in Hell, that once they were near to Heaven, but loss a through their own wilfull default. It will be the aggravation, (1 fay) of these Men's just and everlasting condemnation, to make this doleful and furious reflection upon themselves in Hell, that once they were in a very hopeful State, that they were once near to Heaven; but loss it through their own wilfull default; O when they shall lie in Hell, and from thence give a fad and ghastly look up to the Glory of the Saints in Heaven; O how will it pierce their Souls to think, that they were once near to that blessed Estate, though now there be an infinite and unpassed gulph between them and G_2 that that bleffed Inheritance, which the Saints enjoy in Heaven! Thus will - they reflect upon themselves, though now there be an unpaffable gulph between me and Heaven, yet once there was but a step or two that parted ns ; Had I mortified but one lust more, had I opposed one temptation more, had I put up but one fervent Prayer more; possibly I might now have been in Heaven : But, O my curfed, curfed folly, when I was at the very Gate and Threshold of Heaven, that even then I should ftop, and after the relinquishment of my Lufs, and after all my Progress in the ways of Holineis, to return again to the commission of those Sins, in which I had formerly lived, when I had already gone through the hardeft and most difficult part of Religion, then to break off my courfe! What is this but procuring for my felf this damnation, which I now fuffer, and must suffer for ever? O that Light, that once I enjoyed how it thickens this everlasting darkness ! O those tasts I . once had of the Powers of the World to: come, and relished fo much fweetness in, how do they now imbitter this Cup of fury, and trembling that I must for ever drink of! O those Heavenly Gifts that once once I had, do but now increafe thefe Hel-lifh torments, and the fight of Heaven which I have had, now difcovers to me what I have loft; nay, what I have will-fully thrown away through mine own floth and negligence. O how ftrange is mine Apoftacy! after I had gone fo great a way towards Chriftianity rather than I would towards Christianity, rather than I would move one step further, I chose to lie here in this Hell for ever burning and confuming ? Oh what fad and tormenting thoughts will thefe be! how will they. fret and gnaw the Souls of those Wretches, with Eternal anguish and insuppor-table Torments? Thus you have seen in these Particulars fomewhat difcovered to you of the desperate folly and madness, (and mifery alfo) that Men are guilty of that do proceed fo far as to be Almost, and yet will not be perfwaded to be Altogether Christians.

124

125

G.3

(126)

A Blow at Profanene s, taken out of Bilhop Hopkins's Exposition of the Ten Commandments.

Refamenels, is the flighting and neglecting of things Holy and Sacred. Wholoever is guilty of this, let his outward Demeanor in the World, be as fair, and as plaufible as Morality and Hypecrifie can adorn it, yet he is a profane Perfon. The Spiritual Sacred things, are,

First, God in his Nature and Effence. Whom we profane when we entertain any blafphemous or unworthy Thoughts of Him.

Secondly, God in bis Name. Which we profane, when we rathly in our trivial Discourses, boult out that great and terrible Name, at which all the Powers; of Heaven and Hell tremble. It doth fadly fore-bode. the growing Profanenels of the next Age, that Chil-, dren be Taught or Suffered to call upon God in their Play, before they be taught to call on him in their. Prayers.

Thirdly, God in his Attributes. Which we profane, when our Affections or Actions are opposite or, unfuitable. e.g. Our Unholinefs profaneth his Holiness. Our Despondence profaneth his Omnipo-tence. Our Hypocrisse profaneth his Omniscience. Our De/pair profaneth his Mercy. Our Prefumption profaneth his Justice. Our finful Policy profaneth his Wijdom. Our Security notwithstanding his Threatrings, and our Slothfulnefs notwithstanding his Promiles, do profane his Truth. Every Sin is a kind of Profanenels, a Contempt of the Excellencies of God. How much more that which is finned for nothing, and defieth .?

defieth his Wrath and Juffice without a Temptation?

What fhould tempt the impious Buffoon to deride Religion? Traveft the Holy Scriptures? And turn what foever is Sacred and Venerable into Burlefque and Drollery? And, Fourthly, The Time God hath fet apart and con-fecrated for his Service. Unto the holy observance whereof God hath condescended to use three cogent Arguments ; viz. 1. His own Example in refting on it. 2. The liberal portion of Time that He bath allowed us for the Affairs of this prefent Life. 3. The Dedication of this day unto his immediate Service. [Vid. p. 207.] But we profane it, when we do not reft from the common works of our ordinary Callings, And do not diligently and confcientioufly attend upon all God's Ordinances, appointed to be performed on this day. And that whether in Publick, Private, or Secret. The Day is not done, when the Church diffolves. The whole of it is holy to the Lord. Walks and Visits are not to be the Evening-Work of the Sabbath; but holy and fpiritual Conferences. Thofe who have Families to look after, be best employed, in feeing them fpend the vacant time of the Sabbath in Holy Exercises; fc. Reading the Scripture, giving an account what Truths they have been taught, joining. with them in Praifes and Prayer unto God. In all of thefe, in their Courses and Order, till Night calls for Repole.

Fifthly, The Ordinances of Jefus Chrift. Which, we profane, when we neglect, or are remifs in our attendance upon them.

Some particular Characters of a profane Perfon, here follow.

First, He is a profane Person that thinks and, speaks but slighly of Religion. Religion, our chietest Excellency, the Crown of our Beings. But

Digitizet Google

But have we not many, who deride Piety, and make a fcoff of Religion? Who take up their Religion by chance, never examining it; Thinking that any may fuffice whatever it be; Secretly defining the holinefs and ftrictnefs of others; thinking they inake more ado to get to Heaven than needs. But indeed, they are not too precife; but thefe are too profane, who contemn Religion as unneceffary and fuperfluous.

Secondly, He is a prafame Person who neglects the Publick Worship of God, when he hath opportomity and ability to attend it. God's special Prefence is in two places, Heaven and the Church.

Thirdly, He is a profame Performubo neglects the performance of religious Duties in private. Every House ought to be a Temple, dedicated to God. And every Master ought to be a Priest, to offer to God the daily Sacrifice of Prayers and Prailes. Such profame Families as those which are without them, God ranks with Infidels and Heathens, and devotes them to the fame common Destruction. In the Morning: Prayer is the Key that opens to us the Treasury of God's' Mercies and Blessings. In the Evening, it is the Key that shuts us up fafe under his Protection and Safeguard. Excules are vain, and cannot take off your Obligation.

Are you ignorant? Many are the helps that God hath provided you. Are you incumbred with your World'y Affairs? The weightier they are, the more need you have to ask Counfel and Direction of God. Are you bashful and modest? Alas, be ashamed to fin, be ashamed to talk loosly, be ashamed to neglect thy Duty before thy Family; but be not ashamed to pray, and do thy Duty. Our Saviour hath told us; Whosever therefore shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, in this adulterous and finful Genera.

tion,

tion, of him also shall the Son of Man be ashamed when he cometh in the Glory of his Father, with the Holy Angels, Mark 8.38. What will become of them who are ashamed of their Duty?

Fourthly, He is a profane Perfon that performs Holy Duties slightly and superficially. Our whole Hearts must go into our Holy Duties. And the strength and vigor of our Spirits must diffuse themfelves into every part of them, to animate and quicken them.

Sacrifices of old, were commanded to be offered up with Fire. And no other Fire could fanctifie them but that which that it felf down from Heaven. The which was ever after to be kept burning for that ufe. Our Chriftian Sacrifices of Praife and Prayer mult be offered with Fire; and that Fire mult be darted down from Heaven. The Celeftial Flame of Zeal and Love, which comes from Heaven, and hath a natural Tendency to carry up our Hearts and Souls thither. But indeed commonly our Duties are either offered up with firange, unballewed Fore; fome unruly Paffion of Hatred, Self-love, and Pride: Or elfe they are very cold and beartlefs. Our Prayers are dull and yawning, and drop over our Lips without any Spirit or Life in them.

Fifthly, He is a profane Perfon that performs Haly Duties for Worldly Ends and Advantages. For what greater contempt of God can there be than to make his fervice truckle under base Defigns ? A Hypocrite is the most profane Wretch that lives. He entitles the Holy God unto the Wickedness he commits, and makes God the Patron of his Sin. And the Wound that Religion receives from Hypocrites, is far more dangerous than that which open Sinners inflict upon it. When he that speaks Seripture, lives Dovilim,

igitized by GOOgl6

 h_{i} , this tempts Men to think that all Religion is but. Mockery, Sixthly, He is a profane Perfon who makes what God bath fanctified, common and unballowed. And have we not many fuch profane Perfons? Many that abule the Holy and Reverend Name of God about, frivolous Matters? Who make mention of him in their idle Chat, but are mute and dumb when any; thing fhould be fpoke to his Praife? There are built two Ends that can warrant and juffifie the use of any; of God's Names, Titles, and Attributes. And they are, i. God's Glary, and. 2. The Edification of our folces and others: God's terrible Name is fo full of Glary and Majefty that is fhould norm beuttered, built where the Difficultion being and weighty. (1) the many for the States and Reversed weighty (1) the many for the States and Reversed weighty (1) the many fields in the States and Reversed weighty (1) the many fields in the States and Reversed weighty (1) the many fields in the States and Reversed weights (1) the many fields in the States and Reversed weights (1) the many fields in the States and Reversed weights (1) the many fields in the States and Reversed weights (1) the many fields in the States and Reversed weights (1) the

Lund were pares forere Execution, entre

Black Tongues of all fuch profane Wresches. Others fill up their familiar Tattles, with the Name of GOD and LORD, making them to expressioner fmall Wonderment , and fill up a gap in their Difcour-Thefe, God will not hold guiltlefs. He holds fes. himfelf contemned, and will revenge the Difhonour, that they do him by it What! Will you dare to bolt out the great Name of God without confidering it? Lit a Name to be sported with? To be toft to and fro upon every Eght and vain Tongue? Whenever we mention it, we ought to bow our bearts in the deepefi profiration before it; to which all the Powers in Heaven and Earth bow down with most humble Veneration. Canft thou in Duty eafily compole thy felf to reverence the holy and dreadful Name, when thou haft accultomed thy felf to name him without any refpect in thy common Discourses? Let, mè me beleech you, O Christians, as you tender his Glory, of which He is jealous, whenfoever you fpeak of God, or but mention his Name, do it with sn holy Awe and Dread of his Divine Majefty. And you, who are Masters of Families, and have Children, beware that you ftop in them the growing Sin of profaning God's Name: To atteft any thing by their Faith, or by their Truth, is a wicked Oath ; more impious in effect, than louder ones. The By-word Marry, is no lefs than fwearing by the Virgin Mary. It is a notable Device of the Devil to bring foolifh masked words into common ule. 1. That they may fwear who use them, though they know it not And, 2. That by using unknown Oaths, they may be brought in fime to take up known ones. Vehement Affeverations, be also dangerous beginnings of Oaths. By the cultomary use of them, we shall infensibly be tripping upon an Oath. [This, and more, fee p. 163. and up and down on the third Commandment.] To return, Many profane God's Sabbaths, invade impioufly the Time that he hath fet apart for himfelf, his own Worthip and Service. Many make the Bible their Jeft-Book; proftituting those Exprefitions which God hath fanctified to convey to us the knowledge of Himfelf, and of Eternal Life, unto the Laughter and Mirth of their loofe Companions. Those very words which the Holy Ghost inspired for the Edification of the Church, the Devel infpires in-to these profane Wretches for their own Danmation, and the Damnation of those that have pleasure in such horrid Profanenels.

Seventhly, He is a profane Perfon, who de/prfeth Spiritual Privileges and Enjoyments. Upon this very account, the Scripture fets a black and indelible Brand upon Efau, Left there be any Fornicator, or pio-

Dinitized by Google

(132) profane Person; as Elau, who for one morsel of Meat fold his Birtbright, Heb. 12. 16: They are profane, who vilifie the Ministry in Themsfelves and in Others. Who disconvergence and a standard for the And who define his Children, whom God so highly honours as to adopt them into his Family. He who despise the begerteth. Contempt of Children and Servants, argues fecret contempt of the Mafter and Father.

Now lay these things to your own Hearts, and bring them home to your own Conficiences, and see whether you are in none of these particulars guilty of Profanenels.

Do none of you think flightly of Religion, accounting it a politick Defign, or a needlefs Precifenefs ?

Are none of you negligent in the Publick Warfhip of God? Nor in Private and Family-Duties? Or, if you perform them, is it not very carelesly and perfunctorily? Or, if you feem zealous in them, is not your Zeal excited by fome Temporal Advantages and Worldly Designs? Do you not make that Common and Unboly, which God bath made Holy? Either, by abusing his Name, polluting his Sabbaths, or willfying his Word in your ordinary Raillery?

Laftly, Do none of you defpife Spiritual Privileges, and the Perfons the are invefted with them? If you do, how fair foever your Lives and Attims may be; although you may think the rude debaached Sinner at a valt diftance from your felves, and account him the only profane Perfon; yet certainly this black file belongs as properly to you. And you are profane Violaters of the First Commandments Which requires you to take the Lord for your God, and accordingly to honour and reverence Him, and whatfoever appertains unto Him.

FINIS.