PREFACE.

#XXX HE Reader is here prefented with T the Plan which Dr. TAYLOR followed, in leading his Pupils to a just and rational Acquaintance with the Principles of Religion, founded upon an accurate Knowledge of the Scriptures.

THE Importance of this Service, and his Accountableneis in a great Measure for the Event, were Confiderations of the last Moment, and caused him to compose, and deliver his Academical Instructions with the utmost Circumspection. To his own Judgment, after the strictest Revisal, the Principles here advanced, appeared just and foriptural; but he did not therefore presume they were absolutely free from Error; much less did he think himself authorized, as a publick Tutor, to impose his Sentiments on young Minds with an overbearing Hand. A 37 That

That he might do Justice to his Pupils, and himself, he always prefaced his Lectures with the following solemn CHARGE, which does Honor to the Author, and affords a noble Precedent to Seminaries of Learning.

- I. " I Do folemnly charge you, in the Name of the God of Truth, and of our Lord Jefus Chrift, who is the Way, the Truth, and the Life, and before whofe Judgment-Seat you muft in no long time appear, that in all your Studies and Inquiries of a religious Nature, prefent or future, you do conftantly, carefully, impartially, and confcientioufly attend to Evidence, as it lies in the holy Scriptures, or in the Nature of things, and the Dictates of Reafon; cautioufly guarding againft the Sallies of Imagination, and the Fallacy of illgrounded Conjecture."
- H. " THAT you admit, embrace, or affent to no Principle, or Sentiment, by me taught or advanced, but only fo far as it shall appear to you to be supported and justified by proper Evidence from Revelation, or the Reason of things."
- III. "THAT, if at any time hereafter, any Principle or Sentiment, by me taught or advanced, or by you admited and embraced, shall, upon impartial and faithful Examination, appear to you, to be

be dubious or falle, you either fufpect, or totally reject such Principle or Sentiment."

Is it poffible to adjust the Terms between a Tutor and his Pupils more equitably? But it must here be observed, that Dr. TAY-LOR ever meant, the Liberty he claimed for himself, and allowed to others, should be directed by a serious Frame of Mind, and a real Defire to promote practical Religion. The inlarged View he had of divine things penetrated his own Heart, and had a manifest Influence over his Practice. He laboured to explain and vindicate the Doctrines of Revelation for this Reason, that he might most effectually ferve the Cause of vital Religion.

IT were to be wished, that those who are Students for the Ministry, who choose to confult his Writings, may imbibe the fame Spirit of genuine Piety. This will be a A 4 never-never-failing Source of Weight and Credit; and without it, other Qualifications will be infufficient for religious Improvement.

THE Doctor's whole Life being devoted to an impartial Study of the Scriptures, not by Way of Speculation and Amufement, but for the most valuable Purposes to himself and others, it is no Wonder to find him so earnestly recommending them to the serious Attention of Christians. This is the important Subject of those Chapters, which immediately follow the Scheme of SCRIP-TURE-DIVINITY.

THE Editor fubmits the whole (as the Author would have done) to the Candor of every intelligent Reader; defiring that what is here advanced, may be regarded no further than shall appear conformable to Truth and Scripture, in Subservency to the best Interest of Mankind.

CHAP. I.

Of CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY.

HRISTIAN Theology, or Di-C vinity, is the Science, which, from Revelation, teacheth the Knowture and Perfections, his Relations to us, his Ways and Difpenfations, his Will with refpect to our Actions, and his Purpofes with refpect to our Being; in order to form in our Minds right Principles, for our Direction and Comfort, and in our Converfation right Practice for fecuring his Favour and Bleffing. B IN

In natural Religion we take our Proofs from the Natures of things as perceived, confidered, and compared by the human Mind; but now we advance upon the Authority and Senfe of Writings and Books; I mean, the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Teftaments, acknowledged by the whole Chriftian World as a true Revelation from God, and as the Standard of Faith and Doctrine.

THAT God would revele to us, by fuch Ways as he in his Wildom judgeth molt proper, fuch things as are needful for us to know and to do, for the Improvement and happinels of our Nature, is perfectly agreable to his Wildom and Goodnels, who is our Father, and delighteth in our Well-being; and is also perfectly fuitable to our Circumstances, as Mankind are ignorant and weak, and very liable to Error and Deception. It is confonant to the Nature of things, that a Father should instruct his Child ; and that Perfons of Knowledge and Learning should teach the ignorant. How much more that God, whose Understanding is infinite, and without whom we can know nothing at all, fhould teach and inftruct us all ?

AND that his Instructions should be configned to Writing is also very fit and proper; as this, in fact, is the furest Method of preferving them in the World. Tradition from one Generation to another is no fafe fafe Conveyance. The Experiment hath been fufficiently tried in the Ages before the, Flood; wherein, though Tradition was then greatly favoured by the Longevity of Mankind, yet we find, that both the Religion of Nature and traditionary Revelation were both fo far loft, that in the Space of 1656 Years, the Earth was filled with Violence for all flesh bad corrupted his way upon Earth. Gen. vi. 11, 12. And both would have been entirely loft, had not God in an extraordinary manner interposed. Likewise after the Flood, notwithstanding any Tradition from Noab, Idolatry foon overfpread the Nations, and rendered it expedient for God, to devife a new Conftitution, to prevent a fecond universal Corruption and Apostacy. And fo false and faithless is Tradition, that for many Ages in the Jewish Nation, and for many Ages under the Gospel, Tradition was, and still is, fo far opposed to Revelation, as to obscure and disparage it, and make the Commandment of God therein of no Effect. Infomuch, that had not a written Revelation by Divine Providence been introduced into the World, and preferved in it, true Religion would have been banished out of it.

THE Benefit of Revelation is very great, but then it must be faithfully used; otherwife it will be turned against itself, and made the Patron of Falfehood and Delufion. Which, in fact, hath been the Cafe. Men, either B 2 either weak or wicked, have perverted the Scriptures, and reduced them to a fubferviency to either their Lufts, or preconceived Opinions. The latter was remarkably the cafe in the first ages of Christianity. When any of the Philosophers were converted to the Christian Profession, they generally brought along with them the Schemes and Notions of the particular Sects, to which they were attached; those influenced their Minds in the Study of the Scriptures, and inclined them to wreft the Scriptures into a Confistency with their preconceived Opinions. Hence it is, that many Notions, inconfistent with the Word of God, and with each other, have been handed down to us from the earliest times under the facred character of found Christian Doctrine. And in our own times, we find Men pleading the Authority of Scripture for a variety of oppolite and contradictory Sentiments, which therefore cannot all of them be founded upon Scripture.

For the Holy Scriptures, being a Revelation from God, the most perfect and invariable Standard of Truth, though written by different Persons, living in remote Ages, during the Space of about 1500 Years, from Moses to John, who wrote the Revelation; yet, being a Revelation from God, must be perfectly confistent in all their Parts and Principles, Views and Sentiments, express in

Of CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY. in Uniformity of Language. For if the Language were multiform and various, the Senfe would necessarily be obscure, and the Understanding confounded, and fo the Ends of Revelation would be defeated. And if, notwithstanding the great Changes in Cuftoms, Dispositions, Interests, and religious Sentiments, which muft, and actually did, happen in fo long a tract of time, we do find, that one confistent Scheme, in one confiftent uniform Language, is carried on in all the Writings, which compose the Scriptures, we may firongly conclude, that they are a Revelation from God; not the Produce of human Wildom, which could never in Ages lo femote, and for the greatest Part lo illiterate, have combined to carry on a regular, uniform Scheme of religious Principles and Sentiments, in the fame Language or Modes of Expression; but the Inspiration or Dictates of one Spirit, the Spirit of God. Hence it follows:

L. THAT, in explaining the Scriptures, Confiftency of Senfe and Principles ought to be supported in all the feveral Parts thereof; and that, if any Part be fo interpreted as to claim with any other, we may be fure such Interpretation cannot be justified. Nor uch Interpretation cannot be justified. Nor can it otherwise be rectified, than by faithd fully comparing Scripture with Scripture, and bringing what may feen to be obfcure B 3 into a Confiftency with what is plain and evident.

II. THE Senfe of Scripture can no otherwife be underftood, than by underftanding the Force and Import of Scriptural Language. And the Force and Import of Scriptural Language can be fettled in no method more authentic, than by collating the feveral Paffages in which any Phrafe or Expression occurs. Thus, in every view, Scripture is the best Interpreter of Scripture.

III. FIGURATIVE Expressions should be carefully diffinguished from those that are literal; and vice versa. The Oriental, and consequently, the Scriptural Tropes and Figures of Speech, are very bold, and different from the European.

IV. SINGLE Sentences are not to be detached from the Places where they fland, but to be taken in Connection with the whole Difcourfe. The Occafion, Coherence, and Connection of the Writing, the Argument that is carrying on, the Scope and Intent of the Paragraph, are to be carefully attended to.

V. WE fhould always interpret Scripture in a Senfe confiftent with the Laws of natural Religion; or with the known Perfections of God, and the Notions of Right and Wrong, Good and Evil, which are difcoverable in the Works of Creation, and in the prefent Conftitution of things. The Language

Language of Nature is most certainly the Language of God, the fole Author of Nature. And however the Divine Wildom may diversify the Circumstances of supernatural Revelation, yet the Law of Nature, as it is founded in the unchangeable Natures of things, must be the Basis and Ground-Work of every Conftitution of Religion, which God had erected. Whence it follows, that the Study and Knowledge of natural Religion is a neceffary Introduction to the Study and right Understanding of Revelation. And we may further conclude that supernatural Revelation, in all its Parts and Principles, as it certainly is, fo it always fhould be, interpreted and underftood in perfect Harmony with natural Religion, or the dictates of Reason.

BUT mistake me not; I do not mean, that the Law or Religion of Nature is commenfurate to Revelation; or, that nothing is to be admited in Revelation, but what is discoverable by the Light of Nature, or by human Reafon. So far from that, that the whole of Revelation, properly fo called, could never have been difcovered by human Reafon. And therefore in matters of pure Revelation, it is a very falle and fallacious way to begin first with what our Reafon may dictate and discover. Because our Reafon unaffifted by Revelation, in fuch Cafes, can discover nothing at all. For instance, B 4 the the Confequences of Adam's Transgreffion upon his Posterity; the Covenant made with Abraham: the Nature and Mission of the Son of God; the Grant of Bleffings, and of eternal Life by him. Concerning those things, we could have known nothing at all, had not God reveled them to us. And in fuch matters of pure Revelation, the first thing we have to do, is to enquire, not what human Reason can discover, but what God has difcovered, and declared in Scripture. But at the fame time is is true, that God hath discovered nothing in Scripture inconfistent with what he has discovered in the Nature of things exposed to the view of all Mankind. And therefore, if we understand any thing in reveled Religion, in a Senfe contradictory to natural Religion, or to the known Perfections of God, and the common Notions of Good and Evil, which he hath written upon all our Hearts, we may be fure we are in an Error, and mistake the Senfe of Revelation.

I. HE who would effectually fludy the Word of God, ought, above all things, to be deeply fenfible of the infinite Value of true Knowledge and Wifdom; and how abfolutely neceffary it is to his eternal Happinefs, to cultivate and improve his intellectual Powers, in the Use of all those Means, which God hath put into his Hands. The Scriptures are given us, not for Amusement, or meer Speculation, in perufing the curious Remains of Antiquity, the Language, Manners, and Theology of fome selebrated Ancients; but they are all, from begining to end, pointed directly at our Hearts and Lives, to make us wife unto Salvation. There we find every Rule of the most confummate Wifdom, and every Principle of Truth and Comfort; and the whole is defigned to refine our Nature into its proper Excellence, to guide us into the Paths of Purity, Peace, and Righteoufnefs; to make us happy in ourfelves, and a Bleffing to all about us, and finally to qualify us for the full enjoyment of God for ever.

But if we are cold and indifferent to any Attainments in true Wildom ; if we choole to dream, or jeft and trifle away the important Sealon of Life, defpifing the glorious Advantages we enjoy, while we eagerly purfue the low and transitory things of this World, in neglect of ourfelves, of God, and Immortality, of allothat is truly great and -good and excellent, we shall receive little or -no Advantage from any Explications of the Holy Scriptures on We shall not value or rediffy them, wor can vhave no Ground to expect the divine bleffing to affift our Studies, but have reason to fear we shall be left to 3ourfelves; to wander from God, from Truth, and Life; in deplorable Ignorance and Folly. Attend, therefore, to the Voice of Divine Wildom, Wildom, Prov. ii. 1, &c. My Son, if thou wilt receive my Words, and bide my Commandments with thee, [lay them up as a Treasure in thy Heart] fo that thou incline thine Ear unto Wildom, and apply thine Heart unto Understanding; yea, if thou criest after Knowledge, and liftest up thy Voice for Underflanding [as we do for those things, which we most of all defire, and most of all stand in need of] If thou feekest her as Silver, and fearcheft for her, as for hid Treasures : [as covetous Men feek Money, and ranfack the whole World for the Treasures, in which they delight. If thus you value, and study to advance the Improvement of your Minds in Knowledge and Wifdom] Then shalt thou understand the Fear of the Lord, and find the Knowledge of God : [which of all Understanding is infinitely the most excellent.]

II. BUT this Senfe of the Value of Divine Knowledge, and this Defire to obtain it, muft be underftood in a Connection with a fincere Endeavour to live agreably to it. For thould a Perfon, under the greateft Advantages of Learning, and with the utmoft Affiduity ftudy the Scriptures, he will be, after all, but a poor Proficient in Divine Knowledge, if he doth not bring it home to his Heart, and reduce it to Practice. It is not Speculation, but Practice and Experience, which renders a Man truly fkilful in any Bufinefs. So in Religion, no Man can be

be truly wife and knowing, but he who liveth wifely and virtuoufly. If ye continue in my Word (faith our Lord, Job. viii. 31.) then shall you know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you free [from the Darkness of Ignorance and Error, and the Servitude of abfurd Lufts and Paffions.] Job. vii. 27. If any Man will do bis, God's, Will, be shall know of the Doctrine, whether it be of God. He shall fee it in its true Light, and be convinced that it is perfectly divine.] For (Pfal. xxv. 14.) the Secret of the Lord is with them that fear him, and he will thew them bis Covenant. But (Dan. xii. 10.) the Wicked shall do wickedly, and none of the Wicked shall understand; but the Wife, [the pious and virtuous] shall understand.

THIS is to make you fenfible, that a fincere Defire of true Knowledge is a neceffary Difposition in entering upon the Study of the Scriptures; and the Obedience to God's Commands, in the course of a pious Life, is neceffary to inlarge and establish the Judgment in the Knowledge of divine Truths.

III. To the effectual Study of Scripture, it is neceffary, that our Minds and Hearts be unbyaffed, unprejudiced, open to the Truth, and always quite free to difcern and receive it. If our Spirits are under the Power of Prepoffeffion and Prejudice we cannot be well difpofed for fearching the Scriptures.

JI

tures. For inftance, if a Perfon, in matters of Religion and Confcience, is ambitiour to gain Reputation in the World, or folicitous only to please and recommend himself to a Party, how should he study the Word of God with the fincere and fingle View of difcovering and embracing the Truth, when he is preingaged, and all his Care is to find what will please his Fellow-Creatures, and fuit his own mean and felfish Purposes? Job. v. 44. How can ye believe, who receive Honor one of another, whole ruling Principle is the Defire of temporal Honor, and the Favor of Men, and Jeek not the Honor, which comes from God only, the Honor of a good Confcience, and of upright Conduct ? Or, if we refign our Understandings and Confciences to the Authority of human Decifions and Decrees; or imbibe the Bigotry of a Party, which determines a Person to retain pertinaciously a Sett of religious Notions, without confidering, or examing how far they are agreable to the Word of God. our Understandings and Judgments are locked up, and no longer at Liberty to discover the Truth.

It is owing to this malignant Caufe, that great Numbers of learned Men, who call themfelves Chriftians, will not allow themfelves to make Enquiry, whether the Worfhip of Saints, Images, Relicks, Bread, and innumerable other abfurd Doctrines, and fuperfitious perstitious Practices, are agreable to the Truth and Purity of the Christian Religion. The Error and Iniquity of this Conduct in Papifts we fee and deteft. But the fame moral Caufe will in all Cafes produce the fame Effects. 'If we act upon the fame vicious Principles; if we indulge the like Prejudices, and in the fame Manner wilfully thut our Eyes, we shall be more faulty than Papists, because it is contrary to our Profeffion, as Protestants; and shall be equally incapable of feeing the Truth and Glory of our holy Religion. In fludying the Scriptures we should always keep our Minds open to Evidence, and further Discoveries of Truth, which is the only way to be more and more folidly established in our religious Principles ; for in no other Way can we grow in Grace, and in the Knowledge of our Lord Jefus Chrift. Moreover, this is the only poffible Mean of reducing the Christian World to Unity both of Hearts and Sentiments.

IV. PRAYER to God, the Father of Lights, the Fountain of all Illumination, is neceffary to the fuccessful Study of the Scriptures. Prov. ii. 6. The Lord alone gives Wisdom; out of his Mouth cometh Knowledge and Understanding. Nor hath he appointed any Means, how excellent foever in themselves, which exempt us from a dependence upon his Bleffing. All our Springs are in him; and his gracious influences render our endeayours.

deavours, of any kind, fuccefsful. And therefore, when we addrefs ourfelves to the Study of the holy Scriptures, we fhould make our Supplication to God, that he would open our Eyes, that we may behold wonderous things out of his Law. Or, in the Apostle's Words, (Ephef. i. 17, 18.) that the God of our Lord Jefus Chrift, the Father of Glory, would give unto us the Spirit of Wildom, and Revelation, in the Knowledge of him; that the Eyes of our Understanding being enlightened, we may have just apprehensions of the Riches of his Wisdom and Grace, and that our Hearts may be duly impressed with a deep and lafting Sense of them.

Of the Divine Dispensations, in Scripture called the WAYS and WORKS of God.

THE Ways of God אלחים ררכי frequently fignify the Rules of Life, which he hath given us to obferve. Pfal. cxix. 3. They also do no Iniquity; they walk in bis Ways, i. e. in the Law of the Lord, Ver. I. And the Works שיט of God may fignify the meer Operations and Productions of his Power. But both these Words have a more reftricted and emphatical Signification. ליים a Way, fignifieth alfo alfo a Course of Action, a Cuttom, Constitution or Institution, which any Person, or Number of Perfons form to themfelves. Prov. viii. 22. The Lord poffeffed me, Wifdom, in the Begining of his Way, before his Works of old. Prov. xii. 26. The Way of the Wicked, their Course of Action, seduceth them. Hof. x. 13. Becaufe thou didst trust in the Way, the Schemes and Methods, political or religious, of thy own deviling, and in the Multitude of thy mighty Men. Amos viii. 14. The Manner, the Way, i. e. the religious Constitution, of Beersbeba liveth, fubfifts, flourisheth, notwithstanding the Oppofition made to it. too fignifies to conftitute, ordain, appoint, dispose. Num. xxviii. 6. 2 Chron. ii. 11. Pfal. civ. 19. Eccl. iii. 11.

HENCE Ways and Works fignify the Appointments, Constitutions, or Dispensations By which are meant, of God. " The " Schemes or Methods devifed or contrived " by the Wildom and Goodnels of God. " to discover, or shew himself, his Nature " and Will, his Beneficence, Holine's and "Juffice to the Minds of his rational Crea-" tures, for their Instruction, Discipline and " Reformation, in order to promote their "Happinels." These are the great Ends of the Divine Difpensations; and these the principal Points to be attended to, in the Explications of them.

THE

THE great God, for ever to be adored. hath actually given Existence to a World of moral Agents, fuch as we are. He there-fore is our Father, and we are his Offspring, whom he hath created in Love, that in a right and virtuous Ule of our rational Powers, we may be qualified for Honor and Enjoyment in the heavenly World. This feems to be the highest Defign the divine Goodness can form, and the highest Excellency to which our Nature can attain. And this may be confidered as the Basis of all the Divine Dispensations from the begining of the World. For without pious and virtuous Dispositions we cannot be qualified for Honor and Enjoyment. But pious and virtuous Dispositions cannot be forced upon us, by any external Power whatever; they must, in fome degree, be the Effect of our own Attention and Choice. It is, therefore, becoming the Father of our Spirits, and fuitable to Beings of our Capacities and Circumstances, that proper Means be provided for our Instruction and Discipline. For instance, as God is not the Object of any of our Senses, and can be feen only by our Understandings, it is proper that he should set before us in the Frame and Furniture of the World, fuch visible and various displays of his Being, Power, Wildom, Justice, and kind Regards, as may engage our Attention, discover his eternal eternal Godhead, and lead us to the Aeknowledgment, Adoration, Love, and dutiful Obedience of our Creator, Father, and Benefactor. These are the Works, the Difpensations, or Constitutions of Nature; whereby our Father, as in a Glass held before our Eyes and Thoughts, has shewn himself to us for, our Instruction in Piety and Virtue.

But besides the Constitution of universal Nature, there are a Variety of Difpenfations, which are more immediately relative to Mankind. As the being born of Parents, to fupply the feveral Generations of the World, whence refult fundry Relations and Duties; the being fuftained by Food, covered and sheltered by Clothes and Habitations, healed by Phyficians, taught by the learned and skilful; the Infirmities, Appetites, and Paffions of our Conftitution; the forming Societies for mutual Help and Commerce; the Institution of Government, or the Subordination of fome to the Authority of others, for preferving good Order, for the Protection of Virtue, and the Restraint and Pupishment of Vice. Add to these, Wars. Pestilence, Famine, Earthquakes, and such like Events; all these may be reckoned among the Divine Appointments, or Difpenfations; fome for the Exercise of our rational Powers in right Action; fome for Discipline, Correction, and Reformation; but but none merely for Destruction, except where Reformation cannot be effected.

BUT those Ways, or Dispensations, which in Scripture are confidered as the great Hinges of Divine Providence, on which his Dealings with Mankind have turned; or as the principal Events, by which the great Purposes and Counsels of God's Will have been executed, are chiefly to be attended Becaufe right Conceptions of thefe, unto. under their feveral Views, Circumstances, and Connections, will greatly contribute to the explaining of Scripture-Theology, and also mark out the proper Order and Method. in which it may be fludied. Let us therefore here, at first seting out, take a general Survey of them.

I. THE Creation of the World, as above.

IL THE Formation of Man after the Image of God.

III. MAN being created capable of enjoying the Honours and Felicity of Heaven, was to be difciplined and proved, in order to his being confirmed in the Habits of Virtue and Holinefs; without which, neither Man, nor any other rational Being, can be fit to fee, or enjoy, the Lord. Accordingly, the first most remarkable of God's Works, in the newly created World, was to put the Man, whom he had formed, upon a Trial fuitable to his Circumstances.

IV. UNDER

Of the DIVINE DISPENSATIONS. 19 1V. UNDER which Trial, Man, yielding to Temptation, finded, and fo became Jubjected to the Threatening of eternal Death.

V. WHICH heavy Doom, God, not willing to destroy his Creature, was pleased in Mercy, not only to mitigate, but alfo, Man having altered his moral State, thought fit to introduce a new Difpensation of Grace, in the Hands of a Mediator. At the fame time, fubjecting the human Race to a laborious Life, to Difeases, and to Death tem-And this in much Goodness, to poral. fubdue the fleshly Principle, to give a Taste of the bitter Fruits of Sin, to prevent the Opportunities and Occasions of it; and, by increasing the Vanity of the Creature, to turn his Regards more steadily to the all-fufficient Creator.

VI. BUT Men multiplying in the Earth abufed the Grace of God, and in about 1656 Years Time became fo wicked, that all Flefb bad corrupted bis Way, and the Earth was filled with Violence. Then, to purge the World from Iniquity, and to recover it to a State of Righteoufnefs, God created a new thing in the Earth, and, by a Deluge of Water, deftoyed that wicked Generation, preferving the only Family, that remained uncorrupt in the Old World, in order to propagate Piety and Virtue in the New, At the fame Time, and for the C 2 fame good Purpoles, he reduced human Life into much narrower Bounds.

VII. Not long after the Deluge, to prevent a fecond general Corruption, God introduced another Dispensation, by confounding the Language of Mankind; which divided the World into several distinct Societies, and, consequently, kept them under a stricter Government, and better preserved their Liberties, than if the World had been one great Empire,

VIII. Thus the Outrage of Violence and Rapine was, in a good Measure, cured. But now Mankind fall into a different Iniquity, mamely, that of Idolatry; whereby, within 400 Years after the Flood, the Worship and Knowledge of the one fupreme God was in danger of being utterly loft. To prevent this, the Divine Wildom erected a new Difpensation by calling Abraham from among his idolatrous Kindred, and conftituting his Family the Storehouse and Standard of Divine Knowledge. To them he spake and reveled himself at fundry Times, and in divers Manners, and seperated them from the rest of the World, by peculiar Laws and religious Ceremonies, to fecure them from the idolatrous Practices of their Neighbours. Thus they became God's peculiar People, diffinguished above all other Nations, but with a View to the future great Benefit of all Nations. And to this Day,

Day, bleffed be God, we experience the happy Effects of this noble Scheme, and owe to it both our Bible, and the very Being of the Golpel Church.

IX. THE Family of Abraham, by the Divine Conduct, was led into Egypt. And when they had been there, under grievous Oppression, 215 Years, and were grown numerous enough to be a Nation, God fet himfelf at the Head of them, as their King. And, in a Country much efteemed for Learning and Arts, whither Men of Genius and Curiofity reforted from all other Parts, upon this Stage, fo proper, becaufe fo pub-lic, God, as the King of Ifrael, combated the King of Egypt and his fictitious Gods, and difplayed his infinitely superior Power both to deftroy and to fave, by many Plagues inflicted upon the Land of Egypt, and by bringing out the Ifraelites in Opposition to all the Forces of the King, and all the Obstacles of Nature, and fettling them, after they had been fufficiently disciplined in the Wildernefs, in the Land of Canaan. Here God fet up his peculiar Kingdom amongst them, and they alone of all the Nations of the Earth were the Subjects of it, and happy in its higular Privileges and Bleffings ; but, at the fame time, were exercised with va-Tious providential Difpentations. The getheral Rule of which was this; while they adhered to the Worthip of the true God, Days they C 3

they were always profperous, when they declined to Idolatry, they were either opprefied at Home, or carried captive into other Countries.

X. THE long Captivity in Babylon was not only a Punishment to the Jews, but allo a Mean of publishing the Knowledge of the true God over all the Babylonish Empire, as appears very evidently in the Book of Daniel. And the Division of the Grecian Empire, which put an End to the Perfan, after the Death of Alexander, caused a new Dispersion of the Jews, especially into Afia minor, Syria, Egypt, Cyrene, and Lybia, where their Synagogues were very common. And laftly, when they were fubjected to the Roman Power, their God and Religion became more known over all the Roman Empire. Thus the Way for the Ringdom of the Melliab was gradually prepared. For though the Knowledge of God, received from the Jews, made no public Reformation of Pagan Idolatry, yet it greatly difpoled Men to receive the Golpel when it thould be preached unto them. Some became Jews, many renounced Idolatry, and wo: fhiped no other but the living and true God, who, in the Acts of the Apolles, are called, devout Profetytes, Greeks, those that feared God.

XI. THUS we are brought to the Coming of Chrift, who came in the fulnefs of Time; for for he came as foon as God, by the various Methods of his Providence, had prepared the World to receive him. When God bad made ready a People prepared for bim, then Chrift came, and fully explained the Nature, Laws, Extent, and Glory of the Kingdom of God, and fulfilled the great and most excellent Designs of Divine Wisdom, by giving himself a Sacrifice and Propitiation for the Sin of the World.

XII. THEN the great Mystery of God, the Calling of other Nations, besides the Jaws, into his Kingdom and Church, was opened, and made manifest by the Preaching of the Gospel. For which Purpose, he fent out his Aposselles, furnished with proper Powers and Credentials, especially the Gist of Tongues, whereby they were inabled to communicate the wonderful things of God to People of different Countries. And by this Means, the glad Tidings of Salvation, and the glorious Light and Privileges of the Gospel, have reached even to us in Great-Britain, who dwell in the uttermost Parts of the Earth.

XIII, But as Chrift came to reftore, to explain, and by the most glorious Difcoveries, and the righest Promises, to inforce the Law of Nature, the true Religion of all Nations; and confequently, as his Defign was to erect an universal Religion, which should recommend itself to all People, un-C 4 der der their several political Distinctions, and which, therefore, was to interfere with no political Establishments, but should leave them, in every Country, just as it found them, teaching the Nations only to observe the eternal Rules of Righteousness in the Hope of eternal Life; I fay, upon this grand, noble, and extensive plan, the Jewish Polity would be funk to a level with all other national Governments; and the Jew, on account of any prior national Advantages, would have no more Claim to the Bleffings and Privileges of the Kingdom of God, than any of the Gentiles, or Nations; who, in any of the most barbarous and defpiled Parts of the Earth, should receive the Faith of the Gospel. For in the Christian Religion there is neither Greek nor Jew, Circumcifion nor Uncircumcifion, Barbarian, Scythian, Bond nor Free; but Christ, i. c. the Faith and Obedience, or true Religion, which Christ taught, is all, and in all, Col. iii. 11. Thus the Jew is fallen from his fuperior Claims and Privileges ; and he falls by that very Method of divine Wildom and Grace, which brought Salvation to all other Nations. Thus the diminishing of the Jews is the Riches of the World, and the cafting away of them is the reconciling of the World, (Rom. xi. 12, 15.) or the opening a Door for the whole World to come into the peculiar Kingdom of God.

THIS is the Idea we ought to have of the Rejection of the Jews. The Grace of God was, and still is, as free to them as to other People, upon their embracing the Gospel's but their political Conflitution from henceforth gave them no Diffinction, or Privileges in the Kingdom of God above the reft of Mankind. And in no long time after the Publication of the Golpel, their Polity and civil Conftitution, which otherwise would have remained in full Force, and have obliged them to obey its Laws, as much as the Constitutions of the other Kingdoms of the World obliged their feveral Subjects, was quite overthrown, by the Destruction of the Temple, and the Expulsion of the Jews out of the Land of Canaan. Which they have not been able to recover, but remain difperfed over the Face of the whole Earth to this Day. Thus the Gofpel Difpensation was erected, and fpread and prevailed every where.

XIV. The next of God's Works was the permiting and managing a grand Apoftacy and Corruption of Religion in the Christian Church, foretold by the Apostles, and at large in the Book of the Revelation. After the Apossiles were removed out of the World, it pleased God to leave the Professions of the Gospel, in matters of Religion, to their own Ignorance, Passilions and Prepossilions. Thus the Christian Faith, by Degrees, was depraved, praved, till the Man of Sin arole, a tyrennical. ulurped Power, domineering over, and imposing upon Conscience, forbiding the Use of Understanding, and intoxicating the Inhabiters of the Earth with falle and delufive Learning, worldly Pomp and Splendor, religious Sorcery, and cruel Perfecution of the Truth. This, as it was the properest Mean of producing the most eminent and noblest Characters, was to be a long and severe Trial of the Faith and Patience of the Saints. In the times of this fad Difpenfation, it is certain, we are now living; but, we hope, towards the latter End of it. Through the whole course of it God hath variously appeared, both in Wrath upon the Corrupters of Religion, and in Mercy for the Comfort and Support of those who opposed it. And thus the Wheels of Providence moved on. till the Morning of Reformation appeared in our happy Land, which, for fome Centuries, hath been gradually advancing, and still continues to advance, towards the perfect For a Spirit of religious Liberty, Dav. which hath been long oppressed, revives and gains Strength, the Scriptures are more carefully fludied, ecclefiaftical Tyranny and Perfecution, under every Form, more generally detefted ; and things feem to have a Tendency towards Love, Unity, and Concord, the most perfect State of Religion in this World.

XV. THIS must give Pleasure to every good Man, and he will chearfully join his Endeavours to bring on the next glorious Difpensation, which we have in Prospect, when the Mystery of God, with regard to the aforesaid corrupt State of Religion, shall be finished, when Babylon, in all its Principles and Powers, shall fall; when the boly City, the new Jerusalem, shall come down from Heaven, and God Shall set up a pure and happy State of the Church.

XVI. How long that State will continue, we do not certainly know. Nor have we any further clear Discoveries of God's Works till the awful Day of the Refurrection, when the Lord himfelf shall in Person descend from Heaven with a Shout, with the Voice of the Arch-Angel, and the Trump of Gpd. Then all they that Sheep in the Dust of the Earth shall awake, and shall be judged, some to everlasting Life, and some to Shame and everlasting Contempt. And they that be wife, under any of the Changes and Dispensations of this present World, shall shine as the brightness of the Finmament, and they that work together with God, and endeavour to turn many to Righteoufness, as the Stars for ever and ever.

THUS I have given a Sketch of the Works of God from the Begining of the World to the Confummation of all things. And very beautiful and furprizing would the whole whole appear, could we fee them in a full and clear Light. But before we attempt a more particular Explication of them in their feveral Views, Circumstances, and Connections, we must make a few general Remarks, which will affist our Conceptions and Enquiries.

GENERAL REMARKS upon the DIVINE DISPENSATIONS.

ONCERNING the foregoing Difpenfations, we may, in general, remark, that as they are devifed and executed by God—

I. THEY are all agreable to the most perfect Rules of Righteousness and Truth. Nothing false, unjust, or injurious, can be charged npon the Divine Constitutions. For (Deut. xxxii. 4.) all God's Ways are Judgment; a God of Truth, and without Iniquity; just and right is He. Pfal. cxlv. 17. The Lord is righteous in all bis Ways, and boly, steadily acting according to Truth, in all bis Works. See also Rev. xv. 3. And therefore they are in petfect Consistence with each other.

II. THE Ways of God are not to be confidered as the Effect of Necessity, as if the End

DIVINE DISPENSATIONS.

End proposed could not possibly have been otherwise gained ; but as the Result of wise Choice, or Divine Prudence, prefering fuch, particular Methods as preferable to any other; as best adapted to our Circumstances, or, all things confidered, as the most likely to make Mankind wife and happy. For instance, it is by the Dispensation of God, that our prefent Life is fullained by Food; not because it is impossible we should live in any other way, for God could fustain our Life in perfect Health and Strength by an Act of his own immediate Power. Again, our Food is produced by the influence of the Sun, by Rain, the Fertility of the Ground, human Labor and Skill; not becaufe Food could not be otherwife produced, for God could, by an immediate Act of his own Power, create Food for us every Day, as he did for the Ifraelites in the Wildernefs; but this Method of fustaining our Life is a Contrivance of Divine Wildom; to shew himself to our Understandings, (for had we been fustained by an immediate Act of Divine Power, we should have been led to imagine, that, not God, but our own Nature, had fuffained itfolf,) and to exercise our Virtue and Industry in providing a Subfiftence, and to be mutually helpful to each other. Hence the Works of God, in Scripture, are affigned to his Wifdom. See Pfal.

III. Assuredly all the Difpensations of God are calculated to promote Virtue and Happinefs. This is the Line which runs through the whole, as will appear in our future Enquiries into the Nature and Tendencies of each of them. At present it may fuffice to observe, that however our Circumitances may differ from those of our first Parents, the End of our Being is the tame as theirs; and we, as well as they, are upon Trial, in order to our having the Habits of Holine's formed in us, and our being fited for eternal Life. And though it is a fad Reflection to confider, how the Wickedness of Men, hath from Time to Time fatigued the Patience of God, yet it must give us Pleasure to observe, how his Goodnels hath applied various Remedies to prevent, or heal, the Corruptions of Mankind. In what way foever Men have gone aftray from him, his Wildom has never been at a Lofs to find out the most proper Expedients to reclaim them. Evidently his Defign is to fave a finful World, and to carry Religion both in its perfonal Influences, and general Prevalence, to the highest Perfection our prefent Condition will admit *. IV. THE

IV. THE Scriptural Dispensations, which have been enumerated, were severally adapted to the then Capacities and Improvements, the moral State and Circumstances of Mankind. The several Ages of the World may be compared to the several Stages of human Life, Infancy, Youth, Manhood, and old Age. Now, as a Man under due Culture gradually improves in Knowledge and Wifdona, from Infancy to old Age, fo we may conceive of the World, from the Begining to the End, as gradually improving in mental and religious Attainments under the feveral

Man may, with infinitely greater Propriety, Suppose the most perfect Drama (where the finest Defign is carried on by the beft cholen Plot, and by the most confishent Underplots, and beautiful, well-proportioned Incidents) to have been writ by a Number of the greatest Madmen or Idiots, by piece-meal, in different Ages; than imagine a Thread of fuch an End and Mean running through above 40 Writers, in more than 1600 Years, to be the Work of fo many Enthuliasts. Or, we may as well suppose the World to be framed by meer Chance : or the most magnificent, beautiful, and convenient Palace, that the Imagination can figure to itfelf, to be built by Men unacquainted with all the Rules of Archi+ tecture, in feveral diftant Ages, and without any Model to build by, and to be supported by meer Chance. through as many more; as imagine fuch an Unity of Defign and Mean, as I have defcribed, to be the Refelt of Enthusiasm and Accident mixed together. Ld. Barrington's Effay on the Div. Difpensations. Part. I. Preface, p. 26.

32 GENERAL REMARKS upon the veral Divine Difpenfations +. Which Difpenfations have been in every Period fuited to the Improvements in Knowledge and Wifdom, which then fubfifted in the World. Adam, when created, may be confidered as a Child without Knowledge, Learning, and Experience ; and therefore the Difpenfation he was under, was very different from that, which we are under, who enjoy the Benefit and Light of fo many preceding Difpenfations.

COROLLARY. A preceding Difpenfation is intended and adapted to introduce and prepare for that which comes after it. Experience is a natural and certain Mean of improving in Knowledge and Wifdom. This is univerfally true, as well with regard to Communities as fingle Perfons. It is therefore agreable to the Nature of things, that in a progreffive Course of Knowledge, and moral Improvement, what we already have experienced should be a Step to further Advances ; and confequently, in a just Plan or Scheme of Discipline, it is fit, that what goes before, should be adapted to clear and eftablish what is to come after. Thus Mankind, reflecting upon preceding Difpenfations, will will be admonished and directed to reform old Errors and Corruptions; and thus, even the monsterous Apostacy of the Church of Rome may serve to introduce and establish that most perfect state of Christianity, which we expect will succeed the Dispensation we are now under.

V. ALL God's Difpenfations are in a moral Way, and adapted to the Nature of rational Agents. Exod. xiii. 17. Force and Coaction destroy the very Nature of Holinefs : and therefore all divine Methods of Reformation are fo wifely adjusted, as to leave human Actions in their proper State of Freedom. By none of his Works did God ever intend to render Wickedness impracticable; and he hath always provided fufficient Supports for Integrity and Virtue. With this very fentiment Prophecy in Daniel and in the Revelation is fealed up. Rev. xxii. 11. He that is unjust, let him be unjust still; and he that is filtby, let him be filtby still. That is to fay, there is no Cure for the obstinately blind and wicked; neither are the Ways of God intended to purify those, who will not be made clean; but, after all that God hath done, the Wicked (Dan. xii. 10.) shall be left to do wickedly. And none of the Wicked will understand, but only the Wife will understand. But he that is righteous, let him be righteous still; and he that is holy, let him be holy still. Hof. xiv. 9. Who is wife, and [for] he shall under-understand these things? Prudent, and [for] be shall know them? For the ways of Jebovab are right; and the just shall walk in them; but the transgress shall fall in them. The Sincere and Upright, who choose the way of Truth, or turn from Sin unto Righteousness, the righteous and merciful God will never forsake. They make a wise Improvement of his Dispensations, and, under all Trials and Difficulties, he will guide and support them; and their Path shall be as the shining Light, that shineth more and more to the perfect Day.

COROLLARY. HENCE we may conclude — That in computing the Progress of Religion, under any Dispensation, the quantity of Knowledge and Religion is to be meafured only by the Improvement of the Righteous; and that the Wicked, how many foever, are not to be taken into the Account, as making any Deductions from it. Or, the Advances of Knowledge and Religion, under any Dispensation, are not to be estimated by Numbers, but by the Proficiency of fingle Perfons, how few foever. Noah, a fingle Perfon, was, at the time of the Deluge, the true Standard of religious Improvement in that Age; though all the reft of Mankind were exceeding corrupt and wicked.

VI. KNOWN unto God are all bis Works from the begining of the World, faith the Apostle James, Acts xv. 18. Then all God's Works

DIVINE DISPENSATIONS.

Works were formed and planed in his Counfels, and lay under his Eye in one comprehenfive View; and therefore must be perfectly confistent. One uniform Scheme must be laid, and one even thread of Defign must run through the Whole. They are not the refult of fudden, incoherent thoughts; but a well digested Plan, formed upon the most just Principles by him, who feeth all his Works from the begining to the end. Whence it follows, that if we do not difcern one coherent Defign in the Divine Dispensations, or if we make any one Part clash with the reft, we may be fure we do not understand them. Goodness was the Principle of Creation. God made Man becaufe he delighted to communicate Being and Happinefs. Confequently, Goodnefs and fatherly Love, which was the begining and foundation of God's Works, must run equally through them all, from first to last.

VII. PREVIOUS Notice was given of fome of the principal Dispensations, either for Warning, or to prepare Men for the Reception of them. The Deluge was preached by Noab 120 Years before it came to pass. The Jewish Dispensation was predicted to Abraham 430 Years beforehand. Jeremiab foretold the Babylonish Captivity; and Paul, and John at large, predict and describe the grand Apostacy. But the coming of the Mession, run D 2 through through the whole, from the begining to the end, in a lefs or clearer degree of Light. And it was fiting that this, which is the chief of God's Works, fhould receive the brighteft Evidence from Prophecy. And therefore it was not fit it fhould be introduced till fuch time as it had received that Evidence; which in Scripture is called the Fulnefs of Time, Gal. iv. 4.

VIII. THE Difpensations of God are intended for our Contemplation and Study; and it is a fingular advantage to form right notions of them, because they will tincture our Conceptions of God, and influence our Dispositions towards him. If we judge truly of God's Works, we shall have agreable and lovely ideas of the Workman. His Wifdom, his Goodness and Truth, will stand in a fair light, and we shall confess him infinitely worthy of our highest regard. Then we shall think of God with Admiration. Pleasure and Delight, (Plal. xcii. 4. Thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy Work; I will triumph in the Works of thy Hands.) and shall ferve and follow him with willing minds. But if we form fuch conceptions of the ways of God, as reprefent them to be arbitrary and tyrannical, inconfistent with all our notions of Justice and Goodness, the effect of fovereign Will, without either Reafon or Love, he must stand before our thoughts in the most frightful Colors. The moft most horrible Gloom will be drawn over the Perfections of the beft of Beings, our Minds will be filled with darkness and dread; and, if we worship him at all, our worship and obedience will not be the free and generous duty of Sons, but the joylefs conftrained drudgery of Slaves.

IX. IT must be remembered, that the Works of God are unfearchable, and paft our finding out to perfection. Pfal. xcii. 5. O Lord, how great are thy Works, and thy Thoughts are very deep ! From a just sense of the infcrutability of the Divine Difpenfations, the Apostle concludes a Discourse upon the rejection of the Jews, and the calling of the Gentiles, with this folemn Exclamation; O the depth of the riches, both of the Wildom and Knowledge of God ! How unfearchable are his Judgments, and his Ways past finding out ! Rom. xi. 33. It becomes us to admire and adore the Counfels of infinite Wifdom, and to acquiesce where we cannot gain a full knowledge of them. Rev. xv. 3. Great and marvelous are thy Works, Lord God Almighty ! We cannot comprehend the Ways of God in their fullest extent, in all their largest views, and remotest connections. He therefore that is wife will not cavil at them, nor foolifhly endeavour to pry into them beyond the bounds of Revelation, and of human Understanding.

X. But under all our present Darkness, and under every Dispensation, an honest Heart, fincerely defirous to know the Truth. ferioufly inquisitive after it, meekly submisfive to what God hath reveled and commanded, willing to work together with him, patiently perfevering in well doing; such a Temper, and fuch a Conduct, is the best and fafest Guide under every Dispensation; will enable us to follow God, to comply with every defign of his Providence, to overcome in every Hour of Trial, and will lead us to eternal Life. To fuch a Character. as well as to Daniel, (Chap. xii. 13.) it is the language of divine Grace -But walk shou, thou honeft, upright Man, walk thou the way to the end, take Courage and Comfort, walk on, perfevere in the path of Truth and Integrity; for, after all the Trials and Disquietudes of this World, thou shalt reft, and stand in thy Lot, the Lot of pious and faithful Souls, at the end of the days.

CHAP. IV.

Of the CREATION.

Gen. I. 1.—26.

THIS is the work of Creation. To create is to give Being to that which did not exift before; and fo, is no Contradiction. That a thing fhould be and not be at the fame time, is a Contradiction and Impoffibility; but that a thing fhould exift now, which did not exift before, is no more a Contradiction, than that my Hand should move now, which did not move before.

THAT there is one first uncaufed Caufe, from which all other Beings derive their Existence, and upon whom they have their entire Dependence, hath already been proved. Confequently, all Beings, except the first Cause, must have been produced, or brought into Being by the Power and Agency of the first Cause. Not produced, out of Nothing, but out of Nothing befides the immense and unconceivable Fullness of the felf-existent Being, who must have in himself the Power and Poffibility of all Being; though we cannot comprehend or conceive in what manner, or by what kind of agency, he createth or communicateth existence to Beings diflingt from himfelf.

OF the Creation of all things, Moles in this Chapter has given us a fummary account; not in a precife philosophical manner, but fo as to give the Men of that age, in which he wrote, juft and affecting notions of this first, and most stupendous Work of God, fo far as was necessary to the purposes of true Religion, and no further. It is enough, therefore, that his account is true, fo far as it goes, and not in any respect inconfistent with the most accurate Difcoveries, which have been made in later ages concerning the System of the Universe, or any part of it.

Ver. 1. In the begining, &c. The Heavens and the Earth may comprehend the whole Universe, or all things visible and invisible. It doth not therefore follow, that the whole Universe was created all together at once, or at some one period of time. But the meaning is this; at first, when the Univerfe was produced, it was brought into Being by the fole Power and Wildom of the almighty and eternal God. This is true, though the feveral parts of the Universe may have been produced at different times. or at any diffance of time from each other; and though God may ftill be creating new -Worlds in the immense Bosom of Space, which is not improbable ; I fay, it is true, that in the begining of their Existence, whenever that was, God created, and is still creating, them all. The fentiment which Mofes, I apprehend, would inculcate being this, that the whole Universe of Beings, whenever created, doth not exift by Necessity or Chance :

Chance; but had a begining, and was produced by the fole Power of God.

BUT, as Moses here gives us a particular Account of the Formation of our Earth, this phrase, in the begining, may have a special Reference to the Time, when our Earth was created. The Matter, of which it confifts, was produced in the State of a Chaos. (Ver. 2.) without Form and void, i. e. fhapeless, waste, and useless; all the Parts, Solids and Fluids, jumbled together, and furrounded with Darkness, unadorned, uninhabited. But the Spirit of God moved upon the Face of the Waters; i. e. the Influences and Exertions of the Divine Power actuated this dark. confused Mass, and digested, and reduced its Parts to the beautiful State and Order in which we now behold them.

 O_N the first Day, and the first thing after the Production of the Chaos, the Element of Light was created. Ver. 3, 4, 5.

ON the fecond Day was created the Element of Air, or that Body of Air, which we call the Atmosphere, \mathcal{V} , \mathcal{V}

O_N the third Day the great God formed the the Element of Water, by draining off the Fluids of the Chaos, and caufing them to flow into large Cavities, prepared to receive them; that thus the Earth might become one firm, compact, voluble Globe, and in a fit Condition to produce Grass, Herbs, Trees, and Plants, which were then created. Ver. 9, 10, 11, 12.

On the fourth Day God created the Sun and Moon. Ver. 14-19. The Sun being the Centre of our System, it seems probable, that the whole folar System was produced at the fame time with the Earth. though the Defign of the Writer did not lead him to take Notice of the other parts of it. But we have no just Ground, from his Account, to suppose, that all the Stars, which are probably each of them the Centre of a diffinct System, were, on this Day, all of them created. Most of them might have been created long before, and fome of them fince, our World came into Being. For that Clause (Ver. 16.) he made the Stars alfo, in the Hebrew is no more than, and the Stars; the Words, be made, being infented by the Translators. And therefore it may be well rendered thus-Ver. 16. And God made two great Lights; the greater Light to rule the Day, and the leffer Light to rule the Night with the Stars. That is to Asy, the Moon and Stars to rule the Night, as it is expressed, Plal. cxxxvi. 9. The Conjunction 1 fometimes hath the Force of the HITHERTO our Globe, and perhaps the. other Planets, might, by the Power of God, be fuspended in the empty Space, in a State of Reft. But now, when the Sun, the Centre of our System, was created, and the Earth was reduced to a proper State of Firmnels and Solidity, they might be thrown into those regular and rapid Motions, about the Sun, and their own Centres, which, by the fame Power imprefied upon them, continue to this Day; and by their exact periodical Revolutions produce that grateful and neceffary variety of Day and Night and Seafons; namely, Spring and Summer, Autumn and Winter; which are certainly the Effect of the annual and diurnal Motions of the Earth; and therefore the annual and diurnal Motions might on this Day commence. Ver. 14.

On the fifth Day Fifh and Fowl; on the fixth Day Beafts and Man were created. Ver. 20, Sc.

THERE is one Difficulty remaining, namely, that Light was created before the Sun, Ver. 3, 14, &c. Whereas the Sun is fuppoled to be the fole Fountain of Light, by emiting luminous Particles from its Body. But I suffect the truth of this Hypothesis; and Mass may be found a more accurate Philosopher than is commonly imagined. It appears from electrical Experiments, that Light is a diffinct Substance from all other. as much as Air is from Water; and that, by being properly excited, it may be made to appear in Midnight Darkness. Which shews, that it did exist in that Darkness, previoufly to its being excited; and that it was rendered visible by being excited. Confequently it may, and, I doubt not, doth exift, expanded through the whole vifible System of things at all times, by Night as well as by Day; and that the Sun, a fiery Body, is, in our System, the great Exciter, by which the Substance of Light is impelled, and becomes vifible. For were there no Substance of Light previously existing throughout the whole System, no Light would appear, though ten thousand Suns fhould at once be placed in our Hemisphere. Just as the ringing of the Bell produces Sound, not by an Emanation of Particles from the Substance of the Bell, but by exciting the Air, or the founding Substance, without which the Bell could produce no Sound at all. As the Air will not found. fo the Light will not appear without being ex-

* THIS Hypothefis, I prefume, doth not interfere with any Rules of Optics, the Rays of Light being excited according to the fame Laws and Directions, by which they are fuppofed to be emited. The Light of a Candle, upon an Eminence, may be feen at leaft three Miles at Sea, in a dark Night. Therefore, according to the common Supposition, the Flame of a Candle, fuppofe of excited *. Upon this Supposition the Element or Substance of Light was created on the first Day, and the Divine Power alone might of one Inch Diameter, must emit from its Body inftantaneoufly, and in every Instant, while it continues to burn, as much luminous Matter, or Substance, as will fill a spherical Space of fix Miles in Diameter, or of 113,0976 cubical Miles. Which, notwithstanding the Divisibility of Matter, in infinitum, seems to me, to be incredible. It is surely more probable and rational to suppose, that the extremely agile Particles of Light, which fill that large Space, are actuated, or excited instantaneously by the luminous Body.

N. B. Dr. TAYLOR, fome time after he had finished this Scheme of Scripture Divinity, met with the fame Thought and Reasoning in the ingenious Author of NATURE DISPLAYED; and was not a little pleased to find an Hypothesis, which he judged peculiar to himfelf, adopted by fo deep an Inquirer into Nature.

THAT the curious Reader may compare the passages, he is prefented with the following Extract.

" —* LIGHT is visibly pre-existent to luminous Bo-" dies ; this may feem a Paradox at first Sight, but it " is not therefore a lefs evident Truth. - By Light we " do not mean that Senfation which we experience in " ourfelves, on the Prefence of any illumined Body, " but that inconceivably fubtle Matter, which makes " an Impression on the Organs of Sight, and paints on the " optic Nerve those objects from the Surfaces of which it " was reflected to us. Light then, taken in this fense, is a " Body quite different from the Sun, and independent " on it, and might have exifted before it, feeing now " it does exift in its absence, as well as when present. " It is diffuled from one End of the Creation to the " other, traverses the whole Universe, forms a Com-" munication between the most remote Spheres, pene-" trates into the inmost Recesses of the Earth, and " only waits to be put in a proper Motion to make " itfelf visible. - Light is to the Eye what the Air is " to

might be the Exciter, which made the Light appear for the three first Days of Creation, until to the Ear: Air may not improperly be called the Body of Sound, and it does equally exift all round us, though there be no fonorous Body to put it in Motion; to likewife the Light does equally extend at all times, from the most diftant fixed Stars to us, though it then only firikes our Eyes, when impelled by the Sun, or fome other Mass of Fire.

" THE difference betwixt the Propagation of Sound " and Light confifts in this, that the Air, which is the " Vehicle of Sound, being, beyond all Comparison, more " denfe than the Vehicle of Light, its Motion is much " flower. Hence we may account for that common " Phoenomenon, why we do not hear the Sound of " the first Stroke of a Hammer, when at a Distance " from it, till it is at the Point of giving the following "Blow; whereas Light is propagated with incredible " Swiftness, though at some small Diftance of Time " between its receiving the Impulse, and its Communi-" cating it to us; feven Minutes, according to Sir " ISAAC NEWTON'S Calculation, being fufficient for " its Paffage from the fixed Stars down to us. This " difference of Velocity between the progreffive Mo-" tion of Light, and that of Sound, is fenfibly demon-" ftrated by firing a Gun in a large open Plain, where " the Spectator, at a great Diftance from it, will per-" ceive the Flash a confiderable Time before he hears " the Noife.

"THE body of Light therefore does either exift independently of the luminous Body, and only waits to receive a direct Impulse from it, in order to act upon the organ of Vision; or we must suppose that every luminous Body, whether it be the Sun, a Candle, or a Spark, does produce this Light from itself, and project it to a great Distance from its own Body. There is no Medium between these two Suppositions, and either the one or the other must be true. But to affert the

until the Sun, the instrumental Exciter, was produced.

FURTHER,

" the latter, is to affert a very great Improbability; for if " a Spark, which is feen in every part of a large Room, " fifty cubick Feet in dimensions, emits from its own Sub-« ftance a quantity of Light fufficient to fill the whole « Room, then there must islue from that Spark, which « is but a Point, a Body, the contents of which are fifty " cubick Feet. How incredible the Supposition !

" SUPPOSE the Lanthorn, on the Light-house of « Melfina, to be feen only eight cubick Leagues, of "which itself is the Centre; it will follow, that an " Eye placed in any Point of those fix cubick Leagues eight-« will difcern it, and confequently fo much Space will " be filled with the Light of it. Now how incredible « that a little Fire, fome few Inches in Diameter, " fhould diffufe around it a Subftance capable of filling « eight cubick Leagues ! Suppose the Lanthorn conceal-" ed, and the Light immediately difappears; let it be " uncovered the Moment after, and it will inftantly be " leen as far as before, and confequently fill eight cubick " Leagues of Space with fresh Light; then how many " times eight cubick Leagues of luminous Matter, will « all the fucceffive Inftants of Illumination produce in " one Night's time ! Sure nothing was ever more incon-" ceivable.

" On the contrary, how fimple and natural is it to " fuppofe, that as the Air exifted before the Bell that put " it in motion, and caufed it to vibrate into Sound, fo " in like manner, the Light exifted round the Fire of " Mellina, before the Lanthorn was illuminated, and " only waited to be put in motion by the Fire, in order " to make an Impression on the Eyes of the Mariners. " The Sun and Stars do, by the fame means, make " themselves visible, without suffering any diminution " of their Substance, by continual emanations of lumi-" nous Matter into those vaft regions of Space through " which we behold them; God having placed between " those luminous Globes and us, the Body of that

[&]quot; Light

FURTHER, we must remark, that although God is here faid to create the World, yet it may be true, that he employed a subordinate Agent in the Formation of it; namely, the Son of God, who afterwards came into the World for the Redemption of Mankind. See John i. 2, 3. Col. i. 15, 16, 17. I Cor. viii. 5, 6. But though he was the instrumental Cause, yet it is true, that God made all things, because our Lord acted by a Power derived from him. He that built all things is God. Heb. iii. 4.

So much for critical Remarks. The Subject naturally leads to the following Reflections.

- " These are thy glorious Works, Parent of Good !
- * Almighty, thine this universal Frame,
- " Thus wonderous fair ; thyfelf how wonderous then !

How wonderous, how immense is the Power, Goodness, and Wisdom, which gave Existence to the stupendous Fabric and Furniture

"Light which we fee, and which is imprefied on the organs of Vifion, by their Action and Influence; but does not proceed from them, nor owes its Exiftence to them.——The account of Mofes therefore, as to this Particular, is agreable to Truth, as well as an ufeful leffon of Caution, when he informs us, that God, and not the Sun, was the Author and Parent of Light, and that it was created by his almighty Fiat, before there was a Sun to dart it on one part of the Earth, and a Moon to reflect it on the other."

ture of the Universe! I. Power. How vast and mighty is the Arm, which stretched out the Heavens, and laid the Foundations of the Earth ! Which fuftains numberlefs Worlds, of amazing Bulk, fufpended in the unmeasurable and unconceivably distant Regions of empty Space; and fteadily directs their various rapid and regular Motions ! Lift up your Eyes on high, and behold who hath created all thefe things. He bringeth out all their Hofts by Number, he calleth them all by Names, by the greatness of his Might, for he that he is strong in Power, not one of them faileth. I/ai. xl. 26. How powerful was the Command, Let there be Light, and there was Light — Let there be a Firmament, &cc. By the Word of the Lord were the Heavens made, and all the Hoft of them by the Breath of his Mouth. For he spake, and it was done : be commanded, and it stood fast. Psal. xxxiii. 6, 9. Thus the Scriptures fublimely exprefs the Exertion of the divine Power in Creation; as if it were done inftantaneoufly, and with as little Difficulty, as speaking a Word.

II. AND as for GOODNESS, what an infinite fulness of Life and Being, what an immense, inexhaustible Treasury of all Good, must that be, from whence all this Life and Being was derived ! How infinitely rich is the glorious and eternal God ! Out of his own Fulness he hath brought Worlds and E Worlds, Worlds, replenished with Myriads and Myriads of Creatures, furnished with various Powers and Organs, Capacities and Inftincts; and out of his own Fulness continually and plentifully fupplieth them with all the Neceffaries of Existence. And still his Fulness remaineth the fame, unemptied, unimpaired; and he can yet bring out of his Fulness Worlds and Worlds without End. How immenfely full of all Life and Being is the glorious and eternal God ! Thus he is good in himfelf. And he doth good. He is kind and beneficent, willing to communicate Being and good. How profuse is his Bounty ! He might have kept, as I may fay, the whole of Existence to himself; but he has liberally shared it out among his Creatures ; and of all his Creatures in this World, the most liberally to us Men. Survey the whole of what may be feen in and about this Globe, and fay, if our Maker hath a sparing and niggardly Hand. Say, if we have a churlish and unkind Father. Certainly it is his Pleafure to form Creatures, and furnish them with Enjoyment; and therefore bis tender Mercies must be over all bis Works.

III. HIS WISDOM appears illustrious in the Variety, Beauty, Exactness, Order, and Harmony, in which God hath formed and fixed the Universe; in the several Capacities and Degrees of Excellence he has confered upon his Creatures; the proper Stations

Stations he hath affigned to them; the Subordination and Subferviency of one to another, which he hath established, for the Regularity and Well-being of the whole, They are all, as they come out of his Hands, just what they should be, adjusted in the exactest Proportions to their feveral Ends and Connections; all in every Part and Refpect flewing the Workmanship of the profoundeft Skill, and most curious Art. The utmost Stretch of human Understanding can reach but a small Part of God's Works; but they who study the Wisdom of Creation, cannot but admire, and use the Words of the facred Penman, Pfal. civ. 24. (where he is furveying the feveral Parts of our Globe) O Lord, how manifold are thy Works ! In Wildom haft thou made them all ; the Earth is full of thy Riches I

THESE Reflections will (1.) infpire the most elevated Sentiments of the most high and mighty Creator, who is exalted infinitely above the Heavens, his Glory is above all the Earth, Pfal. cviii. 5. The Lord our God is very great, he is clothed with Honour and Majefly; and we should study to magnify him in our Hearts by the most raised Conceptions of his transcending Greatness. (2.) This should also fill our Minds with Joy, and our Mouths with his high Praises. This God is our God, our Maker, and therefore our Father. The first and most pro-E 2 per per Notion we ought to entertain of the great God is, that of a Father; our Father, and the Father of the whole Universe. And greatly should we be delighted with the Difplays of our Father's infinite Power, Wifdom, and Goodnefs. Transported with Joy, by an elegant Profopopoeia, the Pfalmist, in the 148th Psalm, calls upon all Creatures to praife God ; withing, in effect, that they had all of them Understandings and Tongues to declare, how much Skill and Kindness he has shewn in their Formation and Establishment. Joy and Praise are the Creator's due, and should be our conftant Temper and Practice. (3.) He who is the Maker, is also the absolute Proprietor, Lord, and Sovereign of all things; and therefore hath the first and highest Right to our Reverence, Submiffion, and Obedience. In which he is infinitely able to fupport us in Opposition to all human Power and Authority. For all Power, not only his own inherent Power, but also the Power of all created Beings, belongs to God. From him it is originally derived, and the Exercise of it depends entirely upon his Will and Pleafure; nor, in any inftance, can it poffibly act beyond the Limits which he prefcribes. Therefore, in the way of Duty, relying upon his Allsufficiency, we need not fear what Man can do unto us. (4.) In our present Situation we are liable to many Difficulties and and Distreffes, from which we are not able to guard or extricate ourfelves; but the almighty Creator is infinitely able to deliver his Servants from any Danger, and can clear a Paffage through all Embaraffments. He can make a way even in the Sea, and a Path in the mighty Waters. (5.) He who from his own inexhaustible Fulness hath brought forth all Worlds and Creatures, is our Shepherd; he careth for us, and can fully supply all our Wants. (6.) He can fully accomplish all the great and glorious things reveled in the Gospel. He can raise us from the dead, change our vile Bodies, and clothe us with immortal Honor and Glory. This should not feem to us incredible, because he hath already performed things as incredible, and we have constantly exposed to our View Effects of his Power no less wonderful.

Of the CREATION of MAN.

Gen. i. 26, to the End.

N OW we are come to the Formation of Man. Here, observe, the Language of the Creator is altered. Instead of, Let there be Men, God faid, (Ver. 26.) Let E 3 us us make Man, or, we will make Man, in our Image, after our Likenefs. Q. D. "Now "we have formed and furnished the Earth, "let us make Man, the nobleft of our "Works, to inhabit, cultivate, and enjoy "it." The fuperior Excellency of the human Nature is fignified by the diffinguished Manner in which God is represented as addreffing himself to the Formation of Man.

THE plural Number is used, [And Gods faid, let us make Man] but, eccording to the Genius of the Hebrew Language, this is only a magnificent Way of expressing the Majesty of God; and amounts to no more than this, And God faid, I will make Man. So Gen. xi. 7. Go to, let us go down, i. e. I will go down. Thus God is called our Makers, Job xxxv. 10. Pfal. cxlix. 2 Thy Creators, Eccl. xii. 1. I by Makers is thy Husbands, Ifai. liv. 5. which are all to be understood, and are rendered in the fingular Number.. " Nouns appellative denotiong " Dominion, according to the Hebrew Idi-" om, are put in the Plural instead of the " Singular." Should it be fuppofed, that the great God here speaks to some other Being or Beings befides himfelf, it must be to fome fubordinate Beings; for neither this, nor any other Paffage of Scripture, can justly be explained inconfistently with the Unity, Simplicity, or Singlenefs of the Divine Na-+ture.

Ver.

Ver. 26. LET us make Man in our Image, [Heb. in the Sketch or Shadow of us] after, or like, our Likenes. These Words, with respect to God, are diminutive, and denote, that the most perfect Endowments of the human Nature are but a Sketch, a Shadow, or fomething refembling the Likenefs of God. And yet, with respect to other Creatnres on Earth, it speaks high Distinction, and Superiority. For this Sketch of the Image of God in Man must include, 1. The noble Faculties of his Mind; Underftanding and Will, or Freedom of Choice, for the Government of all his Actions and Paffions, and his continual Improvement in Wildom, Purity, and Happinels. 2. His Dominion over the inferior Creatures, exprefly mentioned, Ver. 26, 28. By which he is God's Reprefentative, or Viceroy upon Earth.

BUT Divines have underftood this Image of God, as confifting in Righteoufnefs and true Holinefs; which they affirm, were created with Adam. Meaning, not that Adam was created with fuch Powers, as rendered him capable of acquiring Righteoufnefs and Holinefs, but that he was made in this Image of God; it was concreated with him, or wrought into his Nature, at the fame time that it was created; and fo belonged to it as a natural Faculty or Inftinct. This they E 4 call call original Righteoufness, which they ground principally upon the two following Paffages. Col. iii. 9, 10. Lve not one to another, feeing that you have [by your Chriftian Profession] put off the old Man with his Deeds; and have put on the new Man, which is renewed in Knowledge after the Image of him that created him. Ephef. iv. 22, 23, 24. That ye put off concerning the former conversation, the old Man. which is corrupt according to the deceitful Lusis : and be renewed in the Spirit of your Mind; and that ye put on the new Man, which after God is created in Righteou[ne]s, and true Holine/s. All this is fupposed to relate to Adam's being originally created in the Image of God.

THE old Man, fay they, is a corrupt Na. ture derived from Adam; and the new Man. is fallen Man reftored to the primitive Temper, or to that Righteousness and Holiness, in which they suppose Adam was created. But this is wide of the Apostle's Sense. lt is not uncommon with him to compare the Christian Church to a Man, or the human Body, of which Chrift is the Head, and we are all of us Members in particular. The new Man was created, when God erected the Gofpel Dilpensation, and broke down the middle Wall of Partition between us, Jews and Gentiles, (Ephef. ii. 13, 14, 15, 16.) for to make to bimself, in the Gospel, of twain, twain, or of the two Parties, believing Jews and Gentiles, one new Man, or the new Conftitution and Community, under the Gofpel. To this new Man, the old Man is directly opposed; and therefore must fignify the Gentile State or Community, headed by Satan, to which, before their Conversion, they were joined. This is confirmed by the Apostle, Ephes. ii. 11. Wherefore remember, that ye being in Time paffed GENTILES in the Flesh, &c. And Chap. iv. 17, &c. This I (ay - that ye walk not as other GENTILES walk, &c. They formerly belonged to the old Man, the Body of impure, idolatrous Heathen; but now they had, by their Chriftian Profession, put off this old Man, together with all his wicked Deeds, Col. iii. o. 10, and had put on the new Man, or were joined to the Christian Church, or Community. And therefore, they were obliged to be renewed in the spirit of their Minds, and to live in Knowledge, [true Wildom] or in Righteousness and true Holiness. For God created the new Man, or conftituted the Christian Church, in Wifdom and Righteousness and Holiness, after his own Image, or the Rectitude of his Nature, with this Defign, to promote the fame Rectitude among Men. For (Ephef. ii. 10.) we, the new Man, or the whole Body of Christians, are God's workmanship, created in Christ Jefus unto good Works, which God ordained, when

when he formed the Gospel Scheme, that we should walk in them.

BUT what hath this to do with Adam's being created in Righteoufness and true Holines? Which, in the Nature of things, could not be created, or wrought into his Nature at the fame time that he was made : because such a Righteousness would have been produced in him without his Knowledge and Confent; and fo would have been no Righteousness at all. For whatever is wrought in my Nature without my Knowledge and Choice, cannot poffibly be either Sin or Virtue in me, because it is no Act of mine; but must be a meer natural Inftinct, like the Industry of the Bee, or the Fierceness of the Lion. Righteousness is right Action, directed by Knowledge and Judgment; but Adam could neither act, nor know, nor judge, before he, and all his intellectual Powers were created; and therefore he must exist and use his intellectual Powers, before he could be righteous and holv.

WE may further observe — That God made the first Pair Male and Female, that they might multiply and inhabit the whole Earth, and supply a perpetual Succession of Men and Women, pronouncing a Bleffing upon the regular Propogation of the human Species, Ver. 28. And God bleffed them, &cc. But this Bleffing, Divines have supposed, was was turned into a Curfe, by Adam's Tranfgreffion; which fo corrupted the human Nature, that thereby and thenceforth we all come into the World under the Wrath and Curfe of God. But that this also is a Mistake, is most evident from Gen. ix. 1. where God repetes, and pronounces the very fame original Bleffing upon the Increase or Birth of Mankind 1600 Years, and upwards, after Adam's Transgreffion, when the World was to be reftored, and replenished from Noab and bis Sons. This proves, that Mankind, in all fucceffive Generations, have come, and will come into the World, under the very fame Bleffing and Favor of God, which was declared at the first Creation of Man. It is of great Importance to observe these Remarks, not to produce any Difgust or Animofity towards those that espouse the contrary Opinion, who ought to be treated with Candor and Forbearance, but to fettle our own Judgments upon right Principles.

ONCE more; the original Grant of Suftenance to Man was confined to Herbs, and the Fruits of Plants and Trees, Ver. 29, 30. which afterwards was enlarged, and included animal Food, Gen. ix. 3.

Now let us take a Survey of the Nature which God has graciously bestowed upon us. The Body confists of a mean Material, the Dust of the Ground; but the Mind is of nobler Extraction, for (Chap. ii. 7.) God breathed breathed into his Nostrils the Breath of Life, and Man became a living Soul. Job xxxii. 8. The Inspiration of the Almighty giveth us Understanding; the nobleft Gift of our Maker. The Force and Excellence of which appears in a furprifing Variety of Inventions and Difcoveries. It is this Faculty which penetrates into the most fecret Recesses of Nature; judges of, and admires the Beauty and Contrivance of the vaft Fabric of the Universe : and traceth the Footsteps of the most astonishing Wisdom and Regularity in the various Situations and Motions of the heavenly Bodies. By this we review Generations and Actions, Characters and Events, that exifted long before we were born; and dart our Reflections the other way, into Futurity, even as far as to the final Period of this World, with all its Works. By this we conceive, though but negatively, Eternity itfelf; and apprehend the State and Felicity of Beings far superior to ourselves. By this we ftretch our Thoughts to the highest Excellency, and contemplate the Nature of the infinitely perfect Being.

OUR fingular Honor and Advantage lies in our moral Capacities. While Inftinct determines the Pursuits of inferior Creatures; whilst they are utterly unable to judge of Causes and Effects, to draw Consequences, or to reason about the Natures and Tendencies of things, in order to avoid or embrace, and are rather acted upon, than act, we deliberate, we choose our Way, we feel and examine what is before us; this is good, and therefore to be chosen ; this is evil, therefore to be avoided ; this will improve and exalt our Life, this leads to Difhonour and Mifery. We can ftudy and observe the Precepts of Divine Wisdom; imitate the moral Perfections of Deity; converse with the supreme Father, and defire, and dispose ourselves for, the everlasting Enjoyment of his Favor. And agreably to these distinguishing Honors of our Nature, God our Maker, whole Delights are with the Children of Men, has expressed his high Regards to us, by fupplying us with all proper Materials for the Improvement of our Understandings; not only the Objects of Nature, but also the Writings of good and wife Men, especially the holy Scriptures, a rich Treasury of the most excellent Knowledge; containing the most furprizing Discoveries, the most useful Inftructions, the most just and noble Principles and Motives, and whatever is proper to cultivate and refine our Spirits. In particular, the Redemption of the World by our Lord Jefus Chrift. That God should fend his well-beloved Son out of his Bofom to dwell among us in our Flesh, to revele the high Defigns of the Divine Wifdom and Goodness, to give himself a Sacrifice and

and Offering to God upon the Crois, to make Atonement for our Sins, to raile us to the Dignity of Kings and Priefts to his God and Father, that we might reign for ever with him; this exalts the Love of God to Men infinitely beyond our higheft Thoughts and Imaginations; this railes our Nature to an amazing, to an inexprefible Dignity and Value.

THESE Confiderations should dispose us to be pleafed with our Being, and thankful to our Maker for it. With Pleafure we should reflect that we are Men. Everv Perfon, how low foever in the World, hath that in Poffeffion, which is more valuable than thousands of Gold and Silver; an immenfe Treasure, to which the whole Earth bears no Proportion, bimfelf, a reasonable Soul, an immortal Spirit; to which, in real Excellence, the visible Creation, the Earth with all its material Riches, the Sky with all its fplendid Furniture, is not to be compared. Let us not measure ourfelves by worldly Riches. The Soul is the Standard of the Man, and raises him valily above all that is earthly. How fooligh then, how shameful, how impious is it to profitute ourfelves to the Trifles of the World; to be fond of earthly Things, and to make our Reason a Drudge to fenfual Purfuits ! God has made us Men, Creatures of the finest Powers and Faculties; he hath used us as Men, by making making the most ample Provision to enable us to honor his Grace and our own Being. And shall we defert our Manhood ? Shall we despise the rich Bounty of Heaven? Shall we mingle with the Duft that Particle of fuperior Life, which God hath breathed into us? Rather let us affert the Dignity of our Being, and make it our principal Care to improve it by all the Advantages God hath provided. The Knowledge of God ; Conformity of Heart and Life to his Will; the Fruits of the Spirit, Joy, Peace, Long-Suffering, Gentleness, Goodness, Fidelity, Meeknefs, Temperance; Converse with God; the high Privileges of the Sons of God; the Prospects of eternal Glory; these are the Objects of our Care : as we are enlightened by the Gofpel, we are obliged to make these our Study, and to form our Spirits according to the fublime and excellent Sentiments which these inspire, that thus we may be fiting ourfelves for a much higher and more perfect Degree of Existence in a better World.

CHAP, VI.

Of the Institution of the SABBATH.

Gen. II. Ver. 1, 2, 3.

S foon as God had created the World, and Man in it, he bleffed the Seventh Day, upon which he refted from Creation, and fanctified it, i. e. he diftinguished it from the other fix Days by feting it apart to the Purposes of Religion. Thus the Sanctification of the Sabbath is the first and oldest of God's Inftitutions, and must have a real Foundation in the nature of Man, and an immediate Connexion with our Being, and the great and excellent Ends of it. The Sabbath and Man were, in a manner, created together. This is an Indication, that although the particular time is, as it must neceffarily be, of politive Appointment, yet the thing itself is an article of natural Religion, and ftands upon the reafon of things. The great end for which we are brought into Life, is to attain the Knowledge, and to be confirmed in the Love and Obedience of God; which includes all right Action and Virtue, all that is perfective of our Nature, all that renders us happy in our Selves, and a Bleffing to others; and all that can qualify us us for the enjoyment of God, and fit us for immortal Honour and Glory. We cannot keep a due and prevailing fense of these things upon our Minds, without close and repeated application of Thought; and therefore, as the Affairs and Neceflities of this prefent Life make fuch conftant and importunate Demands upon us, that our Hearts and Thoughts would be unavoidably ingroffed by them, it is in the nature of things neceffary, that fome certain time should be publicly appropriated to the exercises of Religion, Instruction, Prayer and Praise, to fortify our Minds against Temptations, and to feason them with Piety and Virtue. And doubtless, God alone hath Wildom and Authority fufficient to affign that portion of time which is proper and generally competent for those good Purposes.

Of the Institution &c.

THE Sabbath is perfectly fuited to our Nature and Circumftances, and therefore was very properly inftituted at the Creation. But fome of the Learned pretend, that Mofes here fpeaks, by Anticipation, of the Inftitution of the Sabbath a long time after this, when he was Lawgiver in Ifrael. This is a fiction without any foundation in the Text. The Hiftorian expressly relates, that God bleffed and fanctified that Day on which he rested, or ceased, from Creation; which, in all fair Construction, must be understood of his fanctifying it, at the time when be F refted from Creation. That we find no other mention of the Sabbath in the fummary and very comprehensive History of Genefis, is no proof that the Patriarchs did not observe it : much lefs that the Law thereof was not all that time in force. We find not the leaft mention, or intimation, of the Sabbath in all the Book of Joshua, nor in Judges, Ruth, I Samuel, II Samuel, I Kings, till we come to II Kings, iv. 23. a far more particular hiftory than the Book of Genefis; and yet it is very certain that the Law of the Sabbath was all that time in force, and without doubt was observed too. There are very clear intimations of regard to the Sabbath in the Book of Genefis, Chap. viii. 8-13. Thrice Noab fent the Dove out of the Ark, after he had every time waited feven Days. Facob (Gen. xxix. 27, 28.) fulfilled Leab's Week. This plainly shews the Patriarchs, long before Mofes was born, reckoned Time by feven Days, or Weeks; which can be referred to no other supposeable Original but the institution of the Sabbath, at the Creation.

THE Ifraelites indeed, during their long Continuance and Servitude in Egypt, upwards of 200 Years, feem to have loft their reckoning of the Sabbath, when they were conftrained by perpetual and most fervile Labor to neglect the Observance of it. However, it certainly was the Appointment of God, that they should begin a new Reckoning

ing of the leventh Day, and from a new Epocha, namely, the falling of the Manna, Exod. xvi. 5. And it shall come to pass on the fixth Day, they shall prepare that Manna which they bring in ; and it shall be twice as much as they gather daily. And when the People had done fo, the Rulers of the Congregation came, and told Moses; probably inquiring into the Reason, why God had given fuch an Order, Ver. 23. And Mofes laid unto them, this is that which the Lord hath faid, or, this is the Meaning of the Divine Command, To-morrow is the Reft of the holy Sabbath unto the Lord. Ver. 25, 26. Ye shall not then find it in the Field; fix Days shall ye gather it, but on the seventh Day, which is the Sabbath, there shall be none. And this Course continued for forty Years till they came into the Land of Canaan. Now this was devifed in much Wifdom to fettle and determine the Day, which, otherwife, having loft their Reckoning, during their long Servitude in Egypt, they poffibly would not eafily have been brought to agree For thus, for forty Years together, upon. they would be under a Necessity of diftinguishing the Sabbath, and of refting upon it; having little else to do the greatest Part of the time, but to gather and drefs Manna ; and no Manna falling upon that Day, they must of course be assured of the Day, and obliged to reft upon it. and ascertaining the Sabbath, was the first Point of Religion, that was settled, after the Children of Israel came out of Egypt, as being of the greatest Moment; and this, in Relation to the original Institution, for the Law at Mount Sinai was not then given.

AFTERWARDS the Ordinance of the Sabbath was inferted into the Body of the moral Law, under a particular Emphafis, Remember the Sabbath-Day to keep it boly. And the Jew is reminded of the Antiquity of this Inftitution, in the Reason annexed to this Commandment, For in fix Days the Lord made Heaven and Earth, &c. And being thus ranked among the other great Articles of our Duty, which are of moral Obligation, and are always refered and appealed to, by our Lord and his Apostles, as binding to us Christians, it must stand upon the fame Ground, and lay the fame Obligations upon our Consciences. For the same Truth and Authority, which enacted the rest, enacted this Precept also. He that faid, Thou shalt have no other Gods before me - thou Skalt not bow down to any graven Image - thou Shalt not take the Name of God in vain - bonor thy Father - thou shalt do no Murder - &c. faid alfo. our Lord did abolish. When the Substance was come, the Shaddow vanished. And it is of Sabbaths in this Senfe the Apofile speaks, Col. ii. 16. Let no Man judge you in Meat, or in Drink, or in respect of a Holy-Day, or of the new Moon, or of the Sabbath Days. But the feventh Day Sabbath was no Part of the Levitical Law, it existed long before that, and therefore was not abolished with it. On the contrary, our Lord claims Dominion over the Sabbath. Luke vi. 5. He faid unto the Pharifees, that the Son of Man is Lord alfo of the Sabbath. Therefore the Sabbath must be an Ordinance belonging to our Lord's Kingdom, otherwife he could not be Lord of it. He never pretended to be Lord of Circumcifion, or of Sacrifices; these belonged to a Dispensation of which he was not Lord. But he is Lord of the Christian Dispensation, and its Ordinances, and among the reft of the Sabbath. In Confequence of which Lordship,

I. HE rectified the superstitious Abuse of the Sabbath, and reduced it to the original Standard. He reformed the traditionary Corruptions of several of the Commandments of moral and eternal Obligation *. But of all others, most signally, remarkably, and constantly, by Words and by Deeds, at the Hazard of his Life, he reformed the F 2 Abuse

Abuse of the fourth Commandment +; which he never would have done, had the Sabbath been an Ordinance, that was to die in a little time with the Jewish Dispenfation. On the contrary, this demonstrates, that he regarded the just Sanctification of the Sabbath as of perpetual Obligation, and as of very great Importance in Religion.

II. HE removed the Sabbath from the feventh to the first Day of the Week. For we find in the Apostolic History that the Disciples met together on that Day, (called the Lord's Day, Rev. i. 10.) to break Bread, or to celebrate the Lord's Supper, which is the proper and peculiar Worship of Chriftians, Acts xx. 7. Now this could not be done without the express Injunction of the Apoltles; nor could the Apoftles do this without a Commission from Christ. And as our Lord role from the Dead on the first Day, we suppose the Christian Sabbath hath relation to his Refurrection; and fo the Lord's Day hath been kept holy by the universal Church from the Apostles Days to this time.

THUS there have been three Epochas, or Dates, from which the Sabbath has been counted, namely, (1.) From the first Day of + See Mat. xii. 1—12. Luke vi. 10, 11. xiii. 11— 17. xiv. 1—7. John v. 9—19. vii. 19—23. ix. 14. 15. 16.

of the SABBATH.

of the Creation. (2.) From the first Day of the falling of the Manna. (3.) From the first Day of the Gospel Dispensation. But still it is the seventh Day makes the Sabbath, which God blessed ; and the seventh, which we now observe, is as much, and as truly the Sabbath, which God sanctifyed, as ever it was from the begining of the World.

THE primary Notion of the Sabbath, is a Reft or Ceffation from the ordinary Bufiness of Life. The Design of it is to preferve true Religion; which would never have been loft in the World, had the Sabbath been duly observed from the first Inflitution of it. And therefore we find in Scripture, both under the old and new Difpenfations, it was applyed to the Purpofes of Religion. It is represented as a holy Convocation, on which the Israelites were to affemble for divine Worship, Lev. xxiii. 3. David wrote the g2d Pfalm for the Sabbath Day, and therein gives us just Ideas of the Work of it. On this Day the Jews met together in their Synagogues for religious Exercises; and there our Lord honored and fanctified the Sabbath by his Prefence and Instructions. Mark i. 21, 22. vi. 2. Luke iv. 16, 31. xiii. 10. And all Christians, in all times and places, have affembled on the Sabbath to hear the Word of God, to offer np Prayer and Thankfgiving, and to cele-F 4 brate brate the Lord's Supper, in order to employ their Thoughts in pious Meditations, and furnish their Minds with the best Principles and Dispositions. A Work exceeding pleafant and profitable, which demands and deferves the whole of our Thought and Attention. Therefore, for this good Purpose, we are to rest from ordinary Business, and to avoid whatever may diffipate our Thoughts, or indispose our Hearts for the heavenly Work of the Day.

OUR Lord hath taught us fo to understand this, as not to mix any thing fuperstitious with the Observation of the Sabbath, nor to conceive of it as fuch a fcrupulous Reft, that we may not do any thing fit and reasonable, and which otherwise is a Duty; works of Necessity and Mercy he exprelly allows. Whatever cannot be defered to another Day, without Lofs or Damage, may be taken Care of on the Sabbath. And in general he hath pronounced, That the Sabbath (alluding probably to the first Inflitution of it) was made for Man, to be fubservient to his Virtue and Happines; not Man for the Sabbath. Man was made for Duties of moral and eternal Obligation, and is bound to obferve them in whatever Extremity or Necessity he may be; but Man is not made for the rigorous Observation of the fabbatical Reft, or any other positive Institution, so as thereby to embarass or distress his his Life, or to neglect any Opportunity of doing good.

I CONCLUDE with a few Reflections upon Ifai. lviii. 13, 14. Having, in the Name of God, recommended Goodness, Charity, and Compafiion, in the preceding Verles, and pronounced a fingular Bleffing upon those who exercise them, the Prophet adds, by the fame Authority, If thou turn away thy Foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy Pleafure on my boly Day. Q. D. " If you con-" fcientioufly fufpend the ordinary Bufinefs " of Life, and forbear to please and gratify " your own Inclinations, that with a free " and composed Mind you may attend upon s the Services of Religion, for which I " have fanctified the Sabbath ; and [if thou] " call the Sabbath a Delight, the holy of the " Lord, bonorable, and shalt bonor bim; if " you have fuch a Senfe of the Excellency " and Benefit of the Sabbath, that you take " Delight therein, accounting it a Pleafure " and Happinels, as being confectated to " the Worthip of the moft high God, and " therefore honorable and glorious in itfelf; " and honorable also to you, as it is a Mark " of the Dignity of your Nature, a Token " of your Interest in the divine Favor, " (Exod. xxxi. 13. The Prophet, in this Chapter, is inculcating real, vital, acceptable Religion, Goodners and Compassion to our Pellow-Creatures, and Piety towards God in keeping the Sabbath; promifing the like Bleffings to both those Branches of true Religion, namely, the Favor of God and the constant Care of his Providence. We may therefore take this from the Spirit of God, as a just Description of the right Manner of fanctifying the Sabbath, and affure ourfelves, that he who bleffed the Day, will blefs us in keeping it holy.

C H A P. VII.

Of a STATE of TRIAL.

Gen. ii. 8-18.

GONCERNING the Situation and Rivers of the Country of Eden, as here defcribed by Moles, Bp. PATRICK, in his Commentary upon this Place, gives an Account, which feems to be not altogether improbable. The Garden lay in the Country of Eden; out of, or through, which Country a River went unto the Garden to water it, (Ver. 11.) and from thence, from the Country of Eden, it parted, or was divided, and became into four Heads; namely, two above, before it entered Eden, called Euphrates and Hiddekel, or Tigris; and two below, after it had paffed through Eden, called Pifon and Gibon, which compaffeth, or runeth along by, the whole Land of Culh, Ver. 13.

In the eaftern Part of Eden the Lord God planted a Garden, furnished with all pleasant and useful Fruits. And there he placed Adam to dress and keep it; for Man was made for Business, Ver. 8, 15. Two Trees in this Garden were remarkably distinguished from the rest, perhaps in Appearance pearance and Situation, as well as in Ufe, namely, the Tree of Life, and the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil. Thefe, I conceive, were appointed for Instruction and religious Meditation ; to preferve in Adam's Mind a Senfe of the Confequences of Virtue and Vice, or of Obedience and Difobedience. In this View, while he continued obedient, he was allowed to eat of the Tree of Life, as a Pledge and Affurance on the Part of God, that he should live for ever, or be immortal; after his Tranfgreffion he was denied access to it, Chap. iii. 24. For the fame Purpofe, as a Pledge of Immortality reftored in Chrift, it is used, Rev. ii. 7. xxii. 2. On the contrary, the other Tree was defigned to give him the Knowledge, the Senfe or Apprehenfion of Good and Evil, or of Good connected with Evil, i. e. of pernicious Enjoyment, destructive Gratification, vicious Pleafure, or fuch as cannot be enjoyed without transgreffing the Law of God. Good and Evil, I apprehend, is an Hendiadys, like that Gen. xix. 24. Brimstone and Fire, i. e. fired or burning Brimstone. 1 Chron. xxii. 5. the House must be - of Fame and Glory, i. e. of glorious Fame. Pateris libamus et auro, i. e. aureis pateris. ain may fignify Pleafure or Profit. [See the Explication of it in the Heb. Engl. Concordance.] Thus Good and Evil may denote pernicious pernicious Pleasure or Profit. Of the Fruit of this Tree, though it appeared pleasant and inviting, Adam was forbidden to eat upon pain of Death. This was to make him understand, that unlawful Enjoyment of any kind would be his Destruction.

THESE two Trees may be confidered as Adam's Books. He was in a kind of infantile State, void of all Learning, without any Theorems, or general Principles to govern himfelf by. God was therefore pleafed, in this fenfible Manner, to impress upon his Mind just Conceptions of the very different Confequences of Obedience and Difobedience. And it will be of great Use even to us, at this Day, to look into, and to meditate upon these two Books of our first Father.

WHAT requires our particular Attention is this, that Adam's Obedience is put upon Trial by the Prohibition, Ver. 17. But of the Tree of Knowledge, of Good and Evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the Day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. Adam had not gained the Habits of Obedience and Holiness, but was put under this instance of Discipline in order to his acquiring of them. As foon as God had made Man a moral Agent, he put him upon Trial. And it is universally allowed, that all Mankind are in the same State, in a State of.

of Trial. It must therefore be of Importance to have right Notions of fuch a State.

In order to this, let it be well confi-

L THAT God butb erested a Kingdom for bis Honor, and the Felicity of his rational Greatures. This Kingdom, our Lord informs us, was prepared from the Foundation of the World. Mat. xxv. 34. There we Man shall be equal to the Angels, Luke xx. 36; and probably, like them, shall be placed in Posts of Honor and Power, in some Part of the Universe; as is plainly intimated Mat. xxiv. 45-47. xxv. 24. Luke xix. 17. 1 Cor. vi. 2, 3. Rev. ii. 10. iii. 21.

H. WITHOUT Holinels, or an habitual Subjection of the Will to Reafon, or to the Will of God, none can be fit to be Members of this Kingdom. Wickednets, in its very Nature, stands directly opposed to the Peace and Well-being of the Universe ; for it is Error in the Mind, Rebettion against God, and Mischief to all within its Influence. And the most benevolent of all Beings will not take Error, Rebellion, and Mischief into his Kingdom, crected for the Purpofes of Goodnels and Enjoyment. Rev. xxi. 27. And there shall in no wife enter into it, the holy City, new Jerusalem, (Ver. 2.) any thing that defileth, any impure, vicious Persons; neither what sover worketh Abomination, or maketh a Lie; all Idolaters, all that practile tife Iniquity and Descit, are excluded out of it. But they fall bring the Glory and Honor of the Nations into it; the excellent of the Earth, who have purged themfelves from all Lingodliness and Sin, and so are Veffels unto: Honor, fanothified and fit for the Master's use, and prepared unto every good Work. Nothing but Subjection to the Will of God, in all Duty and Obediense, can qualify us for the Honors, Felicity, and Employments of the Kingdom of Heaven. Therefore,

III. NO moral Agents, merely on account of their natural Powers, how excellent foever. are worthy to be admited into the Kingdom of God. Natural Powers, in Angels as well as Worms, are the Workmanship and Gift of God alone; and therefore, not being the Virtue, nor the Effect of the Virtue of the Beings that are possessed of them, can be no Recommendation to the continued Favor and Effeem of God. In order to that, the natural Powers of moral Agents muft, not only be capable of right Action, but also actually exerted in acting rightly. Otherwife, their Powers, though of the nobleft kind, are useless and infignificant. It is one thing to be born, or produced into the Kingdom of Nature, and another to be born to the Habits of Virtue, whereby we are rendered fit to be admited into the Kingdom of Heaven. The former depends entirely upon God's

God's fovereign Pleasure, in giving Life and Powers, in any Kind or Degree, as he choofeth; the other depends upon a right Use and Application of the Powers God hath bestowed; and is the Privilege only of those wife and happy Spirits, who attain to a Habit of true Holines. And thus, our Lord's Rule, Job. iii. 3. Except a Man be born again, be cannot see, or enjoy, the Kingdom of God, may extend to all created Minds whatloever, under their feveral peculiar Circumstances.

IV. HOLINESS, or Virtue, cannot be forced upon us whether we will or not. The Violence, which overpowers and compels the Will, destroys the Will or Choice, and confequently destroys Virtue; which is no otherwife Virtue, than as it is freely chofen. That Being which cannot be vicious. cannot be virtuous. If he is not free to choose Evil, he is not free to choose Good : for a Power of being virtuous neceffarily implies a Power of being the contrary. The only Means, therefore, that can be used to induce a moral Agent to Virtue, are Instruction, Admonition, Persuasion, the Impreffion of Objects or Circumstances upon the Mind, the Suggestions of the Spirit of God, and fuch like Methods as engage Attention, and influence Inclination and Choice, without deftroying Freedom. And a Habit of Virtue, which alone recommends us to God,

God, can be gained and afcertained no otherwife than by repeated Acts, by Ufe and Exercife, by being put to the Proof under proper Trials, by refifting Solicitations, furmounting Difficulties, and bearing Sufferings. This is the most natural way of bringing Virtue, or Holinefs, to its Maturity and Stability. Therefore,

V. IT feems agreable to the Reafon of things, that all rational Creatures what foever should, for some time, be in a State of Trial. However, this is, or hath been, the Cafe of all we are acquainted with. The Angels have paffed through a Probation, doubtlefs adapted to their different Circumstances; in which fome of them abode not in the Truth : they fined; they kept not their first Estate, Job. viii. 44. 2 Pet. ii. 4. Jude 6. And our first Parents, how fingular foever their Condition might be in other respects, were put under a particular Trial, by being forbiden to eat of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil; which must be intended to form their Minds to an habitual Obedience to the Law, or Will, of God.

VI. WE Men are upon Trial. This is evident from Revelation, where we are reprefented as Pilgrims and Strangers, looking for, and traveling to a better Country, 1 Pet. ii. 11. — As in a Warfare, where we must fight for the Victory, as we hope to be crowned, Epbef. vi. 14. — As in a Race, G where where we are runing for a Prize, Heb. xii. 1. 1 Cor. ix. 24, 25. — As Laborers in a Vineyard, who have Work to do in order to receive Wages, Mat. xx. 1. - As Servants intrusted with their Master's Substance, for the Improvement of which they are accountable to him, Mat. xxv. 14. Luke xix. 13. And God hath appointed a Day, in which he will call us to an account for our prefent Behaviour, and render to every Man according to what he hath done in the Body, whether it be good or evil. This is the strongest Evidence, that we are now upon Trial. And the Senfe of Revelation is abundantly confirmed by our Circumstances in Life.

Our Faculties are of the nobleft kind, and we enjoy all manner of Means for the Cultivation of them; but not without great Care, Industry, and Resolution. So many are the Occasions of Deception, and so easily are we mifled in our Searches after the Truth, that we cannot attain to any clear or useful Knowledge without a constant and cautious Attention. Even Revelation, like the Heavens themfelves, is interfperfed with Clouds, things dark and hard to be underftood. And when we have found the Truth, the Profession of it is attended with much Inconvenience and Trouble from the Pride and Malice of Perfecution. All which is wifely appointed. For had all been plain, obvious.

obvious, and eafy, our Integrity and fincere Attachment to Truth could not have been exercifed and proved. The Paffrons and Appetites of the Fleih ; the Poffeffions, Gains, Pleafures, and Cuftoms of the World ; the Calamities of Life, Diseases, Disappointments, Loffes, Dangers, Enemies, Fears, Wants, Weaknefs; all these are great Embarrafiments to Virtue and Piety, fatigue and folicit our Minds from Righteoufnefs and Purity, and oblige us to conftant Watchfulness and Self-denial, in order to gain and fecure the Habits of Holinefs. Every Condition, every Poffeffion is accompanied with its Temptations. Wherever we are, we are in the midft of Snares; and whatever we have carries fome Danger or other in it; infomuch that, without Care and Attention, we cannot preferve the Purity of our Minds, which yet, by the Nature of things, and the Command of God, we are obliged to do. This shews we are upon Trial, or in a State of Discipline. For,

VII. A State of Trial neceffarily requires, that different and opposite Interests, (as the Flesh and the Spirit, the Law of God, and the Law in our Members, the present World, and a future State,) should so stand in Competition for our Affections and Regards, as to oblige us to be very serious in confidering, and thoroughly fincere in choosing and pursuing what is right and good. And herein lies our G 2 Trial, Trial, whether we will follow God, or forfake him, prefer our mortal Bodies before our immortal Souls, the Gratification of our Lufts, before the Purity and Peace of our Minds, the things of this transitory World, before the heavenly and eternal Inheritance.

VIII. THE End and Defign of our Trial is to refine and exalt our Nature. James i. 12. Bleffed is the Man that worthily endureth Temptation; for when he is tried, be shall receive the Crown of Life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. Heb. xii. 11. No Chastening for the present is joyous but grievous; nevertbeless, &c. If indeed we are overcome by Temptation, and drawn into a Contempt of God, Truth, and Righteoufnefs, we debafe and deftroy ourfelves ; we prove ourselves to be unfit for the happy Society in Heaven, forfeit the Favor of God, and shall fall into Perdition. But this must be our own Fault. The noble Intention of our Maker is, that we should overcome Temptation, and then we are happy for ever. We have flood the Teft, we have paffed honorably through our Trials, we have approved ourfelves to God, as those whom he judges fit for Preferment and Happinefs in his eternal Kingdom. And shortly we shall hear, Well done, good and faithful, enter thou into the Joy of thy Lord. Hence our Trial is compared to that of Silver and Gold,

Gold, Job xxiii. 10. Pfal. lxvi. 10, 11. 1 Pet. i. 6, 7.

To explain Scripture Language, we must diffinguish between Temptation of Trial, and Seduction. Temptation of Trial, or Probation, God hath wifely ordained for the Exercise and Proof of our Virtue. So he tempted Abraham, Gen. xxii. 1. Temptation of Seduction is when we are drawn into Sin, James i. 13. Let no Man say, when be is tempted, seduced into Sin by Temptation.

FROM the preceding Propositions we may draw the following Conclusions.

COROL. 1. TRIALS, of the feverest kind, are no Mark of God's Displeasure, nor any Proof, that we are under his Wrath and Curfe. Adam in his State of Innocence was tried. The best of God's Servants have gone through heavy Trials. Our Lord was tempted in all Points as we are, but without Sin, Heb. iv. 15. My Son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his Correction. For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a Father the Son in whom he delighteth, Prov. iii. 11, 12.

COROL 2. THE Appetites and Paffions implanted in our Conflictation, are not the Corruption of our Nature, but Means of our Trial. And therefore we shall be freed from them, when that is over. I Cor. vi. 13. Meats for the Belly, and the Belly for G 3 Meats —

Meats — but God skall destroy both it and them — xv. 44. It is sown an animal Body, it is raifed a spiritual Body.

COROL. 3. WHATEVER Trials may be the occasion of Sin, may much more be the occasion of Virtue and Holiness. Temptation may occasion Sin, but is not the Caufe or Reafon of it. For, feeing no Temptation can ever make it reasonable to fin, every Temptation, if the Siner chooseth, may be rejected as unreasonable. On the other hand, Temptation is naturally an Opportunity of exerting our Virtue, and of gaining an honorable and glorious Victory. Diftreffes and Wants may fill our Hearts with folicitude, and tempt us to murmur against God, but they have a Tendency, being duly confidered, to lead us to Faith in him, and a humble patient Submiffion to his Will, the most perfect Part of a worthy Character. Wealth, Honor, and Power. may prove Incentives to Pride, Luxury, and Opprefiion; but they may, and ought to be Motives to Gratitude, and Means of greater Usefulness. Our Appetites and Passions may feduce to Intemperance and Debauchery; but they may be the occasion of practifing the most laudable Self-Government and Sobriety. And so of all the rest. Rom. v. 2. We glory in Tribulations ; knowing that Tribulation worketh Patience, and Patience Experience, and Experience Hope, that Hope which which maketb not afhamed, or that shall never be disappointed. James i. 2. My Bretbren, count it all Joy when ye fall into divers Temptations; knowing, that the Trial of your Faith worketh Patience. But let Patience have its perfect Work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing to qualify you for the Kingdom of Heaven.

COROL. 4. IN a State of Trial natural Evil bath a Tendency to promote moral Good. For under any Defects of Happinefs, Virtue may be exercifed and increase. Hence it follows, (1.) That this Life, notwithstanding the Afflictions which attend it. is a Day of Salvation, or a proper, and valuable Opportunity of attaining eternal Life. (2.) That the Quantity of Virtue in this prefent World is not to be measured, by the Joy it giveth the Poffessor, or the Good it doth to others, but by the Circumstances of Trial under which it acteth and fubfifteth. For although all Holinefs, by the Will of God, will fooner or later be crowned with Joy; and always actually brings forth good Works, in Proportion to the Agent's Power and Opportunities; yet two Agents, of equal Virtue, may be fo differently fituated in the Creation, that the Virtue of the one shall produce a thousand times less Comfort to its felf, and Benefit to others, than the Virtue of the other. Or, the fame Virtue which, in this Life, brings forth but G 4 one one Degree of Joy and Ulefulnels, in another World, may bring forth a thousand Degrees.

THIS stands upon two Principles. 1. That Holinefs and Happinefs are effentially different, and connected only by the Will of God. Hence it is, in fact, that many Perfons, truly virtuous and pious, have yet no Comfort of their Virtue. 2. The proper Act of a moral Agent stands in the Will and Choice alone, not in the external Effect produced by it. And therefore the Will, or Choice, may be compleatly holy, where yet the outward Act is hindered by contrary Circumftances. Upon these Grounds one may venture to affirm, that the Virtue of Lazarus, which under all his Pains and Poverty in our Earth, brought forth but a fmall Degree of Joy and Ufefulness, might, in Abraham's Bolom, be equal to the Virtue of an Angel in Heaven, which actually brought forth ten thousand Degrees. For as a cubical Foot of our groffer Air might poffibly expand, and fill a cubical Furlong in the higher and thiner Region of pure Ether; fo that Virtue, which can sublist under the Loads and Clogs of our Temptations and Difficulties, though its prefent Fruits are but fmall, may dilate and blaze ont into a Glory, Magnificence, and Splendor, equal to that of the holieft Angels. This the Apostle Peter intimates, 1 Pet. i. 7. The tried Faith of perfecuted Saints will be found found unto Praife, and Honor, and Glory, at the appearing of Jesus Christ.

COROL. 5. THIS World is not a State of Enjoyment. He that made it, and Man in it, made it for Trial. We muft not therefore dream of a continued course of Ease, Peace, and Prosperity, but must expect to meet with Trials.

COROL. 6. IT is no Matter in what temporal Circumstances we are, if we do but acquit ourselves well and faithfully in the Sight of God. Job, under all his Calamities, was not a worfe Man, or lefs the Care and Delight of Heaven. He was then, like Gold in the Furnace, under the Discipline of divine Wifdom and Love, in order to his being purified into a Condition more illustrious and excellent. You are in Plenty and Profperity. What then ? This is but an inftance of your Trial, and your real Happiness must be measured by the Effects they have upon your Mind. If Profperity difposes to Thankfulnefs and good Works, it is happy; but if it feduceth you to forget God, and to indulge irregular Appetites, it is hurtful and pernicious. On the other hand, you are in Affliction, Want, Trouble, Pain. What then? This is not your fixed Condition; it is only one inftance of a temporary Trial, which fhortly will be at an End. And if your Afflictions work in you greater Contempt of the World, Self-denial, Faith, Submiffion miffion, Heavenly-mindednefs, $\mathfrak{S}c$. your Condition is happy, and your Afflictions are really better for you than any other State you may fondly with for. But obferve, this is to be underflood of Afflictions brought upon us by Providence; and will not juftify us in bringing them upon ourfelves by any faulty criminal Conduct. It is neverthelefs our Duty, by all lawful Means, to procure the Conveniencies and Comforts of Life.

CHAP. VIII.

Further Reflections on a STATE of TRIAL.

T is of the laft Importance to have right Notions of Life, as a State of Trial. For thus the whole Scene, otherwife confused and unaccountable, will appear in a just and rational Light. Thus we shall be convinced, that our Being is given us upon the most reasonable and advantageous Teams, for the highest and most excellent Ends; and shall clearly understand what we have to do for the Improvement and Exaltation of it, free from the vain. Imaginations and Pursuits, Hopes and Fears, Joys and Anxieties, which distract the Minds of the unthinking and ignorant. What I have have further to advance upon this Point, is comprized in the following Propositions.

I. IT is a Matter of great Difficulty to adjust our Trials and Succors, so as not to overpower our Faculties by either, but leave us in the free Use of them.

II. GOD alone bath Wildom fufficient to appoint and adjust our Trials. Because he alone understands perfectly how to adapt them to the Nature of our Minds, and to the Defigns of his Goodness. Whereas we know but little of the Nature of our Spirits, and therefore are not able to proportion Temptations to our Powers, nor Helps and Affishances to our Temptations. We are not acquainted with the Work we have to do in the future World, nor the feveral forts of Beings, with whom we may hereafter be concerned, in the way of Fellowship or Enmity; and therefore are by no means capable of judging, what fort or Degree of Trials are proper to give us fuitable Qualifications. For this Reafon, it is plainly our Duty and Wildom, humbly and patiently to fubmit to the Trials God is pleafed to allot, and to behave well and faithfully under them; without cenfuring, or quarrelling with his Disposals, which is fooligh and impious. But though our Understandings in this Cafe are very defective, yet I conceive there are fome general Principles of which we may be, in a good Measure, certain. As, III. THE

III. T H E Bias of Evil in our Trials ought to be firong in Proportion to the Degree of Virtue required of us. For the Degree of Virtue is to be measured by the Degree of Temptation which it refists. That Virtue is but in a low Degree, which can overcome but a small Temptation. That Virtue is in a higher, which can overcome a stronger Temptation. And that Virtue is in the highess Degree, which is superior to all Temptation.

IV. THE Degree of Virtue, God expects from us, is to be proportioned to the eminent Stations to which we are to be exalted in his Kingdom. Or, we shall be exalted in proportion to the Virtue we have attained. Mat. xix. 28. Luke xix. 16, 17, 18, 19.

V. OUR Trial feems to be appointed for a State of Confirmation - and therefore the Virtue we are to attain must be fuch as will fecure our Perfeverance in it ; which Confirmation and Perseverance must stand, not upon our being forcibly constrained to be virtuous, which is a Contradiction, but upon the Habits we have attained, or the fetled good Dispositions of our Minds. And it feems to be the great end of our Trial in this World, that we may attain to fuch a Degree of Sanctity, experienced in a variety of Trials, as in God's Wildom appears to be of that genuine fort, which shall eventually perfevere, and abide to all Eternity. Of

Of which Matter our Lord speaketh in this wife, Luke xvi. 10, 11, 12. He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in much ; and he that is unjust in the least, is unjust also in much. If ye therefore have been unfaithful in the unrighteous Mammon, who will commit to your Trust the true Riches ? And if ye bave not been faithful in that which is an. other Man's, i. e. that which may at any uncertain time be taken from you, and therefore, for the fake of which it is not worth your while to do a wrong or wicked thing, who shall give you that which is your own *? what you are to poffels for ever, or which you are never to be deprived of. This plainly shews, that we are qualified for Honors and Trufts in Heaven, no otherwife than by our prefent Faithfulnefs, or the real good Qualities of our Minds; and that we are now tried in a little, that we may be faithful in much.

VI. THE Judge of all the Earth hath certainly ballanced our Trials with the greatest Exactness and Equity, that Temptation may not be too violent for our Weakness, and yet strong flrong enongh to put our Virtue to its proper Proof. Fleihly Lufts war against the Soul, but are conquered effectually by Temperance, or keeping our Bodies in Subjection. The World allures our Minds, but the World of Glory is open to full View, to draw our Regards thither. If the Devil and his Angels are permited to practife his Malice in perverting Mankind, God hath fent forth a holy and powerful Spirit to illuminate, fanctify, ftrengthen, and comfort; and hath ordered his Angels, in great Numbers, to be ministering Spirits to the Heirs of Salvation. We may affure ourfelves, that we are upon a fair, and even favorable, Trial; for, if we do not neglect our Advantages, the Means of fecuring our Virtue, if we chuse to be virtuous, do far furpass the Occasion of Vice and Sin; and in all our Conflicts more are with us, than are against us; God is with us.

VII. O U R Condition is well adapted to the Purposes of moral Improvement. If we confider Life as a State of Enjoyment, all is in Confusion and Diforder, and we are eafily milled into the most foul and fatal Errors; but if we take Life as a Trial, for the Exercise of our Virtue, in order to our future Advancement, then every Part of it will appear to be properly appointed. We have every Day Opportunities of shewing our fincere Regards to God, by giving him the Preference

Preference to the many Appetites and Objects which court our Affections, and come in Competition with him. We have Opportunities enough to learn what is fufficient for us to know. And the Obscurities and Difficulties in the way of Truth, are not defigned to debar us from it, but to exercife our Integrity in our Searches after it, and Profession of it. All the Calamities of Life, Pains of Body, Infirmities, Seducements, Loffes, &c. are Occasions of purifying our Hearts, by Sobriety, Humility, Repentance, Self-denial, Patience, &c. And for facial Virtues, we cannot suppose ourfelves in any Situation, where we should have more Occasions, or more preffing Motives to exercise every Species of Benevolence towards our Fellow-Creatures. And if our Love to Men must furmount both Self-love. that deceitful Principle in ourfelves, and Ingratitude, that ugly Vice in others, hereby we are obliged to exercise, in the most generous, difinterested, and godlike Manner, a Wirtue of the first Rank, and the most necessary to Preferment in God's Creation. For he is the fitest for Business and Trust. under the universal Father, who most of all participates of his kind Difpolitions and Good-will towards the whole Universe of Beings.

VIII. DIFFERENT Perfons, as they have different Capacities, Advantages, and Opportunities, portunities, and are in different Circumstances, Conditions, and Situations, are under different Trials. Mat. xxv. 15. Luke xii. 47, 48.

IX. GOD allots to every particular Perfon bis Trial. He gives our Capacities and Opportunities, affigns our Circumstances and outward Condition, and measures our Afflictions and Comforts. Therefore whatever our Trials may be, this should calm our uneasy Minds, that they are meted out to us, by the same wife Hand, which created and governs universal Nature.

X. EVERY one will be judged, and receive Reward or Punishment according to the Circumstances of his own particular Trial; and all things relating to it, all Advantages and Difadvantages, will be weighed in the exacteft Ballance, and determined accordingly. Luke xii. 47, 48. That Servant which knew bis Lord's Will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his Will, Shall be beaten with many Stripes. But he, that was in different Circumstances, and knew not, and did commit things worthy of Stripes, shall be beaten with few Stripes. Here obferve, that God fully understands the Degrees of the Guilt, or Virtue of particular Persons, but we do not, and therefore should be cautious in judging.

XI. THERE are Degrees of Trial; or Temptation may be more or lefs intenfe. The Sufferings of the Flesh may be raised to fuch an Height of Anguith and Terror, or its Paffions fo inflamed, as to fufpend the Use of Thought and Reason.

XII. GOD can raile or fink our Trials as be pleafes. When he fees fit, he can give a calm and quiet State; and when he pleafeth can raife Storms about us, and heat the Furnace of Temptation feven times more than it was wont to be heated. Job, in his Trial by Prosperity, acquited himself well; and under great Pains and Poverty, he fined not, nor charged God foolishly. But at length, through the unkind Usage of his Friends, and perhaps fome other concuring Circumstances, his Trial began to be fo hard, that he opened his Mouth, and curfed his Day. Whenever the Almighty pleafeth he can permit a Trial that will shake the ftrongest Faith. Therefore,

XIII. NO good Refolutions or Dispositions, no Degrees of spiritual Strength to which we have attained, is an absolute Security, that we shall be for the future stedfast and unmoveable. New, or sudden Trials, stronger than any we have hitherto met with, may shake and stagger the Stability of our Minds. Let no Man imagine, that his former Victories will exempt him from a possibility of Falling. It is the Will of God, that every Man, the best of Men, in this State, should be under a constant necessity of Watching. Wherefore, let us take unto ourfelves the whole H Armour Armour of God, that we may be able to withfland in the evil Day, and having done, or overcome, all to fland. Eph. vi. 13.

XIV. ALL Trial is attended with Danger. And therefore fome, if not many, in a State of Trial, may fall into Perdition. As wicked Angels and Men.

XV. OUR Danger is not from God, but from ourfelves. God tempteth, or feduceth into Sin, no Man, Jam. i. 13, 14, 15, for this very good Reason, because he cannot himself be tempted with Evil, such is his Abhorrence and Detestation of it; and therefore cannot be inclined to draw any of his Creatures into the Practice of it. But every Man is tempted, when he is drawn away from Righteousness by his own Lust, and enticed to commit Sin.

XVI. ALL Temptation is vincible to the that are willing to overcome. See Prop. VI. All the Admonitions, Exhortations, Encouragements in Scripture, fuppofe and fupport the Truth of this Proposition.

XVII. W E are victorious over Temptation, not by our own Power, but by the Grace and Power of God. Even when the Spirit is willing, the Flefth is weak. Mark xiv. 38. We are indeed under the higheft Obligations to use faithfully the Powers we have already received, and no otherwise may we hope to be superior to Temptation; but it is not our own Wisdom or Strength that can preferve ferve and uphold us; for we are directed in Revelation to trust in God, and to feek unto him for Succor and Deliverance, which would be impertinent were we fufficient to ourfelves. Why fhould we afk Help, when we do not want it ? God alone is able to keep us from falling, and to stablish us in every good Work. Jude 24. 2 Theff. ii. 16, 17. And we are abundantly affured, that he will give Strength in proportion to our Trials, and our faithful Endeavors; and that our future Honors will be great in proportion to the prefent greater Trials we have furmounted. If we have overcome much, we shall enjoy much. For, observe, the Succors of divine Grace do not diminish the Quantity of our Virtue, or Reward. Whatever Helps our Infirmity may require, our Virtue is measured by our own fincere Defires and Endeavors, to which the divine Aid is proportioned. So that, in moral Construction, it is all one as if we had overcome in our own Strength.

XVIII. THE Means of conquering Temptation, on our Part, are Watching and Prayer. Mark xiv. 38. Watch and Pray, that ye enter not into Temptation. (1.) Watch. Be not fecure; expect Temptation, and be fensible of the Danger of it, the greatest of all Dangers, the Loss of the Soul. Be not confident of your own Strength. Keep out of the way of Temptation. Avoid every H 2 Snare

Folly and That may be effected by flow De-Sin. grees, which a Man would never at first have confented to be guilty of. He that fears falling down a Precipice will be fure not to come near it; and he that would extinguish the Fire, should withdraw the Fuel. Keed thy Heart with all Diligence; reject every finful Thought and Suggestion. Keep the Body in Subjection to Reafon and Religion by Self-denial and Abstinence. Beware of an undue Attachment to the World. Your Life and Treasure is in Heaven; and there let your Hearts be. Let the Word of God dwell in you richly by daily Meditation. Pfal. cxix. 11. Thy Word bave I hid in mine Heart, that I might not fin against thee. (2.) Pray. Not that we may be totally exempted from Temptation; for we came into the World for this very end, that we might be tried and tempted. We cannot reasonably expect that God, in our Favor, should alter the Constitution of the World, or of the human Nature; but we flould pray, that God would order our Trials in fuch Manner, as will best promote the Purity, and Probity of our Lives. Prov. xxx. 8, 9. Remove far from me Vanity and Lies; give me neither Poverty nor Riches; feed me with Food convenient for me, &c. The wife Man

Of the Dispensation &c.

Man doth not prefcribe any Condition, that did not belong to him; but, in general, is defirous of that Situation in Life, which God faw would be most favorable to his Piety and Integrity. Lead us not, fuffer us not to enter, into Temptation, i. e. suffer us not to fall under the Power and Prevalence of Temptation. The Example of our Lord is of the greatest Force to direct and animate us in our Conflicts; he took upon him our Nature, and went through all our Trials, on purpose to shew us how to behave under them; and to affure us that, imitating his Example, we shall at length be Partakers of his Glory. And thus by his perfect Obedience, his Obedience unto Death, a Sacrifice highly pleafing to God, he recovered that Life and Immortality, which Adam forfeited by his Difobedience.

clear Ideas of which are neceffary to the right Understanding of St. Paul's Writings.

LAW is a Rule of Action, or Duty, commanding or prohibiting, given by the Soyereign to moral Agents, with the Penalty of Death annexed Transgress and die, is the Language of Law. And therefore every Transgreffor, the Moment he is fuch, is dead in Law; and, for any thing in Law, he must continue to as long as it is true, that he has violated the Law, that is, for evermore. For the Law, which condemns him, can give him no Relief; as, in its own Nature, it excludes Repentance and Pardon; neither of which can take place, unless Law is overruled, or the Execution of it fuspended by the Authority and Favor of the Sovereign. For Law would not be Law if its Sense or Language were this, the Transgreffor, who doth not repent and obtain Pardon, shall die. Seeing this would be to allow Tranfgreffion by Law, upon the uncertain Conditions of Repentance, and the Sovereign's Mercy. "You may fin with Impu-" nity, if you do but repent, and find Fa-" vor." And fo the Law would be invalidated by itfelf, as it would allow a conditional Transgreffion, which would annul the annexed Penalty, by fufpending the Execution of it forever, in Expectation of the Sinner's Repentance, and the Sovereign's Forgivenefs. For, as the Sinner may poffibly repent repent in any future time to all Eternity, fo the Law could not at any time be ex-Confequently the Law, by this ecuted. Means, would be rendered for ever infignificant, as it might be violated for ever with Impunity. Therefore, to be confiftent with itself, Law must be conceived in absolute Terms, fin and die, fubjecting every Sinner immediately to the Penalty of Death, which is the Curfe of the Law. Gal. iii. 10, 13. By this Rule the Apostle, having proved that all Flesh have fined, concludes, that no Flesh, or no Part of Mankind, can be justified, or intitled to Life, before the Sovereign, by Deeds or Works of Law. Rom. iii. 20. For the Law works Wrath, or subjects the Transgreffor to Death, the Curfe or Penalty of it, Rom. iv. 15. On which Account it is very properly called, the Miniftration, Difpensation, or Constitution, of Death, 2 Cor. iii. 7. as it is a Constitution which affords nothing but rigid Condemnation for all Transgreffors.

HENCE it follows, that Death in Law is Death eternal, without Hopes of a Revival or Refurrection. For, as before proved, it is the very Nature of Law, never to remit the Penalty or Forfeiture. The Law, which now condemns the Criminal, condemns him to Death abfolutely, and for evermore ; the everlafting Language of Law to every one that breaks it, and for every Breach and H 4 Tranf-Transgreffion, being this, Thou shalt die. And this is the Force of the Expression moriendo morieris, " in dying thou תמות מות " fhalt die," in the Law given to Adam. It doth not fpeak of the Certainty of the Event, as if he should certainly die the Day he tranfgreffed ; for the Event shews the contrary; nor that he should become mortal from a Change in his Conflictution, which is a random Conjecture, without any Foundation in the Nature of his Conflitution, which was created mortal, or in the הכורת Force of the Words. For the Phrafe הכורת is an Hebraifm, importing that a thing is, or is done, thoroughly, totally, in the most perfect Manner, or the most intense Degree, and is to be interpreted according to the Nature of the Subject. As Gen. ii. 16. comedendo comedes, " thou mayeft אָכֹל תאֹכָל " freely eat" without any Reftraint. Chap. xxxvii. 23. אטו מוֹק מוֹק מוֹק לוֹק discerpendo discerptus est Jojeph, " Joseph is torn all to pieces," or most cruelly torn to pieces. Exod. xxi. 19. et medicando medicabitur. and fhall caufe him to be thoroughly healed. Thus the Force of the Words, " in dying " thou shalt die," is this, thou shalt thoroughly, utterly, totally die, or die for ever, without coming to Life again. Thou haft juftly forfeited thy Life and Being, and thalt fuffer a total and eternal Extinction of it.

THIS

Eve were under in the Garden. 105

THIS Senfe and Language of Law must be understood only as a Declaration, that the Penalty is just and due; which is all that can be done by Law as a Rule of Justice, declaring, in general, that he who is difobedient to his Maker hath juftly for. feited his Being ; and that, in confequence of his Difobedience, his Maker may juftly deprive him of it. The Law can only declare the Truth of this Denunciation, as it hath no Power to put it in Execution : the Execution of this Threatening must neceffarily and entirely reft in the Hands and Power of the Lawgiver; who therefore may mitigate, respite, or suspend it, as he, judging of Circumstances, shall in his Wisdom think proper. This is the Prerogative of the Sovereign or Lawgiver, which is allowed to be fit and reasonable all the World over. For if this were not allowed, in proper Cafes, there could be no fuch thing as Pardon, or the Mitigation of the Sentence of Law, either with God or Man. Which in every Nation, and throughout the whole Universe, would be a State of things the most fevere and the most dreadful.

THUS Room is made for the Exercise of Favor or Grace, without doing any Violence to Truth. The Penalty indeed is due, but according to the true Natures of things, there may be alleviating Circumstances in the Cale of the Transgreffor, which, though Law

106 Of the DIPENSATION Adam and Law can make no Provision for them without destroying itself, yet the Lawgiver may, and, in Reason and Truth, ought to confider and allow with respect to the Infliction of the Penalty. Wildom and Goodnels ought to have place in him, and certainly do take place in God, as well as Justice. Justice confifts in executing the Penalty of the Law according to the Letter of it; which Letter (2 Cor. iii. 6.) killeth, or deftroys, the Sinner, by fubjecting him to eternal Death, or to a total Extinction of Life; according to which Rule, there could be no Place for Mercy, and the whole World muft be ruined. But Wildom and Goodnels may mitigate the Rigor of this Constitution, not by abrogating the Law, as a Rule of Life; for fo the Law is boly, and the Commandment is holy, juft, and good, (Rom. vii. 12.) and can never be abrogated, being, in its general Intention, agreable to the everlasting and immutable Natures of things. Much lefs by finding out fome Expedient to fatisfy Law and Jullice ; which can be fatisfied no other Way than by the Death of the Offender. For Juffice, as used in this Case, is acting strictly according to Law.

Nothing, therefore, but the Execution of the Law can fatisfy Justice. The Wifdom and Goodness of the Sovereign may do what the Law cannot do; that is to fay, may suspend the Execution of the Sentence as long as he shall think fit; and fo may leave what Space he pleafes for the Sinner's Repentance, and provide what Means he, shall think proper to induce him to Repentance; and upon his Repentance, may reftore him to the Affurance of eternal Life, by an eternal Suspension of the Execution of the For as to that, he cannot be limited Law. to any Space of Time. If he hath a Right by Prerogative to fuspend at all, it must be a difcretionary Right to fufpend as long as he chooseth. This is Grace, or Gospel ; by which the Sinner may be reftored to the Hope of Immortality, and actually invefted in it, by the Wildom and Favor of the Lawgiver. This new, or remedying Conflitution, the Apostle calls Spirit, which quickens the Sinner condemned to Death by the Letter of the Law, or makes him to live. 2 Cor. iii. 6. Who alfo bath made us [Apoftles] able Ministers of the New Testament [or Constitution) not of the Letter, but of the Spirit; for the Letter kills, but the Spirit giveth Life. Which Spirit, he informs us, Ver. 17, is the Lord, or the Gofpel of our Lord. Now the Lord is that Spirit, that Life-giving Spirit, or the latter Adam, who is a quickening, or Life-giving, Spirit, 1 Cor. xv. 45.

THAT the Penalty, in the Day that thou eateft thereof, thou shalt furely, or utterly die, is to be understood, not of the Event, as if he should certainly die, but of the Demerit of Transgression, that he would deserve to die; and that, notwithstanding his Threatning, the Sovereign might respite the Execution of it, and not only allow the Tranfgreffor the Benefit of Repentance, but also appoint Means to lead him to Repentance, and to eternal Life, may be clearly proved from Ezek. iii. 18. xxxiii. 8, 11, 14, 15. Where God repeats the very fame Sentence of the Law upon the wicked Perfon, whom yet, at the fame time, he charges the Prophet to warn, in order to bring him to Repentance, promifing Pardon and Life in cafe he did repent. vor of the Lawgiver. That our first Parents, while in the Garden of Eden, were under Law, or a Rule of Action with the Penalty of Death annexed, is manifest from the very Form of the Prohibition - But of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil thou shalt not eat of it; for in the Day thou eatest thereof thou shalt utterly die. And the Apostle Paul evidently supposes, that Adam was under Law, Rom. v. 13, 14. For until the Law [of Mofes] Sin was [commited] in the World; but Sin [though committed] is not imputed [unto Death] un ovros vous when Law is not in being. This supposes, 1. That Law is the only Constitution which fubjecteth the Sinner to Death. 2. That Law was not in Being in the Times preceding the giving of the Law of Moles. Ver. 14. Nevertheless Death reigned from Adam to Mofes [while Law was not in Being] even over them that had not fined after the Likenels of Adam's Transgression. That is to fay, " Death reigned all the long Space of about " 2500 Years from Adam to Moses, even " over those who did not fin, as Adam did, " against Law, making Death the Penalty " of their Sin; becaufe during that Period, " Mankind were not under Law, but under " the general Covenant, or Constitution, of " Grace, given to Adam immediately after " his Transgreffion."

THIS

110 Of the DISPENSATION &c.

This evidently supposes, that Adam was under Law with the Penalty of Death annexed, while he was in the Garden, or before he transgreffed; and that the fame fevere Conflitution was again revived by Moles, after it had been fuspended from the time of Adam's Transgreffion till the Law was given Whence the Apostle concludeth, by Moles. that, as Death reigned all that long Period, while Sin was committed in the World, and yet no politive Law sublisted, making Death the Penalty of Sin; he concludes, I fay, that Men, in general, did not die for their own Transgreffions, but in Consequence of Adam's one Tranfgreffion.

IT must be observed, that the Apostle Paul doth not always use Law in the rigid Sense, but sometimes for the whole Jewish Code, or the Old Testament. Rom. iii. 19. CHAP.X.

Of the Institution of MARRIAGE.

Gen. ii. 18, to the End.

DAM's calling all Beafts and Fowls by Names doth not imply, that he had a perfect Knowledge of the Natures and intrinfic Qualities of all Animals; an Opinion deftitute of all Evidence; but that God gave him Dominion over them, as a Master over his Bond-Servants, according to the Force of the Phrase, to call Things or Perfons by Name. Pfal. cxlvii. 4. Ifai. xl. 26. xliii. I. God's allowing Adam to give the Creatures what Names he pleafed, was the Form of conveying or making over to him the Property of them and Dominion over them. It hath alfo Reference to the Formation of Woman; that Adam, our first Parent, having furveyed all other Animals, and having observed that they were created in Pairs, for the Propagation of their feveral Kinds. might be sensible of his own solitary, destitute Condition, and of the Importance of his being also provided of a Mate fuitable to his Nature, (which, by reafon of its fuperior Excellency, could not be matched with any of the brutal kind) a Companion in Body and

and Mind, fit to cohabit with him, for mutual Converse, Delight, Comfort, and Affistance, especially for propagating the human Species; without which the World would have been stocked with only Brutes.

AND it was fiting, or agreable to the true Nature of things, that the Formation of the first Woman should be attended with some Circumstance expressive of the Nearness of that Relation, which was to be the Fountain of the Existence of all Mankind, and of all the near and dear Relations, fo beneficial and comfortable to the Life of Man. And no Circumstances could do that more fignificantly, than taking the Woman out of a Part of the Man's Body. Thus the became another Self; and this was intended as a Document to all Posterity, that a Wife should be regarded and treated as such. Ephef. v. 28. So ought Men to love their Wives, as their own Bodies; he that loveth bis Wife, loveth himself.

Ver. 23. AND [when the Lord God brought to him the Woman, his Wife, and informed him in what Manner the was produced,] Adam faid, [with much Satisfaction and Joy] this is now Bone of my Bones, and Flefh of my Flefh, the deareft to me of all Creatures; fhe staken out of with Man. [A Sign of Adam's Property in her.] Ver. 24. And the Lord God faid, (Mat. xix. 4, 5.) Therefore fore shall a Man leave bis Father and Mother, and shall cleave unto his Wife, and they. two shall be one Flesh. Thus Marriage was inflituted : a facred and honorable Ordinance. of high Distinction, as it is very nearly connected with the Dignity and Happinets of the human Nature.

AND by making only one Woman for one Man, God plainly declared, that this Relation ought to fubfift between two; as the Prophet well argues, Mal. ii. 14, 15. And did not he, God, make but one Couple, one Man and one Woman, as a Rule to all Mankind, that should defeend from them? yet had he the Refidue of the Spirit, and could then have created more Men and Women. if promiscuous Conversation had been for the greater Happineis of the World. And wherefore did he make but one Couple ? That be might feek a godly Seed, הוע אלהים an excellent Seed. That Man and Wife, in chafte Wedlock, in fincere and undivided Affection, might propagate a Posterity to the Honor and Service of God. This is an Argument against Polygamy and Devorce, confirmed by our Lord's Wildom and Authority, Mat. xix. 3, 4, 5, 6. Thus Mankind are brought into the World in a Way fuitably to the Excellency of their Nature. For, confidering how weak and imperfect our Infancy is, and in how great Ignorance and Diffolutenels of Manners we must necessarily Ĩ grow grow up to Manhood, without good Difcipline and Instruction, it is evident, this World must have been the most wild and diforderly Scene imaginable, were the Race of Mankind propagated in a vagrant, licentious Manner, without Parents to own them, and by their tender Care and Affection to give them a good Education. The Production of an intelligent Being, in the most helples and exposed Circumstances, and which grows up to a due Degree of Understanding, no otherwife than by good Culture, ought to be attended with all the proper Advantages in the Propagator's Power. And therefore the Propagation of the human Species, according to the true Nature of things, ought to be guarded and directed by the best Exercise of Reason, and not left to be done in a loofe, brutal Manner. God did not create Man in Jeft; nor should the ordinary Generation of a Man be made a Matter of lewd Jeft, or of lawless Paffion. This is the Rationale of Marriage, and of Modefty and Sobriety.

A D A M had no Choice, but his Defcendents have great need to exercise Prudence in the Choice of a Relation fo important and latting. Gen. iii. 1-9.

ERE Eve is deceived and tempted to transgress the Law of God by some moral Agent, who could fpeak and argue, called by Mofes הנחש the Serpent ; which, he faith, was more fubtil than any other Beast of the Field, which the Lord God had made. But a Beaft of the Field, how fubtil or fagacious foever, could not fpeak and reafon. Who then was the moral Agent that deceived Eve? St. Paul, 2 Cor. xi. 3. speaks of this Deceiver in the fame Manner as Mofes doth ; I fear, left by any Means, as the Serpent beguiled Eve through his Subtilty, so your Minds should be corrupted from the Simplicity that is in Christ. The Apostle did not fuppose the Corinthians might be corrupted by the Subtilty of an irrational Creature ; confequently, he did not fuppofe that Ι2 that Eve was beguiled by the Subtilty of an irrational Creature. But St. John comes nearer to the Point in Rev. xii. q. xx. 2. Where he speaks of the Serpent as a Deceiver, and defcribes him after this Manner, and the great Dragon was caft out, that old Serpent; called otherwife in Scripture, the Devil and Satan, which deceiveth the whole World. A Dragon is a huge overgrown Serpent. That old Sepent, means that Serpent, which of old, at the Begining of the World deceived Eve, and still was deceiving the World. (And in feveral other Places of Scripture, which we shall prefently have Occafion to take Notice of, the Devil's Temptation of Eve is plainly alluded to.) Therefore this Serpent, and the Devil and Satan. are fynonymous, and mean one and the fame Being. Hence Divines have justly concluded, that it was the Devil or Satan, an evil or malignant Spirit, which tempted Eve, in the Body, or affuming the Form and Shape, of a Serpent; which then might be a very beautiful as well as fagacious Animal, familiar with Adam and Eve, and much admired by them.

THAT there are wicked and malignant Spirits, is undeniably true from Scripture. 2 Pet. ii. 4. For if God spared not the Angels that fined, but σειραις ζοφε ταισταρωσας cast them down to Hell, and delivered them into Chains of Darkness, to be referved unto Judgment.

who deceived EVE.

ment. [Or rather, cast them down into a low, wretched Condition. in Chains of Darknefs. delivered them to be referved unto Judgment.] Jude 6. And the Angels which kept not their first Estate, but left their own Habitation, he bath referved decuois aidiois uno Copov in everlasting Chains under Darkness. unto the Judgment of the great Day. Being cast down to Hell. and delivered into Chains of Darkness, in St. Peter, is the fame as being reserved in perpetual Chains under Darkness, in St. Jude; and may fignify no more than, that they are degraded from their former high and glorious State, and chained, or confined to, a much lower, narrower, and darker Situation, without any Hope of Favor, unto the Day of Judgment; when they, with all Workers of Iniquity, shall be cast into everlasting Fire, Mat. xxv. 41. Rev. xx. 10, 15. For any thing, therefore, advanced in those two Places, those fallen Angels may, at prefent, refide in our Air, and be permited to wander about in the Earth.

IT must be observed, that there is an Ambiguity in both the Words, 1000 Satan, and $\Delta \iota \alpha \beta \circ \lambda \otimes$. the Devil. The former, Satan, fignifies any Adversary among Men and good Angels, as well as among evil Spirits. Num. xxii. 32. And the Angel of the Lord faid, behold, I went out to with fland thee, 1000for an Adversary, a Satan. So 2 Sam. xix. 22. — Ye Sons of Zeruiab are Adver-I 3 faries. 1 Kin. v. 4, xi. 14, 23, 23. Pfal. Ixxi. 13. cix. 20, 29 Peter was Satan, an Adversary, to our Lord, Mat. xvi. 23. And the unbelieving Jews were the Satan, or Adversaries, who hindered St. Paul's Return to Theffalonica, I Theff. ii. 18. AraBonos De. wil, fignifies an Acculer, Slanderer. Job. vi. 70. - and one of you, Judas, is Auaßoros a Devil. 1 Tim. iii. 11. Their Wives mast be grave, un DiaBonse not Devils, i.e. Accusers, Slanderers. 2 Tim. iii. 3. falle Accufers, Tit. ii. 3. Thus it may be applied to any wicked Perfons, who flander, accufe, and perfecute the People of God. And this Ambiguity in the Senfe of those two Words, 102 and AraBoxo, may render it doubtful how formet particular Paffages of Scripture are to be underftood.

THAT those two Words are used to fignify one and the fame wicked Spirit, who, with many others his Angels, or under-Agents, are conversant in our World, and endeavour to draw Men into Sin, and do Mischief among us, is very evident from Revelation. As in the Case of our first Parents, of Job, whose Children and Substance were destroyed, and his Body afflicted with a grievous Disorder by Satan, Job i. 12, Gc. ii. 6, 7; of our Lord, who was tempted of the Devil, or Satan, Mat. iv. 1, 3, 10. Mark i. 13. Luke iv. 2. Which Temptation, under all its Circumstances, can never be refolved into an Allegory; much lefs can it be supposed to be all transacted within our Lord's own Mind, as if the Devil, or Satan, was no other than the Suggestions, or Thoughts, that arole in his own Heart; which is very abfurd. Nor can the following Texts be naturally underftood of any other than a real Devil or Satan. Mat. xiii. 39. The Enemy that forwed the Tares is the Devil, [and his Instruments] Mark iii. 26. How can Satan cast out Satan? Joh. viii. 44. Ye are of your Father the Devil. Acts x. 38. — Healing all that were oppressed of the Devil. 2 Cor. xi. 13, 14. For such are faile Apostles, deceitful Workers, transforming themselves into the Apostles of Christ. And no marvel, for Satan himself is transformed into an Angel of Light. Heb. ii. 14. That through Death he might destroy him that had the Power of [subjecting our first Parents, and their Posterity, to] Death, that is, the Devil. 2 Tim. 2, 16. — recover themfelnes out of the Snare of the Devil. Jam. iv. 7. Relift the Devil, and he shall flee from you. 1 Joh. iii. 8. He that committeh Sin, is of the Devil; for the Devil fineth from the Begining [of the World, alluding to his tempting our first Parents into Sin ;] for this caufe the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the Works of the Devil. Jude 9. Yet Michael, the Archangel, when contending with the Devil, he disputed about the Body I 4 of

of Moles. And generally, Saran and Devil are thus to be understood in the New Teftament, the few Places before mentioned only excepted. Though where the Devil is principally intended, his Inftruments, or wicked Agents among Men, may, at the fame Time, be connoted.

BESIDES Satan, or the Devil, the Scripture frequently mentions other evil Spirits, called daipovia, daipoves, Damons, which we tranflate Devils That these Dæmons, however understood in prophane Authors, do belong to the Devil's Retinue, and may be his Angels or Under-Agents, over whom he is Chief or Prince, will appear by comparing Mat. xii. 22, 24,-28. Luke x. 17, 18. xi 15, 18. Those who in the Gospels are faid to be daupovi Copevoi poffeffed by Dæmons, in Acts x. 38. are faid to be oppreffed of the Devil, uno tou Diaborou, as they were under the Power of his Agents. Thus we may conceive of the Devil and his Angels, Mat. XXV. 41 the Dragon and his Angels, Rev. xii. 7. He is the Prince and Head, and those Dæmons are his Subjects. They are often spoken of in the plural Number, as being many; though Satan, or the Devil, is always in the fingular, as being but one fingle Spirit, and Chief over all the reft. But, as before observed, his Angels, or Agents, may fometimes be included with him.

THE Characters which the Devil or Satan fustains in Scripture, are these, the great Dragon, or fierce Devourer, the old Serpent, full of villainous Subtilty, Rev. xii. g. The Wicked One, Mat. xiii. 38. 1 Joh. iii. 12. A Murtherer and Liar, Joh. viii. 44. Ye are of your Father, the Devil, and the Lufts of your Father will ye do ; be was a Murtherer from the Begining, [in effecting the Death of Adam and his Posterity; and thus he may be faid to have had the Power of Death, Heb. ii. 14.] and abode not in the Truth, because there is no Truth in him. When be speaketh a Lie, he speaketh of his own, for be is a Liar, [as he was to Eve,] and the Father of it. The Accuser of the Brethren, Rcv. xii. 10. [See Job i. 6-13. ii. 1-7.] A roaring Lion, [the Lion roars only when he is hungry, Píal. xxii. 13. Ezek. xxii. 25.] seeking whom he may devour. The Prince of the World, meaning, as it is corrupt and wicked, John xii. 31. xiv. 30. xvi. 11. The Prince of the Power of the Air, the Spirit that now worketh in the Children of Difobedience, the idolatrous Heathen, Ephef. ii. 2. Here the Devil is represented as a Prince. or Sovereign, at the Head of a Kingdom, which stands in Opposition to, and is at war with, the Kingdom of Christ; who was manifested as his Antagonist, that he might deftroy the Works of the Devil, 1 John iii. 8. Тне

THE Dæmons are characterized as the Devil's Angels, Mat. xxv. 41. As unchem Spirits, Mark v. 2, 8, 12. Luke iv. 33, 36. viil. 27, 29. Evil, wicked, Spirits, Luke viii. 2.

THESE vicious Spirits, the Devil and his Angels, when permited, are capable of doing any Milchief to the Estate, Body or Mind, I Sam. xvi. 14. Job i. 12, Sc. ii. 6, 7. Mark iii. 23, 26. Luke xiii. 16. 1 Cor. v. 5. 1 Tim. i. 20. Nor is there any Abfurdity, any thing inconfistent with the Divine Goodness, in supposing that evil Spirits may inflict Calamities and Diforders upon Mankind. For they are only Inftruments in God's Hands, under his Direction and Controul, as much as any other Caule what ever ; and fo must come under the fame Rules, as any other Means, which Providence may imploy in diffrefling or deffroying human Life, as Storms, Inundations, the Paffions and Powers of wicked Men, a putrid Air, vitiated Humors in the Body, &c. In all these Cases, whatever is the instrumental, God is the appointing and directing Cause; and it would have been all one, whether he had fent a good or evil Angel, or had only changed the Temperature of the Air, to destroy the Fruelites by Pestilence, 2 Sam. xxiv. 15, 16. Or to flay Sennacherib's Army, 2 King, xin. 35. 2 Cbron. xxxii. 21. In

In cottecting or punishing by Difeases, or other Distress, God may use what Instruments he pleases.

Trius far we may go upon this Part of the Subject, and not much further. The World of Spirits lies to far out of our Sight, that we can know no more of them, than what is reveled. Nor have we Principles fufficient to inable us to form clear and compleat Notions of every thing faid concerning them even in Revelation.

THAT which most of all requires our Attontion, is, that the Devil delighteth in feducing Mankind to fin againit God; and takes every Advantage, and uses every Wite to effect his wicked Purpose. Rev. xii. 9. The great Drugon, called the Devil and Satan, deceiveth the whole World. Mat. xiii. 39. The Enemy that fowed them, the Tares, i. e. wicked Men, is the Devil. Of which we have a Specimen in his Temptation of our first Parents. He concealed himfelf in the Body, or Shape of a Serpent, probably, at that time, a Creature admired by Adam and Eve for it's Beauty and Sagacity. He firft addreffed the Woman, when alone, and at a Diftance from her Hufband; and first endevored to weaken her Senfe of the Obligation of the Divine Prohibition, by representing it as uncertain or unreasonable, Ver. 1. Yea, hath God Said, ye Shall not eat of every Tree in the Garden? " Sarely you millake " him ;

" him; it can never be fo; for why fhould "God debar you of any of the inno-" cent and delightful Fruits this Garden " vields ?" The Woman exposed herself to the greatest Danger by deliberating with the Tempter, upon a Matter which she should not have heard fo much as called in Oueflion without Abhorrence. But the was not aware of his wicked Defign; and therefore, in much Simplicity, gave him a full Account of the Law they were under, Ver. 2, 3. Which only gave him, on the other Hand, an Opportunity of contradicting it by a most bold and impudent Lie, Ver. 4. Ye (hall not furely die. Yea, he affures her, they should receive great Advantage by eating the forbiden Fruit, Ver. 5. For God doth know, that in the Day ye eat thereof, then your Eyes shall be opened; and ye shall be as Gods, knowing Good and Evil. To favor his Affertion, he perverts the Word of God, by wrefting the Name God had given the Tree; as if it had been called, the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, because God was aware it would endow them with the most exalted and extensive Knowledge: whereas it had its Name upon a very different Account.

THUS Satan perfuades Men to have hard Thoughts of God, as if he envied our Happiness, and laid the Restraints of his Law upon our Appetites out of Ill-will; but infinite finite Goodness is not capable of Envy. Thus he tempteth us to be unealy in the Condition Providence has alloted us, and prompts us to be ambitious of things too high for us. And thus he deludeth with false Hopes of Benefit and Advantage from Sin; and, when this last Point is gained, we fall an eafy Prey to the Tempter. Ver. 6. And when the Woman faw that the Tree was good for Food, and that it was pleafant to the Eyes, and a Tree to be defired to make one wife, she took of the Fruit thereof and did eat. " She faw it was to be defired to make one " wife." What wrought this Opinion in. Eve was, poffibly, the Affurance the Serpent gave her, that he which, fhe very well knew, before was, like other Brutes, dumb and irrational, was, by the admirable Virtue of the Fruit, advanced in Speech and. Reafon, as the faw, to an equality with herfelf, the most excellent Creature in the Earth ; and, therefore, the needed not doubt but it would, in the fame Proportion, exalt the human Nature to the high Perfection of the angelic Order. This would pais for Demonstration with her, who knew not that it was an evil Spirit that acted and spake in the Serpent. But this is only my own Conjecture. — And she gave also unto her Husband with ber, and be did eat ; being, probably, perfuaded (befides the Arguments the Serpent used with Eve) by the strong Affection fedition they had for each other. Thus the Devil, by tempting our first Parents to tranfgress the Law, subjected them, and their Posterity in them, to eternal Death. Thus he was a Murtherer, and may be faid to have had the Power of Death. Heb. ii. 14.

CHAP. XII.

Reflections on the DEVIL'S TEMPTATIONS.

BY fearching the Scriptures we have found, that there is a malicious Spirit which, by divine Permiflion, ranges about this World, attended with many more of the fame depraved Nature; and, as any Opportunity offers, is endeavouring to draw Men from the Practice of Virtue, into all Wickednefs and Alienation from the Truth.

To prevent any Cavils against the scriptural Account of this wicked Spirit, let it be well observed,

I. THAT we cannot be fure, from any unaffilted Knowledge or Observation of our own, that this Earth is not frequented by numerous Spirits of a Nature much superior to the human. Our Knowledge even of the Animals, which naturally belong to our Globe, hath been, and probably still is, very defective. Without the Help of Microfcopes we could never have different vaft Tribes

Of the DEVIL'S TEMPTATION 127

Tribes of Infects, which we now plainly fee do live and move even in our own Bodies, and in all Parts of the Earth and War And even with this Advantage of ter. Sight, there may ftill be a World of fmaller Animals, which our Senfes cannot reach. Much more may Myriads of Spirits be mixed amongst us, which come not under our Observation. Therefore, as without the Aid of Microfcopes we should never have discovered the most numerous Part of the Inhabitants of our Earth ; fo neither, without the Light of Revelation, can we be afcertained, what Spirits are and act in the Region of our Air. And Revelation is a Mean as proper, at least, for discovering the one, as our own artificial Inventions for difcovering the other. But Revelation informs us, that Angels, both good and bad, are conversant in this World; which may be true, though we have no diffinct, fenfible Perceptions of their Existence and Operations. Under former Dispensations of Religion they might appear, and act in a fenfible Manner; but under the prefent Difpenfation they may, for wife Reafons, (particularly, because we are now sufficiently infructed in their Nature and Agency,) be wholly invisible: nor may we be capable of diffinguishing their fecret internal Impresfions from the Suggestions of our own Minds; or the external, kind Affiftances of good Angels.

gels, or the malicious Injuries of evil Angels, from the common Course of Providence.

II. THAT we are now upon Trial hath been already proved; and that our Trial is well and wifely adjusted, cannot be doubted. We ourfelves are by no Means capable of judging what kind of Trials are most fuitable to our own Spirits, because we know but little of the Nature of them. To lettle the Kind and Degree of our Trials, belongs entirely to him, who alone understands the Nature of our Minds, and the Defigns of his own Wildom. Therefore, if we are shocked when we hear God hath permited many evil Spirits to range our World, and to exercise their Malice in tempting Mankind, we are really mocked at our own Ignorance; seeing this Method of Trial, as well as the reft, is under Regulations of infinite Wifdom, and defigned for the Purpofes of infinite Goodnels.

ANSWER. THAT Wickedness exists in the Universe is too plain from the State of things in that Part of it, which we inhabit; where we fee great Numbers, in fpight of their own Reason and Underftanding, and of all the inftances of God's Love and Goodnefs, and of all the most evident and powerful Arguments to Virtue and Piety, who not only are very vicious themselves, but take an unnatural Pleasure in tempting and corrupting others, and making them as bad as themfelves. It cannot then be hard to suppose, that there are other Spirits, in other Circumstances, who, in the fame Manner, oppose God ; that is to fay, oppose Truth and Virtue. For the Devil opposeth and seteth himself against God, not by Might and Power, as if he were able to contend with the Almighty, but only as he oppofeth Virtue and Truth ; just as wicked Men do among ourfelves. Indeed, we Men are under strong Temptations from the Flesh, and the Objects that relate to it; but the Spirits we are speaking of, may be under as strong Temptations of some other Kind, that we are not acquainted with; they may, by fome finful Purfuits and Compliances, have funk themfelves into the last Degrees of moral Pravity, and even be more wicked than the wickedeft Man in the Κ Earth, Earth, more blind to the Goodnels of God, and more fearlels of his Wrath. Nor are fuperior natural Abilities an abfolute Security against the very worst moral Corruption. For we do actually find, that great Knowledge and Understanding are fo far from always making Men good and virtuous, that, on the contrary, these are often in a high degree the Instruments of Sin and Difobedience; being wholly imployed in finding out Pleas and Pretexts for the most abandoned Iniquity.

THUS you fee it is very possible fuch vicious Spirits may be, may be mixed among us, and permited to tempt us; and, according to Scripture Representations, they are very dangerous Enemies. For,

I. SATAN is continually going about feeking all Advantages against us, Job i. 7. The Lord faid unto Satan, Whence comest thou ? Satan answered, and said,-From going to and fro in the Earth, and from walking up and down in it. And from the Query in the next Verse, Hast thou confidered my Servant Job, that there is none like him in the Earth. a perfect and an upright Man, one that feareth God and escheweth Evil? And also from what our Saviour faith to Peter, Luke xxii. 31. Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath defired to have you, that he may fift you as Wheat; it appears, that he is inquifitive into the Characters of Men, and bufily feeks, and gladly gladly lays hold of any Occasion to try, and, if possible, to overthrow their Integrity. I Cor. vii. 5. Defraud you not one the other, except it be with Consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to Fasting and Prayer; and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your Incontinency.

II. WE may suppose a Spirit of superior Faculties to be very subtil in understanding our various Constitutions and Inclinations, and the particular Sins to which our Circumstances do expose us; and in laying his Baits, and addressing his Temptations accordingly.

III. SUCH a Tempter can apply a great variety of Machinations, Devices, [vonpua]a, 2 Cor. ii. 11.] and Wiles [µEBoderas, Epbef. vi. 11.] to deceive. This is feen in the Cafe of Eve. And in tempting our Lord, it is very observable, how he varied his Devices, and shifted the Scene of Temptation, to fix, if poffible, fome Stain upon his fpotless Mind. He can put himself into any Shape, either of Terror, or pleafing Allurement; either as a roaring Lion, or an Angel of Light, [2 Cor. xi. 14.] Sometimes he works by his Agents, imploying those who are already infnared to draw in others; fo Eve was his Tool to tempt Adam : fometimes injecting into our Minds unrighteous, impure Suggestions, [Luke xxii. 3. Acts v. 3.] fometimes taking the Word out of our Heart, K 2

Heart, [Luke viii. 12.] or mixing Tares with the good Seed, [Mat. xiii. 25.] and corrupting our Minds from the Simplicity that is in Chrift.

BUT then, all this must be understood under the following Restrictions.

1. THAT the Devil can neither hurt us, nor fo much as attempt to hurt us, further than God permits. He is not like the pretended evil God of the Manichees, eternal, felf-existent, almighty, and independent, but as much under the Power of God as the weakest Reptile under our Feet. When God gives him a Commission, he cannot act beyond it; and when he has no Commission, he is chained up and can do nothing. He is therefore no other than an Agent, entirely and always in God's Hand, to be used as he fees fit.

2. Nor can he any ways pollute our Minds, further than we ourfelves do confent. If God permits, poffibly he may work upon the Humors of the Body, he may inflame our Paffions, abufe our Imaginations, or fuggeft evil things to our Thoughts; but unlefs we willingly admit those Impreffions, he cannot poffibly ftain our Confciences with Sin.

3. GOD hath not only furnished Means and Strength to refiss him, but hath appointed that, if we do refiss him, he shall be conquered and vanquished. Jam. iv. 7. Refiss Of the DEVIL'S TEMPTATIONS. 133 Refift the Devil, and he will, he fhall, he must, flee from you; not by his own Choice, but by the Will and Power of God. The God of our Peace and Safety *shall bruife Sa*tan under our Feet. And fuch a Victory fhall turn to the Praife and Glory and Establishment of our Virtue. Hence it follows,

1. THAT it must be our own Act and Deed if we are overcome by the Temptations of the Devil. It is common for People to confider themselves as altogether paffive in this Case, and to ascribe the Wickedness they commit to the Power of Temptation; whereas, in truth, so far as we are tempted effectually we are active, we confent and agree to the Temptation, we are drawn away of our own Lust and enticed, Jam. i. 14. Satan tempts, yet can have no Advantage over us but what we chuse to give him. And therefore,

2. IT must be an Aggravation of any Crime that it was done under the Power and Influence of this wicked Spirit. For we must be the Children of Disobedience, we must have abandoned ourselves to Wickedness, before Satan can work in us. If Satan can fill our Hearts, confider in what a wretched Condition we must be. We must have abused the Faculties of our Minds, we must have despised all the Riches of Divine Goodness, we must have shut our Eyes against the Light of faving Truth, hardened K 3 our our Hearts against the Fear of God, feared our Confciences, stiffed many and strong Convictions, done despite to the Spirit of Grace; we must have withdrawn ourselves from God, till he bath forsaken us; we must have advanced from one Degree of Iniquity to another, till our Hearts are prepared to be the Seat and Residence of the unclean Spirit, the Murtherer, the Father of Lies, the Prince of Darkness. A Condition unspeakably deplorable !

WITH Men of Virtue and Piety he hath no Power, though he may vex and affault them, but only with the Vicious. And they not only imitate his Wickednefs, which is bad enough, and conflitutes him their Father, but likewife are under his Government, which is still worfe, and constitutes him their Prince and Ruler. Most dreadful Cafe, to be the Children of fuch a Father. the Subjects of fuch a Prince, the Children of Perdition, the Subjects of the Enemy of all Righteoulnels ! To have the Powers of our Minds, defigned for the nobleft Acts and Enjoyments, under the Dominion of Error and Luft ; to have the Spirits created for eternal Happiness in Union with God, in Slavery to the vileft of Beings; to have the Souls, for whom Chrift flied his Blood, to deliver them from Iniquity, to purify them into the Divine Image, and to prepare them for everlafting Salvation; to have have those Souls quite infensible to all that is true and excellent, heavenly and divine, guided by the grand Deceiver, in the Power of the Destroyer, and by him pushed on in the way of Iniquity to eternal Perdition, how frightful is the Reflection ; how dreadful must the State of souls be !

To prevent our falling into fuch a fad Condition, and to fecure ourfelves from the Encroachments of this wicked Spirit, let us ever be mindful that we have fuch an Enemy, and that, without due Care and Circumfpection, we shall fall under his Power. Let us carefully guard our Hearts, and observe well the Temper and Frame of our Minds, that we may feasonably restrain every inordinate Affection, and immediately reject every evil Thought and Suggestion which starts up in our Minds. Be fober, be vigilant. Nothing gives this Adverfary greater Advantage than fenfual Indulgences. Mortify the Flesh with the Affections and Shun all Intemperance and Excefs ; Lufts. and never dare to venture, how little foever, into the way of Temptation and Sin. And let us be fure to keep close to God in Prayer, and other Exercises of Religion. Thus we shall put ourselves under the Banner of the Prince of Life, the Lord Jefus Chrift, and shall be kept by the Power of God, through Faith, unto Salvation.

C H A P. XIII.

Of the Confequences of ADAM's TRANS-GRESSION.

Gen. ii. 7, to the End.

V E are now come to a very grand Point in Theology, the Fall of Man, or the Confequences of Adam's Tranfgreffion upon himfelf and his Posterity. Which Confequences Divines, both Papift and Protestant, have generally, and for a long tract of Time, represented to be those that follow, namely, " the Guilt of Adam's first " Sin imputed to, or charged upon, all his " Posterity - a total Defect of that Righ-" teoufnefs, wherein he is fuppofed to have " been created --- the Corruption of the hu-" man Nature, whereby all Mankind are " utterly indifpofed, difabled, and made op-" pofite unto all that is fpiritually good, " and wholly inclined to all Evil, and that " continually; which Corruption of our "Nature is the Source of all Wickedness " that is committed in the World. - Fur-" ther, by Adam's Tranfgreffion all Man-" kind were deprived of Communion with "God - and all, as foon as ever they come " into the World, under his Difpleafure and " Curfe, of Adam's TRANSGRESSION.

" Curfe, being by Nature the Children of "Wrath, Bond-flaves to Satan, juftly liable " to all Punifhments in this World, and in " the World to come, to an everlafting " Separation from the comfortable Prefence " of God, the most grievous Torments in " Soul and Body without Intermiffion in " Hell-Fire for ever."

THIS is an Affair of the most dreadful Importance, and requires to be examined with all possible Care and Impartiality. For an Error in this Point will affect the whole Scheme of Christianity, pervert and abuse our Conficiences, and give us very wrong Notions of God and of ourselves. Upon this Article I have examined the Scriptures, with Diligence and Impartiality, in the Treatise entitled — The Scripture Doctrine of original Sin, proposed to free and candid Examination — in the Study of which this is a proper Place to exercise your Thoughts and Judgments.

[* ADAM having transgreffed the Law, not only loft a Claim to Life, but became obnoxious to Death, which was Death in Law, or eternal Death. And had the Law been immediately executed, his Posterity, then included in his Loins, must have been extinct,

* Take this in, as a Note, P. 18. of Scripture Doctrine of original Sin, at the Paragraph, 1. Whereas Adam had before. &c.

extinct, or could have had no Existence at all. For, the Covenant of Innocence being broken, there was no Covenant or Conftitution sublishing upon which Adam could have the least Hope of the Continuance of his own Life, and confequently, could have no Prospect of any Posterity. Thus in Adam all die. While things were in this State, under broken Law, and before a Promife of Favor, or Grace, in this Interval, for any thing Adam could know, he, and the whole World in him, were utterly loft and undone for ever. But our merciful God and Father had quite different Views. He graciously intended to make Adam's Sin, and his being exposed to eternal Death, an Occafion of erecting a new Difpensation, a Dispensation of Grace in the Hands of a Mediator. According to which, Adam was affured that he should not immediately die. but should live to have a Posterity by his Wife. So Adam underftood what the Lord God faid, Ver. 15. And upon this he gave his Wife a new Name, (Ver. 20.) Life, or Life-giving, for Joy that Mankind were to be propagated from her, when he expected nothing but immediate Death in Confequence of his Transgreffion.]

[+ God graciously intended, after Adam's Transgression, to erect a Dispensation of Grace,

Grace, for the Redemption of Mankind. Which Grace was declared, and, confequently, which Dispensation was established, (Gen. iii. 15. And I will put Enmity, &c.) before the Sentence of Death was pronounced upon Adam, (Ver. 19. Dust thou art, and to Dust thou shalt return.) Death therefore, in that Sentence, stands under the new Difpensation, or the Dispensation of Grace, and for that Reason cannot be Death in LAW, or eternal Death ; but Death in DIS-PENSATION, or Death appointed for wife and good Purpofes, and to be continued only fo long as God fhould think fit. And thus also all die in Adam; thus by Man came Death ; thus by one Man Sin entered into the World, and Death by, or in Confequence of, his Sin. But it was the high and glorious Purpose of God, that his beloved Son, the Seed of the Woman, having, in our Flesh, performed the most perfect and compleat Obedience, should be invested with Dominion and Power to raife all Men from the Dead, and to give eternal Life to all them that tread in the Steps of his Obedience. Thus, as by Man came Death, by Man came also the Resurrection from the Dead; for as in Adam all die, fo in Christ shall all be made alive. 1 Cor. xv. 21, 22. Thus, as by the Offence of one Judgment came upon all Men to Condemnation'; even fo by the Righteousness of one, the free Gift came upon all Men

Men unto Justification. For as by one Man's Disobedience the many were made Sinners; so by the Obedience of one shall the many be made Righteous. Rom. v. 18, 19.]

C H A P. XIV.

Of the Origin of SACRIFICES.

Gen. iv. 1-6.

ERE Cain and Abel perform an Act of religious Devotion, by way of Oblation or Sacrifice. The Question is, whether this kind of Worship was of divine or human Institution. They who are of the latter Opinion alledge, " that we read of no " Command from God for facrificing; there-" fore Men did it of their own Heads, out " of a grateful Inclination to return unto " God fome of his own Bleffings, and to " acknowledge him the absolute Proprietor " of all their Enjoyments; though they had " no Directions from him about it." Answer. This feems highly improbable. For how came Abel to offer his Sacrifice in Faith of God's Acceptance, (Heb. xi. 4.) if his Faith had nothing to warrant it but his own Imagination ? Human Imagination, or Opinion, never was, or ever can be, either the Ground or Object of Faith. It is faid, Gen. iv. 4. that that God had respect to, or shewed his Approbation of, both Abel and bis Offering; or in the Apostle's Words, be obtained Witnefs, that himfelf was righteous, God testifying of his Gifts, that they were right, and offered in a right Manner. On the other hand, he cenfured Cain as having prefented his Oblation in fuch a Manner as was not pleafing to God. Which evidently fuppofes a previous Institution, and a Rule which Cain was, or might have been acquainted with. For had there not been fuch a Rule given, how could he have been blamed for not observing it ? It is absurd to fay, he transgreffed a Rule of his own Imagination and Invention.

THE Inftitution's not being mentioned in a Hiftory fo concife argues nothing. Other things are also omited, as religious Affemblies, Enoch's Prophecy, Noah's Preaching, the peopling of the World, or the Increase of Adam's Family. Things well known, or generally fuppofed, when the Hiftorian wrote, needed not to be mentioned, but might be taken for granted. The only proper and conclusive Argument would be to prove, " that in those early Days they " had no Communication with, or Revelation " from God ; and therefore, having no way " of knowing what the Mind of the Lord " was, were under a Neceffity of inventing " fomething of their own." But this is far " from from being the Cafe. God, in fome vifible Form, frequently appeared, and made his Mind known to Adam, and to all the fucceeding Patriarchs, mentioned in the Book of Genefis, for the Space of 2315 Years. Yea, he converfed and reafoned with and inftructed Cain himfelf. When therefore Adam, and all the other Patriarchs, had the fulleft Opportunity of knowing from God himfelf, what kind of Worfhip was moft acceptable to him, there was no need of their own Invention; and it is abfurd to fuppofe that they followed no other Guide.

In the Infancy of the Church they wanted Direction, and, without doubt, were di-rected in every thing relating to Religion especially, so far as was agreable to that Difpensation. Doubtless Adam was instructed by God to facrifice. And it is not improbable that those Beasts, with the Skins of which Adam and Eve were clothed, Gen. iii. 21. were flain as Sacrifices. God certainly instructed our first Parents in the Faith and Worship, which the alteration in their Circumstances required. Having made a most gracious Covenant with them (Ver. I.5.) it is not unreasonable to suppose, that he also fignified to them, that they should, for a perpetual Ratification and Affurance of it to their Faith, offer to him Sacrifices. For by the Blood of Sacrifices Covenants were ratified in after Times. The eating of

Of the Origin of SACRIFICES. 143 of the Tree of Life, was a covenanting Action, (affuring Immortality to their continued Obedience) fuitable to a State of Innocence. But the Mactation of a living Creature, (expreffing the deadly Nature of Sin, at the fame time that it affured them of eternal Life through a facrificed Redeemer) was more fuitable to a State of Guilt.

Ver. 2. CAIN brought ND of the Fruit of the Ground, &c. Ver. 4. And Abel alfo brought of the Firstlings of the Flock, &c. " As there were fome folemn Times " of making their devout Acknowledg-" ments to God; fo, I doubt not, there " was fome fet Place, where they affembled " for that Purpole. For the Hebrew Word " for brought, is never used in relation to " domeflic, or private Sacrifices; but al-" ways in relation to those public Sacrifices, " which were brought to the Door of the " Tabernacle of the Congregation. As Lev. "iv. 4. He shall bring וְהַבִיא the Bullock to " the Door, &c. Which occurs all along, " especially in the ninth Chapter of that " Book.

" AND therefore, I fuppofe, they brought thefe Sacrifices, here mentioned, to fome fixed [public] Place, where the Sbechinah, or glorious Prefence of God, appeared. For as they muft have fome fetled Place, where they [publicly] performed facred " Offices,

" Offices, it is most reasonable to think it had, in those early Days, respect to the Shechinah, or Divine Presence, as well as afterwards under the Mosaic Difpensation, [when the Divine Presence refided] in the Tabernacle and Temple. And therefore they are said to appear before God, [Exod. xxiii. 17. xxxiv. 24. Pfal. xlii. 2, & c. or to present themselves before the Lord, Job i. 6." *]

THAT fome visible Token of the Prefence of God appeared in their religious Affemblies in those earliest Days of the Church, and spake and conversed with them, as Occasion required, is evident enough. So the Lord God appeared frequently and familiarly to Adam. He held a Conference with Cain in such a Manner as plainly shews it was no extraordinary thing. And when the Sons, or Children, of God came together to present themselves before the Lord, the Lord is represented as discoursing with Satan about the Character and Circumstances of Job. Job i, 6-12. ii. 1-7.

WHILE Men were not fo numerous, but that they might all affemble together at one Place, probably the Shechinah ftatedly appeared among them every Sabbath. But when they were fo numerous, that they could not ordinarily meet together once a Week, and therefore were under a Neceffity of performing their Worship in feparate and remote Places; yet the Shechinah, or Token of the divine Presence, might still remain and appear as usual in that original Place, where Adam and his immediate Defcendents had first attended upon Divine Service, and where the Patriarchs, in a right Line descended from Adam, had their place of Residence. There, probably, Noab builded his Altar, and there the Lord conversed with him. Gen. viii. 20, $\mathfrak{Cc.}$ ix. 1—18. There Rebekab went to enquire of the Lord. Gen. xxv. 22, 23; and the received an Answer, probably, from the Shechinah or divine Presence.

FROM all this it feems not unlikely, that Cain and Abel's Offerings were performed before the whole Affembly of Adam's Family, (which then must have been confiderably increased,) and that the divine Acceptance of the one, and Rejection of the other, was fignified by fome visible Mark, which appeared and was observed by the whole Congregation. It would add very much to Cain's Difgust to find himself to openly difparaged, and funk fo much in the Favor of God, and the Efteem of the whole Family, below his younger Brother ; over whom, on that fole account, as he was the First-born, he claimed Pre-eminence, and expected, whatever his Character was, pious or impious, to have been preferred before him. THE T.

THE Mark, by which the Lord God teftified his Acceptance of Abel and his Sacrifice, was, probably, a Stream of Fire iffuing from the Shechinah, which confumed his Sacrifice. So Gen. xv. 17. A (moking Furnace and burning Lamp, i. e. the Shechinah, passed between the Pieces of the Sacrifice, and confumed them, in Confirmation of the Covenant. And we have many other Examples of this kind in facred Hiftory ; as when Moles offered the first great Burnt-offering Lev. ix. 24. When Gideon offered upon the Rock. Judg. vi. 21. When David stayed the Plague. I Chron. xxi. 26. And Solomon confectated the Temple. 2 Chron. vii. 13. And when Elijab contended with the Baalites. 1 Kings xviii. 38, &c. whence the Ifraelites, Pfal. xx. 3, withing all Profperity to their King, pray that God would accept [ידשנה] turn into Ashes] bis Burnt-offering.

Ver. 6, 7. THE Lord God reproved Cain for the Difgust and Indignation he had conceived against his Brother, instructing him in the Terms of divine Acceptance. If thou dast well, shalt thou not be accepted? Most certainly — For I have an impartial Regard to true Piety, wherefoever I find it. But if thou dost not well, Sin (i. e. the Punishment of Sin, as Ver. 13, and Chap. xix. 15, and feveral other Places,) lieth couching at the Door, ready to fall upon thee; and unto thee thee shall be bis Defire, and thou shall rule over bim. Three things are here fuggested to appeale his Refentment. I. That the Reason of his not being respected was not in his Brother, but in himself; for if he had done well, he would have been as much respected. 2. That if he did ill, he had no Reason to expect the divine Favor, but the Reverse. 3. That this should not alter his civil Right, nor give Abel any Authority over him, but he should still retain the Privilege of his Birth-right. Note — This shews, that the Privileges of the Birth-right had been previously fettled, either by divine Appointment, or Approbation.

BUT the Rancor of Cain's Mind could not thus be cured. Being of the Wicked One, the Murtherer, who had lately attempted to deftroy all Mankind, he took an Opportunity, and flew his Brother. Poffibly the next Sabbath, Abel's Place being empty in the Affembly of Adam's Family, the Lord addreffed himfelf to Cain, charged him with his Crime, and, in Punishment of it, banished him from the Country, where Adam and his Family refided; by rendering the Ground barren to him, infomuch that, notwithstanding all his Endeavours, it should not yield him any Increase. This would neceffarily oblige him to go feek a Subfiftence in fome other Place. To this Sentence Cain remonstrates as too fevere, [and by the L 2 Bye, Bye, his familiar, indeed too familiar, Manner of answering the Sbechinah, shews, that fuch Appearances of the divine Presence were common and cuftomary] apprehending he should thereby be bid from the Face of the Lord, (Ver. 14.) or deprived of his Care and Infpection, and confidered by all Mankind as a strolling Brute, exposed to their Hatred, and in continual Danger of being destroyed. But God, who for wife and holy Ends often protects and prolongs. the Lives even of very wicked Men, intended that Cain should live ; either that he might have Space to repent, or, being impenitent, might remain a Monument of divine Justice. And therefore, before the whole Affembly, threatened a worfe Punishment than Cain's to the Man, who should, by killing him, defeat the divine Sentence, or frustrate his Grace.

AND the Lord fet a Mark nin upon Cain, &c. In the Hebrew it is, And the Lord fet, or exhibited, a Token to Cain, that no one, who met him, fhould kill him; i. e. gave him fome Pledge or Affurance, declared either in Words, as by an Oath, or by fome outward Token, that his Life fhould be preferved. So the Spies gave Rahab a Token, NCA, NCA, that her Life, and the Lives of all her Relations, fhould be preferved. Joshua ii. 12—14. This Token to Rahab feems to have been a folemn Oath; for the [carlet

Of the Shechinah &c.

fcarlet Cord was not a Token to Rabab, but to the Spies, to diftinguish her House. N. B. I do not find in Scripture, that I we ever fignifies a Mark, or Brand, impressed upon a Man's Body, but always some external Afsurance, or Pledge given by God. Gen. ix. 13. xvii. 11. 1 Sam. ii. 34. xiv. 10. 2 King. xix. 28. Ifai. xxxviii. 7, 8. Jer. xliv. 29, &c. &c.

Ver. 16. AND Cain, by Force of the divine Curfe, went out from the Prefence of the Lord, i. e. out of the Affembly, where the Lord appeared, and was worfhiped, and never injoyed the Bleffings and Advantages, which attended the Affembly, any more.

CHAP, XV.

Of the Shechinah, and Divine Appear-ANCES.

H AVING had Occasion, in the foregoing Chapter, to mention the Skecbinab, (a rabinical Word from 100 to dwell,) which is used to fignify a glorious Appearance, covered, or attended with a Cloud, denoting the extraordinary Presence of God, who is necessfarily every where present; this may be a proper Place to examine the Scripture upon the Point of divine Appearances. They are mentioned in both Parts of the L 3 holy holy Scripture; fometimes without taking any Notice of a vilible Glory, and often expressly mentioning it; as in the following Places. Gen. xv. 17. The Imoking Furnace and Lamp of Fire. אין are justly fuppoled to correspond to the Clud and Pillar of Fire, afterwards mentioned. as reprefenting the divine Prefence. Probably, in a vifible Glory the Lord appeared to Abrabam, Gen. xvii. 1; and to Ijaac, Cop. xxvi. 2; and certainly to Mofes in the Bath. Exod. iii. 2. The Shechinah was also in the Cloud and Pillar of Fire. Exad. xiii. 21. For it was the fame Cloud that afterward refted upon the Tabernacle, when it was fet up, and is called the Cloud of the Lord. Exod. xl. 38. Numb. x. 34. For the Glory of the Lord was within the Tabernacle upon the Mercy-Seat, as the Cloud was on the outfide of it. Exod. xl. 34, 35. And it is there described, as in Exod. xiii. 21. that it appeared as a Cloud upon the Tabernacle by Day, and as a Fire by Night. Exod. xl. 38. Numb. ix. 15, 16.

THUS it conducted and guarded them in their Journeys, [and then alone was ordinarily feen by the whole Congregation] Exod. xl. 36. Numb. ix. 17, 18, &c. [Ifaiab alludes to this Chap. iv. 5, 6.] And, as thus the Token of the divine Prefence went before them, the Lord is faid to go before them, and to lead them by this Cloud. And out of

of this Cloud, or rather from the Glory of the Lord, within the Tabernacle, the Lord fpake unto Moles what he fpake and delivered in the Books of Exodus, Leviticus, and Numbers. Numb. vii. 89. And when Mofes went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, to speak with him, [God,] then he heard the Voice of one speaking unto him from off the Mercy-Seat, that was upon the Ark of the Teftimony, between the two Cherubims, and he spake unto him; agreably to what God had faid. Exod. xxv. 22. I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the Mercy-Seat, from between the two Cherubims, which are upon the Ark of the Testimony, of all things which I will give thee in Commandment unto the Children of Ifrael. And there, as upon a Throne, between the Cherubims, the Glory of the Lord had its Refidence in the holy Place in Solomon's Temple, after it had taken Poffeffion of the Houfe, at the Confectation of it. 1 King. viii. 10, 11. and there it continued till the Babylonish Captivity] Hence God is faid to dwell between the Cherubims. 1 Sam. iv. 4. 2 Sam. vi. 2. 2 King. xix. 15. Pfalm. lxxx. 1, &c. The Glory of the Lord appeared to Ifaiab in the Temple. I/ai. vi. 1. and to Ezekiel, with many awful Circumstances. Ezek. i. 28. iii. 23. x. 4. xi. 23. xliii. 2, 4, 5. xliv. 4. The Glory of the Lord shone round about the Shepherds, and the Angel of the Lord L 4 came came upon them, Luke ii. 8, 9. and to the three Disciples at the Transfiguration, Mat. xvii. 5. While be yet spake, behold, a bright Cloud overschadowed them, and behold, a Voice out of the Cloud, which said, this is my beloved Son, &c. The Shechinab appeared to Saul, Acts ix. 3. Suddenly there shined round about him a Light from Heaven; and to Peter in the Prison. Acts xii. 7.

151

THESE are the most remarkable divine Appearances mentioned in Scripture. Now the Question is, who, in such instances, was the Person that appeared and spake? For Example, Exod. iii. 14, it is written, And God faid unto Mofes, I AM THAT I AM : and be faid, thus shalt thou fay unto the Children of Ifrael, I AM hath fent me unto you. Who was it that fpake to Moles? Or what Notion are we to form of that Being, who pronounced those Words, I AM THAT I AM ? What makes the Enquiry neceffary is this, that in the fecond Verfe it is faid, The ANGEL OF THE LORD appeared in a Flame of Fire out of the midst of a Bush. And yet it is faid, concerning the fame Perfon, Ver. 4. When THE LORD faw that be turned aside to see, GOD called to him out of the midst of the Bush. Ver. 6. Moreover he faid, I am the GOD of thy Father, the GOD. of Abraham, the GOD of Isaac, &c. And, Ver. 14. God faid unto Moles, I AM THAT I AM. Ver. 15. GOD faid unto Mofes, Thus . Ihak

and Divine Appearances.

fhalt thou fay unto the Children of Ifrael, the LORD GOD of your Fathers bath fent me unto you. Now, most certain it is, that it was the ANGEL of the LORD that appeared to Moses. And certain it is, that the Angel of the Lord, that appeared to Moses in the Bush, did, out of the Bush, pronounce the several Sentences I have quoted. It was the Angel of the Lord, who said, I am the GOD of thy Father; I AM THAT I AM. But the Angel of the Lord God, is not the Lord God, whose Angel he is. How then can it be said, that the Lord God appeared and spake to Moses? This is the Difficulty; and the Solution is ready, and very clear.

THE folid and incontestible Foundation of the Solution is laid by our Lord himfelf, who perfectly understood the whole Affair of divine Appearances, in John v. 37. And the Father himself, who bath sent me, bath born Witnefs of me. Ye have neither heard his Voice at any time, nor seen his Shape. John i. 18. No Man bath feen God at any time. He is the invisible God, whom no Man hath feen, or can fee. It is often faid, that the Lord, the most high God, appeared to the Patriarchs, to Moles, and to the Prophets, the Ancestors of the Jews ; but, according to our Lord's Rule, the Appearance, Form, or Shape, which they faw, was not the Appearance of the Lord God himfelf, for never, at any time, did they fee his Shape.

Shape. Again, it is often faid, that the most High God /pake to the Patriarchs, to Mofes, and the Prophets; but our Lord affirms, that they never heard his Voice at any time. How shall we reconcile this feeming Inconfistency?

THE true Solution, according to the Scriptures, is this. That the Lord God never spake or appeared in Person, but always by a Proxy, Nuncius, or Meffenger, who reprefented him, and therefore spake in his Name and Authority, faying, I am God all-fufficient ; I am the God of Abraham; I AM THAT I AM. Which Words were pronounced by an Angel; but are true, not of the Angel, but of God, whom he represented, and upon whole Errand he came. So a Herald reads a Proclamation in the King's Name and Words, as if the King himself were fpeaking. Or, to use a more common instance, so a Brief is published in the King's Name and Language, as if the King himfelf were addreffing the Congregation where it is read. Thus, GEORGE by the Grace of God, &c. whereas it hath been represented to US, &c. therefore they have humbly befought US to grant unto them OUR Letters Patent, &c. unto which their Request WE have gracioufly condescended, &c. But much, furely, would he be mistaken, who should imagine, that the Perfon who reads the Proclamation, or the Brief, was his Majesty KING GEORGE, because

because he useth his Words, and speaks as if the King himself were speaking.

155

THAT this is a true Representation of the Cafe, will appear,

I. FROM the Signification of the Word ANGEL, [מקינאס [אלאד] which is a Greek Word, and both in that Language, and in the Hebrew, fignifies a Meffenger, or Nuncius, an Ambaffador; one who acts and speaks, not in his own Name, or Behalf, but in the Name, Perfon, and Behalf of him that fends him. And thus the Word is frequently rendered in our Translation. And had it always been rendered the Meffenger of the Lord, instead of the Angel of the Lord, the Cafe would have been very plain. But Angel, being a Greek Word. which the English Reader doth not underftand, it throws fome. Obfcurity upon fuch Paffages.

II. IT is in Scripture expressly faid, that it was an Angel, a Nuncius, or Messenger of the Lord, who spake, even when the Lord himself is faid, or supposed to speak. As Gen. xvi. 7. The Angel are found Hagar; and, Ver. 10, faid unto ber, I will multiply thy Seed exceedingly. Gen. xviii. 1. The Lord appeared unto Abraham, Ver. 2. And be lifted up bis Eyes, and lo, three Men, three Angels in the Shape of Men, store Men, three Angels in the Shape of Men, food by bim. Now one of those Men, or Angels, was a Nuncius sent particularly to Abraham; for Ver.

Ver. 10, be faid, as he was fiting at Meat. I will certainly return unto thee; and lo, Sarab shall bave a Son. And Sarah heard it. Ver. 12, and laughed. Ver. 13. And the Lord, i. e. the Angel who spake in the Lord, faid, wherefore did Sarah laugh? Ver. 14. Is any thing too hard for the Lord? At the appointed time I will return unto thee. and Sarab shall bave a Son. Again, Gen. xxii. 15. And the Angel, or Meffenger, of the Lord called unto Abraham out of Heaven, Ver. 16, and faid, by myfelf have I fworn, faith the Lord, that in bleffing I will blefs thee, &c. Upon which Place St. AUSTIN, quoted by Bp. PATRICK in his Commentary upon the Place, argues in this Manner.

" In the Begining of this Chapter, Ver. " 1, 2, we read, that GOD tempted [tried] " Abraham, and bad him go, and offer up " his Son Ifaac; but, Ver. 11, 12, the An-" gel of the Lord called unto him out of "Heaven, and faid, Lay not thy Hands upon " the Lad. What is the Meaning of this ? " Will they fay, that God commanded Ifaac " to be flain, and that his Angel forbad " it ? And that Abraham obeyed the An-"gel, who bid him fpare his Son, against "God, who ordered him to flay him? This " is ridiculous, and not to be endured. The " plain Meaning is, that God spake both "times, in the one Cafe, and the other; " but he spake by an Angel, who was his " Minister.

" Minister. That is the Reason, Angels " fometimes speak as if they were the Lord, " because they spake in the Lord's Name. " Just as when a public Crier in a Court, " pronounces the Sentence of the Judge, " it is not entered in the public Records, " that the Crier pronounced that Sentence, " but the Judge, in whofe Name and Au-" thority the Crier pronounced it." Thus St. AUSTIN. - In Exodus iii. 2. the Angel. Nuncius, or Meffenger of the Lord appeared unto Mofes ; and faid, I am the God of Abrabam; I AM THAT I AM; speaking not of himself, but of the Lord whose Meffenger he was. - Joshua vi. 2. The Lord Said unto Joshua. It appears from Chap. v. 13, 14. that it was not the Lord who fpake, but an Angel, under the Title of the Captain of the Lord's Hoft.

FURTHER, it is evident from every Part of the Law of Moles, that it was given and ordained by God, the LORD, the most high God; and in his Name it is every where worded and enjoined, Exod. XX. 1, 2. And God spake all these Words, saying, I am the Lord thy God. And the Lord said unto Moses. And Moses Said unto the Lord. And yet it appears from repeated Testimonies in the New Testament; that it was not the Lord, who immediately himself spake, either to Moses, or to all the People. Thus Stephen, a Man full of Faith, and of the holy Ghost.

Acts vii. 35. This Moses, whom they refused, - did God fend to be a Ruler, and a Deliver by the Hands of the Angel, or Meffenger, who appeared to bim in the Bush : and who is called the Angel of his, God's, Presence. Isai. lxiii 9. Ver. 28. This [Moses] is he that was in the Church in the Wildernefs, with the Angel who spake to him in Mount Sinai. [Note - it was an Angel. a Meffenger, that spake to Mofes in Mount Sinai.] Ver. 53. — who have received the Law by the Difpolition, in the Conflictutions published by the Ministry, of Angels. Gal. iii. 10. Wherefore then fervetb the Law of Mofes? It was added because of Transgressions, till the Seed should come, to whom the Promise was made; and it, the Law, was ordained by the Ministry of Angels. Heb. ii. 2. For if the Word spoken by Angels was stedfast, meaning the Law given by Moles. That Law was spoken to him, and to all the People, by Angels, who spake, not of themfelves, but what was communicated to them from God.

III. THE Jews very well underftood the Nature of those Manifestations. They knew when a miraculous Voice came to them, speaking as God himself would speak, that it was a Messenger from God, who speak in his Name and Stead, Gen. xvi. 7, 9. The Angel of the Lord appeared and spake to Hagar; yet she knew it was a divine Appearance,

pearance, and that the Angel perfonated the most high God. Therefore, Ver. 12. she called the Name of the LORD, that fpake unto her, Thou God feest me. - Gen. xxxii. 24. There wrefiled a Man with Jacob. Now Facob knew that Man was a Meffenger from God ; and therefore, Ver. 30. be called the Name of the Place Peniel; for I have feen GOD Face to Face, i. e. I have feen an evident Manifestation from God. - The common Token, that fuch were divine Manifestations, was the Glory which attended the Meffenger, who pronounced the Words of the Meffage. And whenever that Glory appeared, the Yews knew the Meffage came from God, whoever it was that brought it. Thus Luke ii. 9. The Angel of the Lord came upon the Shepherds, and the Glory of the Lord (hone round about them. They knew the Glory they faw was not the Glory of the Angel, but a Token of the divine Prefence and Authority, fignifying that the Message came from the Lord. Therefore they fay, Ver. 15. Let us now go — and fee this thing, which the LORD hath made known unto us. And fo Saul knew the Light fhining from Heaven, was the Glory of the Lord, and an infallible Proof of a divine Manifestation. And, 2 Pet. i. 17. He, our Lord Jesus Christ, received from God the Father, Honor and Glory, when there came Juch a Voice unto him from the excellent Glory, this this is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleafed. Whoever the Meffenger was that uttered thefe Words, the Difciples, that faw the Transfiguration on the Mount, knew that the thing came from God the Father; because the Voice, or Words, came from the excellent Glory, or the Shechinah.

It is very remarkable, that when our Lord was exalted to universal Dominion, at the Right-Hand of God, as Head of the Church, he also had his ANGEL, Nuncius, or Meffenger, whom he dispatched upon the Affairs of his Government. Rev. i. 1. The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his Servants things which must shortly come to pass; and be, Jesus, fent and fignified it by his ANGEL unto bis Servant John. And therefore, though the glorious Appearance, Rev. i. 13-17. is rightly understood of our Lord, yet it was not he in Perfon, but his ANGEL, Nuncius, or Meffenger, who reprefented him, and appeared and fpake in his Name. And fo in other Places of the Revelation; where, neverthelefs, our Lord may justly be fupposed to appear and speak.

WE may here observe, that it hath been commonly supposed, that our Lord, before his Incarnation, was the ANGEL that appeared in the Shechinah, and spake to Adam and the Patriarchs, to Moses and the Prophets, and is called the Angel of his Presence, Isii. lxiii. 9.

and Divine APPEARANCES.

In all their Affliction he was afflicted, and the Angel of his Presence saved them; in his Love and in his Pity be redeemed them, and be bare them, and carried them all the Days of old. To this Purpole they understand, John xii. 41. Thefe things faid Esaias, when be faw his Glory and spake of him, i. e. " faw, at that time, the Glory of Cbrift, " who was then the Medium of Divine " Manifestations, and spake of him, and of " his times, or what would happen with " refpect to the Reception of the Gofpel, " when he fhould preach it to the Jews." [Dr. Dodderidge.] But, when he faw his Glory, may be well interpreted, " when he [Efaias] " forefaw his Glory, or the glorious Ma-" nifestations, which God intended to make " of himfelf to the Jews by his Son." [Dr. Clarke.] So John viii. 56. Abraham faw, forefaw, my Day, and was glad. Thus alfo, as he tabernacled among the Jews in the Cloud of Glory, they judge be was in the Form of God, Phil. ii. 9; which Form, or Likeness, he was not greedy of retaining, but emptied bimself of it, and took upon bim the Form of a Servant. But this Form, or Likeness of God, may refer to the Glory which he had with the Father before the World was, John xvii. 5. With regard to which he may also be faid to be the Image of God, 2 Cor. iv. 4. — the Image of the invisible God, Col. i. 15. — the Brightness of bis Glory, М

However, I should willingly admit that fuch Expressions refer to the glorious Appearances of the Sbechinab under the Old Testament, were it not for this Objection, that our Lord must then be suppoled to publish the Law, and to profide over the Jewish Dispensation, as well as over the Gospel; which seems to be quite inconfistent with John i. 17. The Law was given by Mofes, but Grace and Truth came by Jefus Chriss. See also Heb. i. 1, 2. ii. 2. ment of which, he ftooped to far as to take upon hint our Nature, and, not as perfonating God, but in Quality of a Prophet fent from God, to publish among us in his own Perfon, and Name, the Promife of eternal Life.

AND muff not this bring us under greater Obligations to attend to him ; and be fufficient to diffinguish him as acting in delivering the Law, and preaching the Gofpel ? He that was in the Form of God, and reprefented God, when the Law was delivered, and who delivered it by the Ministry of Angels and of Moses; that tranfcendently glorious Perfon afterwards became a Man. and in his own Perfon, and by his own Ministry, delivered to us the Gospel. Doth not this, in a very peculiar Manner, recommend to us the Gofpel, and oblige us to attend to its Doctrines ? Heb. i. 1, 2. God, who at fundry Times, and in divers Manner's, spake in Time past unto the Fathers BY THE PROPHETS, hath in thefe last Days spoken unto us BY HIS SON, Sc. God always fpake by Proxy. And the Apoltle might fpeak as he doth, although it be true, that our Lord was the Proxy of Deity under the Old Testament Dispensation. For the Apostle here confiders, not who was the Proxy of Deity, but by whom he immediately spake to the Fathers in the Jewish Church, and to us in the Christian Church. And the Opposition lieth between, not the Proxies or Representatives of Deity, but between THE PROPHETS in the former Difpendation, and THE SON OF GOD in the latter. By his Son, as his Proxy, he foake to the Prophets, and by the Prophets he foake to the Old Testament Fathers. But under the New Teffament his well beloved Son, who before was indeed in the Form of God, as his Proxy, himfelf became a Prophet, and in the Form of a Man spake to us immediately as a Prophet.

But fuppofing our Lord was the Angel, who appeared and fpake under the Old Teftament, yet it must be remembered, that he appeared and fpake only as an Angel, or Nuncius from God. Which Character he expressly fustains, Mal. iii. 1.—and אתפו, or Lord, whom ye feek, shall fuddenly come to bis Temple; even אלאך מלאך the Meffenger, Angel, of the Covenant, [not the Sinai, but the Gospel Covenant,] whom ye delight in.

CHAP. XVI.

Of the GLORY OF THE LORD, as it bath relation to the SHECHINAH, or Drvine APPEARANCES.

T is deferving of our further Observation, that the Shechinah, or divine Appearances, as a Token of God's Presence, and of his Guidance, Encouragement, and Protection of his People, is often mentioned in the old Testament under the Character of THE GLORY OF JEHOVAH. As in Exodus xvi. 7, 10. xxiv. 16. Lev. ix. 6, 23. Num. xiv. 10, 21, 22. xvi. 19. xx. 6. Hebrew ix. 5.—the Cherubim of the glory, i. e. the Glory of Jehovah, dwelling between the Cherubim, over the Mercy-seat. St. Peter alludes to this, 2 Epist. i. 17.—there came a Voice from the excellent Glory. This Token of God's Prefence

Of the GLORY OF THE LORD. 165 fence is otherwife called his Prefence, Exodus xxxiii. 14. and his Name, as that fignifieth a Mark of Diffinction or Eminence. Deut. xii. 5. 2 Chron. vii. 16.

CERTAINLY it was the peculiar Honor and Advantage of the Ifraelites, that they had fuch a public visible Manifestation of the Prefence and Favor of God; [Rom. ix. 4. Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the Glory, or the glorious Manifestations of God.] And was well adapted to that Difpensation of the Church; especially in the early times of its Inftitution under Moles, when they could not, by abstract Reafoning, be fo well acquainted with the Nature and Perfections of God; and therefore flood in need of fome extraordinary vifible Token, to strike and affect their Minds with a Senfe of his Prefence, Power, Authority, Favor and Protection.

AND as the Glory of the Lord appeared publicly in Favor of the Ifraelites, to guard and guide them, when they left the Land of Egypt; fo the Glory of the Lord is ufed figuratively to denote, in general, his fpecial Bleffing, Favor, Prefence, and Protection, upon any Occafion. Ifaiab lviii. 8. Is it not to deal thy Bread to the Hungry, &cc. Then shall thy Light, Prosperity, break forth as the Morning, and thy Health shall spring forth speedily: and thy Righteousness, [Salvation, Saviour] shall go before thee, THE GLO-M 3

Arife, fhine; for thy Light, Happinefs, is come, and THE GLORY OF JEHO-VAH is rifen upon thee. Thus it is figuratively to denote the divine Favor and Guardianship.

AND in the fame Manner it is applied to the Christian Church, as denoting all the Light and Bleffings, Grace, and Glory of the Gofpel. Num. xiv: 21. But as truly as I live, all the Earth shall be filled with MY GLORY; speaking of the Gospel, in Contradiction to the Jewish Peculiarity. Ifa. xxxv. 1, 2. The Wilderness of the solitary Place shall be glad for them; and the Defert shall rejoice and blof-Jam as the Roje, &c. They shall see THE GLO-RY OF JEHOVAH, and the Excellency of our God. Ifai. xl. 3, 4, 5. The Voice of him that crieth in the Wilderness, prepare ye the Way of the Lord; make straight in the Defert a bigb way for our God. Every Valley shall be exalted, &c. And THE GLORY OF IE-HOVAH shall be revealed, and all flesh shall fee it together, ['m' compleatly, or in it's Perfection.] for the Mouth of the Lord bath Spoken it. Hab. ii. 14. For the Earth shall he filled with the Knowledge of the GLORY OF GOD, as the Waters cover the Sea.

ALL

ALL these Passages are to be understood of the Gospel Manifestations of God's Grace, which is his Glory. Excodus xxxiii. 18, 19. And Moses faid, I befeeeb thee, shew me thy Glory. And be faid, I will make all my Goodness pass before thee, and I will proclaim the Name of Jebouab before thee; namely, as in Chap. xxxiv. 6, 7, The Lord—proclaimed, The Lord, the Lord God merciful, and gracious, &c. The Goodness and Mercy of the Lord is the Glory of the Lord.

AND observe, how the Apostle, 2 Cor. iii. 13-18, alludes to the Glory of the Shechinah, with which Mofes converfed in the Mount; and which impressed such a Splendor upon his Countenance, as obliged him to cover it with a Veil, when he returned to the People; who otherwise could not bear to look upon the exceffive Brightnets of the Glory of God, reflected from his, Moles's Face. In allusion to this Veil, obscuring the Brightness of Mofes his Countenance, the Apostle informs us, Ver. 14, 15. that there was an Obscurity, a Veil over his Writings; which Veil, after Chrift was come, and had taken it away, from the Old Testament, the Jews, through unbelief, transferred to their own Hearts, and fo remained ignorant of the true Meaning of Males and the Prophets. But, Ver. 18. we all, [all we Christians, in Opposition to the blinded Jews. Ver. 13, 14.] we all with open, M 4. unveiled

John i. 14. The Word was made Flefb, and EGRMVWGEV dwelt, tabernacled, among us; and we, as well as his first Disciples, beheld the Glory of Jefus Christ, as of the only begotten Son of God, full of Grace and Truth. The Son of God became a Man subject to like Frailties with us, and lived and converfed freely amongst Men; teaching them fully and plainly the great Truths relating to God's gracious Purpofes concerning the Redemption and eternal Salvation of Mankind. And thus God, and his merciful Regards to Men, his Prefence in his Church, and his Power, ingaged to keep his Servants, and to bring them to the Poffeffion of eternal Life, is more clearly and illustrioufly manifested in the Gospel, than his favorable Prefence and Protection were by the Shechinab in the Temple, or in any other Place, among the Israelites.

WE, who under the Gospel Dispensation, are so well acquainted with the Nature and Perfections of God, do not stand in need of any extraordinary visible Token of the Divine Presence. The glorious Truths of the Gospel, Gospel, revealed by Jefus Christ, are our Shechinab, shining from him upon our Minds, and filling them with Comfort and Joy, in the affured Hope of his present Care and Blessing, and of the Possessin of Glory, Honor and Immortality in the future World. And this is to us a Shechinab, infinitely preferable to the visible Appearances in the Church of Old.

The SCRIPTURE-CHRONOLOGY from the CREATION to the DELUGE.

Gen. 5th Chapter.

Y E are now got as far as the Deluge. And here, according to Moles, who here begins his Genealogies, is the proper Place for confidering how far we are advanced in the Age, or Chronology, of the World. For in this Chapter he gives the Names and Ages of the Patriarchs from Adam to Noab. together with the Age of every Father, at the time when every Son was born. And if we add together the Ages of the Fathers. when their feveral Sons were born, and the Years of Noab's Life at the Time of the Deluge, we shall form Chronological Tables of the best Authority, from the Creation to the Deluge, after this Manner.

Years

ACCORDING to Table I. if you add together the Years from the Creation of And, as Adam lived in all 930 Years, as in Table Adam to the Birth of Methulelah you will find that Adam was 687 Years old there will remain 243, which is the Year of rears with RES. 595 8 Lived with Noah lived 243 16t6 Years from the Creation to the Flood. mabh diw bevid 905 965 965 77 77 77 E. from the CREATION to the DELUCE. 371 Adam. In the fame Way of Computation you may find how long any of the junior Patrianche lived with Allom as in Table IV.

Le to the Year of Enos's Life, when Caiman was horn, and to the Year of Lamerb's Life, mbon Neab was horn, you add all the intermediate Years, you will find they are 821, which is the Age of Enos when Neab was born: but Enos lived 905 Years; from which fulfitract 821, and the remainder is 84. the Number of Years in which old Enos and young Neab were Cotemporaries. And in the fame Way you may find how long any of the fenior, preceding Patriarchs, lived with Neab, as in Table V.

So likewife if you add together the Years from the Birth of Methufelab to the Flood, you will find them to be 969; which is just the Time that Methufelab lived, as in Tuble HI. Hence we may conclude, that Methufelab died just before the Flood came; and Naab being then 600 Years old, he had lived just fo long with Methufelab.

So again, if you add the Years from the Birth of Lamach to the Flood, you will find them to be 782 Years; and whereas Lameab lived but 777 Years, it follows, that Lamach died five Years before the Flood came. Therefore, all the Patriarchs, except Noah, were dead, when Neah entered into the Ank.

FROM

172 The Scripture-Chronology

FROM the above Account it appears, that Methulelah lived with Adam 243 Years, and doubtless conversed with him the greatest Part of that time; and fo, had Opportunity abundantly sufficient to receive from Adam an Account of what he knew concerning the Creation, and all the Transactions and Events contained in the first four Chapters of Genefis. And as Noab lived 600 Years with Methulelab, he had time fufficient to learn the fame Account from him, and may well be supposed to have carried it with him intire into the Ark. And this may be one Reason of the Longevity of the Antediluvians; which must be refolved into the fole Will of God, and can be accounted for no other Way. They lived fo long, in order to preferve, and hand down to Posterity, religious Knowledge, in that Period of time when it could not be committed to Writing; and when it would have been either totally loft, or miferably depraved, had Men lived no longer than 70 or 80 Years. Befides, their Longevity contributed to the more fpeedy peopling of the World, and to the bringing of necessary Arts, in Tillage, Building and Clothing, to a greater Perfection.

Ver. I. גָּה כַפָּר תוּלְדת ארם This is the Book of the Generations of Adam, that is to fay, this is the Pedegree, or the Genealogy of the Descendants of Adam. So Mat. i. I. The from the CREATION to the DELUGE. 173 The Book of the Generation, is the Generalogy of Jesus Christ.

Ver. 3. As we know that Adam had both Cain and Abel before Setb was born, fo both he, and the other Patriarchs, might have feveral other Children before those that are named in this Llst; it being, probably, the Defign of Moses to set down only those Perfons, by whom the Line of Noab was drawn from Setb, by their true Ancestors, whether they were the eldest of the Family, or not.

Ver. 21.—and begat Methuselah. It is the ingenious Conjecture of Ainfworth, that is a Word compounded of שתושלה be dieth, and ושלח for ומשלח and an Emifion; as much as to fay, When he dieth, there Shall be an Emission, or Inundation, of Waters. Thus Enoch may be supposed to have predicted the Deluge in the Name, which he gave his Son Metbuselab, with this particular Circumstance, that the Deluge should happen in the Year, in which his Son should die; as it certainly did. However we have the Authority of an Apostle, that Enoch was a Prophet, and did forefee, and foretel the Deluge to that Generation of Men. Jude ver. 14, 15. And Enoch alfo, the feventh from . Adam, prophefied of these, or of fuch Men as these, Jaying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his Saints, or with Myriads of his holy Angels, to execute Judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds, which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard, unreasonable, contumacious, blafphemious Speeches, which angodly Sinners have spoken against him. This, I apprehend; in its primary Intention, is a Prediction of the Deluge, by which God would punish that implous Race, which then inhabited the Earth. But as their Defiruction by the Deluge is made an Example of the Vengeance' which God will execute upon all impenitently Wicked at the last Day, (2 Pet. ii. 5.) fo Enoch's Prophecy will fuit the Wicked of all Ages, who shall certainly meet with a like Reward of their Deeds.

Ver. 22. אללהים זיתהלך תנוך ארת And Enoch walked diligently with, or unto, God, and in a Manner agreable and pleafing, to God. And fo did Noab, Chap. vl. g. In this Construction (with its) Triffic is used but once more, I Sam. xxv, 15; and there it implies Friendship and Benevolence on the Part of those they conversed with. Therefore the Apostle rightly inferts the Idea of pleasing God in the Account he gives of Enoch's Translation, Heb. xi. 5, 6; and argues well, that Enoch's pleating God; was the Effect of his Faith in God, and in For without Faith it is imfuture Reward. poffible to pleafe God, or to walk with, or to come unto him, as Enoch did. For he that cometh unto God, muft, in the very nature of [Observe - pleasing God; coming units God, and diligently fashing bim, are fyoony mous, and all included in the Senferof walking with God.]. By Faith Enoch lead a very religious and heavenly Life. His Thoughts. and Affections were removed from things: below, and fixed upon things above; He had a deep Sense of God and his Perfections, delighted in his Ways, behaved as atways in his Sight, and constantly studied to please him, and promote his Glory. Being of a Character fo excellent, and withal a Perfon of eminent Note, and great Industry in oppofing the growing Wickednefs of the World, God was pleafed to reward his Piety, and give the reft of Mankind a Demonftration of a future State of Glory, the Inheritance of the holy and virtuous, by translating him alive, without feeing Death, into Heaven. It is not improbable, that he was translated in some visible Manner as Elijab was afterwards, by a glorious Appearance of the Sbeebineb, from whence fome heavenly. Minifiers might be detached to convey him to a better World. This happened 57 Years after Adam's Death, in the Year of the World-987, and 669 Years before the Deluge.

Lamech might give his Son this Name when he found he had an extraordinary Genius for Agriculture, and was likely by his useful Inventions, to diminish the very great Toil, which had hitherto attended the Tillage of the Earth. But it is a Relation we can chuse for ourselves. And in a Cafe of fo great Importance, we should neither follow the Lust of Covetousness, nor of carnal Defires, but the Rules of Religion, and the Fear of God.

THUS, notwithstanding the divine Manifestations, and the Preaching of Enoch and Noab, and, probably, of other good Men, the Contagion of Wickedness by Degrees infected the whole Earth, and turned it into a Scene of Impiety, Lewdness, and Injustice. The Issue, of the aforestaid diforderly Marriages, joined the worst Part; and growing up without any Sense of Religion and N 178

In Relation to this fad Condition of the World, the first thing that God declared, probably, from the Shechinah in the thin Affembly of his Worshipers, was this, (Ven. 3.) My Spirit shall not always strive with Man, &cc. This is the Spirit (1 Pet. in 19, 20.) by which our Lord went and preached [not in Person, but by such Preachers as Ernach and Noab, 2 Pet. ii. 5.] unto the Spirits [which are now, i. e. at the time of the Apostle's writing] in Prison, [confined in the State of the Dead, and referved in fast Cultody Of the DELUCE.

Violence, or Coaction cannot make him good, and he will not attend to any Methods of Perfusiion. But where the Reformation of moral Agents cannot be effected, it is fit and reafonable that they fhould be deftroyed; for it is to no Purpole to continue in being a Race of Creatures, who live in direct Oppolition to the Perfections of God, and all the wife and good Ends of their Creation; and who therefore might as well never have been made at all; becaufe rendered utterly incapble of honouring God their Maker, of injoying themselves, or being useful to others. It must be inconfistent with the divine Perfections, and all the good and wife Ends of his Government, to make that Life the Object of his providential Care and Liberality, which is thus miferably perverted. On the contrary, fuch are the Nufance, Corruption, Diforder, and Plague of the Creation; and for that Reafon it is agreable, not only to Justice, but to Goodnefs, and Beneficence that N_2 fuch ĆOROLLARY. I. Religion and Virtue are the Soul and Support of the Universe; which being totally taken away, ne Reason can be given why any Worlds or Agents should exist.

COROLLARY. II. The holy Scriptures, which affure us the Wagss of Sin is Death, and conftantly affirm, that the impenitent Workers of Iniquity (hall be der ftroyed, do give us infallibly a just and true Account of things, which demands the whole Attention of our Minds.

And the great God might destroy them in what Way he should judge most proper, without any Injustice on his Part, or on the Part of any Agents which he might employ. He might have destroyed them by Fire from Heaven, as Sodom, &cc. Or by Pestilence, or by destroying Angels, I Cbron. xxi. 12, 27. 2 Cbron xxxii. 21. Nor that the divine Wifdom intended to extirpate the human Race; the Defign was not to extirpate, but to reform ; and therefore the Lord was graciously pleased to refpite the Judgment, the impious World had deferved, for 120 Years, Ver. 3. This was to fhew that he had no Pleafure in their Deftruction, and to give them Space for Repentance, that their Ruin, if poffible, might be prevented. Thus the long-suffering of God waited for the Conversion of the dilobedient in the Days of Noah, while the Ark was preparing, 1 Pet. iii. 20. Noab was an excellent Person, a just Man and perfect, who, like Enoch, walked with God, Ver. 9. Him and his Family God was pleafed gracioufly to preferve; that from fo good a Stock the human Race might be again propagated, and Religion reftored in the World. With him God purposed to establish bis Covenant, or Grant of Bleffings, Ver. 18. The Grace of God to Mankind, especially the grand Scheme of Redemption, was not to fail, or to be sufpended; therefore the Lord directed Noab to build a Veffel in shape like a large Cheft, every Way convenient for floting up-N₃ on on the Waters, and for containing all the Creatures, which it was to receive, Verfe 20. * [See PIERCE on Heb. xi. 7.] Noab without Delay expressed his humble and entire Faith in the divine Warning; and in Obedience to it, applied himself to the building of the Ark, for the faving of himself and Family, (Heb. xi. 7.) by the which be condemned the unbelieving and impenitent World, and became heir of the Righteousfness, [or became intitled to the Salvation] which is by Faith.

NOT B—Naab is commonly, and I think, justly supposed to have been 120 Years in building the Ark, for that was the time the long-fuffering of God waited; which time of long-suffering was, while the Ark was in preparing, as in 1 Pet. iii. 20. At the Begining of this time, Noab's three Sons, Shem, Ham and Japhet, were not born; for Noab was now but 480 Years old, and none of his forefaid Sons were born till he was 500. Chap. v. 32. And therefore, that Paragraph, Verse 17, &cc. wherein mention is made of Noab's Sons, Shem, Ham and Japhet, and their Wives, must have been spoken after the Ark was finished.

AND now, how were the careless and impenitent Unbelievers furprized ! When all on a fudden the most terrible Rains and Inundations threatened their inevitable Destruction. How would they be terrified! How would they condemn their own Unbelief, and be forced to own there was a just and righteous God, who will execute Vengeance on all the incurable Workers of Iniquity! Chap. vi. 17. AND behald I, even I, by my own immediate Operation, do bring a Flood of Waters upon the Earth, to deftroy all Flefs. The Word DEl in its primary Senie, doth not include the Idea of a Flood ; it comes from unich, with Relation to Plants and Animals, originally fignifies, to be to exhausted of natural Moifture and Spirits, in which their Life confifts, as to be withered, or dead. And it is apa plied peculiarly to the Deluge, and to nothing but that, under the Notion of Extinction of Life ; and fo the Phrafe D'n may be translated, an Extinction of Life by Waters. It is only used in Gen. Chapters the 6th, 7th, oth, 10th; and in Plal. xxix. 10. The Lord Juteth [] w' fat, or did fit] upon, or at, the Flood, the Extinction of Life at the Deluge. He then fat upon the Seat of Judgment executing Vengeance upon that wicked Generation; yea, the Lord fiteth King for ever. AINSWORTH upon Pfal. xxis. 10.

THIS Difpensation, as all the reft, had relation to the Morals of Mankind; and the evident Defign of it was to leffen the Quantity of Vice and Profaneness, and to preferve and advance Religion and Virtue in the Earth, the great End for which the Earth, and Man in it, were created. This End it was well adapted to obtain in the then prefent State of things, and in all future Generations. In the prefent prefent State of things, it prevented a total Corruption. For if the whole tainted Part had not been cut off, a fingle Family would foon have been drawn in, or deftroyed; and then the whole Globe must have been ruined, and the Schemes and Purpofes of God from the Begining of the World, had been defeated. But by referving a felect Family for the Continuation of the human Species, the System of the divine Counfels were preferved intire, and the most proper Method was deviled for the Establishment of Religion and Virtue in the new World; as the Family of Noah enjoyed much greater Advantages for this End, than the Family of Adam at the Begining of things.

NOAH was not, like Adam, a new, unexperienced Being, ignorant of every thing, but what he received from Revelation. Noab, belides the Benefit of Revelation, and Intercourfe with Heaven, had the whole Compais of ancient antediluvian Knowledge from the Creation, in his own Poffeffion. He was a Man of the most eminent Abilities, and the most steady Integrity. Adam was eacily feduced; but in the midft of an universal Degeneracy, Noab firmly adhered to Truth and Religion; and when he was warned of God to prepare the Ark, even 120 Years before the Deluge, or any Appearances of it, to frong was his Faith, or Perfusion coforthe divine Power, Juffice, and Veracity, that he applied himfelf to the Work.

Work, and compleated it, furrounded as he was with the Infidelity and Contempt of all the World. A Man of fo much Underftanding, and of fuch a Spirit, would not fail to communicate all he knew to his Pofterity, nor to inculcate it ftrongly upon their Hearts.

BUT his Family, Shem, Ham, and 7aphet, with their Wives, were Eye-Witneffes of the dreadful Inundation, and had the most affecting Proof of their own Deliverance. They refided full twelve Months in the Ark, from the Begining of the Deluge, to the End of it. And it is eafy to conceive how they would be affected in fuch a moving Situation. They knew this flocking Cataftrophe was not an unfortunate Accident, but occafioned by the Wickedness of the World ; therefore all the Terrors of the Deluge must give them the most fensible Perception of the malignant Nature of Wickednefs, that it is infinitely odious to God, and dreadfully pernicious to Sinners. They must be convinced of the uncontrolable Power and Dominion of the most High, the Imposfibility of efcaping his Vengeance, what a fearful thing it is to fall into his Hands, and how much they were obliged, both in Intereft and Duty, to reverence and obey him. On the other Hand, their Prefervation from fo terrible a Calamity, in the midst of the Ruins of all the World befides, must be a verv a very striking Demonstration of God's Favor and Compatition to themfelves ; which was naturally adapted to make the deepedt Impressions of Gratitude, Love, and Duty Especially as they could not but he fentible; that such a great and miraculous Deliverance was particularly owing to the eminent Fiety of their Father, Grn. vii. 1. Thus they would be well prepared and disposed to acknowledge and admit the Excellency of those Principles and Fractices which had been, through divine Goodness, their Security in the general Defolation.

AND when they left the Ark, all the difmal Appearances of the defotate World. the Ruins of Palaces, Towns, and Cities. the fadly changed Face of Countries, which they had feen in a cultivated, floorifhing State, the Bones of Men and other Animals, frewed over all the Face of the Earth would have a natural Tendency to fix upon their Minds the good Impressions they had received in the Ark, and render them folicitous to inculeate the Principles of Religion upon their Children. Add to all this, that Noab, who lived 340 Years after the Flood, and whole pious Admonitions would be of much greater Weight and Authority, than when he was an unfuccessful Preacher of Righteoufness to the Antediluvians, was the Infructor, and, for some time at least, the Governor of the new World.

FROM all this it will appear, that this was a very just and proper Dispensation for reforming Mankind, and reftoring Religion in the Earth ; well adapted to that thoughtless Age, (when they seem not to have attained to any confiderable Degree of Reafoning, and therefore not difpoled to be wrought upon by Argument) and to the State of things in it, when no regular civil Governments and Laws were formed for the Administration of Justice, and the Restraint of Injury and Wrong. And it appears to have had the intended Effect, by suppreffing Violence and Rapine, which never any more universally prevailed in the World; and by fixing a Senfe of Religion upon the Minds of Men, which afterwards was indeed perverted, but not quite extinguished, And as it stands recorded in facred Writ. It is a Warning to the remotest Generations. In which View it is referred to 2 Pet. ii. 5. And [God] spared not the old World, but faved Noah, the eighth Person, a Preacher of Righteousness, bringing in the Flood upon the World of the Ungodly; and turning the Cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into Ashes making them an Example unto those that afterwards should live ungodly.

CHAP. XIX.

Of NOAH's Sacrifice, and the Divine Intercourfe on that Occasion.

Gen. viii. to the End of the ixth Chapter.

NOAH, being reftored to the Possession of the Earth, entered upon it with a folemn Act of Divine Worthip, according the original Institution, Gen. viii. 20. He builded an Altar unto the Lord, and took of every clean Beast, and of every clean Fowl, i. e. of fuch Beafts and Fowls as God had ordained for Sacrifices, and offered Burnt. Offerings upon the Altar. Which as they were intended to denote, fo they were in Noab accompanied with, Faith in the Mercy of God, Thankfulness for the late miraculous Deliverance, and the Dedication of himfelf, and of all his, to the Honor and Obedience of God, through the promifed Redeemer; of whom Noah and the Patriarchs, we may well suppose, had a general Knowledge and Expectation. The Acceptableness of this Act of Devotion to God, is fignified by his smelling a sweet Savour, ריח הניח Ver. 21. This one may call Hieroglyphic Language. Hieroglyphics, which by bodily Senfations, or external Representations, tions, denoted abstract Notions, or the Sentiments of the Mind, were the Literature of the first Ages of the World. So here, the Approbation of the Judgment, or what is pleasing to the Mind, is signified by an Odor or Fragrance grateful to the Smell. Or the Taste and Relish of the Body is transferred to the Taste and Relish of the Mind. This Language is frequently used in the Levitical Law. As in Lev. i. 9, 13, 17. il. 2, 6. iii. 5, Gr. meaning the Acceptableness of the Sacrifice of Offering. So the Fragrance of Burnt-Incense represents the Acceptables ness of fincere Frayer, Pfal. cult. 2. Lado i. 10. Rev. vill 3, 4.

IT is also applied, in the fame Schle, to the Offering and Sacrifice of our Lord, Epbel v. 2. And walk in Love, as Christ also bath loved us, and bath given himself for us, an Offering and Satrifics to God for a floest Smetling Savour. God, who is a Spirit, can relish, or be pleased with, only that which is morally, or fpiritually good, the Love and Obedience of the Heart. This is the only Savour that is grateful to him. And therefore, the Sacrifice of our Lord must have been an actual Exhibition of Obedience and Love; and the Szcrifices of Noals, and of the Hrachites, must have been hieroglyphid Representations of, or Instructions in, the like moral Dispositions, in order to express, or produce them in the Hearts of the Worshipers.

Of NOAH's Sacrifices

chipers. Smelling a fweet Savour is plainly hieroglyphic, or figurative Language, and therefore the Sacrifice, or Offering, the Object of fuch smelling, must also be figuras tive, representing those good Dispositions, which were, or ought to have been, in the Worshiper's Heart, and which were in the highest and most perfect Degree in our Lord. The Sacrifice of a clean Beaft or Fowl figuratively represented what the Worshiper was, or ought to be and do ; and our Lord really was, and perfectly did what the Sacrifice represented. Hence Sacrifice is applied to beneficent Actions, or Actions morally good, and pleafing to God, Pfal. iv. 5. 1. 14, 23. Pbil. iv. 18. Heb. xiii. 15, 16. And in the Book of Wifdom is applied to the whole of a virtuous Life, as Gold in the Furnace bath be tried them, [afflicted good Men,] and rea ceived them as a Burnt-Öffering.

THE Smell, or Savour, of a Perfon, or thing, is the Quality of it, good or evil, which occasions the Approbation or Diflike of those that pair a Judgment upon it. Exod. V. 21. You have made Judgment upon it. Exod. V. 21. You have made I' our Savour, that in us which is the Object of Pharaoh's Judgment, to be abborred, to stink, in the Eyes; the Opinion, of Pharaoh. So Gen. xxxiv. 30. Jer. xluiii. 1.1. Moab hath been at Ease from his Youth; and be hath fettled on his Lass, - therefore his Taste, Will his Sam maineth in him, and his Scent, I'l his Sam vour. his bad Qualities, is not changed. 2 Cor. ii. 14, 15, 16. Now Thanks be unto God. who always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketb manifest, displays, the Savaur, The orum the excellent Qualities, of bis Knowledge, the Knowledge of Christ, by us in every Place. For we are to God, sublicar, the fweet fmelling Savour of Christ, [i. e. my Ministry is to God a Sacrifice of a sweet fmelling Savour, which I offer unto him on the Behalf of Christ. See Rom. xv. 16.] both in regard of them that are faved, and also of them that perish. [For in both Cases the Counfels and Schemes of divine Wildom are accomplished.] Though to the one we are, ooun, the Savour of Death unto Death; and to the other we are the Savour of Life unto Life. [i. e. to the Minds of the one my Preaching is offensive; and rejecting it, they are advancing towards eternal Death; to the Minds of the other it is grateful and pleafing; and embracing it they are advancing towards Life eternal.] And who is fufficient for these things of so great Consequence? Note — A Savour of Death unto Death, is a Savour which occasions their advancing towards eternal Death.

UPON the folemn Occafion of Neak's Sacrifice, the Lord faid in his Heart, i. e. determined, or refolved, that he would not again curfe the Ground any more for Man's Sake; (Chap. viii. 21.) for ['? though] the Imagination

Of NOAH's Sacrifice.

Imagination of Man's Heart is [should be] evil from bis Youth. From bis Youth, denotes a Corruption of Manners of long Continuance. See Isai. xlvii. 12, 15. Jer. iii. 25. Ezek. xxiii. 8. See alfo Job xxxi. 18. The Lord was alfo pleafed to repeat to Noab and his Sons the fame Bleffing upon the Propagation of the human Species, and the fame Marks of Diffinction upon our Nature, as he had given Adam at his Creation, with an additional Grant of animal Food, (Chap. ix. 2, 4.) with this Reftriction, that they should not eat the Flesh of an Animal in the Life thereof, the Blood thereof; or that they should not eat any Flesh cut off from any Animal while it is alive. At the fame time God made a Covenant with Noah, and with every living Creature, or he made a free and abfolute Grant, or Promife to them, that all Flesh should not any more be cut off with the Waters of a Flood. Of which more hereafter.

WHAT is here particularly to be obferved is, the Inftitution of Magistracy, and the Punishment of Murder. Ver. 6. Whoso sheds Man's Blood, by Man shall bis Blood be shed. Ver. 5. And furely your Blood of your Lives will I require, at the Hand of every Beast will I require it; and at the Hand of Man, at the Hand of every Man's Brother, will I require the Life of Man. The Beast that killed, or the Man that murdered a O Man, Man, is here commanded to be put to Death by Man, i. e. by the Magistrate, or Judge. Here Courts of Judicature are authorized, not only for the Punishment of Murder, but, by Parity of Reason, of any other great Offences, which may affect Life nearly as much as Murder.

THIS feems to be the original Institution of Magistracy, of which we have not hitherto the least Intimation in the facred HHftory. On the contrary, it appears from the Cafe of Cain, (Gen. iv. 15.) and of Lamech, (Gen. iv. 23, 24.) that Murder, the greatest of Crimes, was left to be punified. as God in his Providence should fee fit. And if Murder, much more every leffer inflance of Injury. It leems probable, there were no feparate States, nor regular Governments, among the Antediluvians; but that as they spread over the Face of the Earth, they removed further from the Place of public Worthip, loft a Senfe of God, and fived in a diforderly Manner, exercifing Violence and Outrage, as they had Power; and were instigated by Lust, Avarice and Revenge, till the Earth was filled with Violence. Which, I apprehend, could not have been the Cafe, under Laws and Governors, armed with Power to reftrain Outrage and Infultice. For though Governors themfelves, and their Creatures, may be tyrannical and oppressive, yet, for their own Scourity, they will

will not suffer their Subjects to break out into Anarchy and licentious Invasion of Life and Property, because this is open Rebellion against Governors. The State of the old World, probably, was like that of the Israelites, when there was no King, no Magistrate, among them, but every Man did that which was right in his own Eyes, Jud. xxi. 25. Which proves the Possibility of such a licentious State, and the shocking Diforders that would attend it.

THE leaving Mankind, in the first Ages of the World, in this loofe and difcretionary State, certainly, was not to lead them into Wickedness ; but, I conceive, to teach them by Experience the Necessity of Laws and Governors, and the Reasonableness of fubmiting to them. [See Chap. III. §. IV. the Corollary.] Eor even upon the contrary Supposition, that Magistracy, in some Form or other, was influented from the Begining of the World, yet it is plain, that Mankind in those Ages would not bear the Yoke, but universally shook it off. Nor could Government, in Fact, be permanently establifhed, till the Ruin of the World demon-Arated the Neceffity of it. Therefore, if God did not fee fit to establish Magistracy from the Begining, it was because he knew Mankind world not bear the Restraints of Government with a rational Confent and Approbation ; (without which Confent and n_2 Appro-Approbation, at least from the Majority, Government could not have been either erected or fupported) till fad Experience had taught them the Utility and Importance of it. Thus a particular Species of Injustice, and even of Murder, is permited under our prefent Dispensation, and, instead of being reftrained, is established by Law; I mean Perfecution, or the taking away of Life for difference of Sentiments in Religion, which fubfilts in most Christian Countries. And this, I apprehend, the Wifdom of God has permited, that Christians at length may be rationally convinced of the monstrous Iniquity of fuch Practice, and fo be generally induced by the Senfe of their own Minds, to approve and choose Goodness, Love, and mutual Forbearance; which we hope will be the Genius and happy Temper of the next enfuing Difpenfation. This is the only Method of moral Improvement, namely, when the Mind, by proper Methods, is led to apprehend, and freely imbrace, what is right and fit; and I doubt not, takes Place in the gradual Advances of all, or of any Part of Mankind in Wildom, as well as of particular fingle Persons. This, with what hath been faid before, is the best Account I can give of this antediluvian Difpenfation.

Nor is it to be confidered in Noab as a malevolent Wish, or Imprecation, but simply as a Prediction of the future State of Ham's Posterity; as appears from the whole of Noab's Discourse, which is plainly prophetic.

ERE Mofes gives an Account how Families, or Descendents of Noab's three Sons, Shem, Ham, and Japhet, Ver. 32. For the Particulars of this curious Account confult the Commentators, efpecially Bp. By thefe Descendents of Japhet, were the Isles, or transmarine Countries, of the Gentiles divided in their several Lands; every one after bis Tongue, or Language, after their Families, in their The fame is faid Ver. 20, 31. plainly fignifies, that they did not all fpeak the fame Language; but that the Defcendents from Noab's Sons, at leaft in general, if not feveral of the particular Nations, had a Language peculiar to themfelves, diftinct from the reft, and unintelligible to them. Noab and his Posterity, while they lived together after the Flood, which must be for fome confiderable time, could have but one and the fame Language amongst them. How they came to have different Languages, and how they were feperated into feveral distant Countries, by a very memorable Event, Mofes relates in the next Chapter.

WHEN Noah's Family was numerous enough, probably the Lord, by the Mouth of Noab, commanded them to leparate into different Countries, particularly specified, that the Earth might be better cultivated and governed. Certainly their Division and Removal into distant Countries (Gen. x. g.) must have been a general public Act. And, as Moles faith, the Earth was divided into Nations in Peleg's Days, (Ver. 25, 32.) it feems to imply, that it was done by a divine Command, and not accidentally, as any might choole a more convenient Situation. Which is more clearly express, Deut. xxxii. 8. where it is faid, when the most High diwided to the Nations their Inheritance, when be separated the Sons of Adam, [refering to this Division of the Earth] be set the Bounds of of the People, the adjacent Nations, according to the Number of the future Children of Ifrael, leaving for them a convenient Situation, and Room fufficient. In Profecution of this Defign, the whole Earth, except, perhaps, the elder Patriarchs, and their Attendants, journying from the Mother-colony towards the Weft, and finding a fpacious fruitful Vale in the Land of Shinar, there they determined to fettle, and build a City and a Tower, reaching up to Heaven, or of a very great Height. Deut. i. 28. ix. 1. Pfal. cvii. 25, 26. [An Hyperbole.]

THEIR Intention was to make themselves a Name, and to prevent their being scattered abroad upon the Face of the whole Earth, (Ver. 4.) as God had probably ordered they fhould. The Scheme was to keep together, and very likely under one Head. Schultens, upon Job i. 1. derives De a Name, from the Arabic Verb TDW or NDW to be high. elevated, eminent. And according to him, the primary and proper Notion of De is a Mark or Sign, flanding out, rifing up, or exposed to open View; a standing Mark or Title of Diffinction and Eminence. 2. Isai. xviiv. 7. lv. 13: - it shall be to the Lord for a Name, i.e. for an everlassing Sign, that shall not be cut off. Chap. lxiii. 12, 14. So in this Place, Gen. xi. 4. — and let us, fay the Heads or Leaders, make us a Name, a Monument or Token of Superiority and Eminence, I conceive, to fignify to all succeeding Generations, that they were the true original Governors, to whom all Mankind ought to be in Subjection ; left other Leaders starting up should carry off Parties, and so break the Body, and fet up separate Governments. It. feems to have been a Piece of State-Policy. to keep all Mankind together, under the prefent Chiefs and their Successors. And the lofty Tower was probably intended to command every Part of the Town, and keep off any Body of Men, that should attempt to break in upon them.

BUT God, whole Wildom perfectly forefaw the milchievous Effects of fuch an Attempt, determined to fruftrate and defeat it. By this Scheme a great Part of the Earth must for a long time have been uninhabited, uncultivated, and over-run with Beggary, and wild Beasts; which, as it was, for a long time, according to ancient Authors, exercised the Industry and Valor of the primitive Heroes in hunting and fubduing them. It

Most probably the bad Effects, which this Project would have had upon the Minds. the Morals, and Religion of Mankind, was the chief Reason why God interposed to crush it as foon as it was formed. It manifeftly had a direct Tendency to Tyranny, Oppreffion, and Slavery. Whereas in forming feveral independent Governments by a small Body of Men, the Ends of Government, and the Security of Liberty and Property, would be much better attended to. and more firmly established ; which, in Fact, was generally the Cafe, if we may judge of the reft, by the Conftitution of one of the most eminent, the Kingdom of Egypt. Gen. xlvii: 15-27. The Egyptians were Masters of their Persons and Properties, till they fold them to Pharaob for Bread. And then their Servitude amounted to no more, than the fifth Part of the Produce of the Country, as an annual Tax payable to the King;

King; which is not near fo much as we, with all our English Liberties, pay yearly to the Church and Government.

CORRUPTION may creep into Religion under any Constitution, but Tyranny and defpotic Power is the readieft and fureft Way to deprive Men of the Use of Underftanding and Conscience; and Vice and Idolatry would have spread much faster, had the whole World, in one Body, been under the absolute Dominion of vicious, infolent, idolatrous Monarchs. This would have been a State of things just in the opposite Extreme to the antediluvian Licentioufnefs, and would have been nearly as pernicious to Virtue : as it must have funk Mankind into the basest Servility of Mind, and have stockt the Earth with a mean spirited Race of Mortals, who durst not open their own Eyes, make any generous Use of their own Faculties, or relifh the Bounty of Heaven with Pleasure and Thankfulness. " Parts. So Slavery, be it never to eafy, "yet is Slavery ftill; and may defervedly" be called, the Prifon of the Soul, and the "public Dungeon."

For these wife and beneficent Reasons, I prefume, the divine Providence interposed, and baffled the Project ; which in the then Circumstances of the Projectors, would otherwife have been unhappily fuccessful, by confounding, and altering their Language in fuch Manner, as that they could not understand one another ; and fo were obliged to defift from the Work they had begun, to feparate into many fmaller Bodies, and to feek for Settlements at a Distance from each other, as the feveral Companies, by the Sameness of Speech, were capable of converfing together, and poffibly in the very Countries which God had marked out for them.

THUS the Contagion of Wickednefs, for fome time at leaft, had Bounds fet to it; evil Example was confined, and could not ftretch its Influence beyond the Limits of one Country; nor could wicked Projects be carried on with univerfal Concurrence by many little Colonies, feparated by the natural Boundaries of Mountains, Rivers, Deferts, Seas, and hindered from affociating together by a Variety of Languages unintelligible to each other. And further, in this difperfed State, they would, whenever God pleafed, be

This Difpenfation, therefore, was properly calculated to prevent a fecond univerfal Degeneracy. God therein dealing with Men as rational Agents, and fuiting his Scheme to their prefent State and Circumftances. This Difperfion probably happened about 240 Years after the Flood.

Of the TID COUNCIL of GOD; or a Criticifm upon those Words, Let us go down, Gen. xi. 7.

A LL allow, that the Lord's coming down to fee the City, and Tower, Gen. xi. 5, is to be underftood ανθρωποπαθως by Way of Accommodation to our Conceptions; and means no more, but that by the Effects, he made it appear, that he obferved their Motions, and knew their Intentions. This is a very common, and in our prefent embodied State, a very proper Way of reprefenting the Actions of Deity. But when Jebovab is reprefented as faying, Go to, let us go down, Verfe 7, as before, Chap. i. 26, he had faid, Let us make Man, &c. learned Men

Men have supposed, that this is to be taken literally, and that God here spake to some Beings included in his own Nature and Substance. Whereas this also is a Figure of Speech, which is to be underflood as the foregoing. Kings transact their most important Affairs in a folemn Council. Hence God is pleafed to reprefent himfelf as having likewife his TiD or privy Council. And the Determinations of his Providence are described, after the Manner of Men, as having been made in that Council, in order to exprefs the Wildom, Importance, and Certainty of them. Thus, and for this Purpole, Jebovab is here, and in Gen. i. 26, represented as speaking in his Council, Let us make Man. let us go down, and there confound their Language.

OF this Council, I apprehend, Job fpeaks, Chap. xxix. 4. — when the fecret Council of God was upon my Tabernacle; when the august Assembly, where God's Counsels and Decrees are passed, was held, as it were over my Habitation; and it seemed to be his peculiar Care to prosper me and my Family. To this Council the Prophets in Vision are supposed to be admited as Standersby, and Hearers of what is there decreed, and resolved upon. I have not fent thefe Prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken to them, yet they prophehed. ידאם צכדר במרי But if they had flood in my Council, and had caused my People to bear my Words, then they should have turned them from their evil Way, and from the evil of their Doings. This Connection of the Prophets with the Council of God may serve to explain Janah's floeing from the Prefence of, or from before, the Lord, Jon. i. 2. He was feat upon a frightful and dangerous Message; but as he judged, I suppose, that the Council of God was

Of the COUNCIL of GOD. 207 was held in no other Land, but that of Ifrael, he hoped to break off his Connection with it, by removing to a remote Country among the Gentiles.

THE Vision of Micaiab (1 Kings xxii. 19-24.) will set this Affair in the strongest Light. And be Said, Hear thou the Word of the Lord : I faw the Lord fiting on his Throne, and all the Hoft of Heaven standing by bim, on bis right Hand and on his left. And the Lord faid, who shall perfuade Abab, that he may go up, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one faid on this Manner, and another on that Manner. And there came forth a Spirit, and food before the Lord, and faid, I will perfuade bim. And the Lord faid unto him, Wherewith? And he faid, I will go forth, and I will be a lying Spirit in the Mouth of all bis Prophets. And he said, thou shalt per-fuade him, and prevail also: go forth and do fo. Here the Lord is shewn in Council, after the Manner of Men, deliberating upon this Affair. Now whether there was any fuch real Confultation is not necessary for us to enquire. Thus it was represented in all its Circumstances to the Prophet, and stampt upon his Mind in Vision; and it was God who directed him to use it in this Form, as appears plainly from the folemn Introduction, Hear thou therefore the Word of the Lord. And though it fhould only be a parabolical Vision, yet the Drift and Substance of

of it was a divine infallible Truth, namely, that Abab's Prophets propheticd Lies; and this by the divine Permiffion, and the Inftigation of the wicked Spirit, who was a Lyar from the Begining, and the Father of Lyes.

A PASSAGE fimilar to this, is that in the Book of Job, Chap. i. 6. Now there was a Day when the Sons of God, Angels, came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them. And the Lord (aid unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the Lord, &c. And again, Chap. ii. 1. &c. Here we fee is the fame grand Affembly in the Cafe of Job, as in the foregoing Instance of Abab. The fame Host of Heaven, called here the Sons of God, prefenting themfelves before Jehovah, as in the Vision of Micaiab they are faid to stand on his right Hand and on his left. A wicked Spirit appears among them, here called Satan, an Adversary, and there a lying Spirit; both of them bent on Mischief, and ready to do Hurt, as far as God should give them leave. And the Meaning in both Cafes is the fame. that God in his wife Providence permited Satan to afflict Job, and the lying Spirit to deceive Abab. Only Micaiah delivers his Representation as a Prophet, in the Exercise of his Office, and as he received it. that is to fay, in a Vision; I faw the Lord fiting on bis Throne, &c. The other, [probably Job himfelf.

The things delivered to us by both these sacred Writers, are in Substance the fame, equally high, and above the Reach of meer human Sight and Knowledge. Note -the Representations of this Kind are founded in the Doctrine of Angels, good and bad, especially the former, as the Instruments of Providence. A Point revealed. no doubt, from the Begining, and well underftood in the earlieft Ages; witnefs Jacob's Ladder, with the Angels of God ascending and descending upon it. Gen. xxviii. 12.

ISAIAH alfo in Vision stood in the Council of God, Chap. vi. 1, &c. Where he faw the Lord siting upon a Throne, high and listed up, and his train filled the Temple. Above it stood the Seraphim, the angelic Host, &c. The Matter in Consultation was, Verse 6. Whom shall I fend, and who will go upon the prophetic Errand, for us, using deliberative Language, and the plural Number, as in the two Texts under Consideration, Let us make Man—Let us go down.—Isaiab readily offered his Service, Verse 8. And the Lord delivered to him his Commission and Message, Verse 9. And he said, Go and tell this People, &c.

EZEKIEL

210 Of the COUNCIL of GOD.

EZERIEL in the fame Manner in Vifton Rood in the Council of the Lord, Chap. i. I. The Heavens were (i. e. the Temple was) opened, and I faw Visions of God; namely, the four living Creatures, or Cherubins, reprefenting the Church of God, attending upon the Glory of the Lord, or the Shechinah, Verse 28, and seated upon a Throne, Verse 26. And he said unto Ezekiel, Chap. ii. 3. Son of Man, I fend thee to the Children of Israel, &cc.

ZECHARIAH too, Chap. i. 7, 8, &cc. to the End of the fixth Chapter, is repreferred as converting with the Lord in his Council, and with an Angel; though the Scene is not defcribed fo diltinctly as in the other Places.

JOHN alfo in the Spirit, i.e. in a Vision, Rev. i. ro, was present in the fame Council of God, described in the 4th and 5th Chapters of the Revelation. Chap. iv. 1. A Door was opened in Heaven, in the Temple; John was invited to attend, a Throne was set in Heaven, with a majestic Personage upon it, attended by the Cherubin, or the Church, and the angelic Host. The Matter, which was there very solemnly transacted, was the future State of the Church to the End of the World.

THIS is the prophetic Way of telling us bow a thing was done, which really was done, but in a Way to us invilible. Thus things of the greatest Importance were reprefented prefented in the ftrongest Images to the Mind of the Prophet; and in this Way infinite Wisdom would have them described and represented to us. Nor should we quarrel with our Maker for creating us with such Faculties as are most affected and imprest with Truths, that are conveyed in this Manner; for those Truths make the deepest Impression which first enter like a Picture into the Imagination, and from thence are stampt upon the Memory.

Note-Homer, previously to Events, represents the Consultations of his sictitious Deities in the same narrative Way, to denote, that all things are subject to an overruling Providence. A Method practised long before him, and very probably derived from the truly inspired.

I SHALL only further observe, (1.) That TO is sometimes applied to worshiping Asfemblies, Psal. Ixxxix. 7. cxi. 1. (2.) Sometimes it fignifies the thing that is transacted, commanded, or established in the Council of God. Psal. xxv. 14. Prov. iii. 32. So it may be understood, Amos iii. 7. The Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth in bis secret Council unto bis Servants the Prophets.

Of the PATRIARCHAL RELIGION.

W E fhould now advance to the next divine Difpenfation, the Calling of Abraham, but before we proceed it may be of Ufe to gain the cleareft Notions we are able of the State of Religion among the Nations after the Deluge.

ABOUT 425 Years after the Deluge, and 185 after the Difperfion, the Lord faid unto Abraham, (Gen. xii. 1) Get thee out of thy Country, which was Ur of the Chaldees, (Gen. xi. 28.) and from thy Kindred, and from thy Father's Houle, unto a Land that I will shew thee. Compare this with Josh. xxiv. 2. Joshua said unto all the People, thus faith the Lord God of Ifrael, your Fathers dwelt on the other Side of the Flood, [in Mefopotamia beyond the River Euchrates,] in old time, even Terab, the Father of Abraham. and the Father of Nachor; and they ferved other Gods; that is to fay, they were Idolaters. Some learned Men suppose, that in the Days of Reu, i. e. fome-time before the Year 37c. after the Deluge, the Egyptians and Babylonians began to introduce idolatrous Principles and Practices; which from the fore-quoted Place in Joshua, it is certain, crept crept into the Family of Shem; fome, and fome of the principal of his Posterity, growing vain in their Imaginations, and worshiping the heavenly Bodles, with a divine, or however with an undue Honor. For this Species of Idolatry seems to have been the most ancient, as this, and no other, is mentioned in the Book of Job. Chap. xxxi. 26, 27, 28. If I bave beheld the Sun when it shined; or the Moon walking in brightness; and my Heart bath been secretly inticed, or my Mouth bath kissed my Hand:—this also were an Iniquity to be punished by the Judge, for I should have denied the God that is above.

THE Worthip of the heavenly Bodies is fupposed to have prevailed among the Nations in the Days of Mofes, Deut. iv. 19. xvii. 3. and was continued long after, 2 Kings xxi. 3, 5. xxiii. 4. Jer. xliv. 17, 19. The Splendor and great Utility of the heavenly Bodies would naturally strike the Minds of Mankind; and there would not then, any more than at any other time, be wanting artful Men, who for their own Advantage, and the Honor of fuperior Wildom, would fupply Arguments for this Idolatry, as the most effectual Mean of securing all the Enjoyments of Life, and inculcate them strongly, upon the Minds of the weak and credulous, who have always been the most numerous Part of Mankind. Maimonides, the learned P 3 Yew, g14 Of the PATRIARCHAL RELIGION.

Yew, (as quoted by AINSWORTH upon Gen, iv. 26.) supposes the Advocates of this corrupt Worthip argued after this Manner. " They faid-For as much as God hath " oreated these heavenly Bodies, to govern " the World, and fet them on high, and " imparted Honor unto them, and they are " Ministers that minister before him, it is " meet that Men should praise, and glorify, " and give them Honor. For this is the " Will of God, that we magnify and ho-" nor whomfoever he magnifieth and ho-" noreth; even as a King would have them " honored, that fland before him; and this " is honoring the King himfelf. When this " thing was come up into their Hearts, " they began to build Temples to heavenly " Bodies, and to praife and glorify them " with Words, and to worship before them, " that they might, in their milguided Opi-" nion, obtain Favor of the Creator." Thus you fee, the first Corrupters of Religion had Principles and Reasons; and perhaps as good as those, who have in like Manner corrupted Christianity, by introducing Idolatry into it.

This Corruption was not at first univerfal, it spread gradually. And therefore, though in Abraham's Days it had made a confiderable Progress, yet even then, and for some time after, we meet with some eminent Persons, who were not of Abraham's Family,

Of the PATRIARCHAL RELIGION. 215 Family, that retained a just Sense of God, and the Purity of his Worthip. For Instance, Melchizedeck, King of Salem, Gen., xiv. 18. who was (Heb. vii. 3.) without Father, without Mather, without Descent, arevearey for; without a Genealogy, baving neiaber begining of Days, nor end of Life, recorded in the Hiftory of the Patriarchs from Noab to Abraham. For (Verse 6.) his Descent, or Genealogy, was not counted from them, in the Aprabamic Line; but for all that, he was a Person of great Eminence in Religion. Gen xiv. 18, &c. " For he was " a Worshiper of the true God, and a " Perfon of the most exemplary Justice, " and fincere Piety, remaining abfolutely " untainted, amidit the general Corruption " of the Country, in which he lived; and st who for the better promoting of true Re-" ligion, was himfelf a Prieft, as well as a " King, and performed the facred Offices " of it among his own People. This great " Man came forth to meet, and to congra-" unlate Abraham, and provided him a " princely Entertainment for himfelf and his " Men, for their Refreshment, after they " had ingaged with, and defeated five Kings. " And then, as Priest, in which Capacity 4 he was superior to Abraham, (Heb. vii. 7.) " he folemnly gave Abraham his Bleffing, 's or With of Happinsts; puting up his " hearty Prayers to the great Creator and P 4 " Gover-⁶⁴ Governor of the World, to confirm the ⁶⁵ Bleffing he had pronounced upon him; ⁶⁴ as also his humble Praifes and Thankfgiv-⁶⁴ ings for the remarkable Mercies of his ⁶⁵ late Victory. And Abraham, on the other ⁶⁶ fide, paid his Acknowledgment to the Al-⁶⁶ mighty, by prefenting the Tenth of what ⁶⁶ he had taken in the Battle to Melsbizedeck ⁶⁶ his Prieft, by whom he had been fo de-⁶⁷ voutly bleffed." PYLE.

Note-Melchizedeck's Priesthood, as it was prior to that of the Jewish Priest, fo it was of a diffinct and fuperior Order, as the Apostle argues, Heb. vii. For long after the Institution of the Jewish Priesthood, the Lord, with an Oath declares, that the Meffiah should be a Prieft for ever, after the Order [in the Hebrew על־ דברָתי fecundum Rem, according to the Affair, the Cafe; which as it relateth to a kind or fort of Priesthood. is well translated dia ragiv] of Melchizedeck, Pfal. cx. 4. Of what Order was Melchizedeck? The Apostle directs us to understand his Names appellatively, or as denoting a Character of moral Excellence; King of Righteousness, or a righteous King; and King of Peace, or Bleffing or Happinels, as he wished well to others, and endeavoured to make them happy, (Heb. vii. 2.) which is the highest Character of Worth and Excellence any moral Agent can fuftain. Thus he was the Priest, or officiated in the Service

Of the PATRIARCHAL RELIGION. 217 of the most High God. And thus the Object of his Priefthood, and confequently his Priesthood itself, was of an eternal, unchangeable, and univerfal Nature, even Righteousness and Goodness, not limited to time or Family. For the Scripture gives no Account of his Birth, Death, or Genealogy. We read of no Predeceffor or Succeffor in his Office, as in the Jewish Priests. Note -this Argument is adapted (ad hominem) to the Jews, who in this Way, or by Defcent from Aaron and Levi judged of the Validity of their Priefts.] But being of an universal unchangeable Nature, must sublist as long as there are any moral Agents, that live in obedience to God.

THUS our Lord was made Priest after the order of Melchizedeck, i. e. not after the Law of a carnal positive Commandment. which confined the Office to a flefhly, mortal Defcent, and employed in certain external Rites, and Ceremonies; but according to that real Power, which is productive of endlefs, or eternal Life, namely, true Holinefs. For Verse 17, God declared, thou art a Prieft for ever, after the Order of the King of Righteousness. And Chap. i. 8, 9. Unto the Son he faith-Thy Throne, O God, is everlasting ! A Sceptre of Restitude is the Sceptre of thy Kingdom. Thou haft loved Righteousness, and bated Iniquity, therefore God, even thy God, bath anointed thee King and Prieft, with the Oil Oil of Gladmets above thy Fellows. And Still nearer to the Gafe, Chap. v. 8. Though he were a Son, in the highest Sense, before he came into the World, yet was be disciplined in Obedienca. as if he had been a Learner, by the things which he suffered. Verse 9. And being made. perfect, having exhibited a perfect Character of all moral Excellence, he begente the Author. of sternal Salvation to all them that oney him. And it was on this Account. Verfe 10, that he was called and conflituted of God on high Priaft after the Order of the King of Rightenusrafe. For, as the Apostle conclustes his Differtation upon this very Subject, (Heb. vii. 26.) Such an bigh Priest became us, who is boly. barmless, undefiled, separate from Sinners, and made higher than the Heavans, or the Angels, in order to raile us to their Happinels, MELCHIZEDECK was eminently religious. And probably Abraham's Neighbours and Confederates, Mamre, Elbcol and Amor, Gen. xiv. 13. were good and pious. For though they were Amarites, it was about 400 Years after this, before the Sins of that Nation were full.

THE Book of Jab gives the clearest and most extensive View of the patriarchal Religion. The Reality of his Person, the Eminence of his Character, his Fortitude and Patience in very great Afflictions, his preceding and subsequent Felicity, are allowed by all; and it is generally supposed that he lived a Generation or two before Moles; and, probably,

Of the PATRIARCHAL RELIGION. 219 probably, the Book was wrote by himself, in the time of his reftored Prosperity.

Some learned Men indeed, as Grotius, Godurcus, Le Clerc, and others, pretend that this noble Performance was written about a thousand Years after the time in which Job lived; namely, in or near the time of the Babylonif Captivity ; alledging, " that fre-" queat Chaldaisms, as the plural ? for D: " are to be found in it; that fome Paffages " are taken from the Pfalms, Proverbs, and " Ecclesioftes; that there are more than a " hundred Words, partly Sprine, partly Ana-" bic, which are not to be found in the " other Parts of Scripture ; which are all "Signs that the Author lived in the later " times, when many Words, borrowed from " the Idiom of the acighbouring Nations, " were admited into the Hebrew."

It is one Mark of the Simplicity of very ancient times, that in the Inventory of Job's Eflate, no Mention is made of Money, but only of Oxen, Sheep, Camels, Affes, Servants. And Grotius bimself owns, "That "there is no Mention in the Book of Job "of any Law, or religious Rites, but fuch "as were traditional, [Chap. viii. 8, 9, 10. "xv. 18, 19. xxii. 15, 16.] nor of any "Points of Hiftory, nor of any idolatrous "Practices, but fuch as were of the more "ancient times, before the Mofaic Infitu-"tion. [Chap. xx. 4, 5, meaning Adam. "xxii. 15, 16.] And that the Length of "Job's

220 Of the PATRIARCHAL RELIGION.

" Job's Life, extended to about 200 Years, " agrees also with the fame times; that the " Country where it happened was Arabia, " as appears, not only from the Names of " Places, Uz, Teman, Shuhab, but from the "many Arabic Words here used." And might not Grotius from hence have fairly and Arongly concluded, that the Writer was an Arabian? No. He faith, " it was writ-"ten by fome Hebrew." Why fo ? Becaufe' Arabia, Job's Country, is called the East. Chap. 5. 3. And it was usual with the Hebrews to call Arabia the East, as he has shewn upon Mat. ii. 1. But the Arabian Magi themselves, in the next Verfe, call their own Country Arabia; the East; and fo might Job, or any other Arabian in Job's time. The East-Country was the common Name of Arabia, as the West-Country is the general Name of one Part of England. Many Words, used in this Book, are not to be found in other Parts of Scripture. The Reafon is, becaufe it is fo ancient, that fome Words therein are grown obfolete, and their true Meaning is hard to be recovered. It is therefore the most difficult, because it is the most ancient Book in the facred Code. Had it been wrote in later-times, the Language would have been more intelligible.

IT is no Argument that the Author of this Book took fimilar or fame Expressions from David's or Solomon's Writings, [Compare Pfalm, cvii. 40. with Job xii. 21, 24.] because

because it is more probable, that David and Solomon borrowed fuch Expressions from the Book of Job. [Compare Job xxxix. 33. Mat. xxiv. 28.] Schultens, a very good Judge, affirms, that the Style of the Book hath all the Marks of a most venerable and remote Antiquity; and that the Chaldaisms, as some call them, particularly the Plurals in ? are true Hebrew and Arabic, and that of the most ancient Stamp. Job is honorably mentioned. with Noab and Daniel, Ezek. xiv. 12-20. Hence it follows, (1.) That Job is no fictitious Character, but a real Person, as truly as Noab and Daniel. (2.) That he was, as well as they, a Person of diffinguished Piety. (2.) That he was well known and celebrated as such amongst the Jews, to whom Ezekiel's Prophecy was directed. (4.) That he must either have been of the Seed of Ifrael, or, like Noab, of the patriarchal times; otherwife the Jews, separated from, and raifed in fpiritual Privileges above all other Nations, would never have proposed to themfelves one of their Gentile, uncircumcifed Neighbours, of whom they had a mean Opinion, as an Example of the greatest Piety, nor have admited his Story into their If he was of the patriarchal times Canon: (for an liraelite he could not be) he must have been at the Diftance of about a Thoufand Years before Ezekiel. Meer oral Tradition of such a Person could not have subfifted ۍ ژ lifted through to long a Space of time, withcut appearing, at laft, as uncertain or fabulous. These must, therefore, have been fome Hiftory of Job in Exchicles time; no other Hiftory, but that which we now have, and which has always had a Place in the Hebrew Code, was ever heard of, or pretended. Therefore this mult be the Hiftory of Job in Exchicles time; and which must have been generally known, and read as true and authentic, and, confequently, mult have been wrote near to the Age in which the Fact was transacted, and not in after times, when its Credibility would have loten greatly diminifhed.

In thort, thould I aver, that this is the oldest and noblest Book in the World, I should have the Vote of all the best Critics; and the very Frame and Cast of the Book itself would justify the Affertion.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of JoB's Cafe and Character.

HE Book of Job is the Hiftory of a real Sufferer, Job; and the Substance of a real Convertation with his Friends, about his Sufferings, in a poetic Drefs. Job was a Prince of the greatest Eminence, Wealth, and Authority among the People of

of the East; whose Piety and Integrity equalled his temporal Grandure, Chap. i. 1, 2, 3; of the fluidest Religion and Vistner, the Patron of the injered Paor and Fatherlefs; the Scourge of Injustice and Oppresfion ; highly honored and chaemed by the good, revered and dreaded by the vicions and profane. Obepters xxix. and xxxi. This Man fo good, and fo glorious, was, by the livine Permition, and Malice of the Devil. at once reduced to the most indigent and deplorable Circumstances, stript of all his Substance, bereaved of all his Children, fie--ven Sons and Three Daughters, and, from after, feized with a most motion and painful Difease, from Head to Foot ; which rendered him the most thooking Spectacle of Sorrow and Wretchedness. The Country, fo far as the Bame of his Grandure and Religion had fpread, would be full of his Story and of Aftonishment. The religious would be inclined to conclude, that fuch fignal and fudden Calamities, could be no other than the Judgments of God upon a Man, who, under the Malk of Religion, had concealed a wicked and profligate Life. The wicked and profene would triumph in his Sufferings, as a Jultification of their own bad Principles and Practices, and as a Demonstration of the Infignificancy of the fricteft Regards to God and his Worthip. ftruck with Horror and Aversion to such a despicable, vile, abandoned Creature, would not own him. His Wife and Family treated him with Unkindness and Neglect, Chap. xix: 13-19. The baself of Men broke in upon him like a Legion of Fiends, made his Afflictions their Merriment, treated him with all Manner of Indignities, Calumnies, and Slander; and even spared not to spit in bis Face, Chap. xxx. 1-15. Scarce ever were the Feelings of the human Heart oppressed with such a complicated Load of Grief; scarce ever was a Profession of Religion fo much exposed to Censure, Reproach, and Infult.

AND how did the good Man bear all this? With heroic Bravery, that is to fay, with a Patience as fleady and uniform as human Infirmity will admit. [Patience is fincere Adherence to God and Duty, under all Difficulties and Discouragements; and the Ground of Patience is Faith, or a full Perfuation of the Power, Goodness, and Wisdom of God.] When his Calamities, the Lofs of his numerous Herds, Flocks and Servants, and of his dearest Children, partly by the Hands of Violence, partly by Lightening and Storm ; when these Calamities rushed upon him like an Inundation, though he felt all the Pangs of the most grievous Affliction, and used fuch Expressions of his doleful Cafe, as were customary at that time ; [Chap. i. 20. - rent bis thou still retain thine Integrity by blessing God, and dying? Q. D. "Will you bless "God when he is destroying you ? Will se you call upon him, and believe he is s good, when he hath ruined your Estate ss and Family, and, in fpite of all your " humble Submiffions, is flaughtering your " Body, and within a Stroke of your Life ?" But Job returned no other than a mild Anfwer, as became a good Man, and affectionate Husband. " You speak not like your-" felf," faid he, " but as a Woman void of " Understanding. Still Job is patient, and, under every Trial, adheres to God and Duty.

THE Composure and Steadiness of his Mind was more severely tried by his three Friends, Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar, Men of the same Rank, and of like good Sense and Piety; who dwelt in some of the adjacent Provinces, and in whose Familiarity he had, probably, been long happy. The Report of his Sufferings, of the Ruin of his Character, and the Wound thereby given to Religion, having reached their Ears, they agreed, agreed, with a fincere Intention, to join their Endeavours in administering the only Advice and Confolation, they apprehended, his Cafe would admit. For, as the Sulpicions were very ftrong, and his Calamities carried evident Marks of divine Inflictions, they had the fame Opinion of them with the reft of the World, and believed they were the just Judgments of God upon a Hypocrite; and therefore were determined, by all Means, to fix a Senfe of Guilt upon his Confcience, in order to bring him to true Repentance, and fo to a folid Interest in the divine Favor and Bleffing. But when they were come, and had found their late flourishing, honorable, and highly effected Friend, reduced to the most lothfome and miserable Wretch. that was fiting in the Afhes, they were aftonished beyond Expression; and being confirmed in their evil Sufpicions, though they fat with him on the Ground, yet, as their bad Opinion of him would not allow them to fay any thing comfortable and incouraging, they chose to fay nothing at all for feven or several Days together, Chap. ii. 12. The Sight of his old Acquaintance, and their unfavorable Manner of Condolence, railed his Paffion of Sorrow to fuch a Pitch. that it burft out into a Torrent of the most bitter Reflections upon his Birth-day; wishing it were ftruck out of the Number of Q 2 Days,

Days, or rendered as odious and deteftable to all others, as it was to himfelf.

UPON this, Eliphaz, probably the oldeft and most honorable of the three, addreffed himfelf to Job, and, in the foftest Manner, openeth their Senfe of his Cafe; namely, that, in their Apprehensions, he had been very defective in the Character to which he had pretended; that great Sufferings must be the Punishment of great Sins; and that they could recommend to him no other Method of regaining his former Peace and Profperity; but Repentance, and feeking unto In fhort, they foon de-God for Pardon. clared plainly, that they judged he had been a very wicked Man, and that his Calamities were an evident Indication of the Wrath of God against him as such. This Job flatly denied; and this is the Matter in dif. pute between him and his Friends. Which Dispute, as is usual in such Cases, was carried on with a growing Eagerness and Heat on both Sides; and on both Sides might occasion fome Expressions too strong and exagerating.

His Friends argue from Experience, and what they had obferved to be the ufual Method of divine Providence. They had feen many Inflances of wicked Men, or of those who had passed for such, remarkably punissing induces they formed to themselves a general a general Maxim, that where they faw great Wretchedness and Sufferings, there must be Crimes proportionably great. To this Job alfo oppofes Obfervation and Experience; and thews, that the Rule of judging, they had formed to themfelves, was by no Means right, or without Exception. That good Men were fometimes afflicted, and the wicked flourishing and happy; and that, for the most Part, things were dealt out here promilcuoufly. That this was more especially observable in times of War and Pestilence, and fuch other fweeping Calamities, where the good and bad fall undiftinguished. Chap. ix. 22, 23. To all which he adds, that it was a very heavy Aggravation of his Mifery, to hear his Friends, fo well acquainted with him, Men of Senfe and Diffinction, charge him with Crimes which his Soul abhorred, and of which God, who had afflicted him, knew that he was innocent. To him he would appeal, and still adhere in Life and Death, though he did not know why he had dealt fo feverely with him. And fo strongly did Job affert the Integrity of his Religion and Virtue, (Chapters xxix. and xxxi.) that his Friends, though perhaps not convinced, were however put to Silence. (Chap. xxxii. 1.)

UPON this, Elibu, a young Man of good Understanding, who, probably, with others, was a Bystander and Witness to this Debate, (Chap.

(Chap. xxxii. 15.) acts as Moderator between Job and his Friends, and cenfures both very freely and judiciously; only he charges Job with no Crime as the Cause of his Afflictions, but thinks he had not managed the Dispute about them with so much Calmness and Submission to God as became his Piety.

FINALLY, the Lord answered Job out of the Whirlwind, (the Septuagint add, and Cloude) a Token of the divine Presence. So Exektel's Visions were introduced, Exek. i. 4. And I looked, and behold, a Whirlwind came out of the North, a great Cloud and a Fire. Perhaps, Elibu faw this Token of the divine Presence approaching. Job xxxvii. 22, &c. The Speech of Deity, (Chap. xxxviii. xxxix. xl. xli.) most inimitably grand and fublime, reprefenting the vast Extent of the divine Wildom and Power in the Works of Creation, which Job and his Friends had well studied, and from which they knew how to deduce proper Conclusions, thews, 1. That all things in the Skie, the Air, the Earth, the Sea, are produced and disposed in a Manner far bewond the Reach of human Wildom and Power, Confequently, 2, That Man is not qualified

That God may have wife and good Reasons for his Ways and Works, and Dealings with us, which we cannot comprehend; and therefore it is our Duty, in all Cafes, to acquiesce and submit. 3. That he who has given various Natures and Inftincts to Animals, can give Being and Life, when and where, and in what Degree he pleafes. 4. That he is prefent to, cares for, fuftains and directs every living thing; and therefore that we ought to trust in him for a happy Issue of any of his Inflictions. 5. I. HE that would rightly explain this Book muft, as much as he can, imagine himself in the same afflicted Condition.

III. We

231

232 Of Job's Cafe and Character.

III. WE shall certainly judge amiss, if we think every thing wrong, which will not suit with the Politeness of our Manners. Allowance must be made for the Simplicity of those times.

IV. IN judging of Job's Character, we must fet the noble Strains of his Piety against the unguarded Expressions of his Sorrow.

V. 1 T is not his Innocence, ftrictly fpeaking, which Job infifts on, but his Sincerity. Chap. vii. 20, 21.

VI. EXCEPT their hard Centures of Job, his Friends speak well and religiously.

VII. His Friends incouraged 70b to hope for a temporal Deliverance; (Chap. v. 18, Ec. vii. 20, Cc. xi. 14 Cc.) but Job defpaired of it, and expected his bodily Diforder would terminate in Death, (Chap. vi, 11, 12. vii. 6, 7, 8, 21. xvii. 1, 13, 14, 15. xix. 10. Though, in the increasing Heat of the Difpute, they feem to drop this Sentiment, in their following Anfwers, as if they fuppoled Job to be too bad to hope for any Favor from God.) He hoped, however, that his Character would be cleared in the Day of Judgment; though he was greatly concerned that it could not be cleared before. That after a Life lead in the most conspicuous Virtues, his Reputation, in the Opinion of his nearest Friends, would fet under a black Cloud ; and, with regard to the ignorant and profane, leave an odious Reproach proach upon a Profession of Religion. This touched him to the Heart ; exafperated all his Sufferings, and made him often wifh, that God would bring him to his Trial here, in this Life; that his Integrity might be vindicated, and all, Friends and Enemies, might understand the true End or Defign of God in his Sufferings; and the Honor of Religion might be fecured. Chap. x. ii. 2, 3. Is it good unto thee, that thou shoulds - shine upon the Counsel of the Wicked? who from my Cafe take Occasion to reproach and vilify true Religion, and to confirm themfelves in their wicked and idolatrous Practices. Chap. viii. 20, 21, 22. xi. 17-20. xvi. 9-II.

Of JoB's Cafe and Character.

VIII. HE could only affirm his Integrity, but could give no special fatisfactory Reason, why God should afflict him in a Manner fo very extraordinary, and beyond all preceding Cafes, that were ever known in the World. This very much perplext and embarrast his Mind, and laid him under a great Difadvantage in the Difpute. And, for one thing, it is on this Account that he is fo earneft to come to a Conference with God, to know his Mind and Meaning. Chap. x, 2. Shere me wherefore thou contendest with me. See Bp. PATRICK's Paraphrafe upon the Place, from Ver. 2^d to the 8th. He knew very well he could not absolutely justify himfelf before God, Chap. ix. 2, 3, &c. Ver. 17. For be breaks breaks me with a Tempest, be multiplieth my Wounds without Caufe, or without any apparent Reason. Chap. vii. 12, 20. The whole xxiii Chapter relates to this Point ; in which he withes he could come to the dwelling Place of God, (Ver. 3.) and spread his Case before him, and argue about it at large, (Ver. 4.) for he had turned his Thoughts every way, and could make nothing of it, (Ver. 8, q.) only he was fure God knew he was an upright Man, (Ver. 10, 11, 12.) But, (Ver 13.) be is in one, THNZ or in Unity, fupreme above all others, absolutely ontire, keeping his Mind and Deligns to himfelf. and none can turn, or oblige him to alter his Refolution. All that we can fay is, that he doth whatever is agreable to his own Wifdom. For (Ver. 14.) what he hath refelved to inflict upon me he hash accomplished ; and many fuch things he doth, of which he will not give us the Reafon. To the fame Purpose understand Chap. xxvii. 2, 3, 4. 14. and Chep. XXVIII. 2. He bash taken away my Judgment, i. c. the Rule by which I might judge of the Reason of my Afflictions. This Point, in Reference to God, Elika tells him (Chap. xxxiii. 13.) he had urged to no Purpule, foring be gives no Ascount of his Matters, or will not reveal to us the Secrets of his Providence.

IX. In fuch a noble Performance, if any thing feems to be faid not in Confiftency, or Of JOB's Cafe and Character. 235 or not in Character, we should rather sufpect our own Judgment, than the good Sense of the Author. The Fault is not in the Book, but in our Understanding.

X. THAT Senfe which best agrees with the Subject, or the Point in Hand, or which stands in the best Connection with the Context, should always be judged the best Senfe.

CHAP. XXIV.

The Doctrines of the PATRIARCHAL AGE.

HE Instructions, particularly defigned to be given in the Book of Job, might not be fo well underftood in that Age of the World; namely, that great Sufferings are not always an Argument of great Sins; but that very good Men may be very much afflicted in this World; that therefore we should not cenfure any under Calamities, be the Hand of God ever fo apparent, unlefs the Crimes be likewife certain and apparent. That we ought not to complain of God in any Condition, as if he neglected us, or dealt hardly with us, but rather meekly fubmit to his bleffed Will; who never doth any thing without Reason, though we cannot always comprehend it, adoring and revering the unfearchable Depths of his wife Counfel, and believing that all at last will turn out to our Advantage, if like his Servant Job we perfevere in Faith, Hope, and Patience. This was Job's real Character, though not without Errors. No Error can be difcerned in his Behaviour, but what the uncharitable Cenfures of his Friends provoked him to. Thus he was put upon too frequent and too ftrong Justifications of himself, being

ing withal extremely perplexed to give a plain and fatisfactory Account, why God afflicted him fo feverely.

GOD, in the Iffue, fatisfied him, that he had juft and weighty Reafons; and, in particular, by doubling his Profperity, that he defigned to make him a Pattern of Patience and Reward. James v. 11. Bebold, we count them bappy who endure patiently the greateft Sufferings. Ye have beard of the wonderful Patience of Job, and have feen, in his Cafe, the happy End to which the Lord brought his Calamities. Whence we may learn, that under the fevereft Vifitations, the Lord is very compaffionate and merciful to the fincere and upright, and will amply recompence them in a future World.

THUS the great Point in Religion, before dark and doubtful, relating to the Providence of God, and the Sufferings of good Men, is cleared up with fuch Evidence, as can no where elfe be found but in the Gofpel of $\Im e/us Cbrift$.

THOUGH this Point might not be fo well underflood, before it was thus illustrated, yet there are feveral other important Articles of Religion, of which Job and his Friends, and doubtless many others, had very just and clear Conceptions. As the Being and Perfections of God; that we can receive neither Good nor Evil but from him, the Author of our Being, and Disposer of all Events; that he sees and orders all things in Heaven

Heaven and Earth : that there can be no Iniquity with bim; that he is the Friend and Patron of Virtue, and hates, and will punish Vice and Wickedness; nevertheles. that he is merciful and gracious, and will certainly pardon and blefs those who fincere. ly repent of their Sins, and return unto him. That he is to be fupremely reverenced and worshiped, as the fole Sovereign of the Univerfe, by Prayers and Sacrifices, by Purity and Integrity of Heart, by Justice in all our Dealings, by all acts of Charity, Goodneis, and Benevolence to others, particularly, to the helpless and indigent; by Temperance and Sobriety, curbing irregular Defires and Appetites; that Men should not be elated and puffed up by large Pofferitons, nor put their Trust in Riches, Chap. xxxi. 24, 25; that they should abhor Idolatry, Ver. 26, 27, 28; that they should not wish Evil to an Enemy, nor rejoice in his Misfortunes, Ver. 29, 30, much lefs think of murdering him; that they should abstain from Adultery and Fornication, Ver. 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11; from Theft, Rapin, and Deceit, Ver. 5, 6, 7. For the Panishment of which Crimes he mentions Judges in his Days, (Ver. 11, 28.) and was himfelf one of the chief, Chap. xxist. 7, 9, &c.

THESE, and fuch like Principles of natusal Religion, are allowed both by Job and his Friends, and therefore were the Religion of the Patriarchs, as indeed they are the Principles ciples of true and acceptable Religion in all Ages and Parts of the World.

FURTHER; the religious in that, and the preceding, as well as fublequent Ages, I am perfuaded, entertained the Faith and Hope of a future State. This hath been the popular Belief of all Nations from time immemorial; and it is fearce credible, in the Nature of the thing, that the greatest Happiness of this Life, which might at any uncertain time, and at length would infallibly and totally be demolished by Death, should ever become a folid Principle of Religion, confidered as the fole Reward of Piety and Virtue.

However it appears, that Job expected a future World, for he had Hope with regard to his Condition, but not in this World; therefore, his Hope must be in a future Chap. xiii. xv xvi. הזר יקטלני לאאיחל State. Lo, or certainly, be will flay me : I will not bope, non est quod sperem, I have no ground to hope, that I shall furvive my Sufferings, yet will I maintain the Integrity of my own Ways before bim. And even this shall be for Salvation to mo; [where but in a future World i] for a Hypocrite shall not come before bim; shall not have Confidence to present himself before his Tribunal. HE had, moreover, a Notion of the Refurrection. Chap. xiv. 7. For there is hape of a Tree, if it is cut down, that it will for out again, and that the tender Branch thereof will not cease. Ver. 8. Though the Root thereof wax old in the Earth, and the Stock thereof die in the Ground, Ver. o. yet through the Scent of Water it will bud, and bring forth Boughs like a new Plant. Ver. 10. And shall Man die, and totally wafte away? And shall Man give up the ghost, and where is he? Or be no more for ever? Ver. 11. So Man lieth down, and rifeth not, till the Heavens be no more; they shall not awake, nor be raifed out of their Sleep, to return to the Affairs and Poffeffions of this World. Ver. 13. And Ob that thou, O God, wouldst bide me in the Grave, in that State of Sleep and Infenfibility, that theu wouldst keep me fecret, in that filent Retirement, until thy Wrath be past; that thou would appoint me a fet time, and remember me to reftore me to a new and better Life ! Ver. 14. If a Man die, shall he live again? Or CHAP. xix. 23. Observe the solemn Introduction; Ob, that my Words, which I am going to speak, were now written! Ob, that they were printed in a Book ! Ver. 24. That they were graven with an iron Pen and Lead, in the Rock [my Grave-stone, SCHULTENS.] for ever ! This is too grand for a temporal Deliverance. Why fhould that be recorded upon a Rock, as a lasting Monument to all Mankind? But it very well fuits the noble and fublime Hope of a Refurrection and future Judgment, worthy of universal Attention. Ver. 25. For I know, or am well affured, that my גאָל Vindicator, [the Vindicator of my Innocence is] living, and that at the last over the Dust, [the Dead, that have been reduced to Dust,] be shall arife, [to execute Judgment, Job xxxi. 13, 14. Had this been his fixed Belief, his frequent wishing for Death would be utterly unaccountable, and his tragical Complaints ridiculous, and his despair of Health and Happinefs in this World a Contradiction.

Ir wicked Men, though fometimes in great wretchednefs, [Chap. xxi. 16, &tc.] are also fometimes prosperous and powerful, Verse 7, &tc. the proper Inference is, Verse 30. That the Wicked are reserved anto the Day of Destruction, and that they shall be brought forth to the Day of Wrath; not in this World, for that would have cut the Neck of Job's Argument at once, and have fallen in directly with that of his Friends. Chap. xxxi. 2, 3.

CHAP. XXVII. 8. FOR what is the Hope of an Hypocrite, in the future State, though be bath gained much in this World; when God

God takes away his Soul at Death? This fuppotects a Hope after Death. — Again, Chap. 2009. 13, 14. What then shall I do when God rifeth up to Judgment? Not in this World, where his Sufferings were as great as could be, and where he did not expect they would be abated.—Laftly, his Friends had not spoker of God the thing that was right, as Job had done, Chap. xlii. 7, 8. But, feting sfide a future State, the Friends would have spoke more worthily of God, by yindicating his Providence in the exact Difficientian 95 Good and Evil in this Life; and Job, who afferted the contrary, would have misreprefented his Dealings with Mankind.

THE Patriarch's before and after Job, and the Ifraelites before Christ came, had a Notion of a future State. - By Sacrifices was plainly shewn, that a way was open to the divine Favor and Acceptance; and the Favor of God imports Happines, which to Abel, who was for that very Reason, because he was accepted of God, unjuftly flain, could be only in a future State. Heb. xi. 4. Kai di autys antofarw and dying on account of that his Faith he yet speaketh an invisible future State of Reward. --- The Translation of Enech and Elijab, in two diftant Ages, were well known demonstrations of a future State of Reward and Glory .- They were certainly acquainted with God and Angels, and Heaven where both refided. Gen. xxii, 11. And the 1:3 Con-R 2

Connection between this World and Heaven, by the Ministry of Angels, was clearly reprefented to Jacob. Genefis xxviii. 12. They must, therefore, have a Notion of another and better World.

THE Promife to Abraham, Genefis xvii. 7. I will be a God unto thee, we shall find is the fame with the Gospel Promise, and therefore must include the Gift of eternal Life. And as that Promife was fure to A. braham, Isaac, and Jacob, when they were dead, (Exodus iii. 6.) our Lord rightly infers, that they would rife again. (Luke xx. 37, 38.) For God is not a God of the dead, who cannot, as fuch, be benefited by him, but of the living; for though they are dead, they all live unto him, or with respect of him, as he will raife them all to Life again. - And the Patriarchs thus understood this Promife; for when they confidered and reprefented their Life in this World as a Pilgrimage, Genesis xlvii. 9. or a State of sojourning or traveling, they plainly intimated that they were feeking, marpuda, their Father's Country i. e. the heavenly Country or City. Heb. xi. 12 -16. Had the Prospects of Moles been confined to this World, doubtless he would have preferred the Pleafures and Honours of Pharaob's Court; but by refusing them, and chusing rather to fuffer with the People of God, he plainly indicated, that be had respect to

to the future recompence of Reward. Heb. xi. 24, 25, 26.

IT is certain the Jews, even during their Peculiarity, were under the Abrahamic, or Gofpel Covenant, promifing the Pardon of Sin, and eternal Life, as well as under the Law, or Sinai Covenant. Deut. xxix. 12, 13. And furely, if they were admited to a Covenant of Life and Immortality, they could not be ignorant of a future State. Nor can it be judged at all improbable, that Mofes propounds eternal Life to them in fuch Paffages as this, Deut. xxx. 6. The Lord thy God will circumcife thy Heart, and the Heart of thy Seed, to love the Lord thy God with all thine Heart, and with all thy Soul, that thou mayst live. This our Lord understood of eternal Life. Luke x. 25, &c. When one asked him, What shall I do to inherit eternal Life ? 'he fent him to the Law of Mofes; and when the Enquirer readily quoted the Rule of Life given by Mofes, our Lord replied, Thou haft answered well; this do, and thou shalt live, meaning eternally. Which leads us to understand Moses in the fame Sense, when he proposes Life as the Reward of their fincere Religion, Virtue, and Goodnefs. Deut. xxx. 15,, 19, 20. Lev. xviii. 5. compared with Romans x. 5. Gal. iii. 10, 11, 12. Indeed Life and Prosperity in the Land of Canaan, is intermixed with fuch Promifes. in a national Capacity, and with respect to the Covenant of Peculiarity. [Note—Life is put for eternal Life, John vi. 47, 48 52, 53, 58.] אייר is the Begining, or former Part; ראשיר properly denotes, what comes after, the after Part, Time, or State. Thus Job's time, after his Afflictions were over, is called his abbaritb, Chap. xlii. 12. So is a Man's Posterity, or those that come after him in Being. Amos iv. 2.

SOMETIMES it fignifies the happy Confequence, or Sequel of a Courfe of Action, Proverbs xxiv. 14, 20; frequently after-Days, or Times in this World ; but is never uled more properly than to denote a future State after Death. Num. xxiii, 10. 'Let me die the Death of the Righteous, and let my abharith, my after, or future State, be like bis. Pfalm lxxiii. 3-18. The wicked lived in Prosperity, and died an easy Death. There are no Bands in their Death, Verse 4. I envied them, faith David, Verse 17, until I went into the Sanctuary of God; then understood I their, abharith, future State after Death. THESE Inftances may fatisfy, that, although Life and Immortality are brought into the fulleft Light by the Gofpel, a future State was not unknown from the Begining to the Coming of Cbrift. We may therefore take it for a good Rule, that the Words, Life and Salvation, in the Old Teftament, may be underftood of a future Life and Salvation, when the Context will admit of fuch an Interpretation.

WE have found, that in the patriarchal Age, among the Nations, before the Jewish Peculiarity, there were Perfons eminent for Religion and Virtue, who worshiped the living God, and enjoyed extraordinary Communications from him; but that many were of a different Character, wicked and ungodly Men; and that Idolatry, captivating the Minds of the ignorant, weak, and vicious, fpread fo fast, that it threatened the total Extinction of good Morals, and of the Knowledge and pure Worship of God. How the Father of Mankind counteracted this new Instance of Degeneracy we shall fee, when we have fetled the Scripture-Chronology, and confidered the Judgment of God upon Sodom and Gomorrha. ...

70 Years, and begat Abram, Nahor, and Haran. But Terab was 20g Years add when he died in Haran, Gen. xi. 32. After Strab's Death, Abram left Haran; and then was he 75 Years old, Gen. xii. 4. which being fubstracted from 205, Terab's Age, gives 130, the Year of Terab, when Abram was born.

+ Add Haac's Age (60) when Jacob was hern, to the Years from the Deluge, and you will have 512, the Year after the Deluge when Jacob was born. Shem was 98 Years old at the Deluge, and lived 600 Years, Gen. mi 10, 11. Take 98 from 600 and there remains 502, the Years Shem lived after the Deluge, which, deducted from 512, the Year after the Deluge, in which Jacob was born. leaves ten Years, the time between Ebem's Death and Jacob's Birth. Hence it follows, that Ifaac lived with Shem 50, and that Abraham lived with Shem 150 Years. Ifaac also, who lived 180 Years, (Gen. xxxv. 28.) lived 120 with Jacob, i. e. till within ton Years of Jacob's going down into Egypt. And as Shem lived with Methulelah 98, and Methufelah with Adam 240, three Perfons. Methufelab, Shem, and Ifaac, might bring down the Account of things from Adam till . within ten Years of the going down of the Trackites into Egypt. From the Deluge to the Promise was 427 Years.

The SCRIPTURE-CHRONOLOGY. 251

FROM the Promife to the time when Jacob and his Family went down into Egypt was 215 Years. And from the Promife to the time when the Children of Ifrael came out of Egypt was 430 Years. Compare Exod. wii. 41, with Gal. iii. 17. Therefore the time of their Continuance in Egypt must be 215 Years.

JOSEPH was 30 Years of Age when preferred by Pharoab, Gen. xli. 46. After that there were feven Years of Plenty, and two of Famine, (Gen. xlv. 11.) before Jacob came down into Egypt. Jofeph, therefore, was then 39 Years of Age, after that he lived 71 Years, for he lived in all 1 ro Years, Gen. 4. 22, 26. Take 71 out of 215, and there remains 144, the time the Ifraelites remained Sluves in Egypt after Jofeph's Death. Exod. i. 8.

BEFORE we come to the Promife made to Abraham, which was the Foundation Stone of the grand Scheme to preferve Religion and Morals in the World, we must turn our Thoughts a while to a particular Difpenfation, which God inflicted upon four Cities, Statom and Gomorrah, Admab and Zeboim, (Gen. xiv. 2. Deut. xxix. 23.) that ftood in a very extensive, fruitful, and pleafant Vale, along the Sides of the River Jordan. Gen. xiii. 10. So far had Idolatry, and the Immorality which usually attends it, infected the World, that thele four populous Cities, and and Zoar, which lay not far from them, (Gen. xiv. 2. xix. 20.) were become exceffively debauched and wicked, indulging to that vileft fort of Lewdnefs, which is commonly called Sodomy, going after strange Flesh, (Jude 7.) the Men burning in their Lust one towards another, Men with Men working that which is unsteemly. Rom. i. 27.

THEREFORE God purposed to punish them with an exemplary and total Destrucction. Abraham, in the Benevolence of his Soul, interceded for their Prefervation. Gen. xviii. 23. And fuch is the Mercy of God, fo great his Regard to virtuous Characters, and to ready for their Sakes to beftow Bleffings, even upon the unworthy, that he would have spared them, if but Ten truly sober and virtuous Person's could have been found in all those five Cities; but they were univerfally and irreclaimably corrupt. Therefore, sparing Zoar for Lot's Sake, (Gen. xix. 20, 21.) he destroyed the other four Cities, with all their Inhabitants, by pouring upon them the most dreadful Storm of Fire and Brimftone from Heaven; and alfo, probably, by a terrible Earthquake, that broke up the very Soil of the Earth, and by an Irruption of bituminous Waters, which turned the whole Vale into one heavy, fetid, and unwholfome Lake, called the dead, or falt Sea, about 30 Miles long, and 10 Miles broad, Gen. xix. 24, 25, which remains unto this Day. This

THIS dreadful Instance of divine Vengeance, through the Mercy of God, removed the bad Examples of those daring Sinners, had a natural Fitness to awaken and reform the furviving Impious, and was very properly intended to remain a perpetual Monument of the Wrath of God upon the Wickedness of Mankind. 2 Pet. ii. 6. Jude Ver. 7. Suffering the Vengeance of eternal Fire. Note — the Fire was eternal, as it totally and for ever deftroyed those Cities never to be built again. God thus revealed his future Wrath from Heaven against all Ungodlinefs and Unrighteoufnefs of Men. And though there be no present Appearances of it, we should not therefore be fecure. For, as our Lord observes, Luke xvii. 28. The Sodomites did eat, they drank, they bought, they fold, they planted, they builded, thoughtlefs and fecure ; but the fame Day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained Fire and Brimstone from Heaven, and destroyed them all. The State of RELIGION GA 255

C H A P. XXVI.

The State of RELIGION in the World, when God made the Promise to ABRAHAM.

light of the second of the second of the HOUGH we may be fure, that our State of Trial hath been, from the Begining of the World, perfectly well adjusted, as to the proper Ballance of Means and Temptations, for all the Purposes of divine Wildom and Goodnels, yet it is certain that the Contagion of Evil fo far spread in the earliest Ages, as, in Process of time, to threaten the total Extinction of true Religion and good Morals. This is evident in the Cafe of the old World, where Wickednefs and Impiety had, at length, and by Degrees, infected the whole Race of Mankind. except Noab's fingle Family. And in about 4.50 Years after the Deluge, Idolatry and Wickedness had spread and corrupted the World fo far, that Sodom and four other Cities, being univerfally debauched, were destroyed (one excepted for the Reason already given) by a most tremendous Judg-ment. The Amorites, and several other neighbouring Nations, were then filling up the Measure of their Iniquity; (Gen. xv. 16, 19, 20, 21.) which in about 400 Years after was quite full ; and God, who might have have destroyed them, as he did Sodom, Ecc. gave the Ifraelites a Commission to expel, or extirpate them.

THIS foreading Corruption, after the Deluge, is not to be affigned to fimple Irreligion, but to Religion directed to wrong Objects and Purpofes. While Men retained the Knowledge of the true God, they cared not to glorify him by the Practice of Virtue and Holineis, nor were thankful for his Benefits. Rom. i. 21, 22. And artful Men. through Pride and Wantonnefs, indulging to idle Conceits and falle Reafonings, involved their own Understanding, and that of others, in the thickeft Clouds of Error and Delafion. Probably, they represented the heavenly Bodies, the Sun, Moon, and Stars, as illustrious Intelligences, who, being fo eminently exalted, must have the highest Interest in the Favor of God, the Direction of human Affairs, and the Distribution of all temporal Bleffings; and therefore it would be fufficient to all the Purpofes of Religion, to fecure their Friendship, as Mediators between God and Thus they might be driven, enticed, them. drawn in, to worship them, (Deut. iv. 19.) by fuch impious Rites as were invented by the Folly and Ignorance of the fame Sophisters, and adapted to the depraved Minds of such as listened to them. Thus they might be deceived into the Practice of all Manner of Lewdness and Vice. For the Attributes

when God made the Promife to ABRAHAM. 257

Attributes of those supposed Deities, and Benefactors of Mankind, being feigned purely by human Imagination, they would naturally be reprefented by Men, who had their own Interests and Lusts to ferve, in fuch Manner as best fuited the corrupt Taste and Inclinations of those who were disposed to follow them. If this was not the Cafe at first. it may eafly be conceived to have been to in Process of Time, by after-improvements upon the original Scheme of Idolatry. And by this method Men would be lead to believe. they might be religious, and gain Health, long Life, fruitful Seafons, Plenty, Prosperity, not only without the Practice of Virtue and Holinefs, but, politively, by lewd and wicked Practices; and thus Religion would besturned into an Encouragement to Vice, and the Principles of Virtue and Goodness would be extinguished.

Whether they were feduced precifely after this Manner or not, the Fact is certain, that their abominable Idolatries were attended with abominable Lufts and Intemperance. I Pet. iv. 3. Add to this, that cunning Men, who knew how to make their own Advantage of the Foibles of Mankind, introduced into their Minds Notions of Fate, Deftiny, Foatune, Chance, Neceffity, with many other Delufions. Hence arofe Profeffors of the vileft Arts, pretending to look into Futurity, to gratify malicious Defires, to fecure S good, good, and provent bad Luck to those who consulted them. Deut xviii. 10 Divimers. Chargers of Times, Inchanters, Witches, or inchess pretend to work upon the Mind, or Body for evil Purpoles, by Herbs or Potions Charmers, Confulters with a pretended familiar Spirit, Wizards, Necromancers: And, to far were they infatuated, that they made their Sons and Daughters to pais through the Fire, under the Notion of Sac ifices to their. Idols ; probably, to gain their Bleffing upon their Children, and to make them healthy and fortunate. Deut. xii. 31. xviii. 10. Lev. xviii. 21, xx. a. Thus their Hope and Truft, and their Regards were diverted from God and his Providence to vain Idols and the vielt Impoftors.

THE Neglect and Abuse of Understanding, and the indulged irregular Inclimations of the Heart, were doubtless the Spring and principal Caufe of this Defection from God and Virtue. But we may believe it was forwarded and compleated by the Suggestions and Infligations of the Devil and his Angels; the Prince of the power of the Air, the Specit whom God permits to work in the Children of Difebediense, (Ephol. ii. 2.) and to decained the Nations. Rev. xx. 2, 3. For when Men receive not the Love of the Truth, that they may be faved, God judicially fends them finance Delusion, that they may believe a Lie. I had they may all be condemned, who believe not the Truth.

when God made the Fromise to ABRAHAM. 259 Truth, but have Pleasure in Unrighteousses. 2 Theff. ii. 9-12.

Thus we fee how Identry first began, and by what Means it might, as it certainly did, spread in the World; and would have prevailed universally, as the remaining virtuous dropt off, and as Men of Understanding happened to be drawn in by various Alturements. For the Heart even of Solamon, the great and wife, was, by the Love of Arange Women, fo far turned away after Idel-Gods, that he built High-places and Altars in Honor of them, even in the Neighbourhood of the City Jerufalem. I Kin. xi. I-8.

To prevent the universal Prevalence of Idolatry, and to preferve among Mankind the Knowledge and Worship of the living and true God, the wife and gracious Father of Men was pleafed to advance a new and noble Scheme, which, under feveral Variations and Improvements, was to reach to the End of Time. The Scheme was this, to choole and adopt one Family, afterwards to be formed into a Nation, inftructed in religious Knowledge by God himfelf, and favored with fuch extraordinary Privileges, and Honors, above all other Nations of the Earth. as were in their own Nature adapted to ingage them, by the most rational Motives, to adhere to God and his Worship. At the fame time, to prevent their being infected with S 2 with the Idolatries and Vices of the reft of the World, as they certainly would have been, had they mingled with them, they were to be diffinguished and separated from all other People by their Diet, their Drefs, and divers civil and religious Rites and Ceremonies; but more particularly by a fecret Mark in the Flesh, by which they might be certainly known from all other Men. Thus they would be kept together in a Body, and hindered from mixing with, and being corrupted by, their idolatrous Neighbours, and in every Respect fited to be an Example and Instruction to them under the various Dispensations wherewith they were visited. And further, their Laws and religious Institutions being originally recorded in Books, would more certainly be preferved and known in all future Ages and Generations. Thus God provided a Store-houfe of religious Knowledge, a whole Nation of Priefts, Exod. xix. 6, a School of Instruction and Wildom for all the World. Or the Nation of Ifraelites may be confidered as a Peice of Leaven which in Process of time was to leaven the whole Lump or Mais of Mankind.

ABRAHAM, a Perfon of the most eminent Piety and Virtue, was chosen to be the Head and Father of this Nation ; that, as he would always be held in great Veneration among them, he might always shine before their The Methods of DIVINE WISDOM &c. 261 their Eyes as an illustrious Pattern of Godlinefs.

THE Ground of this Scheme, and of God's fingular Regards to Abraham and his Posterity, was the COVENANT OF GRACE. the PROMISE or Grant of Favors and Bleffings to Mankind in Jesus Christ our Lord. Who verily was fore-ordained before the Foundation of the World, though not manifested till the last Times. 1 Pet. i. 20. This Covenant or Grant was first published to Adam. Gen. iii. 15. Her, the Woman's, Seed shall bruife tby Head, O Serpent, and thou Shalt bruife bis Heel. Nor could it be wholly unknown to the Patriarchs; but it was much more clearly revealed to Abraham. Gen. xii. 3. xvii. 7. xviii. 18. xxii. 16, 17, 18. And this is the Subject which now requires our particular Attention. See the Treatife on the Covenant of Grace, &c.]

The Methods of DIVINE WISDOM in raising up a new and religious NATION.

O return to the Age in which Abrabam lived. The Delufions of Idolatry were fo frong, and the human Underfranding fo weak, that all Nations feem to have run into it at once and alike. And S 3 fuch fuch was the infatuating and fpreading Wature of the Infection, that there was no rational Prospect of the Reformation of any one of them. Violence could not be used, Argument and Reafoning would have 'no Effect, the most dreadful Judgments were forgotten, or difregarded.* The Knowledge and Worthip of the one living and true God, the great Principle of moral Goodners, and of publick and private Happiness, would have been totally loft in the Earth. But the Father and Governor of Men provided a Remedy. Inftend of deftroying all Nations, as at the Deluge, it was the merciful Scheme of divine Wildom to create, out of one pious and faithful Perfon, Abraham, a new and religious Nation, separated from all the seft, in order to afcertain among them, and at length among all Nations, right Sentiments of his Being, Perfections, and Providence. And it is greatly worth our while to obferve the Steps and Methods by which God was pleased to train them up for this Purpose.

FIRST, Abraham is required to caft himfelf wholly upon God's Providence, by removing, at God's Command, from his own Kindred and Country, to an unknown difant Land, which God would flew him; affuring him of his Prefence and special Bleffing.

* Reckoning by the Age of Man, the World was 20 Years old; for God called Abrabam in the Year of the World 2083.

The Methods of DIWINE WISDOM &c. 263 Blothing. Genefis xii, 1, 2, 3. Thus God took hun under his immediate Care and Protection. In this Arange Land he wandered about as long as he lived, but God was with him every where. God appeared to him, and gunverted with him frequently and familiarly. By extraordinary Interpolitions, and express Declarations from time to time God incouraged, directed, prospered, guarded and provided for him. He became very rich, great, and honourable; but all was most visibly the Gift and Operation of God. God gave him repeated Affurances, that he would make of him a great Nation, give his Posterity the whole Land of Canaan, and that in his Seed all the Nations of the Barth should be bleffed. But he was not to have a Son, till the Birth of that Son was manifeltly the extraordinary miraculous Effect of divine Power, and infured the Performance of the Promifes. What could be more ingaging than all these Circumstances ? What more proper to excite in a Man, Duty, Affection, and Confidence towards God? The fame Encouragements, Bleffings, and Promifes are repeated to Ifrac, and afterwards to Yacob, and the fame heavenly Correspondence is kept open with them during their Lives. Egypr, then a plentiful Country, of Genius and Learning, [Asts vii. 22.] the Refort of the curious and inquisitive, was chosen to be the Nurfery of this Family. Thither was S 4 25 · Joseph Dispb finit cardind by a fingular Providence, fold for a Slave, and molt unjuitly call into Prifon, but only that God might flow hithfelf in his Enlargement. By Means which God only could provide and direct, he was at once releafed from a Jail, and raifed to almost regal Flonor and Authority. And in high Dignity and Esteem, and with astonishing Success, which none but God could give, in the most important Affairs, he continued all the Days of his Life.

By him God predicted Seven Years of prodigious Plenty in Egypt, and Seven fucceeding Years of the most distressing Famine in the Land, and in all the adjacent Countries. By this Event, 'Jacob's whole Family, in all Seventy Two Souls, were brought to relide, with the great good-will of the King, and of the whole Nation, in Golben, the richeft Province in the Land of Egypt, Gen. xlvii. 6. where their Situation, Manners, and way of living would keep them separate from their idolatrons Neighbours. Gen. xliii. 32. xlvi. 34. Thus God, by a surprising Train of Events, introduced the Family of Abraham into the Nurfery, where they were to grow up into a Nation. At length a Prince arofe, who knew, or regarded, not Joseph, Exodus i. 8. Then they fell into a State of Slavery, and the feverest Oppression and Suffering, for about 140 Years. But this was only to render the Power of God more confpicuous in

The Methods of Divine Wisdom Sc. 265 in their Brefernation and Deliverance. The more they are oppressed, and the more craelly they were used, the more they increase and flourish, till they were numerous enough so be formed into a Nation. Then Moles was miraouloufly preferved, educated by Pharaob's Daughter in all the Wildom of the Hypptians, and railed up to be their Deliver. or. And now the Vials of divine Wrath are poured out one after another upon Egypt. God made bare his Arm, or gave the most fignal and fisiking Demonstrations of his Being and Power, infinitely superior not only to all human Strength, but also to all the pretended Deities, in which the Egyptians trufted. Brodus xii. 12.

To this End (1.) the divine Wildom permited, on this special Occasion, Pharaob's Magicians, possibly by the Ministry of evil Spirits, or by extraordinary Powers immediately communicated to the Enchanters, to imitate fome of the Miracles which Mofes wrought, in order to difplay more clearly his own divine Power; and to convince both Egyptians and Ifraelites of the Vanity of fuch Arts, by controling and defeating them, even when exercifed in the higheft Degree. So a Man was born blind, and Lazarus died, on Purpose to give pur Lord an Opportunity of demonstrating his Power, and the Truth of his Miffion. John ix. 3. xi. 4. And for that Reason, an extra-

The invifible World of Spirits may undergo many Variations, and be fubject to different Reftraints and Regulations in different Ages, fo as to interfere more or lefs, or not at all in human Affairs. Jortin.

(2.) God hardened Pharash's Heart, by granting him Respite from one Plague after another, that he might multiply, and to ronder more confpicuous, the Demonstrations of his Being and fupreme Dominion. And this is all that God did towards hardening Pharaob's Heart. See Exodus vili. 15. ix. 34, 35, and Werle 15, 16. For now, faith the Lord, 1 bave firetched out my Hand [in the preceding Plague of Boils and Blains,] and I have Imitten thee, and thy People, with the Peflilence, and [by this Plague] thou mighteft have been cut off from the Earth. But in very Deed for this Caufe I have raifed thee up, | I have restored thee to Health, by removing the pestilential Boils,] that by respiting thy De-Aruction, I may Thew in thee more and greater Proofs of my almighty Power.

of all the Ten Plagues, but especially of the laft. The Peltilence, in ordinary Cales, iweeps away Multitudes promicuouily, but when N'fingleth out only the First-born in every Family, it must plainly appear to be a Judg-ment immediately from the Hand or Direction of God; [Exedus xii. 29.] as it was to the Israelites a just Retribution of the Cruelty of the Egyptians in endeavouring to deftroy all their male Children, Exodus i. 16. Note-In those Ages and Circumstances of the World, when Men were not to capable of being convinced by abstract Reasoning, and probably underflood nothing of the Perfections of God a priori, his supreme Authority and Omnipotence would be belt demonstrated by Facts, which experimentally proved his uncontroled Dominion over all other Powers, and over universal Nature.] At last Pharaoh and his People give up the Caule. God's fuperior Power is owned, becaufe fo dreadfully experienced. The Egyptians urge them to depart, and to remove all Objections that might hinder their Departure, willingly give them the most precious and valuable of their Possessions, [which, by the way, might be but equal Payment for the Labor of 10 great a Multitude, for 140. THE Israelites leave Egypt, in Number no lefs than Twenty Four Hundred Thoufand, Num. i. 4 ç, 46, and all Nature giveth way before them. At the fame time he gave them a System of Laws and Statutes, most excellent in themfelves, fited to their prefent Temper and Circumstances, as well as to the future Intents and Purposes of the Gospel Dispensation. Here God took up his Refidence among them in the Tabernacle, aftewards in the Temple, seting himself at the Head of their Affairs, and upon all important Occasions directing them as an Oracle. And all this to attach and unite this one Nation to himfelf.

AT length, through a Train of very firiking Miracles, (fordan divided, the Walls of fericbo thrown down) he brought them into the promifed Land, with a Commission to deftroy all the Inhabitants, the Measure of whote Iniquity was then full; and, who probably were more corrupt than any of their Neighbours, and as deferving of Destruction as Sodom and Comorrba, for all the Idolatrous, brutish, cruel, incessuo, and unnatural Crimes, which universally prevailed amongst

HERE we may observe, (1.) that the Ifnachitas made no Claim to the Lands of Canam in their own Right. The Right was in God, who gave is them. (2.) We may observe a good Reason why the diving Wildom creeted this Scheme for preserving true Religion, only in the one Nation of the Ifnachitas. EVEN after the lfractites were fetled in the Land, the Danger of Idolatry was not over. They were ready on every Gecafion to catch the Infection from their Naighbours; and flill there was need of forther divine Interpolitions. And through a long Courle of Years they were exercised with various Difponfations; according as they did or did not achere to the Worthip of God. till by repeated Calamities, and fignal Deliverances, accompanied with the clearer Light, and more rational Convictions, which, at length, they were prepared to receive from their Prophets, they were at last weaned from Idolatry, after the Babylonish Captivity, about 955 Years after their Return out of Egypt; and never relapsed into it again.*

ALL this was necessary, and in Confistence with human Agency, and the gradual Improvements of Mankind; was the properoff Method to preferve the Knowledge of the true God in the World, not only in that fingle Nation, but in all the Nations of the Earth. For the Difpenfation among the Jews, like a Piece of Leaven, which leaveneth the whole Mass, was intended for the Benefit of all Mankind; as by this Means they became Examples and Instructors, while they remained in their own Country, to all their Neighbours; and when in Captivity, or Dispersion, as they carried with them the Knowledge of God into the Countries where they were dispersed; till the Nations should, by this and other Means of Improvement, be prepared to receive the elearest Revelation of the true God, and of eternal Life by the Meffiab. Which was the

* Reckoning by the Age of Man, the World was then 34 Years old; for the Jews returned from the Babylonifh Captivity about the Year of the World 3468. The Methods of DIVINE WISDOM &c. 273 the great End and Defign of the Scheme, which we have been confidering.

AND now, the more a thinking Man revolves in his Mind this Train of Affairs, and fees how one Nation are led, ftep by ftep, as their Capacities would admit, to a Senfe of the Pre-eminence and Sovereignty of the true God, in order to be fet apart as the Repository of his facred Laws and Religion, till they and all Mankind are fit for the Reception of them in a more fimple, clear, and extensive Form, under the Gospel, the more he will confess and admire the Signatures of Wisdom and Goodness that appear through the whole and every Part of the Oeconomy.

THERE is one thing deferves particular Attention, I mean, the Spirit and Behaviour of the Ifraelites in the Wildernefs. A verv remarkable Instance of the wretched Effects of Servitude upon the human Soul. They had been Slaves to the Egyptians for about 140 Year; their Spirits were debased, their Judgments weak, their Senfe of God and Religion very low; they were very defective in Attention, Gratitude, Generofity; full of Diftrust and uneasy Suspicions; complaining and murmuring under the most aftonishing Displays of divine Power and Goodnefs, as if still under the Frowns and Scourges of their unjust Task-Masters; could fcarce raife their Thoughts to Profpects the most pleafing and joyous; knew not how to value Т value the Bleffings of Liberty; of a Tafte fo mean and illiberal, that the Flefh and Fifh, the Cucumbers, the Melons, the Leeks, Onions and Garlick, and fuch good Doings in Egypt, weighed more with them than Bread from Heaven, and all the divine Affurances and Demonstrations, that they should be raifed to the noblest Privileges, the highest Honor and Felicity, as a peculiar Treasure to God, above all People in the World. Num. xi. 4, 5, 6.

In short, nothing would do; the ill Qualities of Slavery were engrained in their Hearts; a groveling, thoughtlefs, fturdy, dastardly Spirit fatigued the divine Patience, counteracted and defeated all his wife and beneficent Measures; they could not be worked up to that Senfe of God, that Efteem of his higheft Favors, that Gratitude and generous Dutifulness, that Magnanimity of Spirit, which were neceffary to their conquering and enjoying the promifed Land. And therefore the Wildom of God determined, they should not attempt the Posseffion of it, till that Generation of Slaves, namely, all above 20 Years of Age, were dead and buried. However, this did not lie out of the divine Plan. It ferved a great Purpofe, namely, to warn that, and all future Ages of the Church, both Jewish and Chriftian, that if they despife and abuse the Goodnefs of God, and the noble Privileges and Profpects

Prospects they enjoy, they shall forfeit the Benefit of them. And the Apostle applieth it to this very important Use, with great Force and Propriety, in the Epistle to the Hebrews, Chap. iii. Ver. 15, to the End, and Chap. iv. Ver. 1-12.

THUS, for a general View of this noble Scheme. The Nature and Excellency of it will ftand in a ftronger Light, if we examine the particular Privileges and Honors confered upon this diftinguished Nation, their Tendency to promote Piety and Virtue, and the Relation they bear to the State of things under the Gospel. For this Part of the Subject we must turn to my Key to the Apostolic Writings.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Of the Jewish RITUAL, or Ceremonial LAW.

W E must now turn back to the mofaic Constitution; which consisted, 1. Of political and judicial Laws. For which consult Mr. LOWMAN on The Civil Government of the Hebrews. 2. Of moral Precepts, such as the Ten Commandments. 3. Of Rites and Ceremonies, such as Circumcision, Sacrifices, Washings, Purifications, the Use of certain Garments, &c. and divers Rites used by the Priests in the Tabernacle. T 2

276 Of the Jewish RITUAL,

For a particular Account of which, confult Mr. LOWMAN on the Ritual of the Hebrew Worfbip. I shall only observe in general, that the Design of those Ceremonies, justly explained, was to convey religious and moral Instructions, as well as the express Precepts.

HIEROGLYPHICS, which represent the Sense of the Mind, by outward Figures, or Actions, were the first and most ancient Literature. So the Government of the World by divine Providence, and its extraordinary Interpolition in Favor of good Men, is represented by a Ladder standing upon the Earth, and reaching to Heaven, with the Angels afcending and defcending on it, to receive and execute Orders from God above, who ruleth over all. Gen. xxviii. 12, 13. In the Style of this Hieroglyphic our Lord speaks, John i. 51. Hereafter shall you see Heaven open, and the Angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man, as upon Jacob; meaning you shall fee an extraordinary divine Interpofition working in my Favor, by many miraculous Operations. [Dr. BENSON] The Exaltation of Joseph above the rest of the Family, was represented by the Hieroglyphic of his Sheaf standing upright, and the eleven Sheaves of his Brothers standing round about and bowing to it. As also of the Sun, Moon, and eleven Stars making Obeyfance to him. Gen. xxxvii. 7, 9. The Tribe of Judab or Ceremonial LAW.

Judab is represented by a young Lion; Ifachar by a ftrong Afs; Dan by a Serpent lurking in the Road; Naphtali by a Hinde; Joseph by a fruitful Bough ; Benjamin by a ravening Wolf. Gen. xlix. 9, 14, &c. Α Rod, or Staff, as it is an Inftrument of striking or beating down, is the Hieroglyphic of Power exerted in conquering, punishing, ruling, Isaiab x. 5, 24; and of Dominion and Authority, Pfalm cx. 2; and as fuch, is continued to this Day, under the Name of a Sceptre. With fuch a Rod Mofes and Aaron appeared before Pharaoh, as hieroglyphically representing the Power and Authority of God, in whofe Name they demanded the Release of the Ifraelites. Exod. vii. 15. And thus they appeared as Men of Learning, and acted agreably to the Literature of the Age. A Horn represented temporal Power and Dominion. I Sam. ii. 10. 1 Kin. xxii. 11. Pfal. lxxxix. 24. A Yoke, fuch as Slaves carried upon their Shoulders, Servitude, or Bondage, Gen. xxvii. 37, 40. fer. xxvii. 2, 6. xxviii. 10.

THIS may ferve to explain the Nature of Hieroglyphics; a Sort of Language the Jews were then accuftomed to, being the Learning of that Age, which they would underftand much better than abftract Reafonings about moral Truths and Duties. We may therefore, on this Account, well admit, that the Rites and Ceremonies of their religious T 3 Infitu-

Inftitution were hieroglyphic, and intended by external Representations to give them useful Inftractions in true Religion and real Goodness. If we confult the Prophets and Apofiles, who were well acquainted with their Meaning, we shall find for much Evidence of the moral and spiritual Intention of for many, as may induce us to believe, this was the Sense and Spirit of all the rest.

THEY were enjoined various and frequent Ablutions, or Washings with Water; the common Use of which is to discharge the Body from all Dirt and Filth, and to keep This was a very eafy Reprefentait clean. tion of Purity of Mind, or of an Heart burged from the Filth of Sin. Burning of Incenfe, whole Smoak rifeth up with a pleafant Smell, was an hieroglyphic Reprefentation of acceptable Prayer. Pfal. cxli. 2. Luke i. 10. Rev. viii. 3, 4. Circumcifion had Relation to the Heart and Soul, or to the retrenching all inordinate Affections and Inclinations. Lev. xxvi. 41. Deut. x. 12—17. xxx. 6. Jer. iv. 4. Rom. ii. 29. The Sprinkling of Blood, and of the Water of Separation (Num. xix. 13, 19.) was hieroglyphic, and had a moral Signification. See Heb. ix. 13, 14. x. 22. xii. 24. 1 Pet. i. 2. And fo had the muzzled Mouth of the Ox. Deut. xxv. 4. compared with 1 Cor. ix. 9, 10. 1 Tim. v. 17, 18.

Some may have indulged too much to Imagination, and found more Mysteries in the Hebrew Ritual than were really defigned; but these Instances, explained by authentic Evidence, may convince us, that the whole had a rational and spiritual Meaning. And as we are taught in the Golpel every thing relating to Virtue and Religion in the plaineft Manner, we need not give ourfelves much Trouble about discovering the Meaning of the other Rites, which are not explained by Prophets and Apostles. Only the Affair of Sacrifices is fo often alluded to in the New Testament, and seems to have such Respect to the Sacrifice of our Lord, that it demands a more particular Examination. C H A P. XXX.

Authors within the Period from the Exodus to the Founding of Solomon's Temple.

A BOUT the Begining of this Period Books began to be written; and it hath furnished the World with the noblest Productions both in History, Poetry, and the instructive kind.

The Book of JOB.

IF Job wrote his own Book; or if it was written by Elibu, one of the Interlocutors, as fome gather from Chap. xxxii. 10, 15, &c. where he fpeaks in the Language of the Writer of the Book; and if Moles found it when he was with Jethro in Midian, and transcribed it, adding the historical Parts at the Begining and the End; then this Book of Job is earlier than this Period, and the oldest Book in the World. And, as it is worthy of the highest Antiquity, any of these Suppositions is far more probable, than theirs, who imagine it was written in a later Age, about the time of the Babylonish Captivity.

The PENTATEUCH.

THAT Mofes wrote the Pentateuch, or fivefold Volume, (from $\pi_{ev\tau e}$, quinque, and $\tau_{ev\chi}$,

286 Aythors within the Period

reux , Volumen, Liber,) containing the five first Books in the Bible, we have the fame Reafon to believe, as we have that Homer wrote the Iliad ; namely, the Confent of all the barned in all Ages. The first of these Books is Genefis, בראשיה containing the only History of the World from the Creation down to Jacob's removing into Egypt, for 2208 Years. 2 Exodus. The is the History of the Departure of the Ifraelites out of Egypt, and of the erecting and furnishing of the Tabernacle. 3. Leviticus, ריקרא in which are the Laws, Ceremonies, and Sacrifices of the Jewish Religion, and what particularly related to the Levites. 4. Numbers, LOTER begins with the numbering of the Ifraelites; after which feveral Laws and remarkable Events are recorded. 5. Deutercnomy, TErria is a Repetition and an Abridgement of the Law. with Exhortations and Motives to the Obfervance of it.

The Book of JOSHUA.

JOSHUA probably wrote the last Chapter of Deuteronomy, and the Book of Joshua, containing an Account of his own Acts, in conquering and dividing the Land of Canaan; and Phineas, the High-Priest, might add the five last Verses relating to the Death of Joshua, and of his Father Eleazar the High-Priest.

The

from the ExoDus Sc.

WAs certainly written before the fecond Book of Samuel; compare 2 Sam. xi. 21. with Judg. ix. 53; and before David had taken Jerusalem, 2 Sam. v. 6. Judg. i. 21. Samuel, the Prophet, or Seer, the last of the Judges, was an Historian, 1 Chron. xxix. 29. and probably wrote this Book of Judges. In which we read the great Efficacy of Religion to make a Nation happy, and the difmal Calamities which Impiety brings along with it. St. Paul (Heb. xi. 32.) points out fome Examples of heroic, and furprizingly fuccefsful Faith in Gideon, Barak, Samfon, and Yephthah, whose History is recorded in this Book. It confilts of two Parts, the one containing the Hiftory of the Judges, from Othniel to Samuel, which Part ends with the xvith Chapter ; the other, containing feveral memorable Actions, performed not long after the Death of Joshua, is thrown to the End of the Book, that it might not interrupt the Thread of the Hiftory.

The Book of R U T H.

RUTH may be confidered as an Appendage to the Book of Judges, and brings down the Hiftory to the times of Samuel, who probably was the Author of it, and draws the Lineage of Judab down to David. Chap.

288 Authors soithin the Period

Chap. iv. 18. Which makes it not unlikely, that it was written after David was anointed by Samuel. 1 Sam. xvi. 13.

HERE it may not be improper to observe, that Samuel was not only an Author, but otherwife feems to have been a great Promoter of Literature and Religion. We never read of the Companies, or Colleges of Prophets till this time, and therefore, probably, he crected them. They were Seminaries for the Instruction of Youth in the Knowledge of the Law, and for training them up in the Exercises of Piety; particularly in the finging of facted Hymns, in Concert with instrumental Music. This in the Language of those times, was prophelying, I Sam. x. 5. I Chron. xxv. 1, 2, 3, 7. They were not, strictly speaking, all of them Prophets; but upon fome of them God bestowed the Spirit of Prophecy, or of predicting future Events, 2 Kings ii. 3. And we may fuppole, that most of the Prophets, properly fo called, came out of those Schools. Amos excepts himfelf, Chap. vii. 14. - I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophet's Son, i. c. Disciple; for the Scholars were called, the Sons of the Prophets. At their Head, as Governor, they had fome venerable truly inspired Prophet, who was called their Father. I Sam. x. 12. 2 Kings ii. 12. Samuel was one, and perhaps the first of those Fathers, or Governors. I Sam. xix. 20. -Elijahwas was another. 2 Kings ii. 12. And Elifba fucceeded him in this Office. 2 Kings iv. 38. Elisha came to Gilgal - and the Sons of the Prophets were fiting before bim. The Mafter, or Father, fat above ; and the Scholars below, before him, at his First. 2 Kings ii. 8. Knoweft thou that the Lord will take away thy Master from thy Head? or from the Sear. where he fits above thy Head-See After xxii. 3. They lived together in Society, 2 Kings vi. 1; and when they had done their Lectures, and religious Exercises, were wont to eat together with their Masters. 2 Kings iv. 38, Sc. This Institution had a manifest Tendency to advance Religion and Learning.

I. II. SAMUEL.

1 SAMUEL was wrote before I Kings. 1 Kings ii. 17. 1 Sam. ii. 31, 35, compared; and it is not unreafonably fuppofed, that Samuel wrote the first 24 Chapters; and that, after his Death, the History of David was continued in the first and fecond Books of Samuel by the Prophets Gad and Nathan. I Chron. xxix. 29.

I. II. KINGS.

THESE Books contain the Hiftory of the Kings of Judab and Ifrael, from Solomon to the Captivity in Babylon, for the Space of 423 Years. In this Period were feveral Hif-U toriographers; toriographers; for we read of the Book of the Acts of Sotomon, I Kings 1xh 41. which Acts of Salamon were recorded in the Book of Nathan the Prophet, and in the Prophecy of Abijab the Shilonite, and in the Visions of Iddo the Seer. 2 Chron. ix. 29. Which Idda was imployed, together with Shemalab the Prophet, in writing the Acts of Reboboam. 2 Chron. xii. 15. We also read of the Book of Jebu, the Prophet, relating the Acts of King Jebefhaphat. 2 Chron. xx. 34. I King's XVI. I. And Ijaiah, the Prophet, wrote the Acts of King Uzziab, 2 Chron. xxvi. 22; and allo. of King Hezekiab, 2 Chron. xxxii. 32. And it is highly probable, that he wrote the Hil. tory of the two intermediate Kings Jotham and Abaz, in whole Reigns he lived. Ifai. And, we may well suppose, all these i. 1. Histories added one to another, make the two Books of Kings.

Note - No Writer of the History of the Kings of Judab or Ifrael is any where exprelly named, but his Title is either given him as a Prophet, or it appears from tome other Part of Scripture that he was a Prophet. This Quality of the Writer was given to draw from us a proportionable Refpect, and make us receive the Hiftory with the Reverence which is its due. The Prophets were the Jewish Historians; therefore to the hiltorical Books, Joshua, Judges, T. II. Samuel, 1. 11. King's, they give the Title of, the The Book of P 9 A L M 8,

Was composed by several Authors, but chiefly by King David. Moles composed the xcth Plalm, when God had shortened the Lives of the liraelites in the Wildernets, as a Punishment for their Unbelief. The cxxxviith Plalm was indited soon after their Transportation to the Land of Babylon, and Captivity there, and the cxxvith upon their Return out of it. Others were made upon other Occasions; as may be seen in their Titles, (although those are not supposed to be of the same Authority with the Text) or collected from the Sense and Scope of the Plalm. For which Bp. PATRICK's Paraphrase may be confulted.

THE Book of Plalms is divided into five Parts. The first reaches to the End of the xli^{it} Plalm; the second to the End of the lxxli^d Plalm; the third to the End of the lxxlith; the fourth to the End of the cvith; and the fifth Part to the End of the whole.

and fervent Devotions of Meditation, Thankf giving, Prayer and Supplication, Faith, Hope, and Truft in God in every Condition, and the moft excellent Instructions in every Branch of Piety and Virtue. And the frequent reading of it hath a strong Tendency to establish in our Minds the Principles of true Wildom, even every right Disposition towards God and Man; and that Purity of Heart, and Serenity of Mind, which is a Pund of Comfort and Joy in the Ways of God, and will animate us to walk in them with Steadiness and Delight.

MOSES was the first that composed facred Hymns; that we read of, Exod. xv. Deborab the next, Judg. v. and then Hannab, 1 Sam. ii. But David, an admirable Artilt in Mufick, (I Sam. xvi 18. Amos vi. 5.) carried divine Poetry and Pfalmody to its Perfection; and therefore is called the fweet Pfalmist of Ifrael. 2 Sam. xxiii. 1. He, doubtless by divine Authority, appointed the finging of Plalms by a felect Company of skilful Perfons, in the folemn Worthip of the Tabernacle, 1 Chron. vi. 31. xvi. 4-8. which Solomon continued in the Temple, 2 Chron. v. 12, 13. RULES for calculating and adjusting the Chronology of this Period.

HE Chronology is here carried on by the facred Hiftorians in a double Series of fusceeding Kings; one in the Kingdom of Judab, the other in the Kingdom of Ifrael, the Year of the Reign of every King of Judab being mentioned, in which any King of Inasl began his Reign; and wide verfa. Therefore, I. To pulguid

1. To be able to form a true Judgment of the Chronology, it is necessary that we draw up two Columns, one of the Kings of Judab, and the other of the Kings of Ifrae, in such manner, that the Years of their several Reigns may be set exactly over against each other; together with the Texts which prove the Order of Succession, and the Years of the several Reigns. Thus the two Cosums will be a Check upon each other; and the general Rule will be,

14. So to adjuit the corresponding Numbers of Years in both the Columns, as that they may be reduced to a Confiftency. Otherwife, the Calculation cannot be just and true. Here lies the Difficulty; and in order to furmount it fome Allowance must be made. As;

III. THAT Succeffors may be supposed fometimes to reign with their Fathers, when the Confiftency of the two Lifts of Kings cannot otherwise be made out. Thus it is certain, that Solomon was anointed King by order of his Father David. 1 Kings i. 24. And Jeboram did begin to reign while his Father Jeboshaphat was alive. 2 Kings vill. 16. IV. THE Years of Reigns is delivered in full Sums, without taking Notice of the odd Parts of a Year, either at the Begining, or at the End of a Reign. Therefore, to bring the two Lifts to an Agreement, it may reatonably be supposed, that, for instance, 12 Years,

Solomon's Temple Sec.

Years, (or the 12th Year) are put down, when only eleven compleat Years are intended. So 2 Kings while 9, 10, it is faid. that Salmanefer laid Siege to Samaria in the fourth Year of Hezekiab's Reign, and, after. a Seige of three Years, took it in the fixth Year of Hazekigh, Hence it appears, that the three Years of the Siege are not to be understood of three full Years, but only of two fuch Years; the Siege begining in the middle, suppose, of Hezekiaks fourth Year. continuing the whole fifth Year, and ending in some Part of the fixth Year. It is therefore plain that, according to the Style of the facred Historians, one whole Year and two Parts of two Years, one before, and another after that Year, may be called three Years.

V. IN a turbulent State of things, an Inter-regnum may be allowed, where Confitency cannot be preferved without it.

VI. To find the Year before Chrift, (or before A. D.) in which any Reign began, fubftract the Years of the preceding Reign from that Year before A. D. in which the preceding Reign began. To find the Year of the World, (or A. M.) fubftract the Year before A. D. from 4004, which is the A. M. in which our Lord was born, according to Arch-Bp. USHER, who is generally followed by our Chronologers. Further, from 4714, the Year of the Julian Pariod, corresponding U 4 to

to A. M. 2004; fublicate the Year before A. D. and it will give the Year of the Julian Period. e. g. To know what Year before A. D. Jehoshaphat began to reign, substract At, the Years of his Father Ala's Reigh, from the Year before A. D. 955, when Ala began to reign, and the Remainder will give 914, the Year before A. D. when Jehosha phat began to reign. Substract the Year 914 from 4004, and it will give 3090 the A. M. of the same Event. Substract 914 from 4714, and it will give 3800, the Year of the Julian Period when Jehoshaphat began to reign.

Of the Babylonish CAPTIVITY.

CHAP. XXXII.

The moral Caufes of the Babylonifb CAPTI-VITY; and the Propriety of that Difpenfation.

HE whole Jewish Nation, both Judub and Ifrael, had all along a ftrong and ftrange Propensity to Idolatry, even after the erecting of the Temple, and the establishing of the Worship of God there, in the most grand and solernn Manner. They erected Altars to ftrange Gods, frequented High-Places and Groves confectated to Idolatrous Worship, and furnished them with Idols and Images for that Purpose. 2 Chron. xiv. 3. 1 Kings xv. 11, 12, 13. And their Morals were just as corrupt as their Religion, even to the Degree of Sodomy itself. 1 Kings xv. 12.

WHAT their peculiar Temptations were, we know not. All the Endeavours of good Kings, and all the preaching of holy Prophets, fent by fpecial Committion from God, were ineffectual to produce a Reformation. The pious King Hezekiab was zealous and active in rooting out Idolatry; but Manaffeb, his Son and Succeffor, reftored it again in the higheft and most flagitious Degree of Profaneness and Iniquity, even beyond that

He was also a grievous Persecutor of all that would not conform to his idolatrous Establishments, and so shed innocent Blood very much. Amen, his Son, followed his bad Example. Johab, his Grandfon, vigoroully attempted a Reformation. a King xxiii. 24, 25. But the People never came heartily into it. e. Chron. xxxvi. 14. 859, All the chief of the Priess and the People grans greffed very much, after all the Abominations of the Heathen, and polluted the House of the Lord, which he had ballowed in Jerufalem. And the Lord God of their Fathers fent to them by his Meffengers, rising up betimes, and fending ; because be had Compassion on his People, and on bis Dwelling-place , but they mocked the Meffengers of God, and despised his Words, and misused bis Prophets, until the Wrath of the Lord arofe against his People, till there was no Remedy. Therefore be brought upon them the King of the Chaldees, who flew their young Men with the Sword, in the Houfe of their Sanstuary; and had no Compassion upon young Man or Maiden, old Man, or him that flooped for Age, he gave them all into his Hand. And all the Veffels of the House of God, great and small, and the Treasures of the House of the Lord, and the Treasures of the King, and of his Princes. all thefe he brought to Babylon. He had been but three Months on the Throne, when Nebuchadnezzar again befieged and took ferafas hen, with the King and all the royal Panni-Ly all the most valuable things in the Temple, and in the King's Treatures, with all the mighty Men of Valor, all the Craftsmen and Smiths, he took away, leaving none in the Land, but the poorest Sort. 2 Kings xxiv. 12, 13, 14. And in about cleven Years, Nebuchadnezzar, after a long and close Siege, took Jerusalem, brake down its Walls, burnt the City and Temple, carried away all the facred Utenfils, and all the People, except a few of the very pooreft to ull the Ground, and reduced the whole Land of Judea, in a Manner, to utter Defolation for the Sins thereof. II. THAT it was a just Punishment of their Sins; particularly of their Idolatry, whereby they forfook God, and therefore God justly forfook them, and delivered them into the Hands of their Enemies, as Majes had foretold. Lev. xxvi. 30-36.

III. THIS dreadful Calamity was the most effectual Means to work their Reformation. which was the End proposed by the divine Wildom. Now, in their captive, disconfolate State, they had time, and their Calamities had a natural tendency to give them a Disposition, to reflect upon the long Series of Iniquity and Perverinels, which had brought them under the heavieft of God's Judgments. Now their own Wickedness corrected them, and their Backslidings reproved them; now they must know and see, that it was an evil thing, and bitter, that they had for faken the Lord their God, and that his Fear had not been in them. and their abject, wretched Condition, the Confequence of fuch Practices, would fillk them deep into their Hearts, and furely give Hiem an utter Deteftation of what they veby well knew was the Caufe of all their grievous Sufferings.

THEY had suffered themfelves to be mamefully infatuated by their falle Prophets, who had prophefied to them in Badl, as the most infallible Oracle. Fer. ii. 8. They were Prophets of the Deceit of their Hearts,' xxiii: 26. They had incouraged a Rabble of Diviners, Dreamers, Enchanters and Sorcerers, who had most impudently imposed upon their Credulity, affuring them; in the Name of the Lord too, that they fhould not ferve the King of Babylon, Jer. xxvii. 9. xxviii. 4. xxix. 8, 9; that he fhould not come against them, nor against the Land'; xxxvii. 19. They belied the Lord, and faid, it is not He, neither shall Evil come upon us; neither shall we see Sword, nor Famine, Jer. v. 12. but I will give you asured Peace in this Place. xiv. 13. Thus they caufed the People to err'; and their Kings, Princes, and Priests concurred to strengthen the Delusion. Jer: ii. 26. v. 31. xxxii. 32. BUT now, where were all their falle Prophets, with all their bold Pretentions, and Aattering Promiles ? The Delution is now quite at an End, and they find themfelves malt milerably deceived. Their Eyes are opened, and they are thoroughly convinced, they were a Set of the vileft Impoltors, who had deluded them into the most wretched Circumstances. The Prophets were now become Wind, Jer. v. 13, an everlasting Reproach, a perpetual Shame, which could not be forgotten, xxiii. 40. And in Proportion as these Deceivers were detelled, the true Prophets, who would have drawn them to just Regards of God and his holy Liaw, would be effected and honored. tai io

DOUBTLESS the lying Prophets and Priefts had filled their Heads wish specious Pretences for their idolatrous Practices; and affured them, they were still the belowed People of God, invested in all the distinguishing Privileges of his Church and peculiar People, and secure under his Protection; with

But now they found all their stephings to be lying Wonds, and could na longentake Affurance dram their peculiar Privileges, or their magmincente Temple: when their Temple and City were both deftroyed, and thermelves caft out into an Heathen Land, whom they were to long, and to than efally fight of all their seculiar Honors. In thort, no Method could have been deviled more proper to give this Reaple a fixed Detertation of Idolatry, and the wile Arts by which they were leduced into it. And it had this Effect. They never more fell into Idolatoy, but retain the greateft Abborgence of it unto this Day. Settlemon 2

IV. THE Law of God, writen by Motes, as the Rule of their Conduct in all Affairs own and religious, and the Ground of their Happiness, they had so far neglected, that once it was almost unknown and lost among them. 2 Kings xxii. 8-12. This Contempt of the divine Law, the Prophets had frequently and firongly protected egainst. (Ifai. V. 24. Mex. 9. Fet. vi. 19. viii. 8. ix. 12. And whereas before the Capa sivity they had no Synagogoes for publick Worthip or Instruction, nor any Places to refort to for either, unless the Temple at Jes nusalem, or the Cities of the Levites; or to the Prophets, when God was pleafed to fend. them; thus Ignorance grew among the People but after the Captivity Synagogues were erected among them in every City, where the Law was read every Sabhath, and other Acts of Devotion performed. This was the most effectual Method of preferving the. Knowledge of God and his Law, and a Senfe of their Duty. This was another good Effect of this Dispensation, and may justing be given as one good Reason of their being fo frongly fixed against Idolatry, ever after the Babylonifh Captivity.

BALL OF PROPINE R BR. STAT

THIS Book confifteth of the most useful Rules for the right Direction of Life in Religion and Morals, and is the most authentic and excellent of the kind that can be produced in Antiquity. It may be divided into five Parts. I. In the first Part the Tutor gives his Pupil Admonitions, Directions, Cautions, and Excitements to the Study of Wifdom. Chap. first to the tenth. II. The fecond contains the Proverbs of Solomon, properly fo called, delivered in diffinct, independent, general Sentences. Chap. 10th to the 22d, Ver. 17. III. The third Part begins at Chap. xxii. 17. where the Tutor again addreffeth himfelf to his Pupil, and gives him fresh Admonitions to the diligent Study of Wildom; which is followed by a Sett of Instructions delivered in the imperative Mood to the Pupil, who is supposed all the while to be flanding before him. Chap. xxii. 17. to Chap. xxv. IV. The fourth Part is dif-tinguished by its being a Collection of Solomon's Proverbs, felected, we may suppose, out out of a much greater Number, by the Men of Hezekiah; perhaps, by the Prophets Ifaint, Hofea, Micab, who all flourished in the Days of Hezekiab, and not improbably affifted him in his pious Endeavours to reflore true Re-Rgion. 2 Chron. xxxi. 20, 21. This Part, as the fecond, confifts chiefly of diffinct, unconnected Sentences, and reacheth from Chap. xxv. to Chap. xxx. V. The fifth Part contains a Sett of wife Observations and Inffructions, which Agur, the Son of Jakeb, Helivered to his Pupils, Ithiel and Ucal, Chap. And the xxxi^{ft} Chapter contains the XXX. Precepts which his Mother, poffibly a Yewif Woman married to fome neighbouring Prince, delivered to Lemuel, her Son ; being paffionately folicitous to guard him against Vice, to effablish him in the Principles of Tuffice, and to have him married to a Wife of the best Qualities. These two Chapters are a kind of Appendix to the Book of Proverbs. Note - It is uncertain who Agur and the Mother of Lemuel were.

ECCLESIASTES.

This Book was writen by the Preacher, the Son of David, King of Jerufalem, Chap. i. 1; that is to fay, by Solomon, (probably in the latter Part of his Life) as appears from Chap. i. 10. ii. 4, Gc. The Subject of it is, an Enquiry into the chief Good, or Happinefs of Man, in this World. And I. HE

The SONG of SOLOMON.

THE Song of Songs, or the most excellent Song, was composed by Solomon; and is a noble Epithalamium, or Marriage-Song, of the pastoral kind, embellished with the most grand and beautiful Images. In the Letter it is allowed to be a Celebration of the Marriage of Solomon to Pharaob's Daughter; but the Jewish Rabbies, and many of the Christian Fathers, have understood it as a spiritual Allegory, representing the Love of God, or as Christians say, of Christ, to his Church; which,

ALL this is very just, and suppliath very instructive and confortable Meditation. And it is certainly the best Die we can make of this elegant Song to apply it thus to spiritual Purposes. But the Ideas, which the Stripture gives us of God's or Christ's Relation to the Church, as a Husband, are low general, to force as a likey to the great Variety of Pasticulars in this Poem 3 which therefore, as it is never quoted in any other Part of Scrippuse, can be reduced to no certain Rula of Interpretation, but must be left to every Paston's Fancy or Imagination. Hp. PAR TRICK has done, perhaps, as much as can be done upon the spiritualizing Scheme.

WITHIN this Period were allo writen the Prophecies of Jael, Amos, Hofea, Jonab, Ifaiah, Micah, Nahum, Jeremiah, Habakkuk Zephaniab, Obadiab. These before the Capor tivity. During the 70 Years Captivity, Lan mentations, Ezekiel, Daniel, Efther. After the Captivity, Ezra, Nehemiah, Haggai, Zechariab, Malachi, I, and IL. Chronicles. Thefe compleat the Canon of the old Testament. And whereas it is of great Ule to the right Understanding of the Prophets to know the Reigns and Times in which they prophefied, and the particular Occasions upon which any of them delivered their Prophecies, I shall now attempt to digest and range them in ehronological Order, as follows.

A BOUT Twenty-fix Years after the Death of Eli/ba, the Prophet. (* Kings xili. 20.) Janab the Son of Amices, the Prophet, which was of Gath-heper, was fent by God with a Mellage of Engouragement and Success to Jarobaam II. King of Jfrael. 2 Kings xiv. 25. This might happen when Jonab was about 28 Years of Agg.

JOEL i. ii. iii.

JOEL at Jerafalem (Joel ii. 1, 15, 17.) might prophefy before Amos at Samaria, Amos i. 1. iv. 1. For Amos, Chap. iv. 7, 9. may refer to the Devastation by Palmer-Worms, &c. and Drought, which Joel predicted, Chap. i. 6, 7, 19, 20. However, as the Senfe of this Prophefy, in no Part, that I know of, depends upon the time, when it was delivered, there can be no Harm in fuppofing, that Joel prophefied about this time.

AMOS i—ix.

SOME time after Joel, Amos might begin to prophely in the Kingdom of Ifrael. Certainly PROPHETS before the CAPTIVITY. 321 tainly he did prophefy in those Days of Uzziah or Azariah King of Judah, and of Jerohoam II. King of Israel, in which they were Cotemporaries, Chap. i. 1. How long he continued is not intimated. He had no regular Education in the Schools of the Prophets, (which suppose that other Prophets had) but was originally a Herdsman, and a Gatherer of Sycamore Fruit, or wild Figs, Chap. vii. 14. He had an express Commistion from God to prophefy unto his People Israel, Vet. 15: This Book may confiss of several diffinct Discourses, but as they are without Date, we cannot affign the particular times when they were delivered.

HOSEA i. ii. iii.

HoseA is justly supposed to be Cotemporary with Amos. He prophesied against the Ten Tribes, or the Kingdom of Israel, begining in the Reign of Jeroboam II. and prophesying in the Reigns of Uzziab, Jotham, Abaz, and Hezekiab, Kings of Judah. He predicted the Captivity of the Ten Tribes; and as that Captivity happened in the fixth Year of Hezekiab, probably he lived to see it accomplished by Shalmaneser King of Assyria; which was done about 64 Years after the Commencement of his prophetic Office. THIS Prophet is commanded to take unto him a Wise of Whoredoms, and Children of Y Whoredoms, Whoredoms, Chap. i. 2. This might all be transacted in a Vision, in the Council of God. See the eighth, ninth, tenth, and eleventh Chapters of Ezekiel. Or it might be a Parable, to be fpoken as fuch to the Children of Ifrael. See Ezek. xxiv. 3, &c. Here that is ordered to be done as a Fact, which was only to be spoken as a Parable. But if the Prophet did really marry a lewd Woman, who had Children not by him, but by fome other Man, this was no Sin in him, who did it by divine Command, in order to explain to the Ifraelites their Wickednefs, and the Punishment of it. The adulterous Wife represented the Ifraelites, who by their Idolatries had gone a whoring from God, their own Husband. The Children, which this Woman bare, are the ruinous Effects of the Idolatry of the Children of Ifrael. The first Bastard was called Jezneel; and denoted the Vengeance which God would take upon the House of Jebu, for the Blood which he shed in Jezreel, Chap. i. 4. The fecond was called Lo-rubamab, Ver 6. to denote, that God would no longer fpare the Houfe of Ifrael, but take them quite away out of their Land. The Name of the third was Loammi, Ver. 9. which fignified, that the Relation between God and the Ifraelites was diffolved.

HOSEA

HOSEA iv.

THE Interregnum in Ifrael, preceding the Reign of Zerbariab, was doubtlefs a time of very great Diforder and Violence, and of much bloody Strife for the Crown. Probably, Zechariab gained it by cuting off Competitors. Shallum flew him, Menahem flew Shallum, and all within the Space of feven Months. To this fad State of things Hofea may well be fuppofed to refer, Chap. iv. 2. By Swearing and Lying, and Killing and Stealing, and commiting Adultery, they break out, and Blood touchetb [reacheth unto] Blood. Here, therefore, we may place the fourth Chapter of Hofea.

JONAH i. ii. iii. iv.

JONAH, I fuppose, about the second Year of Menahem, King of Israel, and about the 70th Year of his Age, was sent to cry against Nineveb, about 700 Miles from Gath-heper, then a great, wealthy, populous, and haughty City, the chief Seat of the Associated Empire, and the Mistress of the World; which had long been remarkable for Luxury and Jollity, to a Proverb, ageistic Nive sufficiency, better than merry Nineveb. By Zephaniab it is called, the rejoicing, or joyous, City, Chap. ii. 15. To be fent with a Message of divine Wrath to such a Place as this could not but Y 2

feem a frightful and dangerous Errand to Jonab. He faw how much the Ifraelites, God's own People, hated and perfecuted the Prophets, who reproved and threatened them. What then could he expect from that great and wicked City, Nineveb, the Head-quarters of Pride and Sin? Further, he knew the Prophets very much hazarded their Reputation in the World, when employed in denouncing Judgments; because God, being gracious, was flow in executing them. On this Account, the Prophets at Betbel and Jerufalem were vilely abuled and decried by infolent and rude Infidels, who durst even profess to defire, or long for, the Day of the Lord, (Amos v. 18.) in a confident Persuasion, that it would never come; and dared to challenge God to haften his Work. Ifai. v. 19. See also Jer. xvii. 15. Ezekiel xii. 22. And if this should be Jonab's Cafe at Nineveb, what could he expect but to be torn in Pieces for an Impoftor ? How must he, and the Religion he professed, be exposed to publick Contempt and Scorn ? This was what he particularly dreaded. Chap. iv. 2. He was therefore refolved to flee from the Presence of [from before] Jebovab ; that is, I suppose, to run away from the Council of God in the Land of Ifrael, to some remote Country beyond Sea *, where, he thought, it was never held. But

* Note — Tarshish may fignify any remote Country beyond Sea, as the Indies now with us. See Root 1827 in the Eng. Heb. Concordance.

But he was flopt by a Miracle, and at length obliged to deliver the doleful Meffage, Yet forty Days and impenitent Nineveb shall be overtbrown. Convinced of his miraculous Miffion, § the King proclaimed a Fast, and enjoined all the usual Forms of Repentance; and God repented of the Evil, which he had faid be would do unto them.

IT is very probable, that the idolatrous Priefts, and the Aftrologers, Soothfayers, and Magicians, who must be numerous at Nineveb, as well as at Babylon, (Ifai. xlvii. 13. Dan. ii. 2.) would zealoufly endeavour to divert the King, when the first Fright was over, from attending to a Meffage from 7ehouab, as foon as ever they poffibly could, before the forty Days were expired. They would naturally represent Jonab to the King and all the People, as an Impostor; and bear them in Hand that the Prediction was false, and would not be fulfilled. This must give the Prophet, who was zealous for the Glory of the God of Ifrael, very great Uneafiness; infomuch, that he wished for Death, Chap. iv. 2, 3; as Elijab, in a Cafe fomewhat fimilar, had done before him. As it appears from the Hiltory, that Pal had no Delign to make Conquest of the Land of Hrael, I can affign no Reason, why he should reach his Arm over the Kingdom of Syria, which lay to the Extent of about 300 Miles, between his Dominions, and the Land of Canaan, to strike at Hrael, but that he did it in Revenge for the supposed Infult, which Jonab had offered to him and his People.

ISAIAH vi. ii. iii. iv. v.

IsAIAH, the brighteft Luminary of the Jewish Church, juftly called the evangelical Prophet, he speaks so much, and so clearly of Chriss, began to prophely in the Year King Uzziah died, Chap. vi. I. and prophestied in Judah in the successive Reigns of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah. He was certainly alive and prophesied when Merodachhaladen sent his Embassy to Hezekiah, who had been sick, in the 14th Year of Hezekiah, and before Christ 714. Thus we certainly know that he prophesied 46 Years. There is an ancient and probable Tradition among the the Jews, that he fuffered Martyrdom under Manaffeb, in the first Year of his Reign; before Christ 698, by being cruelly fawn afunder; to which the Apostle, Heb. xi. 37. is generally thought to have Respect. And then he must have continued 61 Years. See PIERCE upon Heb. xi. 37.

THE first Chapter, by Reason of the grand Exordium, might be judged proper to ftand at the Front of the Book; but it gives fuch an Account of the diffreffed, defolate Condition of the Land of Judab, as agrees much better with the wicked and afflicted Reign of the Apostate Ahaz, than with the flourishing Circumstances of the Country in the Reigns of Uzziah, and of his Son and Succeffor Jotham, who were both, in the main, good Princes. Compare Ifai. i. 7, 8, 9. with 2 Chron. xxvi. 1-16. and the whole 27th Chapter. But the fecond, third, fourth, and fifth Chapters of this Prophecy, do describe, and exactly correspond to, a State of national Wealth and Prosperity, which are usually attended with Pride, Arrogance, and See Chap. ii. 6-18. iii. 16-25. Luxury. v. 8, 11, 12.

THEREFORE, I take this to be the Order of those Chapters. In the fixth Chapter, and in the Year before Christ 759 the Prophet, in the Council of God, received his Commission; and soon after delivered the Contents of the second, third, fourth, and Y 4

FHESE two Chapters were delivered before the Destruction of Samaria, which is here predicted, Chap. i. 6. in the Reign of fotham, Chap. i. 1. And therefore may be rightly placed about this time.

ISAIAH. vii.

In the first Year of Abaz King of Ju-dab, Rezin King of Syria, and Pekab King of I/racl, formed a Defign of dethroning Abaz, and of extirpating the Family of Dawid, by feting up the Son of Tabeal, fome potent, factious Jew, to be King of Judah. And therefore having no Defign upon the Nation, but only upon the royal Family, marched directly to Jerusalem, and laid close Siege to it. But as it was the Will of God, not to extirpate the Family of David, but only to punish wicked Akaz, he sent Ifaiah to incourage him to make a vigorous Desence, and to affure him they should not prevail against him; and that the House of David should subfift till the Meffrah was born. Then was the Proplecy delivered to

AHAZ, a wicked Idolater, paid little Regard to what Ifaiab had fpoken to him in the Name of the Lord. Therefore God ordered Ifaiab to take a large Roll of Parchment, and therein, with the Pen of a Man, i.e. in the common and most legible Way of writing, to put down and publish, what God should further discover about the prefent Deliverance and future Calamities of Judab. The Roll was to be a Comment upon the Name of a Son, which was then born to the Prophet, and by divine Direction was Abaz reigned 16 Years, and in the firft Year of his Succeffor, Hezekiah, Shalmansfer took Samaria, and carried away Ifrael [Ephraim] unto Affyria. This makes but 16 and 5, or 21 Years. How then fhall we make out 65 Years I This has very much puzzled the Critics. But observe, probably Ifrael, or Ephraim, was carried into Captivity by the Affyrians three times. I. By Tiglath-Pilefer. I Chron. *s 26. 2 Kings XV. 29. II. By his Son Shalmanefer, 2 Kings xvii, 6, xviii, 10, 11. Thus Ephraim was no more a Kingdom. III. Thus Ephraim was no more a People. This happened in the 22d Year of Maneffeh, 65 Years from the first of Abaz. See Dr. PRIDEAUX's Con. ad An. 677.

was called Maher-floa-lal-haft-haz, i. e. make Speed to the Spail, and haften to the Prey. Denoting the speedy Destruction of the two confederate Kings of Samaria and Damafcus. This Roll, I suppose, takes in the eighth and ninth Chapters of Ifaiah, and the five fift Verses of the 10th Chapter.

ISAIAH xvii.

THIS Chapter relates to the fame Subject, the Destruction of Ifrael and Damascus; and therefore, I judge, it was delivered in the fame Year, after the Roll was finished. For in about two Years after, Tiglatbpileser, King of Alfyria, took Damascus, and carried the People therein captive to Kir. 2 Kings xvi. 9.

ISAIAH i.

PERAH and Rezin failing in their Attampt upon Jerusalem, (2 Kings xvi. 5. Isi. vii. 1.) the next Year, 741, they returned with Forces better appointed, and Councils better concerted; and dividing themfelves into three Armies, one under Pekab, another under Rezin, and a third under Zichri, a mighty Man of Ephraim, they fell upon the Country in three different Parts, making every where terrible Havock and Slaughter, and carrying away a prodigious Number of Captives. See 2 Chron. xxviii. 5-9. And no fooner was the Land freed from those Enemics, Enemies, but it was invaded by the Edomites, on the South, and the Philiftines, on the Welt, who treated it with the fame Cruelty, flaying, plundering, and carrying away Captives. 1 Chron. XXVIII. 17, 18, 19. Thus was Judab grievoully diffrested all over the Country, and brought exceeding low, which lately had been high in Wealth and Power, because they and their King had forfaken the Lord their God. And upon this Occafion; most probably, Haiab delivered the prophetic Sermon, contained in the first Chapter, as it is very fuitable to the State of the Nation at that time. anna er hundis de 1. E. ISAIAH xxviii.

This Chapter, relating to the Destruction of Ephraim, or the Ten Tribes, without any mention of Syria or Damafrus, lieth between the Destruction of Damafrus, 740, and the Captivity of the Ten Tribes, 721.

AHAZ, greatly diftreffed by Pekab, Rezin, &c. called in Tiglath-pilefer, King of Affyria, to his Help, 2 Kings xvi. 7. 2 Chron. xxviii. 16. And Menahem, King of Ifrael, about 30 Years before that, had hired Pul, King of Affyria, to confirm the Kingdom in his Hand, 2 Kings xv. 19; though they reaped no Benefit from them. These are the only times times in which the Kings of Judab and Ifrael applied to the Affyrian for Affiftance. And whereas Holea, Chap. v. 13. mentions both those Applications, the fifth and fixth Chapters must be taken in after Abaz had applied to Tiglath-pilefer.

ISAIAH xiv. 28, Sc.

THE Philiftines triumphed over Ifrael all the Days of Abaz. But in the Year Abaz died, Ifaiab delivered the Burden, or Maffage, relating to them, Chap. xiv. 28, 56 which was fulfilled by Hezekiab, Son and Succeffor to Abaz. 2 Kings xviii. 8,

Therefore, this Prophecy against Moab, must have been delivered about the Begining (perhaps in the fecond Year) of Hezekiab's Reign. THE Prophecies in these Chapters were delivered (1.) after Epbraim, or the King of Ifrael, had called to Egypt for Succour, Chap. vii. 11. xii. 1. as Menabem had done before to Affyria. 2 Kings xv. 19. But the only time they applied to Egypt was, when King Hofbea, revolting from Shalmanefer, lent Melfengers to So King of Egypt. 2 Kings xvii. 4: Which occationed Shalmanefer's belieging of Samaria, and carrying the Ten Tribes Into Captivity. And therefore these Chapters might be delivered about three Years before that Event. (2.) These Prophecies were delivered after the first Year of Shalman, or Shalmaneser, who, according to Dr. PRIDEAUX, began to reign in the Year before Chrift 728, or 729. For the Prophet Hafea refers to the Destruction of Beth-arbel by Shalman, Chap. x. 14. MICAH iii, iv, va Bis vii,

THE last Verse of the third Chapter of Micab was uttered in the time of Hezekiah. Jer. xxvi. 18; and here may both that Chapter, and all that follow it be placed, as prophefied in some time of Hezekiah's first 13 Years, before Sennacherik besieged Jerusalem, For the Prophet feems to speak of that Siege and Sennacherib's Blasphemy, Chap. v. 1, 5, He speaketh glorious things of Chrift and his Kingdom, and nameth the very Town where he should be born, Chap. v. 2. In Chapter iv. 1, 2, 3, he useth the very Words of Hazab, Chap. ii. 2, 3, 4, to express the Conflux to the Kingdom of Christ, his Power in it, and the Peace which, at length, it should give to the World.

NAHUM i, ii, iii.

AFTER Shalmanefer, King of Nineveh, had taken Samaria, and carried the Ten Tribes captive, Nahum might predict the Ruin of Nineveh, then the Capital of the Affyrian Empire.

SHALMANESER, having taken Samaria, turned his Arms against the City of Tyre, which held out against him five Years, and then was delivered from the Siege by the Death PROPHETS before the CAPTIVITY. 333 Death of Shalmanefer. By this Success they were too much elated, and growing vory infolent, this occasioned the Prophecy against them in this Chapter; which foretels the milerable Overthrow of Tyre; which was effected by Nebuchadnezzar King of Babyton. See Dr. PRIDEAUX'S Con. An. 715, 720

ISAIAH xxiv, xxv, xxvi, xxvil.

THESE Chapters may refer to the final Defolation of Judea and Jerufalem by Nebuchadnezzar. But I can difcover no Marks of the time when they were delivered. However, with the Threatenings he mixes many gracious Promifes and Comforts. See Dr. LIGHTFOOT.

HEZEKIAH, having refuted to pay the annual Tribute to the King of Affyria, towards wards the End of the 14th Year, Sennacherib coming upon him with a numerous Army, he made all Manner of Preparation for a vigorous Defence. 2 Kings xviii. 13. 2 Chron. xxxii. Ifai. xxxvi. Particularly, he entered into an Alliance with the King of Egypt and Ethiopia. 2 Kings xviii. 21. Ifai. xxxvi. 6. This was a Measure displeasing to God, and therefore is protested against by his Prophet Ifaiab in the xxxth and xxxist Chapters. And at the same time all the other Chapters, from the xxixth to the xxxvith Chapter, especially those that have immediate Reference to this Invasion, might have been dictated to the Prophet by the Spirit of God.

ISAIAH xxii. Verse 1 to 15.

As in this Paragraph are manifest Allusions to Sennacherib's Invasion and Hezekiah's Preparations for the Defence of Jerusalem, (compare Verse 9, 10, 11. 2 Chron. xxxii, 5, 30.) this prophetick Admonition to the People, who depended too much upon these Preparations, probably was delivered about this time. See LOWTH's Comment. on the Place.

And therefore, this Prophecy may be placed at this time, or within a Year or two of it.

ISAIAH xx.

HEZEKIAH, having treated with Sennacherib, and agreed to pay him a Sum of Money, 2 Kings xviii. 14, 15, 16, Sennacherib turned his Arms against Egypt; which he greatly diftreffed for three Years together, I/a. xx. 3, 4. But first he fent Tartan, one of his Generals, before him to take Albdod, the Key to Egypt. At this time the Prophecy against Egypt, in the xxth Chapter of Ifaiab, was delivered. Note-Sennacherib is. in Ver. 1, called Sargon. Ver. 5. They, the Jews, shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their Expectation, and of Egypt their Glory.

ISAIAH x. Ver. 5, &c. xi, xii, xiii, xiv. to Ver. 28.

IT appears from Chap. x. 8-12, which is a Profopopoeia, or supposed Speech of the King of Affyria, that this Chapter was delivered after the taking of Samaria by Shalmanefer, 721; and some time before Sennacherib besieged Jerusalem, 710, who was the only King of Affyria that befieged Jerufalem after the taking of Samaria. And the Speech in this Place bearing a near Affinity to that of Sennacherib. 2 Kings xix. 10-14. Isaiab xxxvii. 10-14, it is probable that this, and the other Chapters, to the 28th Verse of the xivth Chapter, were delivered about the time Sennacherib besieged Yerufalem. Note-In Chapter x. 11, Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria, &c. Sennacherib fpeaks as King of Affyria, and fo takes in what his Father Shalmanefer had done, as if done by himfelf.

NOTE-Before Sennacherib laid fiege to Jerufalem, Tirbakab, King of Ethiopia, advanced against him out of Egypt. 2 Kings xix. 9. But, as the Prophet Ifaiab had predicted, did the Jews no Service; for he was overthrown by Sennacherib, who after that returned to Jerufalem, where his Army being 185000 Men, were all miraculously destroyed in one Night. It is poffible this Sbebna, a Man of great Abilities, might have got the young King Manasseh, but 12 Years old, and the whole Management of Affairs, into his own Hands; having routed Eliakim by fuch Arts as Courtiers are wont to practife. For he was now both Treasurer, and Master of the Houshold. To this, perhaps, the wicked Conduct of Manaffeb may be affigned. Shebna, fecure of the Stability and Continuance of his Power and Grandeur, was hewing out a magnificent Sepulchre for himfelf and Heirs, to perpetuate his Memory to all fucceding times. On this Occafion, Ifaiab might publish this Prophecy, predicting Shebnah's Captivity and Death, in a remote foreign Country, and the future Exaltation of good Eliakim. This, which would greatly exafperate Shebna, and might occafion Ifaiah's being put to a cruel Death, [fawn asunder, Heb. xi. 37.] was fulfilled about twenty-two Years after, when Sbebna was taken Captive with Mana [feb by Efarbaddon, and carried to Babylon, where Shebna continued all his Life. But Manaffeb, upon his Repentance, was reftored to the Throne of Judab. And then, probably, good Eliakim was reftored, and intrusted with the Management of all his Affairs, and affifted him in the great Reformation he made in Religion. 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11-17. THESE Chapters, for any thing that appears to the contrary, do lie in regular Order, nor have we any Ground or Intimation for transposing any of them. There is a Date, Chap. iii. 6, In the Days of Josiah, without mentioning the Year of his Reign; which, however, shews, that that Chapter was delivered in some Part of his Reign. And whereas a severe Drought is frequently mentioned in several of these Chapters, (viz. Chap. iii. 3. v. 24, 25. viii. 13, 20. ix. 10, 12. xii. 4. xiv. 1, 2, 3, 4.) this shews, that they Z 3 are

THIS Year, after the Chaldeans were gone from Jerufalem, Jeboiakim, and his People growing worfe and worfe, in the ninth Month, at the Fast, which was then proclaimed, on Account of Nebuchadnezzar's having taken the City the Year before, Baruch again read the Roll in the Houfe of the Lord, Ver. 9, 10. Which coming to the King's Ear, and Part of the Roll being read to him, he, thinking perhaps, that Nebuchadnezzar had already executed the divine Threatenings, and nothing more was now to be feared, and that the Prophet was a malicious, troublefome Fellow, burnt the Roll, and commanded Jeremiab and Baruch to be apprehended. But they could not be found, for the Lord hid them. Note- Jeremiab was now at Liberty.

ABOUT the second Year of Zedekiab's Reign, Jeremiab's Letter, contained in this Chapter, was sent to the captive Jews at Babylon; and an impious Answer returned by Sbemaiab.

JEREMIAH xxx, xxxi.

THESE two Chapters, which affure the captive Jews, that they fhould not only return again to Jadea, but also be the particular Care of the divine Providence to the End of the World, to shew the Certainty of the incouraging Contents, are ordered to be written in a Book, Chap. xxx. 2, about the fame time with the foregoing Letter, and probably were fent to the captive Jews in Babylon, whom they principally respected.

JEREMIAH xxvii.

THIS Chapter is to be placed in this Year, (See Chap. xxviii. 1.) namely, after the Departure of Nebuchadnezzar out of Judea and Syria, when the Kings of the Ammonites, Moabites, Edomites, Zidonians, Tyrians, &c. fent an Embaffy to Zedekiab, proposing to him a League against the King of Babylon. Note—

Note—In the first Verse, Jeboiakim is put for Zedekiab, [See Ver. 3.] probably by a Mistake of the Transcriber, who might then have his Eye upon the first Verse of the foregoing Chapter.

JEREMIAH xxviii.

IN this Year the Affair concerning Hananiab the falfe Prophet, related in this Chapter was transacted. Note—The first Verse, according to the best Commentators, should be read thus, When it bad been so, [i. e. when I had continued prophessing with a Yoke upon my Shoulders from that Year, which was] in the Begining of the Reign of Zedekiab, until the fourth Year, &cc. See Glass. Phil. facra Lib. IV. Tract. I. Observ. V. Pag. 860. Nold. Concord. Nota 677, and LOWTH upon the Place.

JEREMIAH I, li.

THESE two Chapters contain a Book of Prophecies, which Jeremiab wrote, and fent to Babylon, by Seraiab, who was fent thither by Zedekiab, in the 4th Year of his Reign, Chap. li. 59, &cc. [when he went with, rather, from Zedekiab, &cc.] See Nold. Concord. under M or MN No. 1.

EZEKIEL i, ii, iii, iv, v, vi, vii.

In the 5th Year of Jeboiachin's Captivity, which was also the 5th of Zedekiah's Reign, Ezekiel, PROPHETS before the CAPTIVITY. 349 Ezekiel, a captive Prieft in Chaldea, received his prophetic Commission in the Council of God, and had the Revelations and Prophecies contained in the seven first Chapters of his Book. Note—Ezekiel dates his Prophecies from the Year in which himself and King Jeboiachin were carried into Captivity.

EZEKIEL viii, ix, x, xi. mass

THIS Year Ezekiel in a Vision was carried to ferufalem, shewn the feveral Sorts of Idolatry practifed there by the fews in the very Temple; and had revealed unto him the Punishments which God would inflict upon them for those Abominations, and the divine Protection of those in Captivity, who continued steady and faithful to his Service.

EZEKIEL xii, xiii, xiv, xv, xvi, xvii, xviii, xix.

ABOUT this time, Zedekiab having entered into a Confederacy with the King of Egypt, and broken the folemn Oath of Fidelity, which he had fworn to King Nebuchadnezzar, God, both by Types and Words of Revelation, foreschewed to Ezekiel the taking of Jerusalem by the Chaldeans, Zedekiab's Flight by Night, the puting out of his Eyes, his Imprisonment and Death at Babylon, the carrying away of the Jews, and the Remains of the Israelites, contained in the above-

EZEKIEL xx, xxi, xxii, xxiii.

THE Elders of Ifrael came to Ezekiel to enquire of the Lord; but God refuseth to be enquired of by such wicked Hypocrites; and in these four Chapters denounces the Judgments their abominable Impieties deferved.

JEREMIAH xxi, xxxiv. Ver. 1-8.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR having advanced a great Army against Judea, 2 Kin. xxv. 1, to punish Zedekiab for his Perjury and Rebellion, Zedekiab first fent Passur and Zephaniab to Jeremiab, to defire him to enquire of the Lord; by whom Jeremiab returned the Answer related in the 21st Chapter. Asterward, Jeremiab was ordered in Person to deliver to Zedekiab the Prediction contained in Chap. xxiv. 1-8.

JEREMIAH xlvii.

PHARAOH-HOPHRA marching out of Egypt to the Relief of his Ally Zedekiah against Nebuchadnezzar, who was advancing to hesiege Jerusalem, in his Way took Gaza za, a Town of the Philistines. A little before this Event, Jeremiab uttered this Prophecy against the Philistines.

JEREMIAH xlviii, xlix, Ver. 1-34.

THESE Prophecies, relating to the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, &c. who would be obnoxious to the Ravages of the Affyrian Armies, might be delivered at the fame time with the former.

EZEKIEL xxiv, xxv.

ON the tenth Day of the tenth Month in the fame Year, when Nebuchadnezzar's Army had laid Siege to Jerusalem, the fame was revealed, on the very fame Day, to Ezekiel in Chaldea; and the Destruction of the City was typified by a boiling Caldron; the fame Day also his Wife died, as recorded in Chap. xxiv. But Vengeance is denounced against the neighbouring Countries, that rejoiced in the preceding Calamities, or should rejoice in those that were to come upon Judea. Chap. xxv.

JEREMIAH xxxvii. Ver. 1-11.

Not long after Nebuchadnezzar's Army had laid Siege to Jerufalem, Pharaoh-Hophra came with a great Force to the Relief of Zedekiah. Upon which Nebuchadnezzar raifed the Siege of Jerufalem in order to march against against him. Upon which Zedekiab sent a Message to Jeremiab, before he was put into Prison, Chap. xxxvii. 4, the Answer to which is contained in Chap. xxxvii. 1-11.

JEREMIAH xxxiv. Ver. 8. to the End.

UPON the Approach of Nebuchadnezzar's Army, the terrified Jews entered into a folemn Covenant, to obferve God's Law, and to releafe the Hebrew Servants, which they kept in Bondage contrary to his Law. But when the Chaldeans were gone to meet Pharaoh, the general Opinion being, that they would return no more, the Jews openly violated the Covenant of Reformation, by obliging all their Servants to return to their former Servitude. For which impious Act, the Prophet proclaimed Liberty to the Sword, &cc.

JEREMIAH xxxvii. Ver. 11-16.

WHEN the Chaldeans were gone to meet Pharaob, Jeremiab was releafed out of Prifon; and intending to retire to Anathoth, from the Calamities of the Siege, which he knew would be renewed, was taken up for a Deferter as he was paffing through the Gate, and clapt in Prifon; but principally for perfifting, that the City fhould again be befieged and taken by Nebuchadnezzar.

where Jeremiab might end his Days; for we never hear of his Return from thence.

EZEKIEL xxxiii.

THE begining of this Chapter is upon a general Subject, and of uncertain Date. From the 21^{ft} Verse it is dated from the time, when Ezekiel first received the News of the City's being taken and destroyed, which was 18 Months, or a Year and a half, after the fad Event happened.

EZEKIEL xxxii.

THIS Prophecy against Egypt was delivered in this Year and Month.

EZEKIEL xxxiv. xxxvi. xxxvii. xxxviii. xxxix.

THESE Chapters fall under no Date, till we come to the 40th Chapter, which is dated the 25th of Jeboiachin's Captivity. Therefore, these Chapters were probably delivered some time between the 12th and 25th of that Captivity.

SIMON the just, High-Priest of the Jews, compleats the Canon of the Old Teffament, by adding the two Books of Chronicles, Ezra, Nebemiab, Efther, and Malachi. " That thefe " could not be put into the Canon by Ezra. " is plain. For four of those Books are " upon just Grounds, supposed to have been, " writen by Ezra himfelf, (that is the two " Books of Chronicles, and the Books of Ezra " and Ellber,) and the Book of Nebemiab " was written after his [Ezra's] time ; and " to most likely was the Book of Malashi " alfo.' And therefore a later time must be " affigned for their Infertion into the facred " Canon ; and none is more likely, than " that of Simon the juft, who is faid to have " been the last of the Men of the great " Synagogue. What the Jews call the great " Synagogue, were a Number of Elders " amounting to 120, fucceeding each other "in a continued Series from the Return of " the Jews from the Babylonifk Captivity, " to the time of Simon the juft, and labored " in reftoring the Jewish Church and State. In order to which, the " holy Scriptures being the Rule they were " to go by, their chief Care and Study was " to make a true Collection of those Scrip-" tures, and publish them accurately to the " People. The State of the JEWS; and of other NA. TIONS, at the time when our Lord came into the World.

FTER the Babyloni/b Captivity the Jews no more tapled into Idolatry; but remained fleady in the Acknowledgment and Worthip of the one living and true God, Even then they fell into new Ways of perverting Religion, and the wife and holy Intentions of the divine Law. I. By laying all the Streis on the external and lefs momentous Parts of it, while they neglected the weighty and substantial, true Holiness of Heart and Life. Mankind are too eafily drawn into this Error. While they retain a Senfe of Religion, they are too apt to listen to any Methods by which it may be reduced to a Confiftency with the Gratifications of their Paffions, Pride, and Avarice. Thus, by placing Religion in mere Profeffion, or in the zealous Observance of Rites and Ceremonies, inftead of real Piety, Truth, Purity, and Goodness, they learn to be religious without Virtue. II. By fpeculating and commenting upon the divine Commands and Inftitutions, till their Force is quite enervated, and they are refined into a Senfe that will will commodioufly allow a flight Regard inftead of fincere Obedience. III. By confirming and eftablishing the two former Methods of corrupting Religion, by Tradition and the Authority of learned Rabbies. Pretending, that there was a System of religious Rules delivered by Word of Mouth from Majes, explanatory of the writen Law, known only to those Rabbies; to whose Judgment, therefore, and Decision, all the People were to submit.

This, in time, the Space of 219 Years, became the general State of Religion among the Jews, after they had discarded Idolatry. And this Spirit prevailed among them for fome Ages, (290 Years) before the Coming of the Meffiab. But, however, it did not interfere with the main System of Providence, or the introducing the Knowledge of God among the Nations, as they still continued stedfast in the Worship of the true God, without Danger of deviating from it. Befides, they were now, much more than formerly, exercifed in reading, thinking, and reasoning, and were more capable of themfelves of judging what was right. Luke xii. 57. And feveral of them did fo judge. Some of them were truly religious and virtuous; and all of them had frong Expectation of the Meffiab about the time of his Appearance; and were fufficiently qualified to judge of religious Matters, Bb Matters, and of the Evidences of his Mif-Thus the Jews were prepared by the fron. preceeding Dilpenlation for the Reception of the Meffiab, and the just Notions of Religion, which he was fent to inculcate ; in-Tomuch that their Guilt must be highly aggravated if they rejected him and his infiructions. It could not be for want of Capacity, but of Integrity, and must be affigned to wilful Blindnels and Obduracy. Out of Regard to temporal Power, Grandeur, and Enjoyments, they loved Darkneis tather than Light.

In the mean time, the Pagan Nations had made great Openings in Wildom and Wirtue. Those Arts that began in Greece, had traveled into other Lands; Learning had got footing among the illiterate; and Humanity and locial Affections among the barbarous; and many good, and uteful Books, uleful even to this Day among Chriftians, were writen in Ethics for the right Conduct of Life. The Light of Nature was carried high; or rather, the Darkness of it was much enlightened. Such was, at length, the State of the Gentiles, God having fill been plealed, from time to time, to raile up among them Perfons uncommonly endowed, for their Instruction, and to fit them for the Day, when he flould more explicitly reveal himfelf, and his facred Will to them. Word, what with Time, and the transmigrating of Knowledge from Region to Region, and the Labors of Poets and Philofophers, Men, at about the claffic Æra, when our Lord came into the World, in general, had gained tolerable just Ideas of Virtue and moral Truth ; and fo, were in a Condition to apprehend and embrace the higher and more important Truths of God, and his Providence, and a future State.

For many Ages the Jews had been well known in the eastern Empires, among the Affyrians, Chaldeans, Medes, and Perfians; but, till the time of Alexander the great, they had no Communication with the Grecians. About the Year before Chrift 332, Alexander built Alexandria in Egypt; and to people his new City, removed thither many of the Jews, allowing them the Ule of their own Laws and Religion, and the fame Liberties with the Macedonians themselves. The Macedonians, who spake the Greek Language, and other Greeks, were the principal Inhabitants of Alexandria. From them the Jews learned to speak Greek, which was the common Language of the City, and which foon became the native Language of the Yews, that lived there ; who, on that Account, were called Hellenists, or Greek-Jews, mentioned Acts vi. 1-9. xi. 20. Thefe Greek-Jews had Synagogues in Alexandria ; and for their Benefit, the five Books of Mofes, which Bb2 which alone, at first, were publickly read, were translated into Greek, (by whom is uncertain) and read in their Synagogues every Sabbath-Day. And in the time of Antiochus Epiphanes, about 168 Years before Christ, when the Prophets also began to be read in the Synagogues of Judea, the Prophets also were translated into Greek for the Use of the Alexandrian Jews. This Translation contributed much to the Spread of the Knowledge of true Religion among the Nations in the western Parts of the World.

For the Jews, their Synagogues and Worfhip, were, after Alexander's Death, difperfed almost every where among the Nations. Ptolemy, one of Alexander's Succeffors, having reduced Jerufalem and all Judea, about 320 Years before Chrift, carried a hundred thousand Jews into Egypt, and there raifed confiderable Numbers of them to Places of Trust and Power; and several of them he placed in Cyrene and Libya. Seleucus, another of Alexander's Succeffors, about 300 Years before Christ, built Antioch in Cilicia, and many other Cities, in all 35, and fome of them capital Cities in the greater and leffer Afia; in all which he planted the Jews, giving them equal Privileges and Immunities with the Greeks and Macedonians; especially at Antioch in Syria, where they fettled in great Numbers, and became almost as confiderable a Part of that City, as they they were at Alexandria. Dr. PRIDEAUX's Con. Anno 293. Ptolemy Soter 12. On that memorable Day of Pentecost, Acts ii. 5, 9, 11, 12. were affembled in Jerusalem, Jews, devout Men, out of every Nation under Heaven; namely, Parthians, Medes, and Perfians of the Province of Elymais, Inhabitants of Mesopotamia, Judea, Cappadocia, Pontus, Asia, Phrygia, Pamphylia, Egypt, Cyrene in Lybia, Rome, Cretes, and Arabs, who were all either natural Jews, or devout Men, i. e. Profelytes to the Jewish Religion. And in every City of the Roman Empire, where Paul preached, he found a Body of his Countreymen, the Jews ; except in Athens, which was, at that time, I suppose, a Town of no confiderable Trade. Which shews that the Jews, and their Synagogues, at the time of our Lord's Appearance, were providentially fcattered over all the Roman Empire; and had in every Place introduced, more or lefs, among the Nations, the Knowledge and Worship of God; and so had prepared great Numbers for the Reception of the Gofpel.

ABOUT the time that Alexander built Alexandria in Egypt, the Use of the Papyrus for writing was first found out in that Country. Dr. PRIDEAUX's Con. Anno 332. Darius 4. P. 706. Vol. II. This Invention was so favorable to Literature, that Ptolemy Soter, one of Alexander's Successors, B b 3 was was thereby enabled to creft a Mufrum: of Library ; which by his Son and Seconflor, Philadelphus, who died 247 Years before Chrift, was augmented to an hundred thous fand Volumes; and by succeeding Ptolemins. to feven hundred thousand. Part of this Library, which was placed in a feparate Building from the other Part, happened to be burnt when Julius Cafar laid Siege to Alexandria ; but after that Lofs, it was again much augmented, and foon grew up to be larger, and of more eminent Note, than the former; and so it continued for many Ages to be of great Fame, and Ufe in those Parts, till at length it was burnt and finally deftroyed by the Sairasens, in the Year of our Lord 642. Dr. PRIDEAUX'S Con. Vol. 14L. P. 21. Esc. Anno 284. This plainly proves how much the Invention of turning the Papyras into. Paper contributed to the Increase of Books, and the Advancement of Learning for fome Ages before the Coming of our Lord. For doubtless, by this Means, private Hands would also more eafily be supplied with Books than before.

ADD to all this, that the World, after many Changes and Revolutions, was, by God's all-ruling Wildom, thrown into that Form of civil Affairs, which belt fund with the great intended Alteration. The many petty States and Tyrannies, whose Paffions and Bigotry might have run conner to this Schemes and of other NATIONS, Sc.

Schemes of Providence, were all swallowed up in one great Power, the Romans; to which all Appeals lay; the Seat of which, Rome, lay at a great Distance from Jerufalem, the Spring from whence the Gospel was to arife, and flow to all Nations. And therefore, as no material Obstruction to the Golpel could arife, but from that one Quarter, none could fuddenly arife from thence, hut only in Process of time, when the Gofpel was fufficiently spread and established, as it did not in the least interfere with the Roman Polity or Government. The Gofpel was first published in a time of general Peace and Tranquility throughout the whole World, which gave the Preachers of it an Opportunity of passing freely from one Country to another, and the Minds of Men the Advantage of attending calmly to it. Many favage Nations were civilized by the Romans, and acquainted with the Arts and Virtues of their Conquerors.

THUS the darkeft Countries had their Thoughts awakened, and were growing to a Capacity of receiving, at the flated time, the Knowledge of true Religion. So that all things and Circumflances confpired now with the Views of Heaven, and made this apparently the Fulnefs of Time, (Gal. iv. 4.) or the fiteft Juncture for God to reveal himfelf to the Gentiles, and to put an End to Idolatry throughout the Earth. Now the B b 4 Minds

Minds of Men were generally ripe for a purer and brighter Dispensation, and the Circumstances of the World were fuch, as favored the Success and Progress of it. In this very Time the Meffiah came; nor, for ought I can fee, could he have come more opportunely at any other; because the World was at no other preceeding time fo well prepared to receive his Doctrines. As to Remiffion of Sin, and eternal Salvation, it is all one whenever he came. Becaule the Sacrifice, which he offered for Sin, had its Effects with regard to the Time paft, as well as to the Time to come; to the Penitent, that were dead, as well to the living, or those that were yet to be born. (See Scripfure Doctrine of Atonement, P. 80.) Immortality must belong as much to those who lived virtuoufly, according to their Degree of Light, before the Meffiah came, as to those who lived after his coming ; and the Bleffedness of the future State, though not' alike revealed, yet was alike acceffible to the one as to the other.

UPON a Review of the whole, it will appear, that the Condition of Mankind was bettered Step by Step, as the Reafon and Nature of things directed and would permit. The Scope and Intendment of the whole Scheme of divine Providence, in all its various Difpenfations, was to bring human Nature, by proper Degrees, and in a Way and of other NATIONS, &c.

Way confistent with moral Agency, to all the Beauty, Holinefs, and Perfection it can, in this prefent State, attain to. And though we are not indeed able abfolutely to trace all the Reafons of the divine Conduct, and to demonstrate the Wisdom of it in every Particular; yet we may, in general, discover, that all the Parts of this Scheme were wifely formed, and purfued, depending regularly on each other, leading to the same great and good End, and adapted to the respective Circumstances and Condition of Mankind. Note — AFTER the Publication of the Gospel, the Jewish Peculiarity was no longer of Ule for preferving the Knowledge of God That End would be much in the World. better answered by its Diffolution, and the Dispersion of the Jews all over the Earth, as they are even unto this Day. Mankind, baving abused their Natural Pown: ERS, fland in Need of an Extraordinary: REVELATION.

HE Scriptures are the Word of Gods: they are the Language and Address of the universal Father to his Children in a this World, whom he hath endowed with rational Faculties to hear and understand his. Voice. The Scriptures are given by Inspiration of Gad, and are profitable far Doctrine, for Reproof, for Correction, for Instruction in Righteou/nels. 2 Tim. iii. 16. The Glory of God indeed is to be feen in all the Works of his Hands; and the Speech of his almighty Power, Wildom, and Goodnessis to be heard in the Appearances of Creation which are daily before our Eyes. Plal. xix. 1, 820. Mankind in a faithful Wie of their natural Powers, might, without any other Guide, know God. Ram. j. 19. For that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God bath shewed it unto them (for the invifible things of him from the Creation of the World are clearly free, being underflood by the things that are made, fo) that even the Heathen, who have no other Rule but the Light of Nature, they might be without Excuse, if if

if they are totally ignorant of God. But how much Mankind in all Ages have abused and misapplied their Understandings is notoriously evident, and therefore it must be evident how much they funct in need of an extraordinary Revelation to correct their Errors, to reduce them to the Obedience of God, and to fecure them from relapsing into Idolatry and Apoftacy from him.

LITHINK, no Book catt contain more e vident Marks of Inch a Revelation, than the Scriptures, eminently to valled, which we are happily pollefied of. There we have the fulleft and cleareft Account of the Nature and Perfections of God, beyond what the World at belt could have attained to, and far beyond what could, in the ordinary Courfe of things, have been preferved through fires oueding Odnerations. The Knowledge of God not being a mere fpecolative Troth, but having near Connexion with our Morals, would confequently, as the Morals of Men are very liable to be cotrupted, have allo proportionably been obscured, till it had in a Manner quite vanified away; which we know hath in Fact been true. In the Scriptures, as in a dorable Storehoufe, not to be demolifhed by Time, or uncertain Tradition. we have the most noble Difcoveries of the Nature and Perfections of God, as he is our Maker, our Father, Owner, Ruler, and daily Benefactor; as he is glorious in all his Attributes; as he is infinite, and independent, eternal, eternal, and unchangeable, in his Being, Knowledge, Wildom and Power; as perfectly holy. good, righteous, and true. And these Glories of the divine Nature are described, not in the. Way of philosophical Differtations, not by a Series of abstract Reasoning, which how amufing or instructing foever to. Minds of a more refined Turn and Tafte, are but of little Service to the Bulk of Mankind. who have but little Leifure, and perhaps less Inclination to attend to the curious and abstruser Deductions of Reason; not thus are the Glories of the divine Nature delineated in Scripture, but exhibited in a long and eafily intelligible Series of Facts and Events, wherein God hath manifested his Goodness, Wildom, Power, and Justice, from the Begining of the World. In which way the, Mind, with very little Labor of Thought, is at once convinced of the Being and Perfections of God, and struck with Admiration, Reverence, Love, and every right Affection which the Knowledge of God fhould produce in us.

In the Scriptures any one, in common Life, may not only very readily fee that God is, and that he is all that the most learned, the most exact, the most subtle, the most sublime Philosophy, all that the utmost Applioation and Study of the wisest of Men can discover; but he seeth this at the fame time in a practical Light; he seeth that God is all all this to us; that as great as he is in himfelf, he is our God and Father, that he hath, from his own Immenfity of Being, given us Being, a noble and diftinguished Kind of Being; that he conftantly regards us, loveth us, interests himfelf in our Affairs, is concerned for our Welfare, is daily near us, the Object of our Trust and Dependance; that all our Safety is in his Favour, and that in his Favour, and under his Protection, we are infinitely fafe and happy. That we are accountable to him for our Actions, that we are continually under his Eye, and can flee no whither from his Spirit and Rtelence; that we ought always to fet him before us. to act as in his Sight, and to approve ourfelves to his all-fearching Eye; that he hath taken us into the nearest Relations to timefelf, that his Defign is to make us godd, in Order to make us for ever happy; that for this Purpofe, he hath been carrying on various Difpenfations from the Begining of the World to invite and draw Men unto himfelf.

AT length, in the Fulnels of Time, in that Time which to his infinite Wildom feemed most expedient, he fent a divine Messenger, the Word, his only begotten Son, from his own Bosom, to redeem Men from Iniquity, to reconcile them to God; and in the Way, divine Wildom judged most proper, to establish upon the most firm and beautiful fur Foundation, the eternal Balvation of all pious and virtuous Men that have ever been. or faell hereafter be in the World. The etornal God in Christ will be their everlasting Strength, and Joy, and Glory. Thus, I would observe, we not only, in the calleft and cheareft Way, learn God and his Perfections from Scripture, but we learn them in a Manner the most proper and powerful to engage and unite our Hearts to God; to warm and quicken our Spirits, to excite us to the Love and Obedience of God, and to confider ourfelves infinitely interested in his Attributes and Perfections. Which is to learn divine things; i.e. the most excellent things in a Method raftly superior to all the Reasonings and instructions of the best and wifest of Philolophers.

Is the Scriptures, any Man of common Sense may not only with Ease learn his Duty in the fulleft Extent, but at the same time by the numerous Examples of pious Men in all Ages, he may see that it is practicable, and may see how to ingage in it; how exact, how constant, how ready and chearful he should be in the discharge of it; how he ought to result Temptations, to struggle with Difficulties. Even a mean Capacity by readnig the Scriptures, shall at the same time difcern the Reasonableness, and the Beauty of Holiness, and also be furnished with the strongest Arguments and Motives to embrace it.

it, and to perfevere therein, shall be affired of the divine Affistance and Protection in a religious Course, shall find the most proper Consolations and Encouragements in every the most distressed State of Affairs, to every Precept he shall find an adjoined Promise, and his Duty will thine brightly before his Eyes, in the Light and Hope of everlasting Glory.

THERE we have the trueft and most offectual Rules for forming our Minds into all Habits of Virtue; not fimple Propositions, declaring what we ought to do and be, but Rules of Life intermixed with the Power and Splendor of divine Grace, working mightily to renew us into the divine Nature. There Religion appears in all its Truth, Lustre, Sweetnels, and Majesty. There it is dreffed in all its Charms; not as a four, 50vere, morofe, gloomy Principle, forbiding Enjoyment, and the Parent only of Sorrow, Honror, and Despair, but as our Life, our Glory, our Peace, our Joy; as giving us the trueft Relish and Enjoyment of Life, as the Source of the most folid Pleasure and Comfort, as uniting us to God, as lodging us for ever in the almighty Arms of his Love and Goodness, as leading to, and preparing for endlefs Joys and Pleafures in his Prefence.

As to Sin and Wickednefs, the Philosophers have faid much concerning the odious. Nature of Vice, that it is Evil, and the worft of Evils, that it is the Difease and Deformity

Deformity of the Mind, hurtful to the Health of the Body, and ruinous to the Reputation and Estate. Their Reflections were To far just, but the Benefit of them was confined to Men of Letters and Study; the Vulgar received little or no Advantage from them; but in the Scriptures, the meanest Minds are favoured with far better Instrucsions than they could give. There Sin is not only fet forth in all its odious Colours, and in all its pernicious Effects, as to this present Life, but its deadly Nature is demonstrated as it stands in Contrariety to God, as it is the Transgreffion of his holy Law, as it exposeth us to his Displeasure, and disqualifieth us for his Bleffing; as it is oppofite to all the Ends of our Creation, and confequently as deferving of Death. That God will punish all the impenitent Workers of Iniquity with everlasting Destruction, and purge out of his Kingdom every thing that offends, that is either mischievous or polluting. And all this is fo plainly and powerfully inculcated upon the Mind, by many dreadful Examples of the divine Vengeance upon ungodly Men, throughout the whole Series of Scripture-History, by fo many exprefs Declarations of God's Wrath, and fo many Exhortations of his Goodness and Mercy, to turn from every evil Way, that no one, who carefully and ferioufly reads the Scriptures, can mils not only of feeing the Evil.

Evil, the Irregularity and Deformity of Sin, but of having his Mind affected with it and wrought into the most rational and the most fettled Detertation of it.

WITH Regard to the Pardon of Sin, the wileft of Philosophers seem to have very imperfect Notions of it. They rarely and very Superficially confidered it in its Relation of Diffonancy to the divine Perfections; and therefore fay little or nothing concerning the Placablenels of the Deity, whether God would pardon Sin, or in what Way his Wifdom thought proper to do it. Sacrifices were frequent among them, but they feem to have underflood nothing of their true Nature and End, nor were at all folicitous to enquire into them. In truth, they did not und derstand the true Demerit of Sin, and therefore of courle, must be in the dark, as to the Remiflion of it. But all these things are open and obvious to the weakest Capacity in Scripture.

How much the World was in the dark about a future State without a Revelation is well known, and how clearly now the World to come is opened to us in the awful Profpects of eternal Happinels, or endlefs Perdition, can be concealed from none who are ever fo little acquainted with the Gofpel of Chrift. — These things duely attended to, will scriptures; that God's Word is Truth, C c and able to make us wife unto Salvation; and further do demonstrate, that it is our Duty to be much in reading them.

READING the Scriptures is one of the fift Principles of our Religion, as we are Christians, because our Profession is built wholly upon the Scriptures. We juftly own no other Rule of our Faith but the Word of God. Epb. ii. 20. We are built upon the Foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief Corner-Stone. And we are built upon no other Foundation. If we are true Christians, however we may use or value the Writings of Men, we make not them, not the best of them, the Rule of our Faith, but the Word of God alone. But that Rule ought to be thoroughly perufed, and digested, otherwise how good foever in itself, or how much soever we profess to take it for our Rule, it is in Fact, no Rule to us. The Word of God is the Guide of our Actions; it is a Lamp unto our Feet; and a Light unto our Path. Pfal. cxix. 105. Should we not then diligently fludy the Word of God, that we may not wander from his Commandments? The Word of God is the Spring of all our Comfort and Hopes.

THERE and there alone, we have the rich and immense Treasure of the divine Promises; and from thence alone, we can draw folid Support and Consolation, in any dark Hour of Trial and Affliction. In short, to all the valuable Purposes of Knowledge and Life,

Life, the Scriptures do infinitely excel all human Compositions whatfoever. They are but as the twinkling Stars to that Ocean of Light which is poured out daily from the Body of the Sun. Of all the Means of Knowledge and Wifdom in the World, I know nothing to be compared with the Worl of God. The Reafon of the thing therefore requires we fhould have our Eyes intent upon this Light and Illumination. For this End God hath given us this invaluable Treafure, the holy Scriptures, that we fhould make them our Study.

IT must be observed carefully, that it is not enough to be much in reading the Scriptures, but while we read we fhould employ all our Attention to understand them. The Scriptures may be underftood, but evidently not in every Degree by every Man; for as there are various Sorts and Degrees of Knowledge in Scripture, fome perhaps, at prefent, beyond the Reach of any Man that ever yet was in the World; and as there are in Men various Capacities, and Degrees of Learning, fo it is manifest, all Men cannot attain to the fame Degree of Understanding in divine things; but there must necessarily be a great Difference between the Knowledge of one Man and another in Matters of Faith and Revelation. This shews the Abfurdity of the Popish Scheme, which pretends to reduce the christian Faith in all its Parts to a certain invariable Standard, to which every Man either explicitly or implicitly, either Cc2

The Expediency of an either with or without Understanding, must conform.

This thews how much foever it is dur Duty to communicate Knowledge one to another, that it is quite contrary to true Religion to quarrel with one another, or to be displeased because we have not all the same Degree of Understanding in Matters of Faith and Religion ; because this, according to the prefent Conflication of our Minds, and of the Revelation God hath given us, which he never intended should be equally understood by all, is quite impracticable. But although the Scriptures are not to be understood in eve-Fy Degree by every Man, yet they may be understood by every Man so far as God requireth, i. e. fo far as he is capable of underflanding them; for what a Man can underftand, he may understand, if he is not wanting to himfelf.

AND as God can require of no Man beyond his Abilities, fo no more than what a Man can understand of Scripture is to him a Rule of Faith and Practice; for what he cannot understand, he cannot be bound to believe or do. Further, those things in Scripture which are of the highest Importance, and most conducive to a holy Life, are generally very eafy to be understood; and therefore how perplexed foever those other things may be about which Men have differed, though not fo perplexed in Revelation, as they are in Mens Heads and Writings; yet I fay, how perplexed and difficult foever they may be, the grand Principles of Faith and Practice are fo evident, that any ordinary Capacity, may, with due Care and Attention, eafily gain the most comfortable Knowledge of them. Thus the Scriptures may be understood.

So far as they are not underftood, they are, at least, useles to us. Nay further, the Scriptures mifunderstood, may prove very hurtful to us. The things chiefly to be understood in Scripture are Principles, or the Grounds and Reasons of things, and Precepts which are the Rules of Duty; now if we mistake either, we shall throw all into Confusion, our Way will be all Mist and Clouds, that which thould be Light will be Darknels, or, which is all one, a falle Light to millead us; that which should be our loy. will be our Heavines; that which should be our Comfort, and inspire chearful Hope, will be a dead Weight to burthen our Spirits and clog our Courfe. Our Path which should be as the shining Light, that shineth more and more, will be a gloomy melancholy Road, and we shall make our Way with Difficulty, because we want that true Sense and Knowledge of the Ways and Will of God, which is neceffary to give Life, Comfort, and Vigour. Chimeras and frightful Images will terrify our Confciences, and fill us with groundless Fears; God will be painted in monstrous Colours, and all the Cc3 ravifh-ravishing Glories of his Truth, Wisdom, and Love, which should powerfully draw our Hearts to him, will be hid from our Eyes. The Lustre of redeeming Grace will in part, or wholly, be eclipsed. Some parts of Religion will be superstitiously magnified, while others of greater Consequence will be undervalued.

FURTHER, if for want of due Attention to the Senfe of Scripture we miltake and fall into Error, we ought to be fenfible, that religious Error is of a far worfe Nature than any other; not only as it is Error in a Matter of the greatest Importance, but as it is of all others, the most difficult to be corrected. For under the facred Name of Religion it fhelters and defends itfelf, and gains the Character of Truth, of important, neceffary, awful, and perhaps excellent Truth; and the unwary think themselves bound in Conficence and Duty to maintain it with Zeal; and then whoever endeavours to correct it, though ever fo much in the Spirit of Meeknels and Peace, must do it at his Peril, Hence those groffer Instances of Perfecution and Bloodfhed which have fouled the chri-Hence those Wranglings, Deflian Name. bates, Heats, Animofities, which have deftroyed christian Societies. These things are the Fruit of Mens taking their religious Principles upon Truft, and not fetching them from the Scriptures, studied, and understood by themfelves. Such Contempt and Neglect lect of the Word of God expofeth them to ftrong Delufion, and fuch Delufion leads them to fight in the Dark for they know not what. Thus Religion is corrupted, the Corruption of it defended, and Irreligion and Infidelity propagated, even by religious People themfelves. So the Sceptic, who is indifferent to any Principles, when he finds Abfurdity mixed with the chriftian Faith, taking the whole for a true Account of Chriftianity, rejects the whole. For even common Senfe will not allow that Revelation to be divine, which cannot, in many of its parts, be reconciled with the known Perfections of God.

By this unhappy Means what Numbers in our Land have been drawn into Deifm ! And, by this unhappy Means, I guels, if the Truth were known, Religion appears but in a doubtful Light to many who feem to be ftrict Profeffors of it; for where it is not received in its proper Evidence, there cannot be, I think, a full and ftrong Affent of Faith; and no Man can receive it in its proper Evidence, who doth not endeayour carefully to underftand the Scriptures.

THUS many who talk much of the Word of God, and pretend a great Reverence for it, may poffibly at the laft Day be ranked among the Defpifers of it; becaufe, although they have, perhaps, been much in reading of it, they never fet themfelves in good earneft to understand it, and so in Effect might as well not have read it at all ; for their Read-In of it is only from a superstitious Opinion, as Turks, and Jews, and Papifts turn over the Books in Reputation among them, not from the Love of Truth, not with a Defire to understand the Truth; that most People suppose they understand before they read their Bibles, or however without reading their Bibles; not to open their Eyes, and to give them a more just and distinct View of the Ways and Difpensations of God, such things they learn from other Books; not to confirm and establish their Minds in the Faith of God and of Chrift; not for those Purpoles, I fear, are the Scriptures read, but only in a cuftomary, superflitious, or however, in a very carelels, superficial Way; and therefore there are to few Christians that grow in Grace, that rife in spiritual Strength, Peace, Love, and Joy, becaufe, there are to few that grow in the Know-ledge of our Lord and Saviour Jetus Chrift. 2 Pet. iii. 18,

The full Knowledge of Chrift most People prefume they have attained long ago, and to talk of knowing more of Chrift, or in a clearer and more rational Way, is perfectly shocking to them. They have somewhere or other fixed the precise Standard of divine Knowledge, and either more or less than that Standard of theirs is impious and

Extractinary REVELATION.

and heretical. How then can they grow in the Knowledge of Christ? How can they fet themselves to understand the Scriptures, who in another way, as they think, have already gained the whole Sum and Body of spiritual Understanding ? See Rom, xv. 4. What soever things were writen aforetime, were writen for our Learning, for our Infruction. that we through Patience and Comfort of the Scriptures might have Hape. We have hope through that Patience and Comfort which is taught in the Scriptures; but the Grounds and Reasons of that Patience and Comfort must be understood, otherwise we cannot eftablish in our Minds a fure and folid Hope, Hence it is that the christian Hope, that Faith, and Hope which overcometh the World, is fo great a Rarity; therefore fo few rejoice in Hope, becaule lo few understand the Scriptures, which are the Ground of the christian Hope. Lastly, because the Scriptures are but little underftood, therefore, they are fo little valued. We delight not in them, because we know to little of them,

LET it be remembered, that we shall have the Benefit of the Scriptures by studiously endeavouring to understand them. Then shall we know if we follow on to know the Lord. So far as we understand the Word of Truth, we shall be truly onlightened, our Consciences will be rightly, directed, and all our Brinciples, well eftablished;

tablished; we shall fee its real Excellency, and it will accordingly be valued and efteemed; we shall taste its Comforts, feel its Power, be convinced of its divine Original, and it will be pleasant and precious to us. The more we understand of the Scriptures, the more we shall with Pleasure fee the Righteousness, Wisdom, and Goodness of all the divine Dispensations, that all of them are adjusted and settled by the Love of a Father, and calculated to promote our Happiness. This will draw our Hearts to God, and shew us the infinite Reasonableness of comporting with the Constitutions of his Grace.

IF we are built upon the Foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, our Faith will ftand upon a fure Bottom, and not upon the weak, precarious Judgment of Man; henceforth we shall be no more Children toffed to and fro, and carried about with every Wind of Doctrine, Ephef. iv, 14. But shall by Use have our Senfes exercifed to difcern both Good and Evil. Thus we shall with our own Eyes see the Truth, and be instrumental. in preferving the Purity of our Religion. Thus we shall grow up into Christ in all things, in Knowledge, in Faith, and Love. Thus we shall be rooted and grounded in Love, in the Love of God, of Truth, and of our Neighbour. The Knowledge we gain, whether it be more or lefs, being drawn drawn from the true Fountain, will compose our Spirits, and incline us neither to despise the Weakness of those that know less, nor to reject the Instructions of those that may know more than ourselves.

THESE weighty Confiderations should engage us to read the Scriptures with all poffible Care and Diligence; to fludy them with an upright Defire to gain their true Senfe and Meaning. We all know how much Men are at Variance about the Senfe of Scripture, one affirming that this, another that that is the true Senfe. So it may well be expected to be in our present Weakness; and fo God hath permited it to be; not to give us Occafion to cenfure, judge, and difparage one another, as is too common, for this is expresly forbiden; but this Variety of Sentiments is permited to teach us to cease from Man, and should convince us that we ought not to refign our Understandings or Confciences to any Man's Judgment whatloever.

OBJECTIONS against

C H A P. XXXIX.

The Hiflory of REVELATION, and fame On-JECTIONS to it anfwered.

TSHALL confider first, THE Authority and Original of holy, Scripture; and then, THE Use and Importance of it; it is

THE Use and Importance of it; it is profitable for Doctraine, for Reproof, for Correction, for Instruction in Righteousnels, 2 Tim. Hi. 16. and fo is profitable for the noblest Purposes, the enlightening of our Minds, the purifying of our Hearts, the regulating of our Practice, and the laying of our Souls.

As to the Authority and Original of holy Scripture, it is faid, by a very good and fufficient Judge, that it is given by Inspiration of God, How we are to understand being given by Inspiration of God; the Aposs PE-TER will inform us, 2 Pet. i. 20, 21. Knowing this, fais he, that no Prophecy of the Scripture is of any private Interpretation, Sense, or Impulse; meaning, that no Prophecy did issue or proceed from the private Sense or Thoughts of the Writer; it was not giving a Loose to his own Conceits and Imaginations. For, as it follows, the Prophecy came not not in old time by the Will of Man; but boy Men of God Spake as they were moved by the boly Gbolt; or by the holy Spirit of God, enlightening their Minds and directing them what to fay. Thus the Scriptures are infpired; they are the Word of God, and what is contained in them, we are to un-derstand and reverence as fpoken by God himfelf. But then, in the Hritteft Senfe, this is to be understood only of what Prophets, as Prophets, have delivered to us fuch as Mofes, Samuel, David, Ifaiab, Jeremiab, and the reft. No Prophecy of Scrip= fore did proceed from the private Senle of the Writer, but was dictated by the Spirit of God. But as for the hittorical Writings, though, doubtless, they owe their Original to the special Providence of God, yet it is Affleient to suppose, that they were wrote by Men of Probity, fully acquainted with the Facts which they relate.

THIS premifed, I fhould now advance a few Arguments to eftablish the Authority and Excellency of the Scriptures, that they were indeed given by Inspiration of God, or that in them holy Men of God spake as they were moved by the holy Spirit. But to prepare the Way it is necessary I should give a general Account and History of Revelation; then remove fome Objections which are leveled against it, as if it were needless, too too partial, or too ineffectual, to be confistent with the divine Goodness; or as if we were not fufficiently secure, that we now have in Possefion those very Books entire and perfect, in which Revelation was originally recorded.

REVELATION is that which makes known to us the Will and Ways of the most high God, the Father of the Universe, the Fountain of all Being and Happiness, upon whom we have a necessary Dependence for Life, for Understanding, and Knowledge, for wellbeing, and Enjoyment, at all times and in every respect; for without him we cannot live, we cannot breathe, we can have no kind or Degree of Senfe and Understanding. This is true. And it is equally true, that the best, and most beneficent of Beings, the greatest, and the kindeft of all Fathers, could have no other End or Defign in creating Mankind, but his own Glory, and their Happinefs. The chief End of Man must be to glorify God, and to enjoy him for ever ; for perfect Goodness cannot be conceived to propose any lower End in making a Creature fo noble and excellent. But then it is certain, both from the Holine's of God, and the Nature of an intelligent, rational Being, that a Character of Holinefs and Virtue, of Obedience, Righteoufnefs, or right Conduct, is neceffary, on our part, to our Enjoyment of

of God, or our Happiness in his Favor and Bleffing. It is neceffary that we love the great Author of our Being, that we pay him all due Honor and Obedience, that we are dutifully submissive to his Will, that we understand our Dependence upon him, and what we have to expect from him, that we may be excited to Gratitude, and a due Improvement of his Benefits.

WE cannot love, honor, and obey God, unless we know him, and are acquainted with him; nor can we poffibly have any Knowledge, or Understanding of any kind whatever, but what must come originally from God. Therefore, that God, our Father, should instruct and teach his Creatures, whom he has made for the highest and nobleft Ends, in those things which immediately relate to his Glory and their Happinels, is perfectly confonant to his Goodnefs and Love. And that infinite Wifdom. the Lord and Proprietor of all Being, fhould have various Ways of making known himfelf and his Will to us, is also perfectly true. He hath produced a great Variety of Creatures with different Powers and Inftincts in our World, by them to show that he can bestow upon us any Kind or Degree of Being ; he hath displayed his immense Greatnefs, Power, Wildom, and Goodnefs in the numberless glorious Bodies which, by his Hand.

Hand, are perpetually rolled about us fr the Heavens. His continually providing for our Subfistence, in a way which is quite out of our Power, plainly demonstrates our abfolute Dependence upon him, and Obligations to him. This is the Book of Nature spread before all Nations, and legible to every Understanding ; in which every attentive Mind may read the Perfections of God, and the main Duties which we owe film. But, to him who made our Senies and Minds and is always intimate to them, there mult be many other possible Ways of making known his Will to us; as by an audible Voice, a Vision, or fecret Impressions upon our Spirits. Therefore to believe, that God at fundry times, and divers Manners, spake to the ancient Fathers by the Prophets, is believing a thing very pollible, reafonable, and fiting.

AND it is no improbable Supposition, that in the earlieft Ages of the World, God should only communicate his Will to plous Men, and leave them to hand it down to others by Tradition. For in those Days the Longevity of Mankind favored this Manner of Conveyance: With our Grand-Parent Adam, Methufelab lived 243. Years ; with Methufelab, Shem the Son of Noab lived about 97 Years ; and with Shem, Jacob the Son of Ijääc, the Son of Abraham, lived 30 Years,

Years; as appears from the Hiftory of Genefis. So that no more than three Perfons, Methylelah, Shem; and Jacob, were fufficient to hand down the Knowledge and Worship of the true God, from Adam to the time when the Children of Ifrael wont down into Egypt, that is, through the Space of 2238 Years. But when the Life of Man was reduced to the narrow Period of fourfcore Years, and the World on all Sides was fallen into various forts of Corruption, and Idolatry and Ignorance of God generally prevailed among the Nations, Tradition evidently ceafed to be a fafe Mean of Conveyance.

IT was then the divine Wifdom judged it a proper time to erect a peculiar Kingdom, Church, or Congregation in the World and for its Illumination gave the Knowledge of his Will and Worship in Writing, by the Hand of his Servant Mofes; that by fuch Writing, or Scripture, divine Truth might more eafily be preferved, be further fpread, and, when loft, more eafily reftored. This muft be acknowledged a wife and proper Expedient. After the time of Moles, God was pleafed to give Revelations to the fubfequent Prophets, as Occasion required; till in the Fulness of Time, the great Prophet, the Son of God, came into the World, opened a new Dispensation, and all the Treasures of the divine Grace, which had not before been Dď ſa is clearly made known to the Church and People of God. And what he and his Apoltles taught is also committed to Writing, and completes what we call the Canon of Script ture.

THIS is the general Account and Hiftory. of Revelation which I proposed to give. And we may here observe, that a writen Revelattion and the Church of God are co-exiltentia that is to fay, at the fame time the Church. was brought into the World, the Scriptures, were brought into the Church ; and both are to effentially connected, that take away the one, and you take away the other, Take. away the Scriptures, and we are reduced to. the State of meer Nature; our Charter is destroyed, and our Polity, as we are God's Church and Kingdom, is overthrown. We may indeed, poffibly, pretend, as the Papifis do, that we are, though deprived of the Beriptures, still a Church ; yet without the Scriptures, as our Rule and Poundation, we are not the Church of God, but under a different Head, it may be the Pape, or fome other usurped Authority. But this by the Bye.

I shall now remove some Objections which may be leveled against Revelation in general.

It is pretended—To be quite needlefs, Nature and Reason being sufficient to direct any Man in the plain Way of his Duty, without any supernatural Affistance. I answer It

REVELATION anfromed.

R must be allowed, in general, that Nature and Realow are fufficient to direct any Man in the Way of his Duty, to fair as God, in bis-Circumstances, expects Duty from him. For God expects Duty from every Perfor only in Proportion to the Light he prious. and to the Talents he hash received ... But the Experience of all Mankind theys that Nature and Reason, by themselves, will advance but a little Way in the Knowledge of divine things. Gentlemen in a Land like ours, where, in spite of themselves, their Nature and Reafon is enlightened and dia rected in a confiderable Degree by Revelation tion, may talk of the Perfection and Suffiviency of Nature and Reafon.

Ir we look into those National which are perfect Strangers to Revelation, we hall find them großly ignorant of the Being, Unitar, and Perfections of God, the Difpensations of his Providence, the proper Honor and Worthip that is due to him, the Prayers we may address to his Goodness, and the Hopes we may entertain of his Acceptance. They know nothing of the Pardon of Sin, the Promifes of God's Mercy and Bleffing, nor of any thing belonging to the Covenant of his Love, the present Privileges, or future Glory of his Kingdom. lafting, which will be the fad Lot of all the impenitontly wicked, they are altogether, or In a great Measure, unacquainted with. Box all these are great Principles in Religion, and of great Force to purify our Spirits, ennoble our Minds, animate our Hopes, and guard us against the Influence of bodily Appetites, and the Violence of Temptation. AND however others may fare, in a great Degree of Darknels and Ignorance, through the favorable Allowance of God, yet furely every Man's Reafon will tell him, that fuperior Knowledge, and a more extensive View of the divine Difpenfations, is abfolutely nepeffary to a higher Degree of Goodnels, Comfort, Obedience, and Devotedness ro God. What the Poets relate may be true, that fome primitive Mortals subfisted only upon Acorns and Water, in Dens and Caves; and we know there are fome Parts of the World where the naked Inhabitants enjoy very few Conveniencies of Life ; but shall we therefore despile the Bleffings of Agriculture, and the various Accommodations which make Life happy and comfortable, and fay they are needless ? Would any Man in England ever think of turning out maked into the Fields and Woods, because it is poffible, and may fomewhere in Fact be true, that Men may live upon wild Fruit and Water, without Cloths, or any Habitation, but the Dens and Caves of the Earth? other agreable Food, Cloths, and commodious Habitations, fited up with proper Furniture and Utenfils, are neceffary to our Kind and Degree of Life in the natural World; and to is Revelation to a corresponding Kind and Degree of Ipiritual Life. The Food, Rai ment, and Habitations we enjoy are the Gift of God's Goodnefs, and it is our Duty, to accept and use them with Thankful-, nefs. In like Manner, Revelation is the Gift of God, and, as fuch, it ought to be received; and as it gives greater Light, we are obliged to attend accordingly to it, becaufe we must, in the Nature of things, be accountable for it. sector de la care la la.

I may add upon this Head, that however Nature and Reafon, in their pure and most perfect State, may be fufficient to direct in the Way of Duty, yet when Nature is corrupted, and Reafon obfcured, or almost quite extinguished, they are by no Means sufficient to reftore and recover themfelves to the Knowledge and Obedience of the Truth; because they themselves, who should be the Phyfician to heal themfelves, are fick and disabled. But it was the primary Intention of Revelation to reftore and preferve the Knowledge of God and of his Will in a corrupt and degenerate World. So far therefore I fee no Objection against Revelation, but it may be both very needful, and a very great Bleffing to Mankind. િંદીયલી Dig છે. આવેલો S. S. Lingell IT 2 Aria

May we not then conclude, that a part ind Revelation is no Revelation from God, nor sporthy of our Repard ?

I answer-It is very certain than God is the Saviour of all Men, that he is good to all; and that his tender Mercies are over all his Works. But while we are fure of this, we are not equally fure that our Reason is a perfect Rule for adjusting the Distribution of his Benefits. On the other Hand, we may be very fore that it is not. From the lowest to the highest Degree of Existence; from a Grain of Sand, to the most glorious Angel in Heaven, every higher Degree of Being is an incontestible Proof, that God may very justly, according to his own Wildom and good Pleasure, bestow what Gifts; Endowments, Privileges, and Advantages upon his Creatures he fees fit. He is Debtor to none. Our Buderflanding is no Measure of his Wildom, neither are his Difpenfations to be cenfured by our parrow and imperfect Judgments.

WOULD you not think him a very foolifh Man, who should be displeased that God has made him rich, and placed him in easy Circumstances, because there are many about him in a poor low Condition ?- Who refutes Wealth, or whields against Plenty, because his Neighbours are pinched, and make but a hard Shift to get a Living? Or who can be to abfurd, as to reckon his superior Knowledge and Learning to be no valuable Advantage, because there are Numbers of illiterate Perfons, who are much below him in Understanding ? Or that the Possession of Reason is no Bleffing, because there are fo many Idiots to be found among Mankind? Or can you suppose there are any of the angelic Body, or of those Spirits who excel us in all Endowments and Happiness, who defpife their own Bleffings and heavenly Felicity, as no Gifts of the divine Bounty, becaule we in this Earth, are not fet upon a Level with them? And is it not as foolifh and abfurd to deny Revelation, or to argue against it, as improperly bestowed; and upworthy of the divine Goodness because indeed it is not communicated to all the World. as well as to ourfolyes? to dispute sealing God's Goodneis in any Shape, and very prefumptuous to direct dilh how to below it either as to Quantity, Quas lity, or Extent. If it is Fact, that he has given us any Bleffing, our Duty furch is to be thankful, and to enjoy and improve it, whether he has beftowed more or lefs upon our Fellow-Creatures; being certain where less is given, less will be required; and that the Judge of the whole Barth, will, in the last Day, deal with all in perfect Equity and Goodnels. But, became the second vary, sett -114 F Revelation is fuch a Bleffing, furely is would appear in the Fruits or Effects of in Whereas great Numbers, if not the generality of those who enjoy Revelation, are as had as the very Heathen, who are Strangers to it. And fuch Evils have been produced, fuch Vai riance, Difcord, and bloody Perfecutions, on Account of revealed Religion, that it may justto be questioned, whether it has not done more Harm than Good. What Reason then have we to fay, it is a valuable Gift, or worthy of the Father of the Universe?

To this I reply—That natural Caufes by a Sort of Neceffity produce their proper Effects; fo Fire always burns combultible Matter, and a good Medicine heals a Difcafe; and that is no Fire which will not burn proper Matter, nor that a good Medicine, which never heals a Difeate. But moral Caufes are of a different Nature, becaufe their their Efficacy depends upon the Choice and Difposition of the Subjects to whom they are applied. And therefore a moral Means; or Caule, may be in itself most excellent; though it happens to produce no good Effect; nay, though accidentally it may prove the Occasion of very bad Effects. Our Lord's Ministry and Doctrine was perfectly divine, and yet it had but small influence for good upon the Jewish Nation; nay, on the other Hand, excited their Malice to that Degree; that they flew the Prince of Life.

WHATEVER Effects therefore, Revelation may have produced in the World, still it is true, that it is a valuable Gift, and worthy of the divine Goodness. But it must ever be remembered, that it is abfolutely neceffary to our receiving any Benefit from Golpel-Means, that we be truly defirous to thake off the Yoke of Sin, and to cultivate and improve our Minds in Virtue and true Ho-If therefore we expect there is any liness. It is cettain, the Gospel hash produced many good Effects, and will always do so, where it is received and attended to. For as for those pretended Chiskians who make it the Occasion of Variance, Hatrod, and Perfecution, we cannot, with any Justice or Propriety, say, that they do receive or attend to Revelation; nay, it is very certain, that Mate in Fact, they do not. Nor must we allow, that in Poplifi Countries; where Correption of Mamiers greatly prevails, and Superflition, Idolatry, and Perfecution are effublished, they enjoy the Benefit of Reveittion, when we know, that for many Ages, the Ufe of the Scriptures bath been forbiden, and a Religion taught and profefied, which is quite foreign to the Word of God.

BUT how can we be fure, that we have now in Possession, those very Books entire and perfect, in which Revelation was originally recorded? May they not in length of Time be lost, or quite altered from what they were at strik? Or so varied and changed by Tranforibers and Translators, that we can never be fure that we have the true and genuine Senfe of Scripture?

I ANSWER-No Nation in the World, can be more fure of any of their publick Acts and Records, preferved in their Archives with the utmost Care, than we are of the Truth of the Scriptures now in our Hands. The Jews preferved the Books of Moles, as the Laws of their Kingdom, in the most facred Part of the Tabernacle and Temple; those Books, the Pfalms and Prophets, were every where publickly read in their Synagogues, every Week on the Sabbath-Day; their learned Men, with the utmost Exactness and Scrupulosity, inspected and and guarded the Text, even fo far as to count the very Number of Letters in every Book. In fhort, our Lord, and the Apoftles, freequently quote Moles, the Plalms and Prophets, without any Intimation, that those Books were in any Respect altered or depraved. Whereas had they indeed been corrupted, we need not doubt but our bleffed Saviour would have reformed that as well as, or rather, more than any other Instance of Corruption among the Jews.

FROM our Lord's Time, the Scriptures of the Old Testament were publickly read by the Jews in all Parts of the World, and those Scriptures, and the apostolic Writings, as they came out, were read by Chirstians every where in their Affemblies, and difperfed over all the World, where the Religion of Jelus was profefled; as containing the Laws and Rules of the Religion he traght. Infomuch that it was impossible to, corrupt or deprave them. And for that Rea-Ton, even the Church of ROME, or those who crected that antichristian Power; never Hurst attempt to make the least Alteration in the Seriptures, as knowing it would be to no Purpole; but inftead of that, they claimed the fole Right of interpreting the Scriptures, which ferved their Ends full as well as corrupting them. For you may take any Translation, in any Language, or by any Party among Christians, Papifts as well as Protestants, and you will find they all agree in all things relating to the Covenant of the Lord our God, and the feveral Duties to which we are thereby obliged, though they may differ in fome things, and Commentators may put their own Senfe upon others. But the main things, I am well fatisfied, have been preferved pure and entire in every Translation from the Begining to this Day.

Thus the Objections against Revelation in general, which are all that I ever heard of, are removed, I hope to Satisfaction. Upon the whole, they feem to me to proceed not from a fober Mind, fincerely defirous of the best Knowledge and Instruction; for how can one allow him to be a true Scholar, or fincerely defirous of improving in ufeful Learning, who meeting with a Book excellently adapted to that Purpole, refules to make Use of it, because he is already pofseffed of the Faculty of Reason, or because it is not in the Hands of every Body; or because fome have made a bad Use of it;

That the Scriptures are given by INSPIRATION of God. appears from the express and frequent Affertians of Males, the Prophers and Apofiles.

er of these HAVE already given a general Act , count and History of Revelation; and have thewn that it is perfectly conformant to the Goodness and Love of God, to the Relation in which we stand in to him, and the high and glorious Purpofes for which he has given us our Being; and that he comprised Revelation to Writing at a very proper Time, when the Shortness of human Life, and the general Corruption of the World, rendered Tradition no longer a fafe Mean of Conveyance; and when the Kingdom or peculiar Congregation, he had crected, required a fanding Light for the Prefervation of divine Truth.

I HAVE likewise endeavoured to remove fome Objections against Revelation in general.

On this head I would beg leave to repeat, that never were any Books more publickly and commonly known, being rind and heard with the greatest Revenence onne: avery Week, in both Jewisk and Christian Alson blies;

blies; for a very long Tract of Time, the Old Testament before the Coming of our Lord, and the Old and New after his Coming, to this very Day. So that it is, in the Nature of things, impossible that the holy Scriptures should be adulterated; nor could any Man, who had a Mind to alter or corrupt them, promise himself Success in an Attempt, which must immediately be detected, and confounded, by Thousands of Copies every where dispersed, and constantly read before numerous Assemblies, in the various Languages of even more Nations, than ever composed the Roman Empire in its largest Extent.

TRANSCRIBERS may indeed make literal Mistakes, but those are easily corrected by a Variety of Manufcripts; and Translators may differ in giving the literal Senfe of fome Words and Phrases, but not fo as to render the main Subjects and Subfrance of the Scriptures either obscure or uncertain. For you may take any Translations in any Language, or done by any Party among Christians, and you will find they all agree in all things relating to the Covenant of the Lord our God, the State of things in a future World, and the feveral Duties to which we are obliged, though they may not render the Letter of the Text in the fame Words, nor with the fame Propriety of Expression. Translation is, the better it is ; but I am very fure, that all things pertaining to the Difpenfations of God, his Grace and Promifes, and our Hopes and Duty, have been preferved pure and entire in every Translation, from the Begining to this Day. And this is abundantly enough for our Instruction, Comfort, Direction, and Edification.

GENTLEMEN in foreign Bulineis, who do not understand foreign Languages, are obliged to carry it on by the Help of Tranflations. And if a Letter in Italian, German, Spanish, or French, was put into the Hands of Twenty Translators, there are great Odds, but every Translation would differ, more or lefs, in fome Exprefiions. The fame Words or Phrafes would hardly be rendered in the fame Manner by every one of the Translators; and yet they might all agree with Respect to the Sense of the Merchant. And that being all his Correspondent wants to understand, he will never think it worth his while to enter into minute Particulars, or a critical Propriety of Phrases, which have nothing to do with his Bufinefs. [Bur you may fay, how then comes it to pais, that learned Men differ to much about the Senfe of Scripture ? I answer. They differ not fo much about the literal Senfe, or Translation of Scripture, as about the Construction which they put upon the literal Senfe. For Example, all are agreed that those Words, Take, Eat, this is my Body, which is broken for you, are rightly and well translated; but the Question is, what is the Meaning of them? The Papift will tell you, they mean, that the Bread in the Lord's-Supper is really turned into the Body, Soul, and Divinity of Christ; the Protestant very juftly denieth the monstrous and idolatrous Abfurdity, and affirms, that the Bread is only a figurative Reprefentation of Christis facrificed Body. Translators are generally pretty well agreed, but Divines differ very much about the Senfe of Scripture, which may aft terwards be confidered.

Thus, by demonstrating the Reasonableness and Expediency of Revelation in general, by removing Objections against it, and by showing the Sufficiency of the Translation, which, thanks to God, is in all our Hands, the Way is prepared —

To advance a few Arguments to establish the Authority and Excellency of the Scriptures; that they were indeed given by Infpiration of God, or that, in them, holy Men of God spake as they were moved by the holy Spirit.

We have fufficient Reafon to believe that we have in our Hands the very Books that were writen by Mofes, by the Prophets, and by the Apoftles of Chrift. Now that those Books were given by Infpiration of God, or that the Perfons who wrote them have delivered to us what they received from Heaven, will appear —

FROM their own express and frequent Affertions. Moles and the Prophets always declare they spake in the Name of the Lord, and delivered to the People what they received in Commission from him; the Apoftles likewise affure us, that they were taught by Jefus Christ, the Son of God, were endued with the Spirit of God; and commisfioned by him to preach the Gospel to all Nations. And we have all the Reason in the World to believe they have told us the Truth. For if they have not, they must be E e 2 very very bad, defigning Men, who folemnly and publickly fathered upon God, Conftitutions, Laws, Doctrines, and Declarations which they knew very well were falfe and fictitious, the Creatures of their own Invention, obtruded upon the World to ferve fome felfifh, finifter Purpofes. But, for any thing we can fee, they appear to be Perfons of the higheft Character for Honor and Probity. In the whole of their Conduct we find the utmoft Integrity and Difinterestedness, and in every Part of their History and Writings the utmoft Simplicity and Impartiality.

may carry this Argument fur-WE ther, and fet it in a still stronger Light in the Cafe of the Prophets. For if, when they declared they spake in the Name of God, and by a Commission from him, they declared a Falshood, they must certainly know that it was a Falshood; and if they knew it was a Falshood, they were not only very wicked, but even void of common Senfe. For the Prophets, in a long Series one after another, got nothing by speaking in the Name of the Lord, but Scorn and Contempt from the Generality of their Countreymen. When, they entered upon the ungrateful Office, they renounced all worldly Views, and were harraffed and perfecuted in Proportion to their Fidelity in executing it.

Now, this is too much by far for any pious Fraud to bear, even in the Cafe of, a fingle of the SCRIPTURES.

fingle Perfon, much more in a Series of Succeffion of Men in feveral Generations. An Impostor, like Mahomet, may carry his Pretences very high, but he can never bear the Furnace of Perfecution. That terrible Scourge will either filence his falfe and arrogant Claims, or force him to take up Arms, if it is in his Power, for his own Vindication and Security. But the Prophets were naked Men, who, without the least Dependence upon worldly Power or Policy, oppofed nothing but a divine Commission to very unkind and fevere Ufage. Now there is nothing to be found in human Nature, or in any fuppofeable State of things, that can poffibly account for this Conduct, but either, that really they had a divine Commission, or elfe, that they were difordered in their Heads, and had loft their Senfes. But their Writings prove they were Men of good Senfe, and of a found and excellent Judgment; therefore, nothing remains but that they really acted by a divine Commission.

THE Force of this Argument will be feen even still more evidently in the Cafe of the Apostles. No History in the World has been better preferved than that of the New Testament. There we find that Jesus Christ had gathered, while he was upon Earth, fome Hundreds of Disciples, who all of them made Profession of Faith in him immediately after his Death, declaring that he was rifen $E e_3$ from from the Dead; and afcended into Heaven: Particularly, the Apostles, with several others, went about preaching the Gospel, first in Judea, then in all Parts of the Roman Empire, perfuading Men to believe in Chrift, affirming that he was the Son of God, that all the wonderful things related of him were true, and that they had a Commission from Heaven to teach, spread, and propagate his Religion every where, though they knew they should every where meet with the most violent Oppofition, and the cruelest Treatment. Now, they must either be fully convinced in their own Minds that their Affertions were true; or, if they knew that the Gospel, and their Commission to preach it. was a Forgery, we must conclude they were diffracted, and had loft the Use of Underflanding and Reafon. For, supposing our bleffed Lord never did or faid any of those things, which the Apoftles repeated; and that they had no Inftructions or Commission from him to preach the Gofpel; then we must suppose, they entered into a foolish and frantick Confederacy after this Manner. THIS, or fomething like it, must be the Senfe and Refolution of the Apostles and first Preachers of the Gospel, upon Suppofition they knew and believed, that the Gofpel, and their Commission to preach it, was a Forgery. In this Cafe, a fet of Men in private and low Life, without any manner of worldly Power or Interest; in the certain Prospect of all manner of Opposition, of facrificing all that is dear and valuable in Life, of suffering all manner of Indignities, Tribulations, and Cruchties, and of exposing themselves to all the Terrors of Death ; must agree together to propagate throughout the whole World a System of Falshood, knowing it to be fuch, directly contrary to their own Confciences, and to all their Interefts both in this, and a future World.

NONE but a Company of Madmen, feized with the most extravagant Frenzy, and void of all Sense and Reason, could possibly join in such a Design. Whereas, if we peruse their Writings, we shall find that the Apostles tles were Men of the finest Sense; not only in full Poffestion of Understanding, but endowed with Knowledge end Wifdom in a Degree far beyond the most eminent Philofophers, or Maîters of Reason, that ever had been in the World. They had a furprifing Acquaintance with God and the Perfections of his Nature ; they fet the Difpenfations of his Wildom, and the grand Defigns of his Love, in the clearest and most amiable Light; they well underflood the whole Syftem of Morality, and fixed every Branch of it upon its proper Foundation; upon Principles either felf-evident or allowed, they demonstrate and establish the whole Scheme of the Gospel. The Apostles were so far from being void of common Senfe, that they were, in Fact, Men of the best Sense, of the most accurate and fublime Knowledge, of the most excellent and divine Spirit, next to their Lord and Master, that the World ever was acquainted with. Therefore their espoufing and afferting the Gofpel with fo much Zeal could not proceed from any Diforder in their Heads.

THERE remains then, but one other Caufe to which it can possibly be affigned, and it is this, that they were fully perfuaded of the Truth of what they reported. And if they were fully perfuaded of the Truth of what they reported, then it follows, that what they reported was certainly true. They were fully fatisfied

fatisfied that it was true, and they were perfectly capable of beceiving the clearest Evidence, and fullest Satisfaction. For observe, what they reported was not a Matter of meer Onition. as in the Cale of Superstition, nor a warm Suggestion or secret Impulse upon their Minds, as in the Cafe of Entbuliafm, but bare simple Matter of Fact. We cannot, fay they, but speak the things, which we bane feen and beard. Acts iv. 20. They were things, not which they conceited, or fancied, but which all of them, which great Multitudes of all forts of People, had often and openly, for the Space of three or four Years together, feen with their Eyes, and heard with their Ears. And that they were not mistaken, or deceived, they were for fully fatisfied, that they ventured all they had in the World, and Life itfelf, upon the Truth of what they had heard and feen. Confequently, their Assurance must be in the highest and fullest Degree of Satisfaction, leaving no Room for Doubt or Uncertainty. HOWEVER fome now a days may cavil and object, it is certain the Apostles, who were the familiar Companions of our Lord, had not the least Scruple or Difficulty about any thing related in the Golpel. They were perfectly fatisfied they faw Chrift upon Easth; that they conversed with him; that they heard the gracious Words which proconded from his Mouth ; that they faw him work work all his Miracles; that they faw him erucified and dead ; that they faw him alive again within a few Day that they heard him give them a Committion to preach the Gospel to all Nations, and promise them Success; that they actually faw him alcend up into Heaven ; that the Holy Ghoft actually fell upon them on the Day of Pentecoft; and that by his Influences they antually felt themfelves indowed with new and miraculous Powers which accompanied them during the Courfe of their Ministry. And, to their being fully perfuaded of the Truth of these things, and to no other possible Caufe, can we affign their fieldy and zealous Endeayours to publish and spread the Gofpel every where.

ADD to all this, that the Apofiles were furprifingly fuccefsful in Preaching the Gof pel. These Men in private and low Life. these defenceles Men, quite destitute of all temporal Power and Interest, only by the Force of Truth, the Truth of the Goffel which they preached, and the Power which they received from their Mafter, after he was gone to Heaven, encountered the Fury of the Multitude, the most inveterate Prejudices of the whole World, the Zeal of Superstition, the Hatred of the Yews, the Contempt of the Greeks, the Power of the Romans, the Pride of the Philosophers, and the Policy of Statesmen; all these Difficulties they encountered, and furmounted them them all. The Doctrine they taught, like the Sun, inlightened the whole World, in a manner, all at once; and infinite Multitudes of People, both from Cities and Villages, were, by the Apoftles Preaching, brought into the Church, like Corn into a Granary.

428. The Authority and Excellency

ALL this, taken together, amounts to a fufficient Proof, that the Apoftles are to be credited when they affirm, that they received their Inftructions and Commiffion from the Son of God; and upon the Foot of this Argument alone, I am, for my own Part, as fully convinced that the Apoftles were infpired by the Spirit of God, and that they have in their Writings infallibly delivered the Truth, in all things pertaining to the Chriftian Faith and Doctrine, as I am of any mathematical Proposition, or that twice Two is equal to Four. The Proof indeed is of a different kind, but fully convincing and fatisfactory.

AND if our Lord came from God to teach us the Truth, and if his Apostles received from him their Instructions, Commission, and the holy Spirit, then it follows, that the Books of Moses, and of the Prophets, are undoubtedly the Word of God, and that the facred History may be depended upon as a true Account of things; for those Books are not only afferted by our Lord, and his Apostles, in general, to be the Word of the Scriptures.

Word of God, given by divine Infpiration, and a true Rule of Knowledge, Faith, and Doctrine, but particular Paffages are frequently produced in Proof or Confirmation of the Doctrine they taught; and almost every fingle Part of the History, from the Begining to the End, as of Adam, Energh, Noab, the Deluge, Sodom and Gomorrab, Abraham, the Ifraelites, and their miraculous Deliverance from Egypt and Settlement in the Land of Canaan, and all the furprifing-Events in their Story, are refered to as true and authentic.

WHAT Jefus Chrift and his Apofiles have reported and taught in the Books of the New Teftament, is certainly the Truth, asthey received it from God. And if fo, then the Scriptures of the Old Teftament are also given by Infpiration of God, a Storehoufe of facred and religious Knowledge, of undoubted Credit and Veracity, for our Lord and his Apofiles have represented and eftablished them as such.

THUS the frequent and express Affertions of Moses, the Prophets, and the Apostles, taken in Connection with their proper Circumftances, is a Proof of the Truth of Revelation as it ftends in the Scriptures.

LET me recommend it to your ferious Confideration, that we certainly have in our Hands an ineffimable Treasure, a Revelation from Heaven, a fure Word of Prophecy, shining

We cannot over-value this Bless fing, neither can we defpile it without great Guilt. We are accountable to God for the Use we make of it. Let us effect it in Proportion to its Worth, and fludy it as the Rule of our Life, as the grand Source of our Comfort and Hope, and as an infallible Guide to eternal Glory.

CHAP. XLI.

The divine Original and Authority of the Scriptures, proved from the Harmony and Agreement of the Several WRITERS of them.

H A VING gon through the fift Argument, I proceed — To prove the divine Original and Authority of the Seriptures; which we may do from the Harmony and Agreement of the feveral Writers of them.

THEY are not a Book compiled by a fingle Author, nor by many Hands aling in Confederacy in the fame Age; in which Cafe there would be no Difficulty in compoling a confiftent Scheme, nor would it be any Wonder to find the feveral Parts in a just and close Connection; but the Scriptures were done by feveral Hands, in very different Conditions of Life, from the Throne and Scepter down to the lowest Degree, and in very diftant Ages, through the long Space of about 1500 Years, when the World muft have put on a quite new Face, and Men must have different Interests to pursue; which naturally would have led a Spirit of Imposture to have varied its Schemes, and to have adapted them to different Stations in the World, 432 The Harmony and Agreement of World, and to the different Turns and Changes in every Age.

DAVID wrote about 400 Years after Moles, and Ifaiab about 250 after David, and Matthew more than 700 Years after Ifaiab. And yet these Authors, with all the other Prophets and Apostles, write in perfect Harmony, confirming the Authority of their Predecosflors, * labouring to reduce the People to the Obfervance of their Instructions, and loudly exclaiming against the Neglect and Contempt of them, and denouncing the feverest Judg * ments upon such as continued difobedient.

THIS was the principal Work of the Prophets in a long Succession. And it is well known our Lord came not to deftroy the Law and the Prophets, but to fulfil, i. e. to vindicate and illustrate their Meaning, to compleat what was imperfect, and to answer the highest Ends of what was typical and figurative. Now this is a very ftrong Proof, that the Scriptures were throughout dictated by one and the fame Spirit, which could be no other than the Spirit of God, and of Truth. It is allowed, as in the Cafe of Mahometism, that an Imposture, or religious Fraud, may be handed down from one Age to another, but not by feveral different Perfons, all making equal Pretenfions to a divine Authority and Commission. For in this Cafe they are to be confidered, not as a Succeffion of Teachers, deriving their Doctrine from the facred WRITERS.

433

from one common Original, but as fingle and diffinct Impoftors; and confequently, every one in a diffant Age, and in a quite different State of things, would fet up for himfelf, and feek a fingular Glory by building upon a diffinct and feparate Foundation from others. It would fignify little to an Impoftor, who has no other Intention but to advance his own Honor and Renown, to pretend a Commission from Heaven, only to give Reputation to another Deceiver, by confirming what he has already eftablished.

THEREFORE as the Writers of the holy Scriptures, though they all claim a divine Authority, yet write in perfect Connection and Harmony, mutually confirming the Doctrine and Teftimony of each other, and concuring to eftablish the very fame religious Truths and Principles, it is a strong Proof that they all derive their Instructions from the fame Fountain, the Wisdom of God, and were indeed under the Direction and Illumination of his Spirit.

WE may take another Argument from ourselves, as we make Profession of Faith in Jefus Chrift. For our Profession of Chriftianity, who dwell in the uttermost Parts of the Earth, is a Proof that the Gospel spread itself over all the Roman Empire; for, from Jerufalem, it came to us by a gradual Progress, and advancing from one Country to F f

434 The Harmony and Agreement of another, arrived at length in these Islands of Great-Britain and Ireland. No body can doubt or deny that the christian Faith is, and for many Ages past has been, embraced in all those numerous and distant Lands, which once composed the Roman Empire, and even in Countries far beyond the utmost Bounds thereof. In all these spatious Tracts the christian Faith, in one Form or other, has been professed; and Baptism and the Lord's-Supper, in one Form or other, have been administered, in a Succession of Ages, quite up to the times of the Apostles, and of our Lord.

IT is most certain that Baptism and the Lord's-Supper, those Summaries of the whole Golpel, were not inflituted in any following Age, by any one Party of Christians, but have been handed down to us, and to all Parties among Christians, from the very Mouth and Inflitution of Jefus Chrift. No Fact can be more evident than this. From our Lord therefore, and his Apofiles, the Gofpel fpread over the greatest Part of the known World, which before the Publication of the Gofpel was univerfally involved in Idolatry, eftablished by long Custom and human Laws, ftrongly guaranteed by all the Power and Learning of the World, by all the Zeal of the wildest Superstition, by allthe Violence and Obstinacy of Prejudice, by all the Blindness of profound Ignorance, and all

all the incorrigible Berverseness of corrupt and diffolute Manners. A Complication of Causes which would for ever have bid Defiance to any Philosophy or Wisdom of the few that can be supposed to attain a better Sense in the midst of universal Darkness and Depravity. But the Gospel gained a most compleat and extensive Victory over all these, demolissed every Idol in the Heathen World, and every where crected the Trophies of a conquering Jesus.

Now this furprifing Change, which is notorious to all Mankind, must be effected either by human Power and Policy, or by a divine and supernatural Influence. By human Power and Policy great Revolutions have been brought about in all Ages and Parts of the World. And therefore we do not wonder at the Spread of the Mahometan or Turkish Religion, as it was propagated by the Sword, under the Conduct of a mighty Warrior and Politician, who by Ravages, Bloodshed, and Desolations, conquered many Nations and Kingdoms, laid the Foundation of a potent and spacious Empire, and thus by Violence opened a Way for the Reception, and extensive Profession of his newly devised Religion. But the Religion of Jejus was triumphant, not only without the Aid of human Power or Policy, but even in direct Opposition to it.

FOR

435

436 The Harmony and Agreement of

For the plain Fact is this. A Poor Young Man, about 30 Years of Age, called Jefus, a Carpenter's Son, of no Education or Learning, without Houfe or Habitation, without the least human Interest or Influence, begins to preach up Reformation among the Ferres, the most fuspicious and bigotted People in the World; declares himfelf the Son of God, gathers a few Disciples, Persons in the same low and naked Condition with himfelf. Fishermen, Publicans, and such like, and fends them about Preaching, what he called the Gospel of the Kingdom of God. He was defpifed by the Generality, and greatly opposed and harraffed by the Men of Power and Learning. However, he shifted for himfelf as well as he could ; but after he had preached Three or Four Years, they caught him and crucified him as an infamous Malefactor.

THIS direful Event, which would have totally ruined an Impostor, he plainly forefaw and foretold; but not in the least difcouraged by the Prospect, he ordered his Disciples to go and preach his Gospel over all the World, promising that after his Death he would affist them with Power from Heaven, in virtue of which they should certainly succeed. They believed him, they fet out, they preached up their crucified Master as the Lord and Saviour of all Mankind; and,

and, which is very strange, under the Conduct and Influence of a Master who was dead to this World, and gone to the other State, they prevailed; and in spite of the Fury of the Multitude, the most inveterate Prejudices of the whole World, the Zeal of Superstition, the Hatred of the Jews, the Contempt of the Greeks, the Power of the Romans, the Pride of Philosophers, and the Policy of Statessmen, their Doctrine, like the Sun, almost at once, enlightened the World, overthrew the whole System of Pagan Idolatry and Religion, and advanced as far as our own Country in the darkesst and remotest Corner of the Earth.

OF this we ourselves, we Christians, are living Monuments and Proofs; we have received the Gofpel, we own it a glorious and thining Light, we have renounced the Idolatry and vain Conversation of our Fathers, we acknowledge and worship the living and true God, we confess and adore the crucified Jefus, our King and Head, and hope for eternal Life through him. Now, there is no poffible Way of accounting for this, but by allowing that Jefus really was the Son of God, that he really role again from the Dead, and afcended up into Heaven, and that he actually from thence fent his Difciples the Aids and Powers which he had promifed, and which were fo far above all that is human, that they carried their own Ff₃ Evidence

438 The Harmony and Agreement of Evidence along with them, and rendered their Doctrine fo furprifingly fuccessful.

AND as Jefus did not fend his Disciples to preach to all the World, till after his Death, and as he then, after his Death, did actually furnish them with all miraculous Powers to render their Doctrine effectual. this is the most convincing Proof that his Doctrine was divine, and that he himfelf was actually gone to Heaven, and lived there in the highest Interest and Favor with God. For that an Impostor, a Deceiver, hateful to the God of Truth, should, after his Death, be able to animate, instruct, authorize, and impower a Company of Men, otherwife defititute of all Affifiance, and labouring under all possible Difficulties, to throw down all the Religions of the World, and to erect a new one in their Stead, is utterly impoffible. It is therefore certain, beyond all Doubt, that Jefus Christ was sent from Heaven to reveal the Gofpel to the World. And as we are very fure that we have in our Hands the Writings of his Apostles, we may be as fure, that they contain a Revelation from Heaven, or that Doctrine, which Chrift received from God, and delivered to his Difciples. And if fo, then the Writings of the Old Teflament are also the Word of God, for Christ and his Apostles declare them to be fuch. Therefore all Scripture is given by Inspiration of God.

the facred WRITERS.

THE fame thing may be proved by the long Train of miraculous Operations, which could be effected only by a divine Power, and which were wrought in Confirmation of the Miffion of Prophets and Apostles; as alfo from the Spirit of Prophecy predicting future Events at a great Distance of time, which no human Wildom or Sagacity could poffibly forefee, and yet were actually and punctually fulfilled in Correspondence to the Prediction. But as a minute Detail of Particulars would perhaps be fomewhat tedious. I shall fingle out one Instance of the divine miraculous Power, and the Truth of the prophetic Spirit; which Instance has been in all Ages a standing Proof of Revelation, and which still exists, and is before the Eyes of the prefent Generation, in almost all Countries of the World; I mean, the prefent State and Being of the Jews. For this People, as they were originally chosen to be the Repository, or Storehouse of divine Knowledge, by the Revelation which was given to them, fo they were also intended to be visible Proofs of the Truth of it in all Ages and Parts of the World. Our Lord, contrary to all human Probability, while he was on Earth, foretold the Destruction of the Jewish Temple and Polity, and their Difperfion among all Nations, which was exactly accomplished in about 40 Years after. And in this difperfed State they have now con-F f 4 tinued tinued about 1700 Years, in great Numbers, and in great Ignominy and Contempt, and yet quite diffinct and separate from all the People among whom they lived.

THIS appears to me a flanding Miracle; nor can we attribute it to any other Caufe, but the Will and extraordinary Interpolition of Heaven, when it is confidered, that of all the famous Nations of the World, who might have been diffinguished from others with great Advantage, and the most illustrious Marks of Honor and Renown, as the ancient Egyptions, Affyrians, Perhans, Macedonians, Romans, who all in their Tuxns held the Empire of the World, and were, with great Ambition, the Lords of Mankind; yet these, even in their own Countries, are diffolved into the Bulk of Mankind, nor is there a Perfon upon Earth can boast he is descended from those renowned and imperial Ancestors.

WHEREAS a fmall Nation, generally defpiled and hated, and which, though now upon pretty good Terms with us, both Pagans and pretended Cbriftians have for many Ages treated with the utmost Infult, Indignity, Outrage and cruelty, and which therefore one would imagine, every Soul that belonged to it should have gladly difowned, and have been willing to have loss the odious Name by mixing with any other Nation ; yet, I fay, this hated People, harraffed and butchered

butchered more or lefs by all Mankind, bamifhed and bandyed from one Country to another, and who fcarce had any Peace till Trade and Traffic brought the World to a better Temper, and more favourable Treatment of them : I fay, this hated People have, under all Temptations to the contrary, and against the ordinary Course of things, continued in a Body distinct and separate from all Mankind, even in a State of Difpersion, for about 1700 Years.

THIS demonstrates, that the Wifdom which formed them into a peculiar People, that they have almost ever fince the Deluge, for about 3600 Years, remained in a diffinct and separate State, and are still likely to do fo, is not human but divine. For no human Wildom or Power could form or however could execute, fuch a vaft, extenfive Defign. It must be the Wildom and Power of that God alone, who is the fame in every Age, and who in every Age has exercifed a peculiar Providence over his peculiar People, the Descendents of Abraham his Servant. And thus the prefent State and Being of the Jews is every where a publick and flanding Evidence of the Truth of Revelation, in two Respects.

1. WITH Respect to their long Dispersion, or Captivity, as they call it, and the various Calamities they were to suffer therein.

THIS

44.2 The Harmony and Agreement of

THIS is foretold in feveral Places, particularly, Deut. xxviii. 63, 64, 69. The Lord will rejoice over you to destroy you, and bring you to nought, as to their fingular Privileges and Enjoyments ; and ye shall be plucked off from the Land, whither ye go to posses it. And the Lord shall featter thee among all People, from one End of the Earth, even unto the other - and among those Nations thou shalt find no Eafe, neither shall the Sole of thy Foot bave Reft; but the Lord shall give thee there a trembling Heart, and failing Eyes, and Sorrow of Mind. Ezek. xxxvi. 19. I Scattered them among the Heathen, and they were difperfed among the Countries. I will scatter thee among the Heathen, and difperse thee among the Countries. And our Lord predicts, Luke xxi. 24. And they, the Jews, shall fall by the Edge of the Sword, and shall be led away captive into all Nations, and Jerufalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles.

2. WITH Respect to their being preferved in their Dispersion, and preserved as a distinct and separate Body, this also was plainly predicted. Deut. xxvi. 44. Yet for all that, when they be in the Land of their Enemies, I will not cast them away, neither will I abbor them, to destroy them utterly, and to break my Covenant with them. Jer. xxx. 10, 11. fave thee from afar, and thy Seed from the Land of their Captivity; for though I make a full End of all Nations, whither I have fcattered thee, yet will I not make a full End of thee. Jer. xxxi. 10. Hear the Word of the Lord, O ye Nations, and declare it in the Ifles afar off; and fay, be that fcattered Ifrael will gather him, and keep him, as a Shepherd doth bis Flock. Ver. 35, 36, 37. Thus faith the Lord, who gives the Sun for a Light by Day, and the Ordinances of the Moon and of the Stars for a Light by Night ; who divides the Sea when the Waves thereof rore : the Lord of Hosts is bis Name. If those Ordinances depart from before me, faith the Lord, then the Seed of Ifrael also fhall ceafe from being a Nation before me for ever. Thus faith the Lord, if Heaven above can be meafured, and the Foundations of the Earth fearched out beneath, I will also cast off all the Seed of Israel, for all that they have done, faith the Lord. Rom. xi. 25, 26. Blindness in part is happened to Ifrael, until the Fulness of the Gentiles be come in ; and so all Ifrael Shall be faved; as it is writen, there shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away Ungodliness from Jacob.

THESE, and many more Paffages, too numerous to be now quoted, plainly fhew that it was the Defign of divine Providence to preferve the Jewish Nation, in their Difpersion, and to preferve them a distinct and separate feparate People in order to their future Reftoration. And we, and many other Nations. at this Day, fee these Predictions made good in the prefent State of the Jows, who have been to long, and still are miraculously preferved feparate from all other People. Now this is, in my Opinion, a ftanding Miracle, a wonderful Work of divine Providence, and as farong a Proof of Revelation, as if we were to see the Dead, every Year, rife out of their Graves in Confirmation of it. For we have still among us, after to long a time, and fo many various Revolutions in human Affairs, the peculiar People, whom God, above Three Thousand Years ago, feparated unto himfelf; the very People who are the principal Subject of Revelation, and who are faid there to be the principal Objects of his Providence, and we fee them at this Day to be fo in a very furprifing Manner.

THEREFORE in their prefent State we may plainly read the ancient Promife made to Abraham, the Head and Root of the Nation, the many wonderful Works wrought for them from first to last, and the Truth of prophetic Predictions; in the prefent State of the Jews we may read the Truth of the Gospel, for the Rejection of which God rejected them, and scattered them over the Face of the Earth. In short, we are sure there was such a People as the Jews, to whom whom God delivered the Revelation of his Will in ancient times, for this very People exist among us at this Day, and preferve among them that very Revelation, with the most facred and religious Care. And we are fure the numerous Predictions of Scripture, both in the Old and New Teflament, relating to their future State, are true, for we fee them made good in the prefent State of the Jews; and therefore we may be as fure that the holy Scriptures are given by Inspiration of God ; for only the Spirit of God could forerel fuch Events; and the fame Spirit which foretold these Events, spake in the Prophets and Apostles, and inspired them with all that divine Wildom and Knowledge which we find in all their Writings.

I might add the long Apoftacy, and general Corruption of the Professors of Chriftianity, fo plainly foretold, and under fuch express and particular Characters, in the apostolic Writings. This all the World may fee has been abundantly fulfilled in the Church of ROME. Now, only the Spirit of God could foresee such a distant, and deplorable State of things, which no human Probability could have conjectured would have rifen out of the pure and heavenly Doctrine of Christ. But the Spirit which predicted this Event, is the very fame which was poured out upon the Apostles, and enlightened their Minds with the Knowledge of

of the Golpel; therefore the Apoltles, who wrote the New Testament, had the Spirit of God, and were enlightened by it.

By these Arguments I am pointing out to you the only Fountain of Life and Happiness, a Mine infinitely more valuable than of Gold and precious Stones; a plontiful Magazine of heavenly and everlassing Wealth. an inexhaustible Fund of solid Comfort and Peace, the holy Scriptures, the Word of the ever blessed God; a Treasure of immense Value, which we have in our Possession, if we are wise to make a right Inaprovement of it.

THERE remains yet another Argument to prove the divine Authority and Original of Scripture, taken from the internal Excellency of it. This I shall confider in the following Chapter.

CHAP. XLII.

The internal Words and Excellency of the SCRIPTURES confidered, as containing the best Principles of Knowledge, Holiness, and Comfort.

T HE Arguments which I have already advanced, are taken from the external Evidence that the Scriptures are the Word of God. Proceed we now to confider their internal Worth and Excellency, which more fully and directly demonstrates their divine Original, and falls in with the fecond Part of my Defign, which was to confider the Ufe and Importance of the holy Scriptures.

CONSIDERING the Scriptures as a Gift and Bleffing from God, the Father of Lights and the Fountain of all Good, for our Improvement in Knowledge and Holinefs, in order to our being advanced to eternal Glory and Happinefs, we may in general conclude, that the Scriptures are in Worth and Ufefulnefs fully proportionable to the Wifdom and Goodnefs of the Donor, and to the noble and beneficent End for which they are intended. They are a glorious Difplay of heavenly Light, irradiating the Darknefs of the World, which otherwife would have been been involved in the blackeft Night of Ignorance. Let it be observed to the Ho+ nor of the Bible, that it is the Book, which, under the divine Providence, has preferved in the World the Knowledge of the one true God, which otherwife must have been loft and extinguished. For when God in his infinite Wifdom was pleafed to call Abrabam, and feparate his Family to the Purpofes of Revelation, Idolatry, even in those early Days, not long after the Flood, was fo far fpread, that even Abrabam's Family were Idolaters, and ferved other Gods. And fo far did the Corruption of Religion prevail, that all Nations, losing the true Idea of the one God and Father of all, fell into the fouleft Idolatry, the groffeft Superfition, and all the abominable Vices in Connection with them, except the Nation of the Jews, who enjoyed the Word and Revelation of God. And it was the Word and Revelation of God, at the time our Saviour came into the World, which inlightened the Gentiles, and fo generally reduced them to the Worfhip and Obedience of the everlasting Jebovab, the Creator of the Ends of the Earth.

WHAT Knowledge of the living God, what Deteftation of Idol-Worfhip, what Belief of a future State of Rewards and Punifhment, MAHOMET has propagated in the World, he received partly from Jews, and partly from Christians, who had learnt those things things from Revelation; though, as he could not read himfelf, with much Confusion, and a large Mixture of Fiction and Falshood. Is any Part of the christian World funk into Superfition and Idolatry ? It is because they have thut up the Scriptures, forbiden the free Use of them, and commanded the People under Pain of Damnation to follow other Guides. Is any Part of the christian World reformed from the grofs Errors, and monftrous Corruptions of Popery? It is because they have afferted the Authority of the Scriptures, refumed the Ufe of them, and opened them again to free and common Perufal. Nay further-Is the Deift, or the Man, who in a christian Land denies or disparages Revelation, acquainted with the first Cause, the Fountain of all Being, Power, Life, and Happiness, the universal Sovereign ? Has he a clear Idea of the System of Duties which we owe to our Maker, and to one another ; or any Expectation of a future State of Felicity? It is because he has lighted his twinkling Candle at this refplendent Sun, which he unnaturally, ungratefully, and weakly Endeavours to extinguish. I fay weakly, becaufe this Sun, which God, ever fince the Creation of his Church and Kingdom, has caufed to shine in the moral World, shall by his Providence be preferved, and shine with a growing Lustre, fo long as the Sun in the Firmament shall endure.

UNDER God, it must be owned the instrumental Caufe of all the true Religion and Piety, that is to be found in the World, which, for aught we can fee, notwithstanding all the Philosophy and Wisdom of Man, would have been totally loft among all the Nations; and it shall be established more and more, it shall shine forth more and more, it shall be honoured more and more, in the Truth of its Doctrines, in the Wildom of its Precepts and Instructions, in the Accomplifbment of its Predictions and Promiles, and in the Appearing of our Lord at the laft Day, to receive into his Joy all that know God, and obey his Gofpel. It shall be eftablished, it shall shine, it shall be honoured. when those, who now despise and disparage it. shall be confounded and perish for ever.

THUS much may be truly faid of the Ufefulnefs of Scripture in general; which gives it infinitely the Preference to all Books of meer human Composure, that it has been the Means of preferving in the World the grand Principles of Religion, the Knowledge of the Being and Perfections of God, and of that true spiritual Worship, which alone pleases him, and ennobles, purifies, and comforts our Souls. And just in Proportion as the Bible is received, esteemed, and diligently studied, true Religion has prevailed, and will always prevail and flourisch. On the other hand, in Proportion as the Scriptures are unknown, unknown, nelected, abused, and perverted, Ignorance, Idolatry, Irreligion, Error, Superstition, and Wickedness, have and will spread their Gloom, and more or less infect Nations and particular Persons.

THE Scriptures contain Principles, which must be allowed to be of a superior and most excellent kind. The best Principles of Knowledge, Holines, and Comfort.

In the Scriptures we find the best Principles of Knowledge. There the Mind expatiates in a boundlefs Field of heavenly Light, and clearly views the Prospects of Truth, where the Eye of meer Nature could never have penetrated. There you fee the Being of God afferted, his Nature and Perfections, his glorious Majofty, and universal Sovereignty defcribed with the justest Propriety of Sentiment, and Magnificence of Language. There you read—" That the ever-" lafting God, the Lord, the Poffeffor of all " Being, of all Wifdom and Power, made * the Earth and created Man upon it ; that " he firetched out the Heavens, and com-* manded all their Hofts. He measured the Waters in the hollow of his Hand, and meted out the Heavens with a Span, " and comprehended the Duft of the Earth * in a Meafure, and weighed the Mountains "in Scales, and the Hills in a Ballance. "even to the Wicked the Lord is plenteous "and rich in Mercy. He is a God of "Truth, and without Iniquity, just and right "is he. He is glorious in Holiness, and "of purer Eyes than to behold Evil, neither "can he look on Iniquity. And this God, "fo great, fo glorious, is our God, our Maker, Owner, and Ruler, our Father, "Shepherd, and Friend."

This is the Doctrine of Scripture ; and a Sentence or two in this holy Book will give you much clearer Conceptions of God than all the Volumes of Philofophy, wrote by Strangers to Revelation. There you are taught the various Dispensations of the divine Wildom and Goodnels, from the Begining of the World to this Day, and even to the End of Time. There you fee the excellent Schemes which he has formed for the Inftruction, Reformation, and Happinefs of the Children of Men; and we read with Pleasure the numerous Instances of his Favor to the Righteous, and with Dread the Terrors of his Vengeance upon the Wicked. There we find a twofold Covenant, of Works, which threatens Death to every Transgreffion ; of Grace, which grants the Benefit of Repentance and Pardon; and promifes all needful Supplies of Strength to the Sincere and Upright. There we learn how he erected a Kingdom among the Nations, or a peculiar Congregation, to prevent the t to e to univerfal Gg3 univerfal Corruption of the World, and, like a Beacon upon a Hill, to diffule the Light of divine Knowledge in the Darknefs of the Earth. At length we fee the Meffiah, the Son of God, the Saviour of the World, appear, to take away Sin, to bring in everlafting Righteoufnefs, or Salvation, to illustrate the Grace of God, and give the plainest Explications of his Will and our Duty; to shew the future World in the clearest and most awful View, and to appoint the most powerful Means to attract our Hearts to God, and to guide our Feet into the Ways of Peace.

In his Gospel we see the Dead, small and great, reftored to Life, and appearing before his Judgment-Seat, to receive a Sentence according to what they have done in the Body. There he has opened the Glories of Heaven to our Sight, and shewn to our Faith the far more exceeding and eternal Weight of Glory, the affured Confequence of patient Continuance in well-doing; he has also uncovered the bottomless Pit, the Blackness of Darkness for ever, which will be the terrible Portion of all impenitent Workers of Iniquity. the Scriptures the State of the Church to the End of the World is defcribed, and we fee the present State of things correspondent to prophetic Descriptions.

I fhould exceed my Bounds only to mention the feveral Heads of Inftruction and Knowledge

Knowledge with which the Word of God is I shall mention but one more, crowded. and that is the Defign of our prefent Being in this World, which is there represented, agreably to the Appearances of things, and the Wildom and Goodnels of God, to be not for Enjoyment, but for Trial; not to gain temporal Pleasures or Poffessions, but to discipline our Souls, and to prepare them for immortal Honor and Glory. In particular, the many Afflictions incident to our Frailty, are fet in a true and encouraging Light, as the Discipline and Correction of our heavenly Father; not for our Destruction, but for our Improvement in Holinefs, to purify our Spirits from Senfuality, to draw our Regards to things heavenly and eternal, to exercise our Faith, Hope, Patience, and every Virtue, which is our real Excellency and best Qualification for everlasting Happiness. This is a brief and very imperfect Specimen of Scripture Doctrine; which, even in this curfory View, affisted a little with sober Reflection, must, to an impartial Judgment, moderately acquainted with what the wifeft of Pagans have taught, appear infinitely superior to the Darknefs and Uncertainty of meer human Knowledge and Wifdom.

In the Scriptures you will find the best Principles of Holnels, or of that State of Mind whereby we are habitually devoted to God and Truth. For there we are shewn G g 4 the the Dignity and Worth of our Being, valily beyond any thing we could have hammered out of our own Reflections. There we read that we are made in the Image of God, infpired with Understanding, raifed vaftly in par Faculties above the Beafts or the Fowls, and made for Ends proportionably grand and noble ; not for the mean Purpoles of Time and Senfe, but for God, for his Honor and Fayor, to show forth his Praise, and for ever enjoy his Goodnefs. And every Obligation refulting from this Superiority of Nature, and the highest and most excellent Purposes of cur Being, is with the greateft Propriety and Force urged upon us. In every Page of the holy Scriptures the Love of God fmiles upon us with an attractive and endearing Afpect, to draw our Affections to him, and to give a Conftancy and Steddiness to our Virtue in the midft of fo many and fo ftrong Temptations, when we know that only fuch an Adherence to Truth and Righteousness will finally and for ever give us an Interest in our heavenly Father's Bleffing.

In the Scriptures we have the divine Difpleafure against all the Ungodliness and Unrighteousness of Men set upon its true Foundation, the odious and pernicious Nature of Sin; which is in itself false, and mischievous, the only proper and radical Evil in the Universe, and which alone can deprive us of Happiness, and subject us to Misery. In the

the Word of God, his Favor to Men of Piety and Virtue is alfo fet upon its proper Foundation, the amiable and excellent Nature of true Holines; which in itself is true and falutary, the only proper and radical Good, the Glory of our Nature, and which alone can render us fit to dwell for ever with God. - There we are kindly encouraged by the divine Grace to think of our Ways, and by true Repentance to turn from whatever is finful to the Obedience of God. - There we are directed frequently to fcrutinize our Hearts, to banish thence every corrupt Principle, and to keep the Spring of Action within us pure from every diforderly Thought and Inclination ; to guard our Spirits with a watchful Eye from every impure Motion and Suggestion, to be vigilant against every Attack of Temptation, that we may keep ourselves undefiled in the good Ways of God. — There we are inftructed in the most perfect and reasonable Sobriety, Temperance, and Self-denial, and warned of the Danger of every fenfual Snare and Allurement. - There this perifhing Body, with whatever can delight and adorn it; there this prefent World, with whatever in it can ingage our Affections and Effeem, are fully exposed to the Judgment and Censures of Reason, and manifestly shewn to be Emptinefs and Vanity, infinitely below the Excellence and Worth of immortal Spirits, and therefore therefore infinitely unfit to be purfued at the Expence of our present Integrity, or future Felicity.

In the facred Writings we find a rich Magazine of all proper Means for the Sanctification of our Souls, and our most fuccefsful Advances in the Life of God. -There we fee that the divine Power and Spirit is ready with its mighty Aids, to affift, enlighten, and strengthen our Spirits, in Proportion to our fincere Defires and Endeavours in Godlines; and there we are directed every Day, and at all times, to feek unto God, by fervent and believing Prayer, for his Guidance and Protection, and are affured we'fhall never feek his Face in vain. ----There, in the holy Scriptures, we are taught the Ordinances of Religion, both publick and private, in the conficientious Ufe of which we shall grow up into Christ Jesus; particularly, we are commanded to fet apart a competent Portion of our time, every Day, and to keep the Sabbath holy every Week; that by ferious Meditation upon God's Word, and by pouring out our Hearts before him in Prayer and Thanksgiving, we may renew our spiritual Strength, be more and more confirmed in the Habits of Holinefs. and find ourfelves still advancing nearer to heavenly Perfection. This Sketch of the Principles of Holinefs, to be derived from the Scriptures, clearly proves their divine Original and Excellence, as it fets them vaftly above any

Excellency of the SCRIPTURES. 459 any thing meer human Wifdom can discover or devile.

In the Scriptures we also find the best Principles of Comfort and Refreshment to the Soul. How needful are fuch Principles in a Scene of Affliction, Sin, and Weakness ! In general, under how many amiable Characters, under how many fweet Encouragements, are we invited to truft in the Almighty and Eternal; to look unto him, and make his Name, his Goodness, and Power, our Refuge in every Want, Danger, Difficulty, and Conflict ? Being affored that he cares for us, while we hope in him, and that he will never leave us nor forfake That however he may permit our Suf-U8. ferings and Griefs, he can never forget us, and will make all things, how bitter foever, work together for our Good. Heaven is at all times open to our Complaints and Supplications, and the Throne of God, which is a Throne of Grace, is easy of Access to the Breathings and Defires of our Hearts.

ARE we loaded with a Senfe of Guilt? See the Blood of Jefus the Security and Seal of our Pardon. Are we humbled under a Senfe of our own Unworthinefs? Hear the Voice of divine Grace freely confering a Dignity upon us far fuperior to all the Honors of this World. Look into the Scriptures; view the unfearchable Riches of Cbrift; behold the Love of our God and Redeemer, Redeemer; of his own gracious Will, and meer good Pleasure, he has begoten us, he is become our Father, he has justified us, he has bestowed upon us the Honours of his Children, he has made us welcome to all the Bleffings of his Covenant, and to all the Glories of his Kingdom. Fearful and dejected Soul, look into the Gofpel and fee thy God thining in all the Beams of free, rich, and heavenly Grace. Be of good Comfort thy Sins are forgiven, thy Interest in the Covenant is fore : the God and Father of our Lord Jefus Christ, is thy God and Father, and thou art welcome to all the Treafures of his Mercy and Goodnefs. Only rejetice in this Grace, and live agreably to it in all Faith, Purity and Holinels, Love and Goodnefs.

ARE you afraid your own Weakness and furrounding Temptations should draw your Regards from God, pervert your Minds, and cause you to fall short of Salvation ? Fear not, thou Worm Jacob, for I am with thee, be not difmayed, for I am thy God ; I will firengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the Right-hand of my Righteousness, or Salvation. Only cleave unto God, by Faith in Christ, with Purpose of Heart, and he who has begun a good Work will certainly perfect it unto the Day of Christ. You shall be more than Conquerors through him that has loved us. Doth the World frown. 6 12 frown, and pour its Sorrows into your Breafts ? Look to the heavenly World, the Glory that shall be revealed in the Saints. That is your Home and Country, that is your Portion and Inheritance ; and if you regard it as fuch, you will rejoice in the Hope of the Glory of God, and he raifed far above the Cares and Fears of this low and transitory State. Such throng Confolations the holy Scriptures fupply, and therefore their Author is undoubtedly the God mf all Confolation; for no Wildom of Man could ever poffibly have opened to us fuch a Fountain of Joy and Refreshment. And thus we fee the Scriptures contain, beyond all Difpute, the best Principles of Knowledge, of Holinefs, and Comfort.

IT is no lefs evident that they deliver the best Precepts for directing all our Actions. Such Precepts are reducible to Three Heads, our Duty to God, to our Neighbour, and to ourfelves. God we are taught to worship with a fincere Admiration of his Glory and Perfections, with profound Reverence of his Greatness, with humble Adoration of his Sovereignty, with the highest Love and Eftoem for his Excellency and Amiablenefs, with Joy and Gratitude for his Goodness. and with a Heart truly devoted to his Honor, and determined for his Obedience. To our Neighbour we are directed to perform not only Justice, Truth, and Equity, but allo ند ور مد مد ز alfo unfeigned Charity, the most extensive Kindnefs and Benevolence. To ourfelves we owe Self-Prefervation and Self-Government. and the Scriptures admonish us to take the wifest Care of our Being, by cultivating and guarding our Minds, and by mortifying all inordinate Affections and Paffions. In thort, all that our Reason can find in the Law or Religion of Nature, is, without the leaft Omiffion, transcribed into Revelation ; and moreover, the Wifdom of God has not only perfected and supplied our Deficiencies, but has discovered to us the Riches of Goodnefs, Knowledge, and Power, infinitely bevond what our natural Faculties could ever have attained.

Thus we are furnished both with the most perfect Rules of Virtue and Godliness. and also with the most powerful Motives to the Observance of them. And thus the Scriptures are a Storehouse of the most facred and useful Knowledge, adapted to the Improvement of our Minds in whatever is good and excellent, beyond all Competition and Objection. But as those only can object against them, who never read them, or never with ferious Minds, if you would know what the Scriptures are, if you would know whether they are of God, read them, fludy them, meditate upon them, and you cannot fail of being convinced of their Excellency and divine Original. ં મર્ચ SUCH

SUCH being the intrinfic Excellency of the Scriptures, it is no Wonder it entered into our Lord's Thoughts, and was the Object of bis Care in his last Moments, even amidst the Pains and Agonies of Death. Its being the Subject of his Thoughts at a time, when his Thoughts turned upon nothing but what was infinitely momentous; his being concerned upon the Crofs, that no Point of Scripture thould want its full Evidence, or Establishment, is a Demonstration of the high Worth and Excellency of Scripture. Under all his preceding Sufferings, which must be exceeding bitter, he never dropped the least Expression of the Sorrow and Anguish he felt, but endured it with the Silence of the most perfect Meekness and Patience. We must therefore conclude, he would not have opened his Mouth to fignify his grievous Diffres, when on the Cross, why balt thou forfaken me ? had it not been for the fake of exprefiing his Truft in God; nor would he have mentioned his Thirff, but out of regard to divine Revelation, and its Accomplishment.

OUR Lord has, all along, from first to last, shown the highest Respect to the Word of God. With this Sword he did combat and conquer Satan, when tempted by him in the Wilderness. He always in the Course of his Ministry appeals to it as the Standard of religious Truth, revealing the Will of God,

God, and explaining his Difpenfations. He declares he came not to deftroy fo much as one Tittle of the Law or the Prophets, but to compleat, vindicate, and illustrate them; affuring us that as their Original is divine, their Honors shall be perpetual; and that, till Heaven and Earth pass away, and the whole Frame of Nature be diffolved, not one fot shall pass, or perish, from the Law, or from Revelation, till all be fulfilled. John v. 39. He directs the fews to fearch the Scriptures, as they rightly apprehended the Doctrine of eternal Life was contained in them, and as they testified of him.

As his Sufferings drew nearer, he frequently takes Notice of the Fulfilment of the Scriptures in the feveral Steps and Events which led to them. Matt. xxvi. 31, 54. John xiii. 18. xv. 25. That the Scriptures might be fulfilled in his Sufferings and Death, he would not allow his Disciples to rescue him out of the Hands of those who came to feize him. Matt. xxvi. 53, 54. Had he prayed to the Father he would have given him more than Twelve Legions of Angels; but how then, fays he, Jhall the Scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be ? more than the Senfe of the greatest Pain and Anguish; and not to relieve his Thrist, but that the Scriptures might be fulfilled, he cried out, I thirst.

THUS OUR CRUCIFIED Lord has fet the Seal of his Blood to the divine Authority, Excellency, and Certainty of the holy Scriptures. He came into the World, he laid down his Life to accomplifh what was foreordained, and foretold in the Scriptures. Now this evidently implies, that our Lord knew, and was perfuaded, the Scriptures are of divine Original, are the Word, and declare to us the Mind and Will of God; confequently, that they contain Difcoveries and Inftructions of the higheft and moft excellent Nature; and that all things they predict muft, and moft certainly will, be accomplifhed.

IT feems but an inconfiderable Circumflance, that the Scriptures intimate, they would give the Meffiab in his Thirft Vinegar to drink. This feems to be a Fact of no great Moment, nor do we know that it flood in Connection with any thing of Confequence, and yet our Lord would not overlook it. He took Care it fhould be punctually fulfilled. How much more then may we perfuade ourfelves, that all the great Promifes, and all the Predictions, relating to Matters of vaft Importance, fhall be accomplifhed? The apparent Infignificancy of Vi-H h negar being offered to Chrift on the Crofs, adds great Force to this Argument.' If a Point, feemingly fo minute, was carefully attended to, and punctually discharged, when the Redeemer was in Extremity of Pain and Torture, how much more, now that he is entered into his Joy; now that he is poffeffed of the highest Felicity and Glory; now that he is invefted with the most extenfive Power and Dominion ; how much more will he make good all that God has declared by the ancient Prophets in the Old Testament, and all that he himself has foretold and promifed in the New, relating to things of infinite Moment ? Exceeding great and precious Promifes are given us of the divine Prefence, Bleffing, and Protection through this World, which every upright Mind may be affured will be fully made good.

How many magnificent Predictions has our Lord, and his Apoftles, delivered concerning the World that is to come — That be will raife us up again at the last Day. And we shall certainly be raifed out of our Graves, and reftored to a Life quite different from the prefent — That he will come in great Power and Glory to judge the World. CHAP. XLIII.

Cbristians ought to be thankful for the SCRIF-TURES, and maintain a high Esteem for them.

AVING, fo far as feems neceffary, confidered the Ufe and Importance of the holy Scriptures, 1 would now point out the propereft Improvement of this interesting Subject.

WE may evidently fee our Obligation to be thankful for the Scriptures ; they are the Gift of God, and a great Help to our Understanding, and rational Powers in the best Attainments. And as our natural Light and Faculties certainly demand our Gratitude and Thanks, that God has made us wifer than the Fowls of Heaven, and taught us more than the Beasts of the Earth; and as our Joy and Praife will be agreable to our Illumination, when in God's heavenly Light we shall fee glorious and eternal Light; fo the fuperior Instructions and Discoveries of Revelation do challenge our fincere Thanks to our wife and benevolent Father, who has imployed his Spirit at fundry times, and divers manners, to pour Knowledge and Light into the Darkness of the Nations, which otherwise would, in Effect, have generally lost the Use of Intelligence;

this important SUBJECT.

Intelligence; and that at length he has vifited us with the Day-Spring from on High, a full Difplay of his heavenly Grace in the everlafting Gofpel.

SHOULD we not maintain a just, that is to fay, a very high Efteem of the Word of God ? If it is true, that all Scripture is given by Inspiration of God, and is profitable for the nobleft Ends, for Doctrine, for Reproof, Correction, Instruction in Righteousness, then it is true that we cannot fet too high a Value upon it. The things of this World, which are very imperfect and transitory, have, alas, too large a Share of our Hearts; but the holy Scriptures are a Treasury of heavenly and everlasting Riches, and it is but reasonable we should give them the Preference to what we know is infinitely inferior in Worth. And it is upon this Ground that the wifeft and best of Men have represented them as the highest Object of our Delight and Efteem. Pfalm xix. 7-10. The Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the Soul; the Teftimony of the Lord is fure, making wife the simple. The Statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the Heart. More to be defired are they than Gold; yea, than much fine Gold; fweeter alfo than Honey, and the Honey-Comb. Pfalm cxix. 96, 97, 103. I have seen an End of all Perjection ; but thy Commandment is exceeding broad. O, how love I thy Law ! It is my Meditation all the Day. How fweet Hh₃ are are the Words unto my Tafle; yea, fweeter than Honey to my Mouth ! And we may then only call ourfelves happy when we have attained the fame Sentiments and Tafte of the good Word of God. Indeed I cannot fee that we ufe it as what it is, or anfwer our Christian Profession, if we do not treat it with great Esteem and Regard. To this Purpose let us --

Not allow ourfelves to think of it with Indifference, or in any Respect to treat it irreverently. The Worth, and infinite Importance of the thing will not bear a cool and languid Thought; and it is too facred and divine to admit of any Degree of Contempt. It is with fome reckoned a Turn of Wit to introduce Scripture Phrase into common Conversation, and to provoke Pleasantry by quoting the Bible. What is this but burlefquing the Word of God, and raifing a Laugh at the Expence of the greatest Bleffing of Heaven? Such a prophane Levity will by Degrees leffen the Reverence we owe to Scripture, and deftroy all ferious Regard to it; which is, in Effect, to destroy ourfelves; and therefore should not only be carefully avoided, but with Abhorrence detefted.

GUARD your Minds well against Deism on the one Hand, and Popery on the other. Both these agree in depreciating the Scriptures. The Deist will persuade you Revelation this important SUBJECT.

tion is unneceffary, and confequently that the Scripture is no Revelation from God, but a Fallacy and Cheat, at first invented, and afterwards supported, by those who find their Account in it. He racks his Invention to start any Difficulty or Objection to prove that the Bible is not fufficient to the Purposes of Revelation. And here, the Ro. manist joins him. They go indeed different Ways, the one, as he pretends, to the meer Religion of Nature, and the other, in reality, to the Authority of the Church, and a living infallible Guide upon Earth. But both start from the fame Point, degrading the holy Scriptures; and I fear very much, they will meet and unite again in a few Genera-For where Deiftical Principles pretions. vail in a Family, the rifing Generation must grow up in great Ignorance of Revelation, and the true Worship of God, and so will be exposed to the Artifice of the Seducer. who lies in wait to deceive. For however Men may refine in their Speculations, and put a Force upon the most common and obvious Principles in their Minds, yet certainly fuch is the general Senfe of Mankind, when left free and unbiaffed, with Regard to Religion, that they eafily admit the Belief of fome fuperior invisible Powers, and their Intercourfe with this World. And being ignorant of the Truth, are with little difficulty drawn into Error.

THIS makes me apprehend that the prefent Spread of Deifm will, in a few Ages, produce a large Increase of Popery among us. Not to fay, that Popish Seminaries, where they cannot directly promote the Caufe of the Church of ROME, are allowed and inflructed to do it in this indirect Way. For Confusion and Ignorance of any kind, is a proper Ground for them to work upon. But this by the Bye. My Defign is to guard you against those who would raise Scruples and Prejudices in your Minds against Revelation. And without defcending to Particulars, you may be very fure of this one thing, that whoever cavil against the Scriptures are Strangers to them. They object and take upon them felves to judge in a Matter in which they are no ways qualified to be Judges; in a Matter which they neither understand, nor, in their prefent way of thinking, ever intend to understand. For, whatever Airs fuch may give themfelves, or what Semblance or Shew foever they make of Knowledge and Wifdom, these Men have never studied the Scriptures ; nor, generally speaking, have they Learning or Capacity to enter into their deep and abstruse Parts. Had they ever foberly and ferioufly studied the Scriptures, they must of Nec flity have found fo many, and fuch evident Marks of a divine Spirit, fuch glorious Displays of the Wisdom, Power, and Truth of God, as would have taught Scriptures in the highest Veneration and Efteem, as a Revelation from God; and by their excellent Comments have acknowledged the divine Authority even of the most abstrufe and difficult Parts. No. The Cavillers against Scripture are Men of an inferior Class, who want, and are no ways folicitous to gain, the Qualifications needful to render them in any Degree fit or competent Judges. It is enough for such to pick up a small Collection of Scruples, to ease themselves of the Trouble of Thought and Study, and at the fame time to give a plaufible Appearance of both. But with Men of Judgment, fuch must stand in a very ridiculous Light. To a judicious Physician, how filly and contemptible must a Person be, who, though no ways skilled in the Science, should take upon him perpetually to cenfure, vilify, and condemn a BOERHAAVE, or a SYDENHAM. the greatest Masters in the Art of Medicine.

PERHAPS you may fay—Are there not real Difficulties in the Scriptures ? And will not Difficulties naturally and unavoidably produce Objections ? I anfwer—There are Difficulties in the Scriptures, and Difficulties are the natural Ground of Objections, but not of deftroying any Truth, otherwife well eftablished. For all Science whatever is attended with Difficulties, and Objections may be raifed against the clearest and most demonstrable Truths. The Being of God, and his Perfections, fections, the Creation of the World, the Conftitution of Nature, the Ways of Providence, and any the best and most useful Knowledge we can gain, is attended with Difficulties, and confequently liable to Obiections. Let it be well observed, those Difficulties arife not from the things themfelves, but from the Imperfection of our Minds. In the things themfelves there are no Difficulties, nor any Ground for Objection; the Difficulties are in the Narrowness of our Understandings, which find a great Difficulty in comprehending many things relating even to the most certain and undoubted Truths. And, with regard to the Scriptures. I myself have had large Experience of this. Many things which at first, and for some time, appeared to me very obscure, unaccountable, and inconfistent, by patient Application, and a closer Attention, have shone out unclouded into the plainest and clearest Truths. By this I am convinced, that all remaining Difficulties are not fo in themfelves, but only fo with respect to the Imperfection of my Mind. And upon the whole, you may be very fure, when you hear any Objection advanced against the Scriptures, that the Objection, in Truth and Reality, lies against the Objector himself, as he either cannot, or will not, fee the Truth as it stands in the Word of God.

BUT you may fay-Why should God put into his Word things to us difficult and obfcure? I answer - To exercise our Diligence, and to try our Integrity. I have faid fo much to convince you of the Vanity and Folly of Deifm, and to guard you against any bad Impressions from that Quarter, which may prove of very fatal Confequence. A little of this Leaven may do a great deal of Harm, as it creates an Indifference to divine Knowledge, to the Instructions and Counfels of our heavenly Father ; as it takes us off from the fludy of the Scriptures, robs us of the best Guide of our Actions, the most powerful Motives to all Virtue, the strongest Consolations in every Day of Affliction; and at last exposes to the righteous Judgment of God, for the Neglect and Contempt of the best of Bleffings he ever bestowed upon the World.

WE have the sufficiency of Scripture, as perfectly able to make us wife unto Salvation. The Papist will own the Scriptures to be the Word of God, and a true Rule of Faith, but not a sufficient Rule. The only sufficient Rule of Faith, he will tell you, is the Church of ROME, which infallibly understands, and propounds what the Christian World is to believe and do in order to eternal Salvation; and therefore you ought implicitly to submit your Understanding and Confcience

The IMPROVEMENT of

Conficience to her Direction and Decifions; and doing fo, you have no need to confult the Scriptures, being already provided with a living infallible Guide. But if the Scriptures are a true Rule of Faith, then are they a sufficient Rule to all Sorts and Degrees of Perfons; for they expressly affirm their own Sufficiency in this extensive Senfe.

THAT nothing but Scripture is a fufficient Ground to build our Faith and Practice upon, as Christians, will clearly appear to any confiderate Perfon. All befides is Uncertainty and Confusion. You have Popes against Popes, Councils against Councils, Fathers against Fathers, the Church of one Age against the Church of another Age, and Tradition paffing through Hands to uncertain and inconfistent, must of Necessity lose all Force of Evidence. Only upon the Rock of Scripture can we find any Reft for the Sole of our Feet; and there we have a firm Foundation, and a fure infallible Guide, which we may with the greatest Certainty and Stedfastness oppose to the Authority of the Church of ROME.

WHATEVER may be pretended to gain that Church the Credit of a Guide, all that, and much more may be faid for the Scriptures. Has the Church of ROME been ancient? The Scriptures are more ancient. Is that Church a Means to keep Christians in Unity? So is the Scriptures to preferve Unity of of Belief in things necessary and plainly revealed, and in Unity of Charity in other Matters. Following the Scriptures, we shall follow that which must be true, if the Church of Rome be true, for the owns the Truth of Scripture. Whereas if we follow that Church, we follow that which, if the Scriptures be true, may be falfe ; nay, which if the Scriptures be true, must be falfe, because the Scriptures teffify against it. We have God's express Command to follow the Scriptures, and no Intimation or Colour of any Prohibltion: but to believe in the Church of ROME we have no Command at all, much lefs an express Command. Nay, on the contrary, we have a general Prohibition in these Words. Call no Man Master upon Earth.

FOLLOWING the Scriptures we fhall embrace a Religion, which being contrary to Fleich and Blood, without any Afflictance from worldly Power, Wildom, or Policy, nay, against all the Power and Policy of the World, prevailed and foread itself in a short time, over a very great Part of the World. Whereas it is apparent the Church of ROME has got, and still maintains her Authority over Mens Consciences by counterfeiting false Miracles, forging false Histories, corrupting the Monuments of former times, by Wars, by Perfecutions, by Massace, by Treasons, by Rebellions; in short, by all manner of carnal carnal unjustifiable Means, whether violent or fraudulent.

FOLLOWING the Scriptures, we shall believe a Religion the first Preachers and Profeffors whereof could certainly have no worldly Ends; could neither project, nor promife to themfelves by it any of the Profits, Honours, or Pleasures of this World, but rather the contrary, even all the Hardthips the World could lay upon them. On the other hand, the Head of the Church of ROME, the pretended Vicar of Chrift, Succeffor of the Apofiles, and Guide of Faith, it is palpably evident, makes the Popish Religion the Instrument of his Ambition, to gratify the Luft of Dominion, by fubjecting the Confciences of all Mankind to his Authority, and all Nations to his Jurifdiction. Befides, it is evident to any Man, who has but half an Eye, that most of those Doctrines, which the Romish Church addeth to the Scriptures, are, one Way or other, calculated to promote the Honour or temporal Profit of the Teachers of them.

FOLLOWING the Scriptures only, we shall embrace a Religion of perfect Simplicity and Purity; confisting, in a manner, wholly in the Worship of God in Spirit and Truth, and in fincere Obedience to his Will. Whereas the Roman Church, and Doctrine, is loaded with an Infinity of weak, childish, ridiculous ridiculous Superflitions and Ceremonies, and the most gross and manifest Idolatry. If we follow the Scriptures, we must not promife ourfelves Salvation without forfaking offectually, and mortifying all Vices, and practiling fincerely all Christian Virtues, which our Reason tells us is the only Way in which we can fecure the Favour of God, and our own Happiness. But the Church of ROME opens an easier and broader Way to Heaven, and though a Man continues all his Life long in a Course of Sin, gives him Affurance he may be let into Heaven by a back Gate, even by an Act of Attrition, at the Hour of Death, if it be joined with Confession to a Priest, or by an Act of Contrition without it.

JUST and perfect are the Precepts of Piety and Humility, of Innocence and Patience, of Goodness, Temperance, Sobriety, Justice; Meekness, Fortitude, and Constancy, Contempt of the World, the Love of God, and of Mankind; in a Word, of all Virtues, and against all Vices, which the Scriptures oblige us to observe and obey, as ever we hope to fee God in his heavenly Kingdom ; which if they were generally obeyed, could not but make the World generally happy; and the Goodness of them alone is sufficient to make any wife and good Man believe, that the Religion, which obliges to them, comes from God the Fountain of all Goodneis. The li

ARe.

The Church of ROME enervates, and in a manner diffolves and abrogates many of the holy Precepts of the Golpel, by teach, ing Mon, that they are not Laws for all Christians, but Counsels of Perfection, and Matters of Supererogation, which a Man should do well, if he observes, but shall path fin, if he doth not observe them; that they are for those who aim at high Places in Heaven, but if a Man will be content with an inferior Situation there, especially if he will be content to take of Purgatory in the Way, he need not incumber his Thoughts at prefest with many of the Rules of the Golpel Not to fay, that the Romilb Church manifeffly foments, a Spirit of Uncharitablenels and Cruelty to all Mankind, not of her Therefore the Religion of this Profession. Church is far from being to holy or to good as the Doctrine of Chrift delivered in the Scriptures, and confequently cannot come from the fame Fountain of Holinels and Goodnels.

FOLLOWING the Church of ROME for our Guide, we shall only follow a Combination of deluded Men, who have fast closed their Eyes, and are not at Liberty to open them, or to exemine and confider whether they are in the right or no. For that Rapists have no Liberty of Judgment is manifest, because they reckon it a mortal Sin to should of any Part of their Destring. Whence, it follows, that seeing every Man much resolve that that he will never commit mortal Sin, that he mult never examine the Grounds of Popery at all, for fear he thould be moved to doubt ; orbif he do examine, he must before refolve that no Evidence, not even of Scripture, no Murives, be they ever to Brang, thall move him to doubt, left he fhould fall into mortal Sin.

SEEING this is the Condition of all who are effectied good Catholicks, who can deny that they are a Sett of Men unwilling and alfaid to underfland ; that have Eyes to fee and will not, that have not the Love of the Truth, but are given over to ftrong Delufion And therefore in following fuch a Church, and fuch Guides, we shall only follow the Blind, and with them fall into the Ditch. If we follow the Scriptures, we thall follow only the Truth; we shall follow a Guide which exhorts us to keep our Eyes always open to the Truth, to try all things, and to hold fast only that which is good ; to try every Spirit, and to bring every Doctrine to the Test of God's pure and holy Word. And thus we are at Liberty to review the Ground upon which we fland, to correct any Error, and to improve our Minds in the Knowledge and Love of the Truth. In these, and leveral other Respects, the Sufficiency of Scripture, to guide us in the way of Life and Salvation, is evidently feen, and how fooliff and unfale it is to forfake *2:C2 this this heavenly Guide, and follow the Delufrons of the Church of Rom als Batzingit, the greater the Evidence that Soriprire lisia perfect Guide to eternal Life, the greater mailt our Obligations be to use it falthfully as fich. LET us be much in reading the Schiptores ; and think and judge tweely! By judging freely, I do not mean raffly, and at random. We must judge of the Suripunes with at pollible Care and Caution But judge freely, without regard to the Authority of any Pesfon, Party, or Church whatloever. Wesaie made by our gracious Creator for the Know--ledge of the Truth ; not to be the Dupes of Cultom or Authority, not blindly to tablew the Diclates, Decrees, and Constitutions of weak and ambitious Men; but imploy our Minds generoufly in the Search and Knowledge of the Truth. Christianity calls us to the nobleft Exercise of our Understanding, and we lose the Benefit of it, if we do not think ferioufly, and judge freely.

THERE is no other Way of having our Minds eftablished, and well seasoned with the Principles of our Religion. In this Way we shall see the Glory and Excellency of the holy Scriptures; thus we shall feel the Power of God's Word upon our Hearts; thus our Understandings will gradually be inlightened with divine Knowledge, and, to our unspeakable Comfort, grow up into Jesus Christ, and gain the Happiness of the Man, who forfaking faking all implety, and every falle Way, delights himfelf in the Law of the Lord, and daily meditates therein. Such a one is unidentite special Bleffing of Heaven, and, like a Tree planted in a fruitful Soil, fhall grow and flourifh, and rife infinitely higher than all the Honours, Wealth, and Enjoyments of this World; he fhall rife to Immortality, and there find all the glorious Fruits of a Life of Piety, and the full Accomplifhment of the magnificent Promifes which here on Barth he with Pleafure perufed in the World of God.

This is what I have to offer on this important Subject. Whatever the Refult may be, with Regard to others, this one Point is fufficiently fecured—I have fatisfied my Confcience by difebarging what I effecm an incumbent Duty; and I have done it in the Faithfulnefs and Integrity of my Heart, according to the Wildom God has given me.
